LOTS OF EVIDENCE FOR SUCH A TINY CABIN!

This cartoon says it all, substantiated by this line from a recent issue of THE ORLANDO SENTINEL, [quoting.: The arrest itself took only moments. Now comes weeks of painstaking, unglamorous laboratory work to determine—with certainty—whether the TUCKLOADS OF EVIDENCE taken from Theodore Kaczynski's remote [and small 10'x12'] Montan cabin like him to the 17-year string of Unabomber attacks.

MALNUTRITION A KEY TO MUTANT VIRUSES

From the April 17 issue of THE ORLANDO SENTINEL, [quoting:]
WASHINGTON—Doctors have long known that malnourished people are more vulnerable to viruses, but new research shows malnutrition can actually help those viruses mutate to become dangerous enough to sicken the healthy, too. Last year, [Dr. Melinda Beck of the University of North Carolina] reported the first such link with nutrition, finding that normal coxsackie mutated to become deadly once inside selenium-deprived mice. Now she has taken that research further, infecting healthy mice with the new strain that evolved inside their malnourished cousins. The healthy mice could fight off normal coxsackie but not the new strain. Selenium isn't the magical nutrient—it happened in mice who ate too little vitamin E too, Beck will report today at the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology meeting here. [And WE are a nation of malnourished people—not because of a shortage of food, but because our soil is depleted of the nutrients needed to produce health-sustaining crops. If this gambit WASN'T designed by the depopulation gang, it certainly does fit well with their plans. This story also serves to divert our attention from the fact that some of the designer viruses are created in laboratory boutiques!]

She genetically tested the virus in four different experiments to see if the evolution was random, but the same six mutations occurred every time. People probably experience the same effects, as do other viruses, said virologist Dr. Stephen Morse of Rockefeller University. If so, it would mean that catching a virus from the person sitting next to you could be a lot more dangerous if that person were malnourished—even if you were healthy.

Now doctors must look for further evidence in emerging diseases that suddenly attack people, Morse said. At least 29 new or newly evolved diseases have emerged in the last two decades. For example, measles struck African children last year in a bizarre way, causing unusual immunity problems and mystifying doctors. Maybe malnutrition played a role, he speculated. "This is an entirely new way of looking at host factors," he said. New international research shows viruses mutate a million times more often than cells in the average organism, and that antioxidant nutrients like vitamin E and selenium might play a protective role.

FLESH-EATING BACTERIA KILLS 3 HEROIN ADDICTS

Speaking of designer diseases, this comes from the April 21 issue of THE ORLANDO SENTINEL, [quoting:]

Flesh-eating bacteria have stricken nearly 30 heroin addicts in the San Francisco area, killing three and prompting warnings by public health departments, a newspaper reported Saturday. The San Francisco Chronicle said public health authorities suspect a contaminated batch of Mexican black-tar heroin is responsible for the cases, which may have peaked in March and appear to be subsiding. Seventeen cases of the bacterial infection have been logged this year in San Francisco, eight in nearby Contra Costa County and at least three in Alameda County, the report said. It said doctors suspect the cases of necrotizing fasciitis are caused by any of three different organism, sometimes called flesh-eating bacteria, contaminating the heroin. The most likely one in this outbreak is thought to be Clostridia sordelli, a cousin of the bacteria that cause botulism, it said.

These bacteria multiply quickly and can cause severe tissue damage within 12 hours after the first appearance of symptoms, which include reddening of the skin, tenderness and pain, the Chronicle reported. Without treatment, victims of flesh-eating bacteria require surgical removal of infected skin, muscle and connective tissue, the Chronicle said. Several patients have lost arms or legs. Two San Francisco heroin users infected by the Bacteria died of septic shock, when toxins produced by the bacteria cause a drop in blood pressure and organ failure, the paper said. Another patient died of necrotizing fasciitis this year in Martinez, 30 miles east of San Francisco.

GERMAN HOLOCAUST MEMORIAL DELAYED

From the April 25 issue of THE ORLANDO SENTINEL, [quoting:]

BERLIN—The cornerstone for Germany's Holocaust memorial will be laid in 1999, but only after a new design is found to replace the one that displeased Chancellor Helmut Kohl, officials said Wednesday. The head of the Central Council of Jews in Germany criticized the latest delay in plans to erect a memorial in the heart of Berlin. "Two years should have been long enough to get it built," Ignatz Bubis said. The idea for a monument came from a largely non-Jewish [Shabbez goi?] group of top industrialists, academics and others. They have argued for years that Germany had a duty to erect a prominent national memorial to the annihilation of European Jewry.

A government-sponsored competition that opened in 1994 attracted more than 500 entries. Berlin artist Christine Jakob-Marks and her team won in June with a plan for a 1,000-square-foot, sloping stone plate to be engraved with the names of millions of Jews slain by the Nazis. But some artists and German newspapers sniped at the design as too grandiose and lacking educational value. Those supporting the design counter the Nazis' killing of 6 million European Jews requires such a large memorial. A few days after the announcement was made, Kohl's office called for considering other designs.

To develop the new model, a colloquium will be held this summer with the top seven finalists as well as historians, philosophers, city planners, youth groups and representatives of the Jewish community. A decision is expected by spring 1997, said a spokesman for Berlin's culture ministry and the cornerstone will be laid on Germany's Holocaust Memorial Day on Jan. 27, 1999. The memorial's estimated $22-million cost is to be shared by the government, the city of Berlin and the public, through donations.

HOLOCAUST FIGURES DWINDLE

This more-to-the-point article on the same subject comes from the April 22 issue of THE SPOTLIGHT (1-800-522-6292), [quoting:]

Germany is going into major convulsions when it comes to the number of Holocaust memorials to be placed in various cities. The focal point is Berlin. It has been decreed that Berlin must construct the largest Holocaust memorial ever to be built. The city of Berlin commissioned architects to create an edifice that will cover the length and width of three football fields. This is to be placed on some of the most expensive real estate in Europe, next to the famous, symbolic Brandenburg Gate. The memorial will consist of plaques placed on the ground with the inscribed names of the six million Jewish victims of the holocaust.

Needless to say, this undertaking has created great controversy among Germans. Even Chancellor Helmut Kohl found it to be too large. However, the main problem seems to be the inability to come up with enough legitimate names of the dead. Since 1989, the number of inmates killed at Auschwitz, originally set at eight million, has undergone repeated revisions, all downward. Let us look at the numbers claimed since the end of the war.

In 1945, a French "Bureau to Uncover War Crimes" stated the number of eight million deaths at Auschwitz was not an exaggeration. The Soviet Auschwitz Commission gave the number at 5.5 million. Until 1990 the official number given by the Polish government was four million. This number was accepted as the definitive number and used in all publications worldwide when disseminating stories about the number of Jews killed at Auschwitz.

A sensational report by the Jerusalem Post on September 30, 1989 broke the taboo. The essence of the report was, in the paper's words: "There never were four million victims at Auschwitz. Well known French researcher Georges Wellers gave the figure 1.6 million. This includes all causes of death from gassings in Birkenau, as well as from starvation, torture, executions and illness in Auschwitz and its auxiliary camps." The Jewish newspaper Aufbau, published in New York, wrote on August 3, 1990, referring to the head of the Auschwitz museum, and the information given by him: "Therefore, the number of victims amounts to 1.1 million, including 900,000 Jews."

In 1993, an article in the German paper Die Welt mentioned the French Center of Scientific Research had arrived at the conclusion that the total number of dead at Auschwitz was 800,000. In April 1990, Dr. Franciszek Piper, director of the Auschwitz Museum, used hammers and chisels to eradicate inscriptions on stone plaques commemorating four million deaths at Auschwitz. There were 19 plaques in 19 different languages. He felt the four million figure could no longer be maintained. A Frenchman, Claude Pressac, doing his own research while being financed by the Klarsfeld Foundation, avid Nazi hunters, was forced to accept figures of 631,000 to 711,000. This is the latest official version in the numbers game.

All this revision of commonly-accepted figures is damaging enough to the planners but the worst blow has been the discovery of the death certificates. It appears the meticulous Germans kept records of all deaths at Auschwitz and the death certificates were found in the KGB archives in Moscow. Kept in annual bound volumes, but with two years missing, the total number of deaths, including infants and those who died of old age, appears to be around 75,000.

In an article in the April 8-14 issue of THE WASHINGTON TIMES, NATIONAL WEEKLY EDITION, Richard Grenier makes this important point about the relativity of figures, [quoting:]

According to Mr. Goldhagen [author of the controversial book Hitler's Willing Executioners: Ordinary Germans and the Holocaust] the Holocaust is "the most shocking event of the 20th century." But is it? With all due respect for the suffering Jews in the Final Solution, what if we were to move our field of examination some hundreds of miles to the east—to the Gulag. Solzhenitsyn's figure, widely accepted now even in Russia, is that 86 million people perished in the Gulag. This controversy will never be settled by grade-school arithmetic. But besting the Gulag's 86 million could take some doing. [How about China's purging with the takeover of the Communists under Mao? It's about time we gave up the dangerous notion of the Jews as the ultimate victims!]

EARTH DAY THEATRICALS

clinton and gore

President Clinton teams with Vice President Gore and Earth Day volunteers Monday at the C&O Canal in Great Falls National Park, north of the capital in Maryland, to clear flood debris. [Just how long do you think this effort was really sustained by these two guys? Until the click of the camera, no doubt.] The path is popular with hikers and bikers. Clinton also announced a package, National Parks for Tomorrow, intended to boost the U.S. parks system [i.e., turn more and more of the country over to the feds, who will in turn restrict its use to exclude You, the People], which is under severe strain from increased visitation. The plan would expand a park in California and one on the New York-New Jersey border. Also, the administration announced plans to curb commercial flights over national parks and to increase the amount of land designated as wilderness.

“FREEDOM TO FARM” IS
CANDY-COATED FOOD SOCIALISM

This article from the LOS ANGELES TIMES was reprinted in the MODESTO BEE on March 12. It was written by Llewellyn H. Rockwell Jr., president of the Ludwig von Mises Institute in Auburn, Ala., [quoting:]

First lady Hillary Rodham Clinton should have called her health bill “Freedom to Heal”. Then Congress might have passed it as restoring the free market in medicine. If you don’t believe such a trick would have worked, take a look at the “Freedom to Farm” bill that just sailed into law.

Official propaganda says this bill restores a free market in agriculture, ending 60 years of subsidies and planning. But ask yourself: If this were really true, wouldn’t farmers on the dole and the media be in hysterics? Of course, and a close examination of the bill backs up this suspicion. The existing scheme, based on New Deal programs modeled on the old Soviet system, is retained in all its essentials. After this bill expires in seven years, the 1949 law that now oppresses us again will be the law of the land. Not that the new bill is peanuts. With a $47 billion price tag, it allocates even more money to subsidies initially and to crazy new liberal programs. But in seven years, we’re told, price supports and subsidies will be “phased out”.

This farm bill is typical of a Congress that can’t bring itself to cut a dime of federal spending, yet passes reams of “revolutionary” laws promising to cut, slash, abolish and otherwise establish a libertarian heaven on Earth—sometime in the next millennium. But here and now, the bill retains price supports for peanuts and sugar as well as price-fixing for milk. It renews a program preventing 36 million acres from being farmed. And it throws away $1.4 billion on more regulations, $200 million on a Florida swamp and $200 million on “rural development”.

All in all, this bill could have been written by President Clinton, which is why he’s glad to sign it. The Democrats particularly like the food stamp and school lunch provisions. Why, you may ask, are these part of a farm bill? Because those who benefit, along with “the poor”, are wealthy agribusinessmen. Why this bill? Why now? Crop prices are at a 10-year high, and under the current subsidy formula, payments would be low. So by merest happenstance, this bill changes the price-based system into flat subsidy: $3 billion to $4 billion more will be spent for farm welfare immediately. Supporters say the bill eliminates many set-asides, acreage controls and crop mandates. That would be glorious only if the industry weren’t subsidized and protected from competition. “Freedom to farm”—with other people’s money.

The farm program is one of the oldest federal scandals. The troubles began a century and half ago, when tariffs were set to favor industry at the expense of agriculture. Then in World War I, the government pumped up the price of wheat and other products and tried to keep them that way after the war. That failed, and after two devastating recessions in 1919 and 1921, officials turned to more protectionism and outright planning. By the time of the Great Depression, the Jeffersonian ideal of the independent yeoman farmer was banished. As president, Hoover set out to keep prices high by subsidies, trade restrictions and planting controls at the very time when market pressures were forcing them to fall.

But Hoover was small potatoes compared with farm dictator Franklin D. Roosevelt. Agriculture has become a virtual ward of the state, with the feds holding more than half of all farm debt. There still are independent farmers, and they avoid Washington at all costs. Agriculture is dominated by subsidized agribusiness, its lobbyists and its pet politicians. The victims of food socialism are consumers and taxpayers, who shell out billions directly and in the form of artificially high prices every year. Also harmed are the remaining independent farmers, whose livelihoods are threatened by subsidized industrial-scale competition. That's why Congress should pass a real Freedom to Farm Act. It would abolish the whole of the existing system and subject the sector to the same competition and price dictates that free industries face. Congress also should stop concocting tricky new ways to prop up big government with misnamed bills.

MOUNTIES DECLARE WAR ON FARMERS

Is the situation any better in Canada? This article by Lorne Gunter appeared in the April 28 edition of the EDMONTON (Alberta, Canada) JOURNAL, [quoting:]

Before dawn on April 10 five Mounties and 10 Customs officers burst into the Baldur, Man., farm home of Norm and Edith Desrochers. Their warrant did not allow them to search the Desrochers' house, only the family's "farmyard and outbuildings". But federal agents crashed into the house anyway without knocking and asking permission, or even identifying themselves. The official excuse they offered after the fact? They didn't search the house, they just entered it. Therefore, they didn't overstep the search warrant. [Classic government logic!] Besides, they were merely securing the situation for the safety of all involved, including the Desrochers. Once inside, one of the Mounties promptly disconnected the family's telephone. Wouldn't want to complicate things by letting them call their lawyer or anything. Norm Desrochers and his son Clayton, 22, were then herded into the back seat of an RCMP cruiser, though police had no warrant for their arrest, had not placed them under arrest, and neither had threatened anyone.

Customs officers then tried to tow away three of the Desrochers vehicles, including one not covered by the warrant. So, you may be asking, the Desrochers are drug smugglers, right? No. Gun runners? Nope. Importers of illegal tobacco or alcohol? Uh-uh. Murderers? Child pornographers? Kidnappers? Terrorist bombers? No. No. No. And, not yet. They're barley growers. And the full force of federal law enforcement has been brought down on their heads because they have committed the heinous crime of selling their own crops to American buyers without the permission of the Canadian Wheat Board.

Like the 18 Alberta farmers who refused to turn over their trucks to Customs officers at Coulls on Tuesday, the Desrochers are part of a growing movement among Prairie farmers to break the CWB's monopoly over wheat, barley and oats sales. Prairie producers must sell all grain destined for foreign markets and non human domestic consumption to the CWB unless they have a permit from the board to sell independently. But permits are expensive, usually costing more than the additional profits that can be made from independent marketing. So most farmers don't bother.

By the way, the Wheat Board Act applies only to Westerners farming between B.C.'s Peace country and Lakehead in Ontario. Southern Ontario and Quebec grain farmers are free to sell the product of their toil to whomever they wish. So in the past few years, more and more western grain producers have simply hauled their grain to the United States (where prices are often higher by 25 percent or more) without a permit.

Now because their numbers are threatening the CWB's iron grip (and, by extension, Ottawa's iron grip) over Prairie agriculture, the Liberal federal government, led by Agriculture Minister Ralph Goodale, has declared war on these insubordinate farmers. And it is using a legal technicality as its main tool. [Attention, all you budding pro per legal eagles!]

Having become increasingly convinced that the Wheat Board Act is unenforceable because it does not apply equally to all farmers across the country, Ottawa is using the Customs Act to go after grain runners. It is an offence under customs legislation to export a product without a license required by any other act. And once an offence against the Customs Act is alleged, federal agents have far greater power to search and seize than they do under most other laws. (The Desrochers raid, as offensive as it was, was probably legal.) The Customs Act also carries much stiffer penalties than the Wheat Board Act.

This time last year, two weeks after the Oklahoma City bombing, we were being deafened by mewling about how the rise of conservative politicians had encouraged outrageous expressions of anti-government hatred. Nonsense. The motivation comes from the persistence of intrusive governments that, in the face of reason and the will of the people (the majority of Prairie farmers no longer want to be bound by the Wheat Board Act), insist they alone know best how citizens should raise their families, run their farms and businesses, and generally live their lives. Unless Ottawa wants to see the rise of the Manitoba Patriotic Militia or the Alberta Freeman, it had better end the CWB's monopoly and stop using law enforcement techniques out of all proportion to the seriousness of the offences allegedly committed by grain runners.

E-MAIL LIFELINE HELPS SUICIDAL MEN

This article comes from the March 12 issue of THE SUNDAY TELEGRAPH, which comes from "up there" in Canada, [quoting:]

The Samaritans are reaching a highly vulnerable section of society, suicidal young men and boys, through the Internet. Since the charity began offering counselling services on-line, e-mail messages have flooded in from young males. Many are using computer terminals in their schools and colleges to vent silent cries for help. The Samaritans hope the e-mail link will help to stall the worrying trend in suicide among young men. The number of 15 to 24-year-olds killing themselves has risen from seven per 100,000 in 1982 to 12 per 100,000 in 1992. Some 500 took their own lives in 1992 compared with 320 in 1982. In the 25-34 age bracket, the number rose from 576 to 785. The figures for women show little change over the same period.

Leo Leibovici, the Samaritans' e-mail co-ordinator, believes the Internet service enables vulnerable people who would never otherwise seek help to obtain support. He said young men and boys often found it difficult to talk about their problems. [Men aren't supposed to HAVE problems—it's not macho. Also it's dangerous to let your guard down in a dog-eat-dog world. As opposed to women, who thrive on problems. (I learned all this from Men Are From Mars, Women Are From Venus, or some such source!...)]

Messages are distributed among volunteers at the charity's nine on-line branches. Another four branches will have a full Internet capability shortly, and the charity plans to continue expanding the service until demand slackens. All messages are answered personally within 24 hours. Most “conversations” last six to eight messages. The service can be contacted on jo@samaritans.org or the anonymous address is samaritans@anon.penet.fi.

CHAPTER 2

PART VI TIMELESS REMINDER OFFERED FROM ESU “JESUS” SANANDA

Editor’s note: We have elected to share, once again, writings which appeared from Esu “Jesus” Sananda some years ago, specifically in 1991. The message rings as true today as it did then, and we hope that you will spend some serious “quiet time” in reading and reflecting on his generous offerings in wisdom. Many of us readers are guilty of wanting “new” information, “more” information when, in truth, if we really read, reread, and studied that which has already been offered, we would constantly receive new insight. Since these writings from Sananda are lengthy, we have chosen to break them into a series of several installments.

We here at CONTACT would like to take a moment to PUBLICLY thank Sananda for his TRUE LIGHT AND LIGHTED WISDOM AND GENEROSITY IN SHARING SUCH TRUTH WITH US. THANK YOU!

Part I of this series began in our 3/19/96 CONTACT on p. 28; Part II was on p. 20 of the 3/26/96 issue; Part III was on p. 15 of the 4/2/96 issue; Part IV was on p. 5 of the 4/9/96 issue; Part V was on p. 11 of the 4/23/96 issue.

6/11/91 #1 HATONN/SANANDA

Hatonn present. Please allow us to come into sharing that understanding flows as well as “words”.

I am asked, these days of Sananda’s writings, how is it that I presume to make introduction? Why indeed. Dharma would enjoy being the one to tell you but part of the reason is for her own protection.

As the Truth comes forth after over 2000 plus years of gigantic LIE, it is both dangerous and extremely impactful to the receivers of that Truth. Do not believe that simply because you become a scribe, that the shock and pain are somehow vanquished. We do fine for the period of writing but as she witnesses, then, the product, it is sobering indeed. This is the most important gathering of information in your universe and cuts through the very fiber of all you have expected and trusted throughout your life experiences. It is hard to realize you are people of the lie from the beginning—and worse, to know that the adversary will not like this information very much. I remind you: TRUTH WILL STAND INTO INFINITY AND WE BRING TRUTH SO WE WELCOME ANY MAN TO CONTRADICT THAT WHICH HE WILL BUT HE HAD BETTER COME WITH SOME INCREDIBLE “REASONING”. WE ARE NOW DEALING WITH YOUR INFINITE SOUL ENERGY AND THE SHOE IS ON THE OTHER FOOT—MAN IS NOW EXPECTED TO “PROVE” THAT WHICH HE PROJECTS AND SINCE THE PHYSICAL IS A PASSING ILLUSION—HE CAN NOT DO SO!

Suzy, thank you for the crystal pendant for it does, indeed, radiate the love expressed in the sharing. I say sharing, for a creation of God can only be shared and the gifting of such can only be the sharing of “expression”. I would tell you a bit about this particular crystal in its growth patterns. Just as a crystal “chip” bears a programmed frequency so, also, does a crystal. As some crystals grow, they will push out what appear to be fractures but this is NOT so. They are the root system from which a crystals grows into its flower-like “clump”. It houses the very source of the DNA/RNA of the “thing” which it shall become. Since man cannot seem to leave them in their intended location for he desires to hold both the beauty and the life-form, the root itself is usually quite ugly in appearance—but those wondrous “children” of the parent are divine indeed. The one you sent is old, old and bears its own inner child and has become as “hard” as diamond for any “practical” purpose. Some of these little beauties are missed for they will often bear a lot of the root and will have ugly malformations which man does not like in his trinkets. We have left your message intact for its intended projection and then we reprogrammed the “starburst” within. It now bears the assorted frequencies of the various Masters and in the sunlight will actually “sing” as the light is reflected and refracted from within the central root core.

The major problem with Man taking and rearranging crystals is that they are expected to do something which they cannot do and they are ALWAYS located where they serve a great purpose in the overall order of the planet. From these little jewels come the very refracting frequencies that do such things as break down stone into earth for the reclaiming of life sustenance. This elder crystal comes from a place wherein most of the task of the mineral projection is finished for the nurturing of surface life forms. The removal from the “new” western world locations is more tragic, however, for they are for the purpose of breaking down dying minerals such as uranium, etc. Man does not realize that which he does when he takes up those dying minerals and stockpiles them for their purpose is to break down, through radiation and refraction bursts, the very world which is originally presented in solid, compact rock-type formations. You can see the mechanism more readily within the lava flows which are eventually broken down and become fertile soil. So be it for the mineral lesson of this day.

I want to again thank you, Suzy, for the sharing for I have much more to say regarding this and it is not yet time. Misused, these gem-stones can literally break down the health of ones believing them to be giving nourishment—Man seems to always need to tinker with that which he understands not.

CRYSTAL VIRUS

I must have you understand that a virus is also just a crystalline product. This is WHY it can be considered that bombardment with certain frequencies will break it (explode it)—just like a crystal chalice. The DNA/RNA structure of every cell is constructed from this crystalline substance which is programmed and bears the holographic structure of whatever will become from that seed. When Man began to tinker with these things of the very program substance of the universe—he walked in well over his head—for evil will always take that which could be wondrous and turn it to the physical—HOPING ALWAYS TO FIND IMMORTALITY WHICH ELUDES HIS EFFORTS FOR THAT HAS THUS FAR ONLY BEEN ENABLED BY THE GOD CREATOR AS ORCHESTRATED BY NATURE (NATURAL CREATION).

The physical aspect of man always reaches the point to which your civilizations have reached and efforts at immortality—and the object, of course, is to create life immortal and get rid of all the unwanted competition. It never works out well, for his greed and fleshly desires drive him through his ego into the destructive paths so that all he actually accomplishes is some sort of “duplication imitation”. But these are effective indeed for destruction of species.

I wish to thank T.D. for sharing with us. It is always difficult for Dharma for me to give information of which she has no resource and information is always well received on various subjects which you ones will bother to go and research. Along the lines of life duplication and viral DNA possibilities, I suggest you who have time and inclination, get the book The Biological Time Bomb by Gordon Rattray Taylor from the World Publishing Co., New York and Cleveland. T.D. has sent me excerpts from that book and it will curl all you straight-haired entities. Your researchers have had nearly a century to work on these things—having found the base structure of a virus and how they “work”, sometime in the “twenties”, as recorded. (In your own publications.)

Now, keeping in mind what I have said about viruses being crystal formations let me just read you a bit of interesting “stuff”:

*“But seven years later a genuine transformation, claimed as the first ever to be achieved except in bacteria was announced by A. S. Fox and S. B. Yoon of Wisconsin University. They treated a strain of fruit flies—the geneticist’s stock laboratory animal—with DNA extracted from flies of a different strain. The offspring of some of these flies varied genetically from their parents, and the variation bred true for up to seven generations, after which it vanished again. This announcement drew a reply from Professor Serge Gershenson, head of the Virology section of the Zabolotny Institute of Microbiology and Virology of the Academy of Sciences in the Ukraine. He, it appeared, had treated Drosophila with DNA derived from the thymus glands of calves thirty years ago, and had published his results in 1939. (At that time all DNA was believed to be identical, and he used calf DNA merely because there was a convenient technique available for obtaining it.) He found that the treatment produced stable mutations, but, unlike those produced by X-rays and so forth.....[and more:]*

“Moreover, we now know that viruses do their work by entering cells and substituting their own nucleic acid for the cell’s nucleic acid, thus forcing the cell machinery to make viruses and not what the cell usually makes. And in the fifties it became clear that viruses can even pick up bits of nucleic acid from the cell they enter, adopt it into their own system and later deposit this ‘rogue DNA’ in another host cell—a phenomenon known as transduction”.

Do you still want to deny and argue with me that duplication and mutation is not possible? Stop blaming little gray space aliens for the trouble you have—YOU HAVE DONE IT YOURSELVES QUITE AD-EQUATELY WITHOUT ANY SPECIAL HELP.

To other inquiries, I would like to say that it has been quite easy to get Hatonn’s cellular sample for we have been in and out of there for many, many years.

As to the Rajiv Gandhi assassination, it will become very clear as to why he was murdered. I believe, in fact, that I have already covered it well enough to get the picture.

Now as to the Pleiadean Command pulling out all their installations on Earth as you inquired. I believe that is not in any manner that which should be discussed here or anywhere. Suffice it to say that Pleiades Command NEEDS NO BASES ON YOUR EARTH—WE WORK VERY WELL FROM OUR OWN

OFF-SURFACE FACILITIES AND WOULD NEVER HAVE MORE THAN CONTACT POINTS AT ANY RATE—AT ANY TIME. Now, T.D., this comes from someone other than yourself—for YOU know better than that! You also know better than to test me regarding Vegans, Lyra, etc. If they were considering active intervention to protect you from your demise with the AB's, I would not respond—BUT, remember something—INTERVENTION IS A NO-NO! TO GO AGAINST COSMIC LAW AND INTERFERE WITH PLANETARY ACTIONS EXCEPT IN SPECIFIC PERMITTED AREAS OF EXPECTED DAMAGE TO THE OUTER ORDER WOULD NOT BE A WISE MANEUVER ON THE PART OF ANY OUTSIDE COMMAND—AND WOULD BRING DOWN A GREAT BUNDLE OF TROUBLE FROM FLEET COMMAND OF WHICH I HEAD.

I will speak of Alaska regarding the inquiry regarding what might be happening there. I ask Dharma to simply leave the following without label and reprint the letter from the entity in Alaska who has personally become entangled in some very interesting maneuvers regarding the Russians.

“Hatonn has written some time ago ‘Can Russia Invade the U.S.?’ and elsewhere that the Russian ‘business men’ etc., are swarming all over America.

“I would say that Russia has already invaded and is continuing to do so. These so-called business men are coming over to Alaska via Nome to Anchorage and wherever on a regular basis. They do not stay in hotels and such, but they stay in private individuals’ homes through do-gooders organizations such as the Rotary Club, Unity Church, etc. And the people welcome them with open arms! I have some acquaintances who are members of these organizations that have and are hosting these people. They stay maybe a few days or so while ‘someone’ comes to pick them up during their stay and they are shown around wherever and whatever they want to investigate—anything.

“BUT the capper is this: A group of Russian boys, complete with their smart military-styled uniforms showed up at the recent State Boy Scouts Jamboree unannounced and PARTICIPATED. The Scout organization had no advance warning that they were coming!!!

“I am not a letter writer and seldom ever write letters to the editor but I thought I would pass this little tid-bit to you.”

So—to whom it may concern. It is as if mass insanity has been loosed upon you—and so it has. I would write one more short instruction—from Dante unto his followers: “....and then he said: ‘Now it is time to quit this edge of shade: follow close after me along the rill, and do not stray from it; for the unburning margins form a lane, and by them we may cross the burning plain.’ “

Dante, in pity, restores the torn leaves to the soul of this countryman and the Poets move on to the next round, a great Plain of burning sand upon which there descends an eternal slow rain of fire. Here, scorched by fire from above and below, are three classes of sinners suffering differing degrees of exposure to the fire. The blasphemers (the violent against God) are stretched supine upon the sand, the Sodomites (the violent against Nature) run in endless circles, and the Usurers (the violent against Art, which is the grandchild of God) huddle on the sands.

The Poets find Capaneus stretched out on the sands, the chief sinner of that place. He is still blaspheming

God. They continue along the edge of the Wood of the Suicides and come to a blood-red rill which flows boiling from the Wood and crosses the burning plain. Virgil explains the miraculous power of its waters and discourses on the origin of all the rivers of Hell.

So what? The symbolism of the burning plain is centered in sterility and wrath. Blasphemy, sodomy, and usury are all unnatural and sterile actions: thus the unbearing desert is the eternity of these sinners; and thus the rain, which naturally should be fertile and cool, descends as fire. And what of this Capaneus? He is subjected not only to the wrath of Nature (the sands below) and the wrath from above (the fire from above), but is also tortured most by his own inner violence, which is the root of blasphemy.

And that, chelas, is where you are AT. You are between the rock and the hard place and you refuse to see and hear that which has brought you to this brink of pain and decision. It is seemingly easier to continue in the agony and chaos than to turn into Truth which would shower the cool life-spring of waters upon the barren lands. It is always the INNER refusal to understand and turn into KNOWING which is destructive unto the very soul of Man. So be it. For herein I shall turn this forum unto the Christed hands. You, precious creations, are at the crossroads and the path through is very narrow indeed and closing quickly. I ask that you “fear not” but turn from your ignorance into Truth that we might get on with that which is at hand.

Oh yes, early on we asked, why has Hatonn the audacity to MC the information and speakers? Because I AM ATON come with MY SON TO RECLAIM MY KINGDOM AND YOU, MY BLESSED CHILDREN. IT WILL BE MOST SUITABLE IF YOU WISH TO CONSIDER ME “THE HORSE’S MOUTH” rather than the other end of the horse where most still desire to place me. Salu.

ESU SANANDA:

Blessings and peace unto you ones. May we bring clarity and understanding in our WORDS.

While I lived, the disciples shared my belief in God—for it seemed the thing to do at the time and my own faith was great enough to bear them up. They even believed in the Kingdom of Heaven—as well as that there would be an ending to the world as it was then known. When I was no longer present, they, like ones now, dispersed. There was, however a regathering as they realized that I was not “gone”. How do we get over the hurdle of having to have some form of illusion in physical formation to convince the beings of the illusion?

They thought they had seen me dead—for it never occurred to them otherwise—then, it was obvious that they saw me “no longer dead”, so what could it mean? It mattered not that which I said unto them about life and death and thus and so—for they had seen me “dead” and now “no longer dead” so THEY HAD OBVIOUSLY SEEN ME RISE FROM THE DEAD—OR SOMETHING!

Now, we moved on into the heart of the matter which could later be misconstrued, lied about and made into a religion—now they no longer believed with me in God, but without this man, Esu (Jesus)—in Christ arisen. The step had been taken from the religion proclaimed by me, the man, a “prophet” of the Hebrew religion, to the Christian religion. While I lived, there was no such thing. The step was one easily taken but would have died completely out had Saul not turned up the steam in the cooker and saw a good way to make a sweeping change in the very structure of man's existence. Poor Saul, he actually believed he did "good" and yet he knew no better than to cram and force this new doctrine upon the masses, thus creating the bloodbaths of Hell upon a planet. Let it be recognized that at the time it was not "One man called Jesus or Esu Emmanuel" that basically changed a world—it was at the hands of the ignorant and deceivers through conjured stories and pronouncements, rules and regulations that a planet was changed. I believe if you look about the degenerating world—that it lacked and still lacks almost all Godly expression. You act in the name of God—but it is NOT the Holy God of Divine Truth and Light within the Divine and Balanced Natural Creation. Now you had best go back and start re-reading the Khazarian history as given unto you. For it was with the upstart of the Holy Church of Rome that the real clamps came down in the most evil eras that would ever befall a people.

TODAY, YOU CAN WITNESS THE "FATHER" OF THAT VERY CHURCH—PUSH THE "NEW WORLD—ONE WORLD—ORDER".

Further, the followers of the man Esu, the first "Christians", withdrew from the area of historic perception, for the supporters of Christ became an utterly intangible thing, oscillating ambiguously between being and nonbeing. It was Saul (Paul) who first led "Christianity" into the sphere of history. It is a total delusion to make Christianity begin with one called Jesus, Esu or Emmanuel—as a historical individual.

The history of Christianity is not yet complete. Because of the part played by the Church in remaking a Western world that had fallen into barbarism, and because the entire spiritual life of Latin and Germanic Europe is permeated with motifs originating in Christianity, all Christian churches seem to have something in common. This common element forms a bond between the many Christian churches that have fought each other to the death, the orthodox and the heretics, and even the indifferent who have grown up in the Christian world. But it is not permissible to define the common element as the "essence" of Christianity and on the basis of such a definition to judge what is Christian and what is not. From a historical point of view, such definitions can never be anything more than speculative ideal types of Christianity or dogmatic tenets on the strength of which particular churches or groups claim to be the sole repositories of Christianity, while all others are no better than heretics or heathen. Thus, insofar as the Western world is "Christian" if you wish to label it that, this Christian element, when it is not usurped by limited groups from the Roman Catholic Church to the Protestant sects, can only be the Biblical religion, which encompasses all Christian faiths as well as the so-called Jews and those who believe with a Church, and even in some way those who expressly abjure all faith. Re-read that please. Note that you have become a world of factions based on various BIBLES, not based on Godness nor anything of higher understanding. You have limited your existence to that of the physical plane and have efforted to completely sever your attachment to the Truth which you are.

Biblical religion thus becomes the all-embracing whole, reaching through the millennia from Abraham to our own day; no Westerner can disregard it, but no one is entitled to claim it for his own possession. Every man who lives in a bond with the Biblical religion finds his sustenance in it, selecting and stressing what he wishes. It is only when all the figures of the Biblical religion have been forgotten that the Christian West will be at an end. You see, that will not be too long in coming—for the one you remember, this "Jesus", was not—for he was a conjured fabrication of Saul of Tarsus. The Christ was missed just as he is missed in every journey through your expression. The "Christ" is actually "christ" which is a state of being and is NOT a physical manifestation. CHRIST—IS A STATE OF BEING! YOU CANNOT HOLD TO GOD OR CHRIST THROUGH ANY MAN! The expression of God as human physical projection is

NOT GOD NOR CHRIST NOR, NOR—FOR THOSE THINGS ARE NOT OF THE PHYSICAL EXPRESSION.

The man in point is one element in the “BIBLICAL” religion, an element of paramount importance for those who believe that one to be the Christ. Yet though Jesus Christ was somehow considered the beginning and center of this creed, the man himself, even in the Christian world, is only a component of Christianity; he was not its “founder” and through him alone it would not have come into being in any manner. The reality of the man was overlaid by ideas that were totally alien to the man himself, or to his emotional spiritual beliefs—only a tiny vestige of his own reality has remained in the “let’s pretend world” of the Biblical society. This is why I chuckle at the very prospects of “appearing” as some of you demand—to prove myself. Who would recognize of me? Would Dharma be enough to prove a thing? I doubt it greatly, since most ones pronounce her insane at best. Well, I can promise you of my beloved few—you WILL recognize ME when I arrive this time! Will I be angel? How about a bird? Might I be a space-man? How about a cow? You of mine, shall know me and there shall be no mistaking my presence. So be it.

One labeled “Jesus” the Christ, is somehow the beginning and center of this creed, though the man, himself, would not recognize that which is said of him. That poor man’s influence can be summarized along a couple of separate lines: He was transformed from the man into the Christ, the Son of God, from a human reality to an object of faith and secondly, the man himself was taken as a model for behavior.

His disciples took a first step when they began to believe not only in his message but also in him. Subsequently, they came to believe in him as the Messiah, as the Son of God, then, as God Himself. With this the human reality became irrelevant, except for two points: that he had actually lived the human flesh and that he had been crucified. It is characteristic that in the Credo the human reality of the “man” disappears. Its second article is a profession of faith in “God’s only begotten Son”, our Lord, conceived of the Holy Ghost and born of the Virgin Mary. After this transcendent introduction nothing is said of that man’s life except that he somehow suffered under Pontius Pilate, that he was crucified, died, and was buried. After that, you return to the transcendent: he descends to hell, rises from the dead on the third day, ascends to heaven, sits at God’s right hand, whence he will come again to judge the living and the dead. YOU WOULDN’T ALLOW YOUR DAUGHTER, HOPEFULLY, TO GO ON A DATE WITH ONE YOU KNOW SO LITTLE OF, WOULD YOU? AND YET, YOU BASE YOUR ETERNAL AND INFINITE EXPERIENCE ON THE LIE!

WHAT OF THE CONSEQUENCE?

All that matters is that God was in the world and was crucified? The historical reality is somehow irrelevant for faith. The study of the New Testament is superfluous for faith, and moreover, quite disturbing. For faith is not based on a historical reality that can be ascertained by critical investigation. Even the faith of his contemporaries, who was the man in the flesh, who knew his life, his gestures, actions, words, WAS NOT A PRODUCT OF THE REALITY.

This belief in the “Christ” was not inaugurated by ME, the one Saul labeled Jesus, nor Esu nor Emmanuel, but sprang up after the passing of the man himself. I say “passing” for you are going to have to amend your thinking in another manner—I was not killed on a cross. I survived and lived out my days away from the accursed and so-called Holy Lands. Did I sacrifice myself on a cross in any event? Of course not—it took seven or eight men to bind me while THEY EFFORTED TO MURDER MY PHYSICAL BEING.

Let us, herein, simply look again at that which the historian says regarding the aspects of the experience as to influence:

“...The first step was belief in the resurrection, based on the visions of Mary Magdalene and several of the apostles. Next, the shameful death on the cross was transformed into an act of sacrifice. Finally, with the outpouring of the Holy Ghost, the meaning of the company of believers was actualized and became the Church. The Gospel narrative of the Last Supper became the basis of a cult. The sacrament of the Last Supper was the end of a development; had Jesus established it, it would necessarily have been the beginning. ‘Jesus did not make himself into a sacrament’.”

“The articles of faith: Christ’s sacrificial death; the redemption of all believers through his death, wherein Christ took their sins upon himself; justification by faith; Christ as the second Person in the Trinity; Christ as Logos (world reason), participating in the creation of the world and guiding the people of “Israel” through the desert; the Church as Christ’s corpus mysticum; Christ as the second Adam, historical beginning of a new mankind; all these tenets and many more that mark the rich history of Christian dogma have nothing to do with Jesus. Christ was a new reality that was to produce the most overwhelming effects in history.

“Without the churches, Christianity could not have developed through the centuries. If Jesus kept a place amid the innumerable motifs that entered into this development, it was thanks to the canon of the Christian Scriptures. While even so early a Christian as Paul had no interest in Jesus the man, the Gospels remained a part of the New Testament. The Christian canon, including the books of the Old Testament, is so rich in contradictory themes that there is no justification for trying to find anywhere in it the key to the Gospel, to the message of Jesus, to the Biblical religion. Even Jesus is not the key, but it was his reality that gave the impetus wherever the idea of the imitation of Jesus has arisen.

“Here and there, men have taken a radical view of ‘imitation’. They have tried to put the Sermon on the Mount into practice by turning the other cheek, to follow Jesus’ instructions to the apostles by wandering in poverty, to follow the Passion by provoking their own ruin in the world, in short, to achieve the truth of martyrdom by actively imitating Jesus’ most extreme actions and sayings.

“Or else, the imitation of Jesus has been interpreted as the transfiguration of the suffering that comes to us unsummoned, in the course of events. The Passion of Jesus becomes a model, teaching us to bear the most unjust and inexplicable suffering, not to despair when we are forsaken, to find God, the last and only foothold, at that source of all things, to bear our cross with patience. For all suffering is sanctified through Jesus.

“The imitation of Jesus takes on still another meaning when his ethical imperatives are taken as a norm, when purity and love are seen as God’s will. This attitude compels knowledge: even at best we experience our ethical inadequacy.

“But an orientation by Jesus is possible without imitation. For Jesus gave the example of a life whose meaning was not nullified by failure in the world, but enhanced, not to be sure as an unequivocal directive but as a manifest possibility. He showed how a man could become free from the fear inherent in life by taking his cross upon himself. His message teaches men to keep their eyes open for absolute evil in the world and forbids complacency; it reminds men of the existence of a higher authority. The absurdities in his words and actions can exert a liberating effect.

“Many men in the world of Biblical religion have managed to discern Jesus through all the successive layers of tradition. In his actions and words he spoke as himself. Because of his radicalism, which has never ceased to be meaningful, the contemplation of Jesus the man has always been a source of that made him into its foundation, the dynamite which has threatened so often to shatter the congealed, worldly Christianity of the churches. He is invoked by the heretics who take their radicalism seriously.

“Enormous intellectual efforts have been made to confine the contradictory flow of this man’s life and thought in a systematic whole. In their drive toward worldly order, the churches have tried, often with considerable success, to muffle his explosive power, to limit and direct the flame. But from time to time it has broken loose, bringing new hopes and fears of the catastrophe that would usher in the Kingdom of Heaven.

“This origin has created peculiar difficulties for Church dogma and policy, and these never-resolved difficulties in turn have been responsible for the lack of clarity, but also for the vitality and wonderful truthfulness of Christianity.

“The difficulty began when the world failed to end. In the new situation, thought and action had to be revised. In practice, the place of the expected kingdom was taken by the Church. Jesus, the herald of the end, became the institutor of the sacrament. But once the kingdom of God that would end history was drawn into history, its whole character inevitably changed. The application of a message springing from the most extreme of situations to the tasks of this world, to the shaping of existence, the promotion of knowledge, art, letters, gave rise to the insoluble antinomies that mark any discussion of “Christianity and Culture”. Rebels and dogmatists have formed equally rigid and narrow conceptions of Jesus, the man and his teaching. The rebels’ interests lead them to seek grounds on which to deny everything in the world, as justification for their destructive drive for power. The advocates of Church dogma are led by their interests to moderate what is explosive and extreme by finding a place for it within the eternal, unchanging truth of Christianity. Thus they cannot acknowledge that the failure of the world to end produced a revision of Christian thinking.

“In regard to the historic knowledge of Jesus, orthodox faith may favor a radical skepticism which makes it possible to fill in the empty space where the historic reality has been, with a life of Christ based solely on faith and immune to historical criticism because it is not empirical but transcendent. Or, on the contrary, it may recognize the whole Gospel narrative as a historic reality to be believed without critical investigation. In the first case, historical knowledge is quite logically eschewed as irrelevant to faith. In the second, critical investigation is limited to secondary matters, for it is not permitted to alter so much as a jot in the revealed, absolutely certain empirical reality of the Biblical accounts.

“The historic reality of Jesus, the man, which is so extremely important for us in the history of philosophy, is without interest to the doctors of the faith, either among the rebels or the orthodox believers.”

Perhaps it might be advantageous to reread this last portion quite a few times and then allow it to digest.

When you, as Man, can separate that which is lie from that which is Reason and Truth, only then can you begin to come into the wondrous realms of that which is God and further your understanding of how and what IS this wondrous Creation in which you find yourself experiencing.

You see, you can now put aside your hate and mongering against Khazars and anti-Jesus assaults, etc. If you come into understanding and KNOWING OF GOD YOU HAVE IT ALL! Physical Man has set up the scheme to suit his own needs in the attainment of power over other Men—for he cannot gain power over that which he desires—GOD AND/OR NATURE CREATION. He can destroy and tear away at the fragments of both—but he cannot even begin to touch the being of God nor of the Creation in balance and total order. He can only wreak havoc among the ones and spaces of his intimate little tiny segment of experience.

IF YOU HAVE GOD—YOU HAVE POWER AND THAT, DEAR ONES, IS SIMPLY ALL THERE IS TO IT. FORGET THE TRAPPINGS, THE RITUALS, THE FOOLISHNESS—AND THE FEAR BROUGHT THROUGH THE LIES. IF YOU HAVE GOD—YOU HAVE POWER ABOVE ALL. AS LONG AS YOU BEAR THE LIGHT IN YOUR OWN PRESENCE—NOTHING THAT STANDS AGAINST GOD CAN ENDURE—NOTHING. THINGS DO NOT HAVE TO END AS YOU PERCEIVE THEM—IS IT NOT TIME TO WAKE UP?

Let us close this segment for it is quite a heavy load to drag until it can be sorted. Blessings upon ye ones who come into Truth. Saalome’.

I AM.

CHAPTER 3

THE $5 TRILLION COLD WAR HOAX

THE EXPOSÉ YOU WON'T

SEE ON 60 MINUTES

by Eustace Mullins 4/29/96

P.T. Barnum said it for all time, “There’s a sucker born every minute.” For more than four decades, the American people have been terrorized, not by a foreign threat, but by their own government. In order for the Federal Reserve System central bankers to continue to loot the nation after the successful conclusion of the Second World War, they had to invent a new threat. The only candidate was our erstwhile gallant ally, the Soviet Union. The central bank conspirators faced the task of continuing to mobilize the people against a terrible threat, taxing them heavily in order to save them from destruction.

Today, we are burdened by a $5 trillion national debt. Coincidentally, that is the sum we have spent on “national defense” since 1945. The World Order billionaires launched a complex, long-term plan to demonize Soviet Russia. Overnight, they would undergo a sea change, from the darlings of the American political Establishment to a dangerous and possibly overwhelming enemy. In my researches of more than fifty years, I finally located the smoking gun which exposed this conspiracy, a little known article in the August 1977 issue of American Heritage magazine, “Who Started the Cold War?” by historian Charles L. Mee Jr., editor of Horizon magazine, and author of one of the first cold war books, Meeting at Potsdam.

“SCARE THE HELL OUT OF THE COUNTRY”

In this article, Mee writes that on Feb. 27, 1947, “President Truman met with Congressional leaders in the White House. Undersecretary of State Dean Acheson was present at the meeting, and Truman had him tell the Congressmen what was at stake. Acheson spoke for ten minutes, informing the legislators that nothing less than the survival of the whole of Western civilization was in the balance at that moment; he worked in references to ancient Athens, Rome, and the course of Western civilization and freedom since those times. The Congressmen were silent for a few moments, and then, at last, Senator Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan, a prominent Republican who had come to support an active foreign policy, spoke up. All this might be true, Vandenberg said, but, if the President wishes to sell his program to the American people, he would have to ‘scare hell out of the country’. It was at that moment that the Cold War began in earnest for the United States.”

This is one of the most revealing statements in American history. This is the smoking gun which proves that the federal government used a terror campaign to frighten the American people into supporting four decades of Cold War spending on armaments. The initial campaign was the “atom bomb scare”, which raged for some years; it finally lost its effectiveness, and was replaced by the ogre, based solely on falsified and invented CIA statistics, that Soviet Russia was the most terrifying military power, with the fastest growing economy, in the world. These two CIA claims were mutually exclusive; no nation could have the world's greatest military machine and at the same time support the world's fastest growing economy, but the statisticians successfully sold this scare story for years.

CHURCHILL LAUNCHES COLD WAR

The Cold War, the Hegelian invention of Soviet Russia and the United States at each other's throats, the "free world" vs. the "slave empire", Capitalism vs. Communism, was the final triumph of dialectical materialism, also invented by the German philosopher, Hegel. He laid down the dictum that to rule the world, you create a problem; you find an antidote to that problem; and you throw the two conflicting theses against each other, to result in a consensus or resolution. This diabolical and cynical formula reached its apogee in the Cold War. Hopefully, we will not see another such travesty of history.

Hard on the conclusion of the Second World War, the Colossus of the United States stood astride the entire world. With the world's largest economy, never touched by a single bomb or artillery shell throughout the war, the largest army, and a proud and victorious people, it was incredible that the United States could for a moment seriously regard the war-devastated Soviet Union as a threat. Stalin lost forty million people during the war; his nation was in ruins. He desperately needed a breathing space in which to recover. Miraculously, the World Order invention of the Cold War came to his rescue. None other than Stalin's co-conspirator, Winston Churchill, was chosen to launch this new "problem". Now unemployed, Churchill was desperate to get back into the limelight. At the invitation of President Truman, Churchill was brought to the United States to deliver a speech at little Fulton College, in Truman's home state of Missouri.

On March 5, 1946, at Fulton, Churchill made his famous "Iron Curtain" speech. He warned that an "Iron Curtain" had descended upon Europe, the Communist enslavement of the Eastern European countries. He failed to mention that he and Franklin Delano Roosevelt had joined at Yalta to deliver Eastern Europe to Stalin, with Alger Hiss, the originator of the plan, beaming in the background. Not a single journalist, anywhere in the world, mentioned Churchill's overwhelming personal complicity in creating and maintaining the dire situation which he now publicly deplored.

THE CONVERSION OF SENATOR ARTHUR VANDENBERG

One of Washington's leading political strategists, Senator Arthur Vandenberg had warned his co-conspirators at the Feb. 27, 1947 White House meeting that to sell the prospective Cold War program, they would have to "scare hell out of the country". He had an interesting background. A millionaire newspaper publisher in Grand Rapids, Michigan (later to become famous as the home of President Gerald Ford), Vandenberg had been elected to the Senate in 1928. A rock-ribbed Republican, he voted against New Deal measures such as the Social Security Act. He was Republican minority leader, and Capitol Hill's leading isolationist. When the United Nations proposal came to Congress, no one in Washington doubted that Vandenberg would shoot it down.

All of Washington was amazed when Senator Vandenberg rose on the Senate floor, on January 10, 1945, and called for the establishment of the United Nations. As George Stimpson, founder of the National Press Club, later explained to me, America's leading isolationist had become a rabid internationalist in a single night. A beautiful blonde agent from British Secret Intelligence Service had been sent to his room. After an all night political discussion, Senator Vandenberg awakened to become the new champion of the United Nations. Although a little known story, it epitomizes how things are accomplished in Washington, today as yesterday.

This is the Senator who is described in the Dictionary of National Biography as “a jingoist and chauvinist who supported the aggressive foreign policies of Theodore Roosevelt and Taft.” Franklin D. Roosevelt rewarded Vandenberg for his treachery by sending him as a special delegate to San Francisco with Alger Hiss to draft the United Nations Charter. The White House continued to shower gifts on Vandenberg, even going so far as to make his favorite nephew, General Hoyt Vandenberg, Commanding General of the United States Air Force.

THE FLOOZIES OF WASHINGTON

During our discussions at the National Press Club in 1948, the subject of Senator Arthur Vandenberg’s overnight conversion to the congressional champion of the United Nations was examined in detail. We recalled a fellow agent of the blonde British Secret Service agent who accomplished this mission, one Kaye Summersby, who had been chosen to mollify General Eisenhower, Commanding General of the entire European Theater during the Second World War. Summersby’s intelligence training included the arts of the ancient Byzantine hetairae, who were skilled in the arts of “unendurable pleasure, indefinitely prolonged”. With Summersby as his chauffeur, Eisenhower was delivered to small country hotels in England, while his adviser, the political commissar Capt. Edward M. M. Warburg, of the banking family, ran the war from London. The enraptured general notified his superior, George Marshall, that he was divorcing Mamie Eisenhower to marry the princess of endless delights, which of course was never in the cards. Marshall promptly reported this development to President Truman, who was furious, notifying Ike that it was out of the question (Plain Speaking, by Merle Miller). Kaye ended her days as a permanent house guest on a Rothschild estate on Long Island.

Another British agent, Pamela Digby Churchill, married to Winston Churchill’s son, later married Averill Harriman, the unofficial foreign minister of the United States. Harriman’s exploits in travelling the world, instructing the heads of nations in how to conduct their affairs, was legendary. He became the subject of a series of novels by Upton Sinclair, chronicling the feats of one Lanny Budd (Harriman) throughout the world. Harriman spent the last two years of World War II at Stalin’s Kremlin headquarters, dictating to Stalin how he should conduct the war. After his death, Pamela Churchill Harriman took over the Democratic National Committee. She is now our Ambassador to Paris, the most desired appointment in our foreign service, presiding over 1100 employees.

HARRIMAN’S REPLY

When Charles T. Mee Jr.’s historic article appeared in American Heritage magazine in August of 1977, the editors notified Averill Harriman and gave him the chance to reply in the same issue. Harriman’s reponse was headlined “We Can’t Do Business with Stalin”. The Communist dictator who had been Harriman’s lackey throughout the war was now dismissed as uncooperative! Harriman recounts in great detail the repressive policies of Stalin towards the captive nations in Eastern Europe (policies which Harriman himself had initiated), and goes on to denounce Mee’s astounding report as “revisionist”. “Mr. Mee has made his own sketchy revision of standard revisionist doctrine,” quoting Mee’s statement that “the Cold War served everybody’s purpose.” Truman needed an excuse for deficit spending, because without it he could not have kept the American economy busy and productive. Thus he waged a Cold War, after the hot war was won, to justify continued deficit spending. With the Truman Doctrine and the Marshall Plan, the encouragement of American multinational companies, and a set of defense treaties that came finally to encompass the world, he institutionalized it.”

As Charles T. Mee Jr. points out in his article, Stalin was a principal beneficiary of the Cold War. “Stalin needed the Cold War, not to venture out into the world again after an exhausting war, but to discipline his restless people at home. He had need of that ancient stratagem of monarchs—the threat of an implacable external enemy to be used to unite his own people in Russia.” Mee also names Winston Churchill as a prime suspect in the Cold War conspiracy. He states that Churchill “emerged from World War II with a ruined empire, irretrievably in debt, an empire losing its colonies and headed inevitably toward bankruptcy. Churchill’s scheme for saving Great Britain was...to arrange to have America and Russia quarrel; while America and Russia quarrelled, England would—as American diplomats delicately put it—’lead’ Europe”.

As had been the case for some three hundred years, “leading” Europe and the United States meant that Great Britain would make frequent use of its secret weapon, the Secret Intelligence Service. Its powers included, as we have seen, reversing the entire foreign policy of the United States overnight, from isolationism to an abject embracing of the United Nations; making the most prominent American general and future President a “love slave” of a ruthless intelligence agent, and much, much more, most of which we shall never know.

THE FIRST VICTIMS OF THE COLD WAR

The first victims of the Cold War were not soldiers; they were American politicians who were reluctant to embrace the new campaign. The first casualty was elder statesman Henry Stimson, who wrote a memo to President Truman in the autumn of 1945, cited by Mee as the cause of Stimson’s disappearance from Washington. Stimson’s memo denounced the projected Cold War as a serious error, and called for “satisfactory relations” with Russia. Henry Wallace, Secretary of Commerce, also protested against the Cold War; he was allowed to resign. Mee identifies the “comers” in Washington as those who were quick to latch onto the Cold War as “the wave of the future”. Those who tended to believe in an aggressive attitude toward Russia, were spotted, and promoted—young men such as John Foster Dulles and Dean Rusk. George Kennan, then in the American Embassy in Moscow, was discovered after he sent a perfervid 8,000 word telegram back to Washington. “We have here a political force committed fanatically to the belief that with U.S. there can be no permanent modus vivendi, that it is desirable and necessary that the internal harmony of our society be disrupted, our traditional way of life be destroyed, the international authority of our state be broken.” Mee mentions that, in his memoirs, Kennan says that he now looks back on his cable ‘with horrified amusement’. “At the time, however, he was ideal for Truman’s use, and he was recalled from Moscow and made chairman of the State Department’s Policy Planning Committee, or as the New York Times called him, ‘America’s global planner’.”

THE EGGHEADS

Critics of the new Cold War foreign policy quickly found a nickname for its architects, “the eggheads”. Like George Kennan, they were liberal intellectuals, often prematurely bald, and unanimous in their dislike of the American people, whom they hated and feared, and their Constitution. Their goal, which they now seem to have achieved, was to liberate the federal government, which Thomas Jefferson and the other Founding Fathers had written to “bind down the government with the chains of the Constitution”. While ostensibly following an “anti-Communist” policy, the eggheads never forswore their dedication to Marxism, and its monolithic state.

During the four decades of the Cold War, Hollywood, which never failed to bolster the goals of the Cold War architects, reserved its bitter scorn for “red-blooded Americans” who stood for flag and country. While forbearing from ever presenting lifelong Communists in a deprecating way, Hollywood made films deriding “anti-Communists” as flagwaving American Legion boobs, a stance which it continues to this day. If any one of the eggheads and their Hollywood lackeys were to be called a “patriot”, they would be overcome with shame.

A PHONY WAR

During most of its history, the Cold War was a propaganda war, in which the opponents hurled invectives at each other. However, the military-industrial complex cannot make billions of dollars from propaganda; there had to be occasions of real shooting. We endured the Korean War and the Vietnam War, with hundreds of thousands of casualties, while Soviet Russia did not lose a man in either war. Both Russia and the United States were careful to have the scenes of battle take place thousands of miles from their own lands, in poverty-stricken countries such as Korea and Vietnam. We had the Cuban missile crisis, a soap opera in which the media convinced Americans that they had been on the brink of atomic destruction, being saved just before the bombs were launched by the “incredible diplomatic skills” of John F. Kennedy and Khrushchev, neither of whom before or after this crisis had ever shown the slightest skill at diplomacy. The Berlin Wall was built, to prevent all of its population from fleeing the desolation of Communist East Germany. The eggheads greeted the Berlin Wall with praise. President John F. Kennedy made a special trip to Germany to put his seal of approval on the Berlin Wall, and to reassure the Communists that the United States would not remove it. And we never did. It was the Germans themselves, driven beyond endurance, who ripped it down, much to the consternation of our eggheads in Washington.

A METEORIC CAREER

Although few Americans recognize the name of George Kennan, he not only was the source of the nickname “egghead”, he also was the bureaucrat entrusted with the maintenance of the Cold War in Washington for many years. He was named after his uncle, George Kennan, who spent many years travelling in Czarist Russia on “missionary work” for the world Communist movement. He was entrusted with many millions of dollars by Jacob Schiff, known as “A Prince in Israel”, who was born in the Rothschild house in Frankfurt, and who, according to his grandson, John Schiff, had spent twenty-two-million dollars of his personal funds to bring about the Bolshevik Revolution in Russia. Most of this money was spent on revolutionary propaganda, which Kennan, with journalistic credentials, distributed throughout Russia. Some historians credit George Kennan as the pivotal force in the Bolshevik Revolution, pointing out that it was his distributing of thousands of revolutionary leaflets to officers in the Czar’s Army which turned them against the regime and led to the downfall of the Czar.

George Kennan also worked with Jacob Schiff in financing Japan in the Russo-Japanese War of 1905. The Japanese government decorated Kennan with the Gold War Medal, and the Order of the Sacred Treasure. (The World Order, by Eustace Mullins, p. 64). Schiff instigated this war to strike a blow against the alleged oppression of Jews in Russia, and to create a governmental crisis by which the Communists could seize power. The “1905 Revolution” failed miserably; the Communists had to wait twelve more years, with Schiff’s continued support, before they could seize power.

A REMARKABLE HERITAGE

To those who have studied the history of the twentieth century, it is not at all paradoxical that the American government should have entrusted its foreign policy towards Russia to someone named after the man who is credited with bringing about the Bolshevik Revolution. When Franklin D. Roosevelt, repaying Communist support which gave him victory in his presidential race against Herbert Hoover, promptly extended diplomatic recognition to Stalin, it was George Kennan who was chosen to accompany Ambassador William Bullitt to Moscow to reopen the American Embassy. It was George Kennan who wrote the notorious 8,000-word “long telegram” sent from Moscow to Washington on Dec. 22, 1946, where, as he points out, it caused a sensation, and led to his being summoned back to Washington to head the newly created post of head of Policy Planning.

Kennan states in his memoirs that he had the only office directly adjoining the office of Secretary of State General George Marshall, and that it was he, Kennan, who actually drafted the text of the Marshall Plan.

THE POLICY OF “CONTAINMENT”

However, it is as “X”, the anonymous author of an article which appeared in the July, 1947 issue of Foreign Affairs, the official publication of the Council on Foreign Relations, titled “The Sources of Soviet Conduct”, that George Kennan continues to be remembered in Washington. This article laid down the principle of “containment” which was to be official U.S. policy towards Russia for the remainder of the Cold War. No wonder the New York Times called Kennan “America’s global planner”. Henry Kissinger, who inherited the Kennan policy of the Cold War, wrote in White House Years, p. 135, that “George Kennan came as close to authoring the diplomatic doctrine of his era as any diplomat in our history.”

Paul Kennedy, in The Rise and Fall of the Great Powers, defined the “policy of containment” as follows: “The view from Washington was that a master plan for world Communist domination was unfolding and needed to be ‘contained’.” Walter Lippmann, who was a one-man think tank in Washington for fifty years, and an adviser to many Presidents, adopted Kennan’s policy in his influential The Cold War; a Study in United States Foreign Policy, as America’s senior elder statesman.

Kennan’s “containment” policy was just that; that the Soviet Union and world Communism would be contained, but never openly challenged or fought against. It was a permanent guarantee that the captive nations of Eastern Europe, which had been delivered to Stalin by Roosevelt, Churchill and Alger Hiss at Yalta, would never be liberated from Communism. An organization championing the captive nations was for many years the most hated and derided group in Washington. Composed of a few Congressmen from Chicago and Cleveland who had strong ethnic backing from Poles, Czechs and other Eastern Europe countries, it was a political embarrassment for many years to the oligarchs of the Cold War.

THE MEN BEHIND CONTAINMENT

In his memoirs, Kennan mentions that one of the principal sponsors of his containment policy was then-Secretary of the Navy James Forrestal, who later, as Secretary of Defense, became one of a long list of “Washington suicides”, a special category à la Vince Foster. Although published in Foreign Affairs, a magazine read only by the Elite, it was quickly taken up by Arthur Krock of the New York Times, the most influential journalist in Washington. He reprinted the article in the New York Times, describing it as the “most important foreign relations document of the century”. A shorter version of the containment article was then published in Life magazine. It had now inundated the country.

Kennan states in his memoirs, “I emphatically deny the paternity of any efforts to invoke the doctrine of containment today.” He downplays both the “long telegram” and the article by “X”, claiming that they have been “misunderstood”. He modestly ignores the fact that he laid down the policy which our government has followed for forty years. His reward was a post as professor at the elite think tank in Princeton, the Institute for Advanced Study, where he has worked since 1950, with interim appointments as Ambassador to Russia and to Yugoslavia. He also was awarded the Albert Einstein Peace Prize, presumably for avoiding a Third World War by his policy of containment (my studies have shown that a Third World War between Russia and the United States was never seriously considered by anyone in authority). It was only a “War Game”.

TECHNIQUES OF THE COLD WAR

The government propaganda techniques by which the American people were terrorized for some forty years began with the dire threat of nuclear annihilation. School children went through daily drills of falling to the floor in terror of the atomic bomb which would destroy their school. Their parents built backyard “bomb shelters” stocked with food and water. Because “scientific studies” showed that the radiation peril would last for at least five hundred years, the survivors apparently expected to spend that much time in their shelters. Nationwide philosophical debates ensued as to whether the survivors, huddled in their shelters after the blast, should open the door to neighbors or to “minorities” who had neglected to build bomb shelters, or whether they should shoot those who battered down the doors to get food. Hollywood loyally produced many movies about the coming atomic debacle, such as Dr. Strangelove, in which insane fascists were determined to use the bomb to destroy the civilized world; War Games, in which a mad computer tried to trick the United States and Russia into destroying each other; and a steady stream of films depicting “Bette Davises” as little old librarians who were determined that students should be allowed to read the works of Karl Marx.

THE CIA RIDES TO THE RESCUE

After years of exposure to the imminent threat of being vaporized in an atomic blast, Americans began to ignore the threat; many of them bulldozed their bomb shelters into swimming pools. It was obvious to our masters that new techniques of terror had to be developed. The Central Intelligence Agency now became the vehicle of mass terrorism. It became known as “the Company” under the leadership of stock promoter Bill Casey. He became highly skilled at peddling alarming statistics about the threat of Communism to Congress, who hastily voted vast increases in the “defense” budget. The oligarchs abandoned the now worn out doctrine of nuclear annihilation. There would be no need to spend two-hundred-and-fifty-billion dollars a year on tanks, guns and airplanes if they were all to be vaporized by a single bomb. The defense budget had been brought from a low of $13 billion in 1947 to a continuous budget in the hundreds of billions. With its top secret budget of hundreds of millions of dollars a year, never to be examined by anyone, the CIA sent its own James Bonds all over the world usually to attack and overthrow “anti-Communist” governments and “dictators” such as Ferdinand Marcos, who had been indiscreet in their denunciations of Communism. The CIA hired hundreds of journalists to write books and articles promoting its version of the Cold War, always at the highest prevailing rates.

EFFECTS OF THE COLD WAR

The effect on both Russia and the United States of the Cold War conspirators has been devastating. Russia’s economy is in a state of collapse, with no improvement in sight. The United States has been looted; its infrastructure, its roads, bridges and other assets need many billions in immediate repair. We have the $5 trillion Cold War debt; but the most destructive effect on our nation is the Cold War’s effect on our morality.

The years of being terrorized by the atomic threat had a very destructive effect on morality. If we were to be vaporized at any time, it seemed worthwhile to seize the moment, to take pleasure, money and any other rewards while they were available, without thought for the consequences, since there would be no consequences. We have now endured the effects of this poisonous doctrine for several generations.

The effect of the CIA propaganda lies about the “great Soviet Union” which might take over the world at any moment has been equally destructive. When conservative economist Paul Craig Roberts landed in Moscow during the height of the CIA propaganda campaign, he was stunned to find that Soviet Russia had “a Third World economy”. I had proved in my writings that the United States taxpayer had been subsidizing the Soviet Union since 1917. In fact, Americans have been living a lie for four decades, the lie that we were in dire peril from “the Communist threat”. This lie has been demoralizing; it has placed us on the brink of bankruptcy; and it poses the challenge to us: When are we going to get rid of our Cold War conspirators? They must pay the price for the destruction they have wrought on our nation. We must drive them out of every office; bring them to trial for their high treason; and restore the Republic which our Founding Fathers bequeathed to us. It is this task—not sad jokes about “balancing the budget”—which will determine whether this nation will survive to the twenty-first century.

CHAPTER 4

THE NEWS DESK

by Phyllis Linn 2/17/96

VIDEO SHOWS ISRAELI INTENT

Here are two pointedly contradictory newsclips from Canada. First, from the May 7 issue of THE GAZETTE (Montreal) (Monique Beaudin reporting), [quoting:]

Israel loves peace and hates war, but sometimes has to engage in military battle to defend itself, Leah Rabin told a Westmount audience last night. And that was the case when Israeli fighters bombed a United Nations camp in Lebanon last month and killed at least 90 refugees, she said. Rabin, the widow of slain Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin, called the bombing a “mishap”, but said Israel has to defend itself from neighbors who do not fully accept it as a country.

She said Israeli soldiers know that every soldier’s life—whether that of a friend or an enemy—cannot be replaced. And she said her husband, although closely linked throughout his life with the army as a general and the country’s minister of defence, believed that the best war was the war that could be avoided or prevented. “He was basically a man of peace,” she said.

And the second comes from an article by Bill Schiller of the European Bureau which appeared in the May 7 issue of THE TORONTO STAR, [quoting:]

LONDON—A video showing an Israeli spotter plane above a U.N. compound in southern Lebanon, during the April 18 shelling in which more than 100 civilians were killed, has convinced U.N. investigators the Israeli attack was deliberate. The eight-minute tape, a copy of which was obtained by the Independent newspaper, clearly shows the plane—which helps artillery gunners on the ground pinpoint their targets—flying above the United Nations camp throughout the massacre.

Timor Goksel, spokesperson for the U.N. peacekeeping force in Lebanon, said yesterday: “The importance of the tape is that it shows the shelling is not one or two rounds that overshot, as we’ve been told for the past two weeks...but that it was a targeted shelling.” The film is certain to aggravate already serious credibility problems for the Israeli government....The Clinton Administration has said it believes [i.e., was ordered to promote the fiction that] the massacre was collateral damage in the wake of Israelis’ legitimate pursuit of Hezbollah bombers nearby.

WEIRD WEATHER FURTHERS DEPOPULATION SCHEMES

With world-wide grain shortfalls already a reality, Midwest drought—and floods in parts of four Midwestern states—worsen the downward spiral, just as envisioned by the Global 2000 planners. From the May 6 issue of THE CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR, [quoting:]

pict. cows eat

FRAME SWITCH, Texas—It wasn't rain, but for Dwayne Krueger, the cool overcast sky that rolled into this farming community northeast of Austin last week was the next best thing. Like farmers from Mexico to Nebraska, Mr. Krueger is encountering the worst drought since 1956. If his farm doesn't get a long soaking rain in the next week, 800 acres of foot-high corn seedlings—and the $100,000 in seed, fertilizer, and fuel it took to plant them—will be lost [and, sooner or later, the farm itself will be lost to the internationalist bankers].

Whether they raise corn, cotton, cattle, or some other commodity, farmers throughout the central United States are watching as their fields are slowly baked. And the dog days of summer haven't even arrived. The drought has sent shock waves through world commodity markets, and prices for many grains are near record highs. Few states stand to lose as much as Texas, the nation's second largest agricultural producer.

While eastern Missouri saw floods last week, Kansas cattle-producers saw no relief and like Texas ranchers, face a weak market. "Two years ago, newborn calves were selling for $125," says Joe Wary, a county extension agent in Hays, Kansas. "Yesterday, they brought $10. Despite predictions that the drought will continue, many farmers in Mr. Wary's region are being lured to plant by the higher prices for grain. In fact, there is a shortage of seed: "The suppliers can't even get any seed." The extension agent points out that last year's wheat crop in Kansas was poor. If the current crop fails, he fears that farmers will not have enough wheat seed to plant next year.

HERBICIDE-RESISTANT WEEDS

This story parallels recent news of "antibiotic-resistant viruses". Each originates in the same thought process: looking to the "drug companies" for answers and ignoring the laws of nature. From the April 11 issue of THE WESTERN PRODUCER (Saskatchewan) (306-665-3519), [quoting:]

CAMROSE, Alta.—For the first time, weeds resistant to two groups of herbicides have been found outside Manitoba, said Alberta Agriculture's weed specialist. A Camrose farmer discovered in his field a patch of wild oats resistant to two types of herbicides, said Linda Hall. "The thing that is different about this particular wild oat is that it is resistant both to group one, Assure, and to a group two, Assert," said Hall. There have been reports of grassy-type weeds becoming resistant to one group of herbicides in Alberta, but this is the first reported case of a weed resistant to two herbicide groups, said Hall. "We don't know the reason that this is cross resistant or multiple resistant. It is a concern because it leaves very few herbicide options for the producer," Hall said. [End of quoting.]

William A. Albrecht of the University of Missouri and frequent contributor to ACRES U.S.A., said, "Growth is possible only through the balance of the several fertility essentials in the soil because better nutrition protects the crop to nearly complete exclusion of all other crops." Albrecht learned a simple lesson about nature's answer to the problem of noxious pasture weeds in an experiment on two plots that had been maintained in continuous grass (timothy). One plot had been dressed with barnyard manure at the rate of 6 tons per acre. The other plot received no treatment. Otherwise both were treated the same. The untreated plot became so infested with weeds that plowing and reseeded was required. Weed seeds were numerous on the manured plot because the wind blew them in from the infested plot, yet the weeds failed to take hold and thrive there. Albrecht scoffed at laws that hoped to prevent machines from carrying noxious weeds from farm to farm. He viewed soils of weakened fertility as the culprits because such soils INVITE the invader. And he was less impressed with costly—and dangerous—weed poisons, which can only deliver side effects it will take generations to fully understand.

Since it's garden time, here's another thought-provoking excerpt on weeds, from Weeds and What They Tell Us by Ehrefried E. Pfeiffer (Order from Byo-dynamic Farming and Gardening Association, Inc., P.O. Box 550, Kimberton, PA 19442), [quoting:]

Weeds are WEEDS only from our human egotistical point of view, because they grow where we do not want them. [That, in itself, is very profound!] In Nature, however, they play an important and interesting role. They resist conditions which cultivated plants cannot resist, such as drought, acidity of soil, lack of humus, mineral deficiencies, as well as a one-sidedness of minerals, etc. They are witness of man's failure to master the soil, and they grow abundantly wherever man has "missed the train"—they only indicate our errors and Nature's corrections. Weeds want to tell a story—they are nature's means of teaching man, and their story is interesting. If we would only listen to it we could apprehend a great deal of the finer forces through which Nature helps and heals and balances and, sometimes, also has fun with us. [End of quoting.]

OKLAHOMA WINTER WHEAT PLAGUED BY GREEN BUGS

From the same issue of THE WESTERN PRODUCER, [quoting:]

CHICAGO, Ill.—An outbreak of green bugs, a pest which feeds on plant juices and reduces yields, has become widespread across Oklahoma's winter wheat fields, forcing growers to spray more than once, crop experts said. "It is the worst it has been in 20 years but at the same time, I think we had some relief from timely pesticide applications," said Oklahoma State University extension entomologist Phil Mulder. [End of quoting.]

"Sprays"—a bonanza for the chemical/drug companies—but a disaster, in the long run, for all. This month's issue (May) of ACRES U.S.A. (Call 800-355-5313 for info) contained an interesting article called "Understanding the Insect World". Here's just a snippet, [quoting:]

Do plants transmit the signals that call in cutworms, cabbage loopers, moths or earworms, or permit them to grow? If this is so, then the makeup of the plant—the enzymatic and hormonal balance as determined by soil fertility, nutrients and balance thereof—determines whether these microminiature transmitters attract or repel. It is well within reason to suggest that a subclinically sick plant will have an altered wavelength. Is this why insects attack the undernourished plant, the one with the missing trace nutrients [Commercial fertilizers focus only on NPK (nitrogen, phosphorus, and potash)]? If so, then the questions have been answered by the eco-farmer who has discovered the bio-chemistry of immunity...in fertility management. [End of quote.]

FULL OF BALONEY:
MORE ON “MAD COW DISEASE”

Here are some articles ancillary to what you have seen in the media on Britain’s “mad cow disease” brouhaha. From the May/June issue of HEALTH SCIENCE, [quoting:]

In March 1996, British authorities admitted to the connection between “mad cow disease”—bovine spongiform encephalopathy (BSE), and Creutzfeldt-Jakob Disease (CJD)—an extremely rare but 100-percent fatal human brain disease. Mad cow disease is a deadly bovine brain disorder that first appeared in British herds in the mid-1980s.

Because the slaughter industry is big business, British authorities and American authorities have been assuring people that it is safe to eat meat. Americans have been told that there is no disease threat from eating beef because beef imports from England were halted seven years ago, and because the disease has not (yet) been detected in American cattle.

It may well be true that Americans face little chance of contracting mad cow disease. But to say that it is safe to eat beef is stretching facts to the extreme. The current scare from mad cow disease in England is thought to involve the deaths of eight people. Two others are expected to die soon. Compare that with the documented problems associated with beef. Beef is an animal product, a high-fat, high-protein “food” [not from the cow’s point of view!] that contains no fiber or carbohydrates and is rife with biologically accumulated toxic waste. The type of protein contained in animal products is associated with osteoporosis and kidney disease. Excess fat and protein are linked with heart disease and stroke. Animal products are associated with many forms of cancer, especially colon, prostate, and breast cancer. The number of people who die each year from diseases associated with animal products is estimated to be in the hundreds of thousands—in the United States alone.

According to a report by the Surgeon General of the United States, of the more than two million deaths in the U.S. each year, more than 1.5 million are related to dietary factors, including the consumption of saturated fat and cholesterol (animal products). Rather than exploiting a sensational story about mad cow disease, newspapers, radio and television stations should be reporting about the other shocking facts about beef consumptions.

Here’s more on this subject from our good ol’ ORLANDO SENTINEL (May 1 issue), [quoting:]

CHICAGO—Older women who eat a lot of red meat face an increased risk of lymph node cancer, perhaps because the meat’s fat and protein overworks their immune systems, researchers said Tuesday. Heavy consumption of animal fat, saturated and mono-unsaturated fat and red meat, especially hamburger, was associated with the development of non-Hodgkin lymphoma, researcher Brian Chiu of the University of Iowa said. He said the immune system may become chronically overstimulated by a high-fat, high-protein diet because more antibodies are released in response to red meat compared with other foods, resulting in a “state of immune tolerance”. [Chiu could find himself falling quickly out of favor in Iowa with “treasonous” stuff like this!]

The study examined 35,156 Iowa women ages 55 to 69 with no prior history of cancer, of whom 104 developed lymph node cancer. The cancer, which generally attacks the lymph nodes or spleen, is diagnosed in about 43,000 Americans a year. Its incidence has increased dramatically in recent years.

And here's another thought-provoking piece by C. Edgar Sheaffer, VMD, from the May issue of ACRES U.S.A., [quoting:]

I have been involved in agriculture for over 50 years, and most of my adult life has been spent in veterinary practice. I am continuously faced with this truth—whether in farming or any other endeavor of life—stay as close as possible to the Creator's design. The more we stray from the natural order of things, the more trouble we cause. One example which is confronting all of us in the dairy industry is Mad Cow Disease, which threatens agriculture worldwide. Even though most scientists believe that this disease first began after sheep slaughterhouse trimmings and organs were fed to cattle, we continue to add animal fat, animal protein and tallow to cattle feed. These ingredients are preserved with one of the most harmful chemical additives—ethoxyquin.

How are we improving the health of cows by forcing them to become carnivores? How can a cow produce healthy milk when she is fed parts of her stable mates? How can we hope to prevent mastitis when we add meat scraps and tallow to dairy rations? Ruminants (cattle, sheep, goats, llamas, and other herbivores) are very efficient at converting forage into milk, meat and fiber. Have any of our nutritionists looked into a cow's mouth lately? Do those teeth look like they belong to flesh eating species? Finally, animal fat is being added to milk replacer as well. A new disease syndrome in calves is seen when a 20% animal fat replacer is used. Feeding at recommended levels may fill the stomach; but calves do not have enzymes to digest animal fat, so they literally starve to death with a full stomach. [Thank you, doc!]

NEW TESTAMENT TO BE
REWORDED TO STEM ANTI-SEMITISM

From the May 4 issue of THE GLOBE AND MAIL (Canada), [quoting:]

In a move that may reverberate across the country, several United Church congregations in Vancouver are urging churches to reword some texts in the New Testament that have been used for 2,000 years to justify anti-Semitism and violence against Jews. A group of 20 United Church congregations in Vancouver has proposed replacing the phrase “the Jews” whenever the term is used in a pejorative sense in Scripture readings with terms that are specific to the historical period of the event. [If it doesn't suit your fancy, just change it!] They also suggested that churches should remind their congregations during Holy Week (the week before Easter) that gentiles, not Jews, killed Jesus. The charge of deicide has been used for centuries in Europe to justify several massacres of Jews. The resolution also proposes that the phrase “the Jews” be replaced by “the Judeans” who were the Jews who lived around Jerusalem at the time of Jesus.

Rev. Gary Paterson, a minister at Ryerson United Church in the Vancouver Kerrisdale neighbourhood, said in an interview that the resolution came from a small group of people in the church who feel that Christianity has to look at its responsibility for the anti-Jewish sentiment that keeps emerging in North American culture and society. The United Church has prescribed Scripture readings each Sunday, according to Mr. Paterson. The readings for tomorrow include a passage from John, in which Jesus states “I am the way, the truth and the life; no man cometh unto the Father but by me.” The passage has been used to assert the church's exclusive rights to the deity and to attack Jews who deny the church's claims. Tomorrow's readings also include a portion from Acts, where those who do not accept Jesus are described as "stiff-necked" people, which has been understood as an accusation of hypocrisy. The Book of John is also filled with vitriolic attacks against the Jews, including the charge that the Jews were responsible for the death of Jesus.

Very Reverend Robert Smith, a former moderator of the United Church of Canada, said in an interview that many scholars believe that the Gospel of John reflects anti-Semitic attitudes that are perpetuated when worshippers stand up unthinkingly and repeat them. [More propaganda and publicity for the poor, pitiful, persecuted Jews.]

"ESTABLISHMENT CHURCHES ARE ON THE WAY OUT"

When the Methodists had their 10-day quadrennial general conference last month, Hillary was there to bestow her blessings. From the April 27 issue of THE ORLANDO SENTINEL, [quoting:]

Although much debate centered on homosexual ordination, other serious issues were on the minds of delegates: declining and aging membership, the same issues troubling other mainline denominations. Since 1965 the United Methodist Church has lost nearly 20 percent of its members, according to a denominational study. In 1994 alone, the last year for which figures are available, 50,000 members dropped from the rolls. More than 60 percent of the denomination is over the age of 50. Younger people, especially the more affluent and well-educated [i.e., NWO programmed], are accustomed to "church hopping" and "church shopping", said Dean Hoge, author of Vanishing Boundaries: The Religion of Mainline Baby Boomers [whatta title!]. "They assume religious relativism and do not see the need for organized religion," said Hoge, professor of sociology at Georgetown University. "Establishment churches are on the way out." [End of quoting.] Churches have served the NWO well. From their inception they have been used to control and mislead the masses—to limit and externalize the concept of GOD and to promote the NWO propaganda-of-the-day. Now it's time to erode the religions—to eliminate even the watered-down theology—to prepare the way for the One World Religion and TOTAL CONTROL.

CANADA MAY DROP BIBLE-SWEARING

More of the same. From the April 22 issue of THE GAZETTE, MONTREAL, [quoting:]

OTTAWA—God might soon have no place in the nation's courtrooms. A federal-provincial working group recommends the religious oath commonly used in legal proceedings be replaced with a simple promise to tell the truth. The assumption that all witnesses should be willing to bind themselves by Christian oaths is "clearly less and less appropriate in the face of changes in Canadian society in recent decades," says a consultation paper by the working group on multicultural and race relations in the justice system. It says the idea of swearing on a Bible is rooted in a time when religious belief was central to cultural and social institutions—an age when few questioned the belief in God or the prospect of an afterlife [clearly a BY-GONE era, according to this group!]

"In general, religious beliefs are neither as widespread in modern society as they once were nor as strongly held, and they certainly cannot be assumed to play the same unifying role as they may have played in the past.”

PROPHETS OF PRESLEY

This should appropriately finish this section on “trends in religion”. From the April 28 issue of THE ORLANDO SENTINEL, [quoting:]

BETHLEHEM, Pa.—After decades of unorganized Elvis worship, the Prophets of Presley want fans of the King to join their church. The tenets of Presleyterianism are simple: Eat six meals a day (with frequent snacking in between), face Las Vegas once a day, make a pilgrimage to Graceland and fight against the evil anti-Elvis, Michael Jackson. About 200 people have joined the organization, which holds weekly services in cyberspace and all of them celebrated when Lisa Marie Presley filed for divorce from Jackson.

Mort Lehigh [founder of the “church”] sponsored Elvis events all last week thanks to religion professor Norman Giradot, who teaches a class titled “Jesus, Buddha, Confucious, and Elvis”. [Needless to say, universities are big players in the NWO goal of destroying religion and spiritual truth.] Students can learn about pop-culture icons and early religions by studying the Presley phenomena, Giradot said. “Despite all the wackiness, there is a serious side to this,” he said. “All religions start out as small, wacky and cultlike. [Okay, readers, fill in your own comments: _____ _____!] Some survive. Others do not.”

PART VII TIMELESS REMINDER OFFERED FROM ESU “JESUS” SANANDA

Editor’s note: We continue to share a series of exceptional writings from Esu “Jesus” Sananda from some years ago, specifically in 1991. The message rings as true today as it did then, and we hope that you will spend some serious “quiet time” in reading and reflecting on his generous offerings in wisdom. Many of us readers are guilty of wanting “new” information, “more” information when, in truth, if we really read, reread, and studied that which has already been offered, we would constantly receive new insight. Since these writings from Sananda are lengthy, we have chosen to break them into a series of several installments.

We here at CONTACT would like to take a moment to PUBLICLY thank Sananda for his TRUE LIGHT AND LIGHTED WISDOM AND GENEROSITY IN SHARING SUCH TRUTH WITH US. THANK YOU!

Part I of this series began in our 3/19/96 CONTACT on p. 28; Part II was on p. 20 of the 3/26/96 issue; Part III was on p. 15 of the 4/2/96 issue; Part IV was on p. 5 of the 4/9/96 issue; Part V was on p. 11 of the 4/23/96 issue; Part VI was on p. 13 of the 5/7/96 issue.

6/13/91 #2 HATONN/SANANDA

In the eternal quest of Man to find Truth, the journey often seems confused and filled with contradictions. There is only ONE TRUTH but it is presented in as many differing facets as there are energy forms. I, Hatonn, am commissioned to bring unto you, LIGHT. If I seem harsh and unbending, unwilling to compromise, etc., it is because I am unwilling to “compromise” one iota. You have compromised your people, nations and planet away and bargained and finally sold most of your assets unto your enemy—”devil”, I believe you say.

Is it too late to reclaim that which is yours? No. Most of you have only bargained the “things” of physical manifestation unto the influence. Some have forfeited your very souls unto dedicated work for the adversary and some are productions of the adversary himself. However, that which is YOU has inheritance within which is of God Creator which allows YOU placement and recovery within The Creation in the Light of that God Creator. Your inheritance is the true essence of that which is YOU and not of that which runs around in foolish antics and things of flesh physical. All you have to do to reclaim your birthright in infinity is to turn again unto the Truth and into the Lighted path. THAT is what we are about! Telling you of the resources available unto you. None shall have the privilege of “being forced” again within the Light of Truth and KNOWING—so you can’t “cop-out”. No other one can do it for you—so you will stand responsible; therefore, ALL we will do regarding individuals is offer you KNOWLEDGE and you will make of the choosing of direction and action. So be it. I turn the forum over to Sananda. Thank you for your attention and blessings upon the WORD—for the WORD IS GOD!

SANANDA: NEW AGE DECEPTION

Esu Emmanuel come forth into your presence that we might share communion of mind. We will speak herein about the deceptions of the “New Age” and look at “how” you have already been swallowed by same—even while you denounce it or play within its boundaries openly.

I will quote something which strikes home the facts. It will appear to be an evangelical projection regarding Christians and evil that is to come. But it is not of that source—it is from a noted pyramidologist/occultist, Peter LeMesurier. It is a how-to manual for New Agers and intellectuals interested in STAGING A SIMULATED SECOND COMING OF CHRIST. The script as they have written it, if successfully staged, could deceive even the very elect. BEWARE!

“Their script is now written, subject only to last minute editing and stage-directions. The stage itself, albeit as yet in darkness, is almost ready. Down in the pit, the subterranean orchestra is already tuning up. The last-minute, walk-on parts are even now being filled. Most of the main actors, one suspects, have already taken up their roles. Soon it will be time for them to come on stage, ready for the curtain to rise. THE TIME FOR ACTION WILL HAVE COME.” From the Armageddon Script, by Peter LeMesurier, St. Martin’s Press, 1982, New York; p.252)

If you ones allow only an exchange of one lie for that of another, you are being even more confused and it is that you continue to look to “another” and “another” for your authority and fortune-telling. Are all of the predictions of New Age “prophets” incorrect? I have no idea for I care not to check them out. I would say that if you make a prediction of when it might snow next winter if you are located in the high mountains—you will hit it right if you give enough days within your prediction—say 365.

Why do I know that there are great errors in the works and projections of one such as LeMesurier? Because without even looking closely at the “New Age” portion of his writings, he is a studied and learned student of the “Bible”. The Bible gives such erroneous information about my being that I can hardly endorse the whole of it as comprehensive Truth. Therefore, if he has chosen an incorrect projection deliberately placed to mislead—he cannot be correct in his conclusions.

Now, if you mix a confusion factor with an already confused factor—you end up with chaos of information.

These ones offer, also, A PLAN, which is projected to confuse regarding the Elite PLAN 2000. Please remember that the mark of proof of a prophet is total coming forth of the projected information. So let us look at that very book in point.

If his plan—clearly part of what the New Agers call “The Plan”—were executed as written, it might be enough, as I supposedly said, to “deceive the very elect”.

What is the proposed agenda that this “subterranean orchestra” is “already tuning up” for “down in the pit?” It is startling, if nothing else, but obviously is naught but what you call BS. No amount of placing and replacing, locating and relocating possibilities can make it so.

First, it calls for having the new “messiah” in the Holy Land by 1985. IT DID NOT HAPPEN, I am still well off-shore. There was given a “fudge factor” of “...no later than the arrival of Halley’s Comet in early 1986".

This new leader is to carefully prepare for his role by studying scriptures and Dead Sea Scrolls, current “Jewish” messianic expectations, familiarizing himself with prophecies of other major world religions and “the best in New Age religious thought.” My, my: WHY WOULD GOD NEED TO STUDY UP ON ALL THAT WHICH HAS ALREADY BEEN PROVEN FALSE AND UNWORKABLE— WOULD NOT GOD KNOW OF HIS OWN PURPOSE FOR THE JOURNEY AND COMING? Why, indeed, would I need to study “current Jewish messianic expectations”? Those, by definition alone, indicate Khazarian Zionist Mandates and Protocols as within the Talmud. Note that “Hebrew tradition” is not even included therein.

Then, the science of earthquake prediction would be employed for the remainder of the initial scenario. LeMesurier, this wondrous leader, then coolly details some of them as follows:

- “1. The restored Messiah must reappear on Jerusalem’s Mount of Olives at the time of a great earthquake.
2. He must enter Jerusalem from the east, escorted by a procession of rejoicing followers dressed in shining white.
3. Visiting the tomb of his spiritual ancestor, King David, he must emerge in suitably-perfumed royal robes as the great monarch returned.
4. Supported by a popular rising, he must proceed with his followers to the Temple Mount, there to be enthroned, anointed, and crowned king of the New Israel.”

Ah, but you might say: “...surely no thinking person would expect such a program to succeed, given the large number of determined Catholics, Protestants, and skeptical Jewish observers who might give opposition.”

To the contrary, this resistance has been carefully calculated—AND DISMISSED!

“The massed forces of the Old Age, however, will be unable to check their headlong onrush. In large measure they will go on to destroy each other in a massive, mutual venting of long pent-up aggression...!”

What sort of a program would be offered to satisfy the spiritual needs of those living under this regime? As expected, the leader, LeMesurier, rightly notes that it will not be the traditional Christian ones:

“The new mission to the youth of the world, then, will be an international movement dedicated to spreading the already developing ideas and values upon which the New Age is to be founded. Those ideas and values will not necessarily be the traditional Christian ones....For the wisdoms of all ages and cultures will be called upon to surrender their most precious secrets, and the collective human psyche will add to it yet further wisdoms that have so far never even been expressed....It is for the soul of man that the New David will have to fight...”

It appears Mr. LeMesurier is well right for the wrong reasons. Yes, the “wisdoms of all ages and cultures will be called upon. And they will surrender their most precious secrets.” The Apostle John was clearly shown this in the course of his Patmos Island vision:

“And after these things I saw another angel come down from heaven, having great power; and the Earth was lightened with his glory. And he cried mightily with a strong voice, saying, Babylon the great is fallen, is fallen, and is become the habitation of devils, and the hold of every foul spirit, and a cage of every unclean and hateful bird. For all nations have drunk of the wine of the wrath of her fornication, and the kings of the Earth have committed fornication with her, and the merchants of the Earth are waxed rich through the abundance of her delicacies.” Rev. 18:1-3

Please do not err in thinking this LeMesurier is alone; note the following: His books have received the benefit of major publisher support [when the true Word of God is turned away by EVERY major publisher—which tells Truth in itself] both in the U.S. and in places such as England, Germany, etc. It was a major book club selection in England. Books revealing the cover-ups and lies, even of earth-bound actions get banned and removed from shelves in stores and libraries—they DO NOT MAKE IT TO BEST SELLER LIST THROUGH THE HANDS OF MAJOR PUBLISHERS WHO ARE WITHIN THE ELITE CONTROL!

Major New Age conferences have been held on this very theme. One such conference was reported in a matter-of-fact style in September, 1983 New Age JOURNAL. Appropriately entitled “Facing Apocalypse”, it was attended by 125 activists of the Jungian persuasion. It was organized by Robert Boznak, a Jungian analyst from Sudbury, Massachusetts. Its premise was that the vision of a cataclysmic ending of the world is itself a menace. The conference was held in an incredibly elegant hall that formerly served as a millionaire’s mansion at Salve Regina College in Newport, Rhode Island. Some of your better known were in attendance.

I must point out, as well, that the infamous Humanist Manifesto, also carries this very theme. Look at the preface to Humanist Manifesto II; it states:

“As in 1933, humanists still believe that traditional theism, especially faith in the prayer-hearing God, assumed to love and care for persons, to hear and understand their prayers, and to be able to do something about them, is an unproved and outmoded faith. Salvation, based on mere affirmation, still appears as harmful, diverting people with false hopes of heaven hereafter. Reasonable minds look to other means for survival.”

Ah so—we call a spade a shovel and speak truth by tainting the intent. Salvation, based on mere affirmation is as far from the truth as is the manifesto itself in its stupidity.

This is further reinforced within the body of the Manifesto itself:

“Promises of immortal salvation or fear of eternal damnation are both illusory and harmful. They distract humans from present concerns, from self-actualization, and from rectifying social injustices.” So be it—and what does the New Age Movement teach that is different?

Let us look at some interesting projections for I remind you of that which I have said: "...the ending does not need be as projected!" You are given scenes which cause collective thought which focuses on fulfillment of that which is desired for you to project—to fit the needs of those adversary happenings.

One can easily see where the area of that which is called "Jungian" archetypes and acting out an end-time drama is an area in which occultists, atheists, and agnostic humanists can find common ground. What mean ye by "humanist"? You mean a total separation of the "physical human" from the "spiritual reality" and, worse, it is supposedly accomplished through the higher spiritual self—two mutually exclusive states of being in total opposition one to the other. At best, that HUMAN experience of any given sequence will be around no more than a century—and that is really pushing the old clock.

But let us continue to investigate the confusing mess. The occultists of all New Age persuasions could easily support such a figure because they believe it is "their Christ" as they define it. The atheist could participate because he would feel it would contribute to the furthering of human progress on the planet, with people being discharged of their ideas of a coming deity for once and for all. The Humanist could participate because it would further the aims of their manifestos. In fact, maybe the Humanists and the New Agers are really not so far apart at that! The 1973 Humanist Manifesto II reads, "...we stand at the dawn of the new age". Many recognizable New Agers and occultists appear as signers of the 1973 document, including Isaac Asimov; Archie Bahm; and Lester R. Brown of the World Watch Institute. Likewise, the 1933 original Manifesto was not without occultist influence. Oliver L. Reiser, a Lucis Trust activist, par excellence, appeared as a signer to that original declaration. This is all tangled up within the New World Order and Global Plan 2000 and One World Government, etc., further projected forth under the United Nations, i.e. Donald Keyes.

Go back a bit now, to your old book of Daniel and see that he warned that the coming world dictator would not come initially with guns. The angel warned him instead:

"And in his estate shall stand up a vile person, to whom they shall not give the honor of the kingdom: but he shall come in peaceably, and obtain the kingdom by flatteries." Daniel 11:21.
There are some pretty good and accurate things in those "good old books".

It comes down to the real question being not whether there will be flatteries, but what form will they take? The central "flatter" the anti-Christ and his followers employ is the same as that consistently employed by "Satan" in all past times: "Thou shalt be as gods." However, it is also evident that he has been courting the intelligentsia by flattering themselves into thinking they can change the course of history—by concerting play-acting a false messiah into his domain. Daniel was further warned:

"And such as do wickedly against the covenant shall he corrupt by flatteries: but the people that do know their God shall be strong, and do exploits." Daniel 11:32.

Is it not evident from the context of the Daniel passage that while "Lucifer" is busy inspiring his forces, God will likewise give great strength to his people?

RESPONSE TO THIS
"ARMAGEDDON" SCRIPT

Your good friend, Isaiah, gave some important advice for you ones who perceive yourselves to be “authentic” Christians vs. the “mouth” Christians. First, it tells that nothing will ultimately prevail against God’s TRUE body. Secondly, it tells you whom you should truly fear:

“Associate yourselves, O ye people, and ye shall be broken in pieces; and give ear, all ye of far countries: gird yourselves, and ye shall be broken in pieces. Take council together, and it shall come to nought; speak the word, and it shall not stand; for God is with us. For the Lord spoke thus to me with a strong hand, and instructed me that I should not walk in the way of this people, saying, Say ye not, A confederacy, to all them to whom this people shall say, A confederacy; neither fear ye their fear, nor be afraid. Sanctify the Lord of host himself; and let him be your fear and let him be your dread.” Isaiah 8:9-13.

I trust you can quickly see that the planned deception is incredible in detail and magnitude, perhaps enough to deceive “even the very elect”. One way that the elect might remain alert to such deception is to remind themselves how Christ will really appear—if you can isolate the chaff of the vision from the wheat thereof. You will know that no matter how impressive the show, or the people calling for his acceptance, if you are standing on the ground, it is a clear-cut phony. You will behold CHRIST IN THE AIR—NOT ON THE AIR as some prominent TV evangelists have suggested. Owning a television set is not a prerequisite to viewing this coming “in power and great glory”. How can such foolishness prevail as “every eye shall see him”, and it is meant “on television”. By the way—one called Benjamin Creme ALSO PROJECTS THIS FOOLISHNESS! I can promise you that unto the least eye, seeing or blind, in every part of the world shall see the coming and know of its presence—even unto the darkest corner of Africa or the tribes of the Amazon—to the native in the regions of the poles. They have not television and yet THEY WILL SEE AND KNOW!

I warn you that it is most important that you not be ignorant of the adversary’s devices. However, it is even more important that you know wherein to place your fear and your trust. You fear not “them that can slay the body, but are not able to kill the soul: but rather fear him which is able to destroy both soul and body in hell” (separation from God of Light).

HOLOGRAPHY

There needs clarification regarding holography and appearance of beings. If you do not understand that which is actually in point herein, you will be sorely misled.

“Not since the advent of motion picture photography has there been a development with so much potential for reorienting our concepts of visual image-making as holography—the technique of using still-life laser transmissions to create an image that has depth. This volume takes you into the wondrous world between matter and energy, real and surreal, object and idea, to explore the social dimensions, political consciousness, and aesthetic developments that have shaped this revolutionary art.” From The Holography Book, by Jeff Berne, 1980.

Within the past few years a theory has been developing which may further unify all aspects of mankind, including its religions. Because this theory has not yet had wide circulation among non-scientists, it is included herein in this discussion so we may use some of its concepts when applied to World Religion for the New Age. It is known as the “Holographic Theory of the Universe. There is even a “holographic supertheory”:

“In a nutshell, the holographic supertheory says that our brains mathematically construct ‘hard’ reality by interpreting frequencies from a dimension transcending time and space. The brain is a hologram, interpreting a holographic universe.”

and then moving on a bit further:

“The holographic model also helps explain the strange power of the image—why events are affected by what we imagine, what we visualize. An image held in a transcendental state may be made real.”

But, chelas, WHAT IS REAL? How can I explain to you that if this be so—you can only conjure on a plane of illusion within a physical environment—FOR YOU ARE HUMAN, IN PHYSICAL EXPRESSION! Therefore, is it not with great wisdom that you consider that ones of the etheric realms of Creation may be able to produce a factual holographic duplicate from “thought” projection but that any entity FROM THE PHYSICAL cannot do so??? From the physical aspect, only duplicates and synthetics can be DEVELOPED—not CREATED AS LIFE FORMS AS THOUGHT-BASED, GOD-SOURCE BEINGS.

I suggest you further look at those rules given forth unto you by God for your guidance:

“Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image, or any likeness of any thing that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth: Thou shalt not bow down thyself to them, nor serve them...” PONDER THIS MOST CAREFULLY AND SEE THAT AT WHICH YOU EFFORT TO DO CONSTANTLY!

This in no wise takes exception to the setting of goals within Man and projecting them into reality of experience. We speak of two very differing states of achievement. The time for Man to achieve the “creation” practice of other life—is after the perfection of the learning when one is again in Godness with the total perfection of the balance of God within Creation. The third dimensional, physical state of being does not “cut the mustard”. That station is still very low on the levels of dimensional achievement. Therefore, as Man of physical expression gets into that which is given unto perfection—he gets himself into very “hot water” indeed. The species of Man can then only prove of his incapacities to manage that which he can technically tinker with. Human Man can never achieve GODNESS from the physical aspect—for that is NOT WHERE YOU FIND GOD IN CREATING—ONLY EXPERIENCING!

Well, you might ask me: “..isn’t a ‘replica’ a sort of hologram?” NO. A replica is a fabricated “thing” which functions but only duplicates holographic perception. A holograph is basically a “perception” or “vision” of a finished cellular reproductive illusion—without physical manifestation of “solid” form.

“Can the outer dimensional ‘brothers’ create holographic forms on a planet?”—Yes, some can and all higher etheric beings of higher levels of the dimensions of God most certainly CAN.

Does this mean, then, that no matter what thought processes and projections you forecast, they will not (can not) be actually experienced? No, because a vision and goal of perceived fruition is NOT a hologram nor a holograph. It is a precipitating “goal” to which the mind will produce a method of bringing into your perceived experience. For instance, if the goal of a war is placed into the collective consciousness and given expectation—you will have a war for your goal-seeking mechanism will see to its fulfillment—but again, that is NOT a holograph; that is but an accomplishment of the goal-seeking mechanism of the physical “experience”.

UNITED NATIONS

Projections of “how it will be” are rampant as always—however, look closely unto those things which are already come to pass. This will give you insight into how the goal seeking mechanism works—slowly but deadly.

I am going back to your year 1985 or so, for it is the time segment which I need to bring to your attention. Dharma continues to be pained by that which is thrust at her by the ones from the club, A.S.S.K., and I can bring insight which will answer much for all of you readers. I take no opposition unto any individual—I will not, however, allow Truth to be buried by the wash which efforts to confuse you. New World Order is one of the most important elements within that so-called spokesman organization set forth in the name of Sananda and Sanat Kumara. And yet, look herein. One of the most influential “friends” of the leader of the “club” is Donald Keyes. So, who in the world is Donald Keyes? He has been around for a long, long time so you new children will not know who he is—so please read on: One, Robert Muller and Donald Keyes are tremendously influential at the UN. As in 1985, as the Assistant Secretary General of the United Nations, Muller coordinated its vast 32 agency bureaucracy. He was openly participating in and had been doing so, in Lucis Trust activities, even giving speeches with titles such as “The Reappearance of Christ” and “The New Group of World Servers, a Look Into the Future”.

Likewise, Donald Keyes exercised no small degree of influence over that international body. With the help of his close friend, Norman Cousins, he formed close friendships with UN ambassadors and even wrote their speeches for them. Although the UN was tightly guarded, Donald Keyes had and has free access. He says that he has started “many a trend at the United nations”. As a gifted speechwriter, he composed speeches for UN Ambassadors. Humorously boasting about his impressive influence at the UN, Donald Keyes told a symposium audience “how to start a trend”.

“First you write a speech for one ambassador. And then you write a speech for a second ambassador praising the first ambassador for the speech he just gave! That’s how you start a trend.” [Feel a bit queazy yet?]

Can’t you just close your eyes a minute and hear: “...but he shall come in peaceably and obtain the kingdom by flatteries!”?

Of course, the average “peace demonstrator” is not working with any ulterior motives. But still, they are saying “peace and safety”. Is there any evidence to show that the Peace movement, too, has been influenced by this Lucis Trust and the New Age Movement? Oh dear, so much so that one knows not where to even begin. You see, even the “green movement” and anti-pollution laws are geared to force your industries out of your U.S., for instance, and into Mexico—whereby you have to give in to the free-trade agreements. The anti-pollution laws are set to be totally unworkable and unattainable and YOU VOTED THEM IN, HOOK, LINE AND SINKER!

One of the most important DISARMAMENT groups is S.A.N.E. Donald Keyes helped organize and lead it. Familiar inside out with the New Age writings, Donald Keyes once worked for Lucis Trust as an Arcane School administrator. His open contributions to that organization continue through his speeches and articles in their magazines (Beacon, etc.). Another very important group of people in the peace network are the World Federalists (don't confuse this with other similar “sounding” groups).

Donald Keyes represented them at the UN for many years. His influence continues there as well.

In one of his speeches he proudly said he had infiltrated the Peace Movement in 1958, the Human Rights Movement in 1969, the Global Movement in 1970 and the ranks of diplomats in 1975. He said that he now spends his time writing speeches for foreign ministers and ambassadors and roaming the halls of the UN. Evidently he spends time roaming the acres of Findhorn as well! He told this audience about his annual workshops there.

Keyes' impressive contacts with the United Nations are neither accidental or coincidental. He told Lucis Trust just how they came about:

“...Norman Cousins and I worked closely together with a number of the ambassadors. He would invite them to dinner and I would suggest which ones he might invite. And this way we had neutral turf where ambassadors could let down what hair they had and discuss issues which were close to their hearts which they might not normally undertake to reveal to one another. Out of that came their idea of a Conference on Human Survival which would meet at the 25th anniversary of the United Nations....”

I am going to leave this at this point for I wish to close this segment. However, I wish to add comments of a personal nature. I wish to continue this subject line for you must come into the facing of facts. If you have been sucked-in, don't waste of your time wallowing in mortal agony—simply know the delusion has been planned and the plan worked—no more and no less. Let us get on with that which is “reality”—what is coming down here, and your relationship with God within this wondrous Creation.

I am Sananda, and therefore, many of you are certainly confused by the above portion. Be not longer confused. Those ones have denounced these works as being of Satan—I believe you ones have enough insight now, and information which you can easily research—YOU BE YOUR OWN JUDGE. I BRING NAUGHT UNTO YOU SAVE THAT WHICH IS GOD, TRUTH AND LIGHT. I FORCE NOT, I HIDE NOTHING—I REVEAL MYSTERIES AS QUICKLY AS YOU CAN ACCEPT THEM AND I DECLARE THAT NOTHING IS OF MYSTICISM. WHO MIGHT BE GIVING FORTH WRONG INFORMATION IN MY NAME? Worse, these ones in point SAY they will meet with “their energy” and “Hatonn” or “Dharma's Sananda”—BUT THEY DO NOT AND WILL NOT. THEY SEND ANONYMOUS HATE MAIL AND EFFORT TO BRING LEGAL STOP TO OUR WORK—YOU, DEAR ONES, JUDGE FROM THE BENCH OF TRUE JUSTICE AND DECIDE FOR SELVES. So be it for the lies shall be stripped away that your eyes will be given into seeing and thine hearts into hearing.

JUNE NEWS REPORT FROM M.O.M.

Editor's note: We share the following fax without any particular commentary. We can not confirm this information any more than M.O.M. can.

MILITIA OF MONTANA
P.O. Box 1486, Noxon, MT 59853
Tel: 406-847-2735 Fax: 406-847-2246

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
RE: June 1996

On June 3-7 Russia and the United States will be conducting joint nuclear missile defense procedures at Falcon Air Force Base, Colorado Springs, Colorado. The tests will involve the use of simulators against third-party attackers, according to Ashton Carter, assistant secretary of defense for international security policy. According to Carter there will be no missiles fired.

A trade war with China is about to erupt. This follows China's threats against America if we turn against China over the Taiwan situation. Specifically, Chinese officials were quoted as saying, "America cares more for Los Angeles than it does for Taiwan."

On or about May 3rd, 1996, Randy Trochmann received a telephone call with the person stating, "On June 1 the economy will go bust and on June 6 World War III will start (absolutely no way to confirm).

A Hawaii militia leader received information that on June 6, 100,000 Chinese are to arrive via our Naval ships supposedly to start World War III (absolutely no way to confirm).

On June 6, 1996 the twelve hierarchy members of the Illuminati are to meet in Atlanta, Georgia for their annual meeting.

In June the Trilateralists are to meet in Canada for their annual meeting.

On May 16, 1996, Chief of Naval Operations and Clinton advisor on Russia, Admiral Boorda, allegedly commits suicide directly upon returning from a trip from Russia. Clinton and D.O.D. Secretary Perry had prepared statements within 2 hours of his death—a record. IT took Clinton over a day to have a statement on the deaths of over 100 people on the Value Jet Airline crash in Florida. Also the original story was that he was killed by a 12 gauge shotgun. Now they say it was a .38 caliber handgun. Highly unlikely that a trained professional would mistake a small caliber handgun wound for a 12 gauge shotgun wound. Col. David Hackworth, U.S. Army Ret., who is a guest author for Military Review, claims that he was to meet with Boorda concerning an interview he was to have with him questioning Boorda's right to be wearing the Medal of Honor and other medals he has received during his time of duty. This is a simple way of explaining why he would commit suicide. COVER-UP.

June 16, 1996, the Russian elections will be held with the Communists expected to win.

For you Bible scholars: Jimmy Carter's Global 2000 plan is to be completed by the year 2000. this means finished, cleaned up—done. In Revelation, there are passages concerning a time period of 3 1/2 years. The Global 2000 plan must have a starting point to be finished by the year 2000. Subtract 3 1/2 years from 2000, you get June 1996.

FOR YOUR INFORMATION

One other factor not mentioned in the above is from an Australian by the name of Bruce Cathie. For the past 20 or so years he has been investigating and researching the world energy grid. He claims that there are only certain dates when the grid is in complete harmony that will allow for maximum yield on a nuclear explosion. He claims that June 6, 1996 is one of these key time periods. We find it interesting that the date he gives coincides with the time period the US and Russia will be conducting their joint exercises in Colorado with our nuclear defense systems.

We have passed this same information along to others, including General Partin. They claim that a hydrogen bomb can go off at any time and that an energy grid would have no part in the explosive yield of the bomb. We also find it interesting that these tests coincide with the trade war with China and that the tests put Russia and the US and allies against a "third party".

The Navy CNO committing suicide prior to these tests and directly after his return from Russia is also very interesting.

We will continue to gather data concerning the month of June.

CHAPTER 8

PART II JUDICIAL CORRUPTION AT J.A.M.S. AND BEYOND

Editor's note: Part one of this excellent outlay began as our Front Page story in our 4/9/96 CONTACT. We continue here with Part II:

5/14/96 RAY BILGER

The initial article of this series concentrated primarily on the plight of one brave young woman seeking justice within the framework of the judicial system and J.A.M.S. (Judicial Arbitration and Mediation Services) in Orange County, California. This and future articles will encompass a broader spectrum, without focusing on a specific case which is currently involved in ongoing litigation.

The CONTACT has made a determination that there is a tremendous need for the public to be informed about the potential corruption that exists within the scope of J.A.M.S., and to be further informed that there is no longer any justice to be found anywhere within the entire judicial system of the United States of America.

The opening lines of the new movie Primal Fear clearly portray the judicial system as it exists today in our society; "If you want to get scr———, go to a whorehouse. If you want to get f———, go to a courthouse."

J.A.M.S., Inc. was formed in 1979 in Orange County California, by former Orange County Superior Court Judge H. Warren Knight and his wife and family. J.A.M.S. was a tightly held corporation which dealt primarily with insurance cases. It grew rapidly, however, into a multi-million dollar business dealing with more than just simple insurance cases. This author has not spoken personally with Judge Knight, so it is unclear as to what his original intentions were for forming J.A.M.S., but it does seem clear that it no longer functions as it was ostensibly intended to in the beginning. (J.A.M.S./Endispute, as referred to in Part I, now operates in 14 states, and Washington, D.C., including Oregon, Washington, California, Arizona, Colorado, Texas, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey and Georgia.)

In fact, it is not clear if anyone in Sacramento (state capitol, and seat of California Judicial System) really knew what was happening in the private judging industry as it grew by leaps and bounds. The 1989 Judicial Council Advisory Committee Report on Private Judging, on page 23, states: "No systematic data have been gathered about private judging. For example, no statistics are kept about the number of cases heard each year.... We do not know the identity of the parties, the nature of the disputes, the amounts in controversy or the costs of judicial services. This sort of information is important in assessing private judging."

Is the Judicial Council Advisory Committee describing here a system gone out of control? It certainly seems, at least to this author, that it is absolutely imperative to know “this sort of information” in order to have any meaningful oversight of alternative judicial processes. This report was done in 1989. In the Introduction to this series it was pointed out, from the Southern California Law Review, that private judging had begun in 1976. This means that for at least 13 years (and counting) the private judging industry had functioned with the Judicial Council, in essence, looking the other way. Presuming for the moment that the members of the Judicial Council Advisory Committee are not stupid, this author can draw no other conclusion than the fact that this situation was, and is, intentionally allowed to operate out of control. It would appear that our right to have a fully accountable judiciary has been significantly compromised, if not completely abridged.

Black's Law Dictionary, 4th Revised Edition, at page 414, defines “corruption” in part as: “An act done with an intent to give some advantage inconsistent with official duty and the rights of others. Johnson v. U.S., 260 F. 783, 786.” And Black's, at page 454, defines “culpable” in part as: “(I)t implies that the act or conduct spoken of is reprehensible or wrong but not that it involves malice or a guilty purpose. Cain v. State, 190 S.E. 371, 374.”

In addition to the foregoing are concerns about how equal protection, due process, and First Amendment guarantees apply to the use of private judging. These concerns were explored in depth in an article in the Harvard Law Review (94 Harv.L.Rev. 1592) in 1981, entitled “The California Rent-a-Judge Experiment: Constitutional and Policy Considerations of Pay-As-You-Go Courts.”

As the article states, “Trials conducted by privately paid judges raise issues of equal protection and due process” (U.S. Const., 14th Amend.). Closed hearings, such as those conducted in California, may also be at odds with the public’s First Amendment right of “freedom of communication on matters relating to the functioning of government”. Richmond Newspapers, Inc. v. Virginia, 100 S.Ct. 2814, 2827 (1980): “core purpose behind First Amendment guarantees of freedom of speech, press, assembly, and petition is freedom of communication about government functions”.

Chief Justice Burger delivered the opinion of the court in the Richmond Newspapers decision, wherein he outlined the historical origins of the public right to have open courts, stating that this right of communication bars the state “from summarily closing courtroom doors which had long been open to the public at the time that (the First) Amendment was adopted.”

And, Justice Brennan, in his concurring opinion in the case of Nebraska Press Assoc. v. Stuart, 427 U.S. 539, 587 (1976), argued that open trials are an important means to ensure efficiency, integrity, accountability, and respect for the courts. The Harvard Law Review article contends that such arguments have even greater force when applied to hearings before private referees. Indeed, J.A.M.S. is only able to get away with what they do, for the most part, because of the secrecy surrounding their proceedings. All judges who take an Oath to uphold and defend the Constitution, whether they serve in public courts or private courts, when they do not uphold The People’s First Amendment Right to have open public trials, they corrupt the Constitution.

It should come as no surprise to anyone that money plays the pivotal role in the corrupting of the entire private judging industry. As Harvard Law Review points out, “As early as 1215, Magna Charta declared that it was wrong for the government to sell justice or to delay or deny it to anyone. In a private reference system, the state does not sell justice, but it does sanction the payment of private adjudicators to act in its place (California places no limitations on the parties' right to agree on a figure for payment)."

"There is also the danger that the referee's impartiality might be compromised by private payment. (See, Tumey v. Ohio, 273 U.S. 510, a 1927 case.)"

The Harvard Law Review article continues to point out more problems and conflicts of interest that arise under the private judging system. In its very enlightening conclusion, the article states in part that, "The use of referees, as presented in the California statute, has several constitutional and institutional problems that make it an unsatisfactory solution to the problem of overcrowded dockets and, hence, an unsuitable model for others to follow." Yet J.A.M.S./Endispute is now operating within the Alternative Court Structures of the aforementioned 14 states and Washington, D.C., and continues to expand.

Well, the one thing that this judicial corruption absolutely cannot tolerate and endure for very long is widespread exposure of their corrupt activities.

Chief Justice of the California Supreme Court, the Hon. Malcolm Lucas, recently announced his retirement, effective May 1, 1996. His long and distinguished (?) career has been recently remembered with gala celebrations, at least one of which, in Los Angeles, was attended by California Governor Pete Wilson. The Hon. Malcolm Lucas and his wife, Donna Joan Lucas, procured a divorce using J.A.M.S., Inc. to divide their property. He appears to have said about it, in the December 1993 issue of California Lawyer, that, "I have seen the system, I have worked in the system, and I'd rather have an Amway Representative adjudicate my divorce." Perhaps Amway could actually set up private courts!

At some point we have to ask ourselves a very serious question: Just exactly who is J.A.M.S. intended and designed to serve? Is it the common man or woman, or is it very powerful monied interests who would like to hold on to what they have?

An article appeared in the Friday, May 6, 1994 issue of The Los Angeles Times, by James S. Granelli, about the merger of J.A.M.S., Inc. with Endispute, Inc. The article quotes Jack Unroe, J.A.M.S. Chief Executive, as saying they would try to work with corporations before they file lawsuits in resolving disputes. "We view corporations as prime customers, and we are trying to make dispute resolution a component of their business strategy. The ever-increasing demand from corporate America drives our national strategy."

Understandably, J.A.M.S. offices across America are located in the large metropolitan cities where corporate America resides, including, but not limited to, Los Angeles, San Francisco, San Diego, Seattle, Phoenix, Denver, Dallas, Houston, Chicago, Indianapolis, Pittsburgh, Boston, New York City, Atlanta, and of course, Washington, D.C. And, of course, decisions are rendered behind closed doors, out of the view of public scrutiny.

So, suppose we are able to get "The Judicial Accountability and Limited Immunity Act of 1996" on the ballot in November. It could only possibly pass if those who control the rigged and predetermined election system allowed it (read Votescam, The Stealing Of America, Victoria House Press). Would corrupt judges then straighten up their acts? And what about those at J.A.M.S.?

Today, generally speaking, people walk into courtrooms like lambs to the slaughter, with no conception of the corruption they face. Unless and until a sufficient number of people become mad enough to say “enough is enough”, and take legal action to correct the abuse, we may see no change. And it is far worse in the private courts.

For example, an article in Dicta (40 Dicta, No. 11, p. 12), a publication of the San Diego County Bar Association, by Gregg F. Relyea, Esq. (of Bates Edwards Group, now part of (and he now works for) J.A.M.S./Endispute in San Diego, offices located at 401 “B.” Street, Suite 600, San Diego, California 92101, phone 619-236-1848), entitled “A Lawyer’s Role in Mediation”, has revealed that, “Unlike traditional litigation, a lawyer may have direct pre-mediation contact with the mediator for the purpose of convening the mediation, setting fees, and other administrative matters. The mediator also may communicate separately with the lawyers and parties about the dispute to ascertain the facts, issues, and positions that are involved.”

Well, there you have it. It doesn’t take much imagination to figure out that anyone going into a private court, such as J.A.M.S., must understand that at least one of the parties, possibly the one with big money, may meet privately to discuss positions, fees, etc., etc., etc. This situation seems to be somewhat akin to holding a Constitutional Convention, wherein people meet purportedly to discuss certain things, yet once discussions convene who’s to say what will ultimately be decided!

Regarding “ethical considerations”, the 1989 Judicial Council Advisory Committee Report stated that there was confusion about which standards apply and who was to enforce them. And they said the Council was not responsible to suggest the appropriate standards or who had authority to enforce them. They only recommended that a joint committee be set up to study the matter.

The Judicial Council also recommended full disclosure of all fee arrangements in advance of the appointment of a private judge. Again, only a recommendation.

In Part III of this series we will see, from an article in the February 1994 issue of California Lawyer, just what happens to those who would suggest that J.A.M.S. favors big business.

CHAPTER 9

A CALL TO REASONED ACTION AS ADVERSARY LASHES OUT WITH FORKED TONGUE

An Editorial Commentary

At this moment the Feds are bringing generators into Montana for the neighbors of the Freemen because one possible strategy, to force some action that can be responded to with a blitzkrieg of retaliation, is to cut off electrical power to the Freemen and their families. Yes, it's getting to be "a hot time in the old town (nation) tonight". And unless reason and common sense prevail in any actions taken, there's no telling just how dangerously high may be the level to which the "heat" escalates.

That volatile scenario includes the situation for CONTACT because, as an isolated source of truth amidst a controlled media clique of lies, we could be construed as "terrorist" by the crooks in high places whose Congressional puppets recently passed the Domestic Anti-Terrorism Bill. Yes, this is definitely a time of stepped-up chaos and perversion of justice toward the realization of the goals of the New World Order.

To put these tough matters of journalistic honor into perspective, we share the following timely and succinct editorial letter. This was sent to CONTACT by a thoughtful reader, C.H., who clipped it out of the May 2, 1996 issue of the Encinitas (California) Sun. There is something of a lesson-in-action here for all who work to discern truth.

[QUOTING:]

You don't have to know anything about the Freemen to know they have been targeted for demonization. Just critically analyze the major media "reports".

To make the target ominous, their house or church becomes a "compound" and various rooms or out-houses become "bunkers".

To make the target a minority from which the majority can disassociate themselves, terms like "right wing", "racist", "radicals", "hate group" and "cult" are used.

A member of the Jewish Defense League is interviewed as an expert on the target, and he invariably characterizes the target as dangerous to men, women and children.

Violent acts or scenes of allegedly violent people unconnected with the target are displayed to establish guilt by association-in-the-same-program.

Anonymous death threats are attributed to the target by association-in-the-same-program.

Sound familiar? The media similarly demonized the Weavers, Davidians and other less notables prior to their murders.

The major media have been caught in too many lies. I look forward to the demise of the big government propaganda agencies known as CBS, NBC and ABC.

[END OF QUOTING]

Yes, there are those with eyes to see and ears to hear AND the discernment to know what it is they're REALLY seeing and hearing! AND they take reasoned action.

Thank God!

Now, how does this tie in with CONTACT? Well, remember that CONTACT is best considered to be an organization of contributing journalists who strive not to compromise on the truth. So, get this: word has just come to us that on a short-wave radio broadcast this week, from Montana, it is being said that Doris and E.J. Ekker (who facilitate significant contributions to CONTACT's information outlay each week) are somehow "the backbone of the White Supremacy movement". Hmmm.

A radio broadcast from Montana? Let's think for just a moment, please: Who resides in Montana who might have a great interest in putting forth such a timely and provocative lie? Well, George Green, for one.

Readers, we've frequently shared with you just how careful we must be to even report as a newspaper events surrounding situations such as the Freemen. Our words can become twisted, manipulated, and projected by the adversary—who knows no truth—to the point that we end up somehow being construed to stand in full support of the Freemen.

In full support?? How so? We are a NEWS paper, reporting what's going on! What a ready-made trap for those who dare to tell the truth! Again, reasoned action must be exercised at all times as we present that news.

Moreover, consider the following facts: Bo Gritz and Jack McLamb, after 3 days of reasoning with the Freemen, were close to a peaceful resolution, competent negotiators that they are. Unfortunately, on the 4th day, their efforts were derailed by the FBI. (Imagine that!) If THEY could not accomplish a peaceful resolution to this stand-off, then no one can get it done—regardless of on which side things "broke down".

Further, if widely-respected Constitutionalist and Colorado State Representative Charles Duke could not even get close to reasoning with the Freemen to bring forth a peaceful resolution, then—again—no one can.

Yes, we live in a nation which was once under the Constitution. And indeed, portions of it still hang by a thread. But we likewise live in a nation of laws and law enforcement personnel. Laws must be honored or there is chaos.

Even the Freemen must honor the law. To simply claim that the courts have no jurisdiction over them, doesn't cut it. To take an "armed" stand will just bring an inevitable gun battle, wherein the Feds always have bigger guns, and wherefrom many lives will be lost. With the insidious spin projected by today's controlled media, there will be little-to-no support for the Freemen, and their lives will have been lost.

For what? Some vague and obtuse cause, unknown (again, thanks to the controlled media) to almost everyone? What a stupid and careless disregard for GOD-GIVEN life.

So, while all this is going on, what do we hear wind of by guests on Lou Epton's radio show out of Las Vegas? Something called Operation Worst Nightmare.

What is Operation Worst Nightmare? Well, it goes something like this: Militia personnel are scattered throughout Montana in various "safe houses". If the Freemen standoff results in the death of the Freemen, then those stationed militia personnel shall proceed to assassinate political figures as well as media personnel who were responsible for projecting a false image of the Freemen.

Let us be very clear in our comments concerning Operation Worst Nightmare: This is, BY FAR, the stupidest, most ill-conceived plan we've ever heard of. It plays right into the agenda of the would-be controllers and could only result in a tremendous and senseless loss of life, and would quickly expedite the tightening of the Feds' noose around the neck of all "free" people in this country. Those among the militia who thought of such a thing are the militias' worst enemies.

Even Randy Weaver eventually saw the wisdom of turning himself in to stand trial. If the Freemen do not act in WISDOM, they will not live to "fight another day". How can someone such as Gerry Spence come forth to represent them, in a trial which would really be carefully watched by many, if instead the Freemen lay in forgotten graves on some remote hilltop in Montana?

If nothing else was learned with the Weaver situation, it should be that the jury system CAN work! Freemen: for God's sake, use your minds. This path you are taking now leads to a very short pier.

But again, readers, to even write about such matters becomes ammunition which somehow gets used to try to shoot down CONTACT—for example, through being used against Doris & E.J. Ekker. Leaders of the White Supremacist movement? Please forgive the expression, but it squarely says what is needed: bullshit!

If CONTACT has done nothing else, we, and this includes all of us at CONTACT, have never advocated violence, but have always advocated WORKING WITHIN ALL LAWS and using your God-given minds and Higher reasoning to resolve conflict—whatever may be the trying situation in which you may find yourselves.

Like it or not, we need laws in order to have an orderly society. We need law enforcement personnel to help in that process. If the Freemen believe they are Constitutionally justified, then bring the matter before a jury. But don't antagonize a provocation on the order of that which is pressure-building by the hour!

Operation Worst Nightmare is aptly named and the result would ultimately be the militias' worst nightmare.

Use your heads!

Let us get back on track here to discuss the adversary, who is so busy attempting to bury truth, convolute information, distort everything and confuse or otherwise derail from constructive action all who will listen.

The “Green Brigade”—and this includes attorneys George Abbott and Steven Horn—are pulling out all the stops in an effort of cohesion and conspiracy to paint Doris and E.J. Ekker with some kind of “cult” brush. How vaguely convenient and rudely unsubstantiated.

In point of fact, Ekkers have no cult, no worshipping group, and certainly no delusions of grandeur. They are absolutely NOT White Supremacists.

They are a kind, thoughtful, intelligent and deeply insightful couple who spend every moment of every day living a life of truth to the best of their abilities, with harm to none.

The real cult is the “Green Team”. It’s the George Abbott/George Green/Steven Horn cult of evil (in our opinion), and this cult knows no truth, holds nothing sacred. And, in their efforts to stop the flow of truthful information to you readers, they will reap the rewards of that which they sow.

Remember the adversary’s favorite technique is to divide and conquer. Unfortunately, many of those who hear broadcasts such as the one just put out over Montana short-wave will probably never even see CONTACT.

Yet there will always be those who use wisdom and insight to see through the adversary’s shenanigans—as did the gentleman whose editorial we quoted near the beginning of this piece. It is for those that we here at CONTACT labor, and because of which we fall so frequently under attack.

Let REASON prevail in all things—and by all means, let our actions be guided by PEACEFUL reason!

Finally we get to the key word for consideration: action. All of you who are attracted to CONTACT are likely part of the ground crew—here to fulfill your unique part in a mission of planetary reclamation through countering the adversary wherever you may encounter such evil in your own orbit of activity.

For instance, when you hear a radio program where CONTACT, or those associated with CONTACT, are being unjustly maligned, immediately call or write the station in protest, as well as letting us know about it.

It is time you readers out there take more direct action—once again and for example—just as the person did by writing the editorial we shared near the beginning of this piece.

We are a country in peril from inactivity of the Lighted beings over the expanding darkness. Remember: God will always work with you, but never for you. And since there can be no finer exhilaration than working with God, we should look for and welcome every opportunity to cast Light upon the darkness.

After all, what other reason is there, really, to be here, at this grand time, on this schoolroom planet called

Earth-Shan?!

CHAPTER 10

THE NEWS DESK

by Phyllis Linn 5/24/96

MAD SCIENCE

From the May 19 issue of THE TORONTO STAR, [quoting:]

Sometime this fall, English researchers will take the heart of a genetically engineered pig and implant it in a human whose own heart is dying. It will not be the first time surgeons have attempted to use an animal organ in a human. But it may well be the first time it succeeds because researchers have given the pig heart human genes that make it less likely to be rejected. Proponents argue that so-called xenotransplants of kidneys, livers, hearts and even brain cells could save the lives of tens of thousands of such patients each year. Tempering that promise, researchers still face a number of stumbling blocks, both scientific and ethical. And many scientists fear transgenic organs will be a source of infectious diseases rivaling AIDS. [The topic of organ transplants was addressed in the News Desk of 5/21, in terms of the genetic ambiguity that would seemingly result. This present madness takes us REALLY far afield. It's astounding how far down the primrose path we can go, as each succeeding step adds a new absurdity based on the "logic" of the last. This is the latest triumph of mainstream medicine!? Since the "alternative" voices have been jailed and/or shut down, we hear less and less about the cause and prevention of such diseases or methods of treatment that are in harmony with nature. Weep for us, you who are reading this in the year 4000!]

ANOTHER "SOLUTION": COMPULSORY ORGAN DONATION

From the EDMONTON (Alberta, Canada) JOURNAL, [quoting:]

In most of the Western world, there are long waiting lists of patients in need of heart, liver or other organ transplants. One exception is Belgium. The reason, says Dr. John Dossetor, is legislation in the country that "presumes" all citizens are willing to donate organs after death. Any Belgian who objects to organ donation must sign a form specifically ruling it out. The result? The country can virtually meet all of its demand for transplants, says Dossetor, a Canadian transplant pioneer. "It's a fact many people (in Canada) would be willing to donate organs after death," said Dossetor. Many of us already carry (donor) cards, but a lot of others die without giving their consent. He spoke Sunday to the annual meeting of the Memorial Society of Edmonton and District, an organization that promotes simple, inexpensive funerals.

Various medical authorities across North America have studied the possibility of enacting laws similar to those in Belgium, but concluded the public would not accept it, said Dossetor, the retired director of the Bioethics Centre at the University of Alberta. Still, he says, Canadians face an organ shortage—earlier this year, 28 patients were waiting for heart transplants at University Hospital. And he says that if the public doesn't grapple with the problem, scientists could step in with some solutions he calls dangerous. "Some fantastic scientific developments are coming quickly, and we have to be able to face the ethical issues they create,” says Dossetor. Within 20 years or so, he says science will be capable of what he calls “horrifying scenarios”, including creating human fetuses without brains that would be intended solely as organ donors. He also says there have been experiments to create an artificial human placenta, that could one day be used to keep a fertilized egg alive in a machine. These fetuses could eventually be used to grow organs for transplant. [This is pretty old-hat to CONTACT readers who know that an item touted as “in-the-future” has been done secretly for some time.]

MORE MAD SCIENCE

From the May 12 issue of the FORT WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM, [quoting:]

News item: Researchers have injected mosquitoes with an altered virus that blocked the insects’ ability to transmit dengue fever, a serious disease in much of the tropical world. That’s certainly good news. We can now catch mosquitoes and give them a shot that prevents them from spreading a disease. “We don’t know how practical this is,” acknowledged Ken Olson, a Colorado State University researcher, in an interview with The Associated Press. Olson added, “We have shown it is feasible to molecularly alter a mosquito so that the dengue virus cannot reproduce.”

The next step is to develop techniques to deliver the mosquito-altering concept to the wild, Olson said—genetically altering mosquitoes to make them anti-dengue and introducing them into the wild where they would eventually dominate, for example. He said the researchers put batches of the mosquitoes in a refrigerator and then worked with them on a chilled table that kept the insects unconscious. They used needles thinner than a human hair to deliver a shot of juice so small it would just about cover the period at the end of this sentence.

TEEN ARRESTED FOR NOT HAVING SHOT RECORDS

Speaking of shots—this comes from the April 27 issue of the JOHNSON CITY (Tennessee) PRESS, [quoting:]

Port Washington, Wis.—Sixteen-year-old Jacob Kallas was arrested, cuffed and jailed overnight because he didn’t have the paperwork for his measles, mumps and rubella shots. Jacob’s mother, Janet Kallas, admits she ignored two court orders to provide her son’s new school with proof of the immunizations, which he did receive. [Wow, imagine the scenario if he HADN’T!]

GUTSY SNAKE-BITE REMEDY

From the May 12 issue of the JOHNSON CITY PRESS, [quoting:]

EDINBURG, Texas—A man bitten by a poisonous coral snake killed the reptile by biting off its head, then used its skin as a tourniquet—a move that probably saved his life. Valentin Grimaldo of Rio Bravo should make a full recovery, said Lisa Killion, a spokeswoman for Edinburg Hospital. Grimaldo, 40, was walking with his brother, Fidel, along U.S. Highway 281 near Encino Friday when he reached into some grass and was bitten on the hand. “He grabbed the snake and bit the head off. He skinned it and used the skin as a tourniquet to keep the venom from spreading,” Killion said. [End of quoting.]

In case you lack the presence of mind to follow such a procedure and because it’s the time of year that finds us outside among venomous critters, here’s an alternative concept from a pamphlet called NATURAL FIRST AID, by Stan Malstrom, N.D., M.T. and Jared Brown (BiWorld Publishers, Box. 1143, Orem, UT 84057), [quoting:]

Another emergency is insect bites or poison spider bites, such as a black widow bite. Many times these can be helped considerably by the use of herbs. Probably the most effective herb against black widow is our old friend cayenne pepper [the hottest you can find!]. Cayenne with a little calcium and apple cider vinegar [taken internally—honey is also mentioned which would help it all go down], in addition will usually stop the poison from spreading through the system and actually reduce the symptoms immediately. This works also, I am told, with a rattlesnake bite [and bee stings, as he later reports].

DENTIST SILENCED FOR OPPOSITION TO DICTATES OF ADA

From the May 3 issue of the Colorado Springs GAZETTE TELEGRAPH, [quoting:]

Hal Huggins, owner of Huggins Diagnostic and Rehabilitation Center, had his dental license revoked Wednesday by the State Board of Dental Examiners. The revocation means he can’t practice dentistry, own a dental practice or consult with other dentists, a board official said. But Huggins said he’ll continue his research into the effects of mercury-based fillings. He contends the fillings poison the body and cause a host of medical problems.

The state action was based on the recommendations of administrative law judge Nancy Connick. Connick, in her March decision, said Huggins’ claims were misleading, deceptive and false. Huggins’ advertising enticed [“enticed” is a bit subjective, don’t you think?!] patients to his office for treatment of serious medical problems that had no link to their teeth, Connick said. Mercury-based fillings, commonly referred to as “silver fillings”, have been used for more than 150 years [Blood letting was popular for a long time too]. The American and Colorado dental associations, the U.S. Public Health Service, the National Institutes of Health and the Food and Drug Administration have concluded the amalgam is safe. [That should certainly lead one to presume that Dr. Huggins has a valid point!]

Huggins said they are all wrong. He said those who oppose his research do so for monetary gain. He said the American Dental Association holds the patent on amalgam, and they and others want him to “shut up” to cover their own wrongs. ADA officials have repeatedly denied Huggins’ allegations. [Well, of course they do! Now why is it that, when I (and probably you, too) read this article, Huggins is the credible party, while the average reader judges him a dangerous fruit cake. It must be because we have had more experience with these so-called authorities!]

MEDIA LABELING: TED VS. TIM

From THE WASHINGTON TIMES, NATIONAL WEEKLY EDITION of April 28, [quoting:]

The discovery of Unabomber suspect Theodore Kaczynski does more than signal the end of an exhaustive federal manhunt—it provides a fascinating parallel to the apprehension of Oklahoma City bombing suspect Timothy McVeigh. The extreme of militia-loving, government-hating ideology meets an opposite extreme of nature-loving, technology-hating ideology. Why is the parallel so fascinating? Because of the media’s different rules in the game of connect-the-dots between isolated, violent loners and mainstream political figures. Everyone remembers the flurry of accusations (led by national healer President Bill Clinton) that the Oklahoma City bombing was encouraged by conservative radio talk-show hosts. The Oklahoma City bombing was portrayed as an intensely ideological event. The newsmagazines used labels like “far right” and “extreme right” to explain Mr. McVeigh’s enthusiasms in 12 stories since the blast. Now, try to search a media database for “Unabomber” and “left wing”. Despite two major newspapers publishing a rambling 35,000-word diatribe raging against capitalism and technology, you won’t find the press use any variant of “far left” or extreme left”.

While reporters jumped at the chance to describe Mr. McVeigh’s attempts to join the Michigan Militia and his membership in the National Rifle Association, little fanfare has been devoted to ABC reporter Brian Ross’ scoop: that Mr. Kaczynski may have been inspired by the radical-left activists of the group Earth First! Over the years, Earth First! has best been known as a violent group spiking trees and blowing up logging equipment, and, in many respects, its anti-corporate philosophy parallels that of the Unabomber. Reporters would not dream of attaching Earth First! to “mainstream environmental groups the way they attached Mr. McVeigh to talk-show hosts. Is the notion far-fetched? A 1990 Los Angeles Times story noted that the sentiment that Earth First! is a positive force “seems to be shared by many in the Sierra Club, the National Audubon Society and other mainstream environmental groups.” The Times quoted Brock Evans of the “conservative” Audubon Society: “I honor Earth First! for having the guts to do the things they do. It’s not for me, but I understand why they do what they do. And, ultimately, we all help each other.” [That’s for sure—a concerted, united effort!]

Indeed, some reporters are actually insisting that Mr. Kaczynski is no leftist. Newsweek’s Tom Morganthau quotes one source saying Mr. Kaczynski grew “disgusted with the widespread drug use and liberal politics” at Berkeley. He added: Maybe so: the Unabomber (sic) manifesto is harshly critical of leftism.” Evan Thomas emphasized a 1985 letter from the Unabomber claiming to be part of the “Freedom Club, which he described as ‘strictly anti-communist, anti-socialist, anti-leftist’, but, most of all, anti-science and technology.” How very, very convenient. The same could be said of Trappist monks. But if this ideology is driven by the idea of the abolition of technology (and, preferably, humans), how can it do that without completely authoritarian government control? [There certainly has been a noticeable difference in the media labeling of Ted and Tim—different focuses for achieving goals on the NWO agenda! “Left” or “right”—the definitions have become muddy as both are deftly manipulated by the evil controllers.]

TREASONOUS ADL PROPAGANDA FROM MISHPUCKA AGENT, SEN. DIANNE FEINSTEIN

Editor's note: In light of the recent passage of the outrageously Gestapo-like Anti-Terrorist Bill and Senator Dole's running for President, we have decided to rerun the following two writings by Gary Wean from pg. 11 of the 6/6/95 issue and pg. 2 of the 8/29/95 issue of CONTACT.

NOTICE TO THE PEOPLE by Gary Wean 5/31/96

I came into possession of a “super-confidential” letter [see below right] composed by Dianne Feinstein during her 1992 campaign for United States Senator. Under her strictest of orders this letter was sent only to Jews—asking for money.

pic. & bio of feinstein
P1303 P-6

But what was she pledging? What was she offering to the Jews? Dianne Feinstein was giving away, “handing-over” the United States of America to the ADL Mishpucka.

Dianne Feinstein, like the evil, treasonous Rabbi Meir Kahane, has dual-citizenship; her only concern is for Israel—like the Rabbi, she flies there regularly and often. Feinstein’s letter outlines outrageous, undeniable evidence that her only loyalty is to the Jews and a foreign country, Israel.

At the very beginning, the first paragraph of her letter, Dianne talks of her old friends in Israel, reaffirms her personal commitment to the existence, security and flourishing of Israel. Who does she pledge to support as a U.S. Senator (sure as hell not America). “I intend to be an outspoken and vigilant supporter of the state of Israel.”

Fourth paragraph: “My own commitment to Israel is long-standing and deeply rooted.” Her grandfather, Sam Goldman left Poland in 1890, made his way to Boston, then San Francisco. There he opened two stores. Did old “Sam” assimilate into this nation? Was he filled with gratitude? Did he do something for America? Hell no! Old Sam Goldman was too busy making money, Jew-style. He built three synagogues in California and founded the Hebrew Free Loan Association. (Did good old Sam charge interest with his “Free Loans”?)

Read paragraph eight carefully. Dianne says, “I tried to do as my grandfather did—to give back to the community I belong to.” Think about that. What community does she belong to—America or Israel?

Here's your answer: "When I became Mayor of San Francisco, I helped build a Holocaust memorial on city land (taxpayers' property), a stirring monument to those who suffered so terribly." First of all, everybody knows the Holocaust never happened—the Jews aren't the only people who have suffered; and second, how are our children and our grandchildren involved in their so-called Holocaust which allegedly happened over fifty years ago in Europe—another continent.

Feinstein's only concern is for Israel in peril, quote, "I intend to go to the Senate committed to maintaining a strong and lasting U.S-Israel relationship. Since 1948, Israel's struggle for survival has cost twenty thousand of her sons and daughters and that struggle continues today."

But know this, Israel attacked Lebanon and killed hundreds of thousands of innocent men, women, and children, but when Israeli soldiers started getting killed, they quickly asked the U.S. to send in American soldiers to protect them. Over three hundred American servicemen were blown up and killed because they were trying to protect the Jews. The Jews killed and wounded nearly every sailor on the U.S.S. Liberty and strafed their life boats in unabated attack for several hours.

Dianne Feinstein says, "Go to Israel and see how beautiful it is." But while you are there, be sure to visit the terrible prison camps where the Jews herd and confine the Arabs after they steal their land. The so-called death camps during WWII are rest homes compared to what Feinstein's Jews are doing to the Arabs.

Feinstein screams, "The last thing Israel needs is George Bush throwing roadblocks in Israel's way by senseless delay on loan guarantees," and she, "took as a very deep, personal affront, as a Jew, the President's comments about the 'Jewish Lobby' swarming over Capitol Hill."

What Feinstein is whining about here is the 10 billion dollars the Jews demanded from America. The American people don't owe the Jews one single dime. The American people work for every dime they've got and Feinstein and the rest of the Jews can do the same.

Feinstein talks about hate—but she is filled with such hate for Christian Americans that it bursts out from her pores. Outside of stealing Americans' money, Feinstein's all-encompassing goal is to strip Americans of their guns.

Feinstein has just arranged with Israel for a free trip to Israel for all the new Senators and Representatives and their spouses that we just elected to look out for America's interests. They will be indoctrinated by the Jews' propaganda that their first loyalty and concern must be to Israel.

The American people of every state in the Union must write letters, make phone calls, and send faxes to each and every one of these elected persons, that if they take this FREE trip to Israel, they have only a few months left in office and they will be gone.

And no wonder that every country in the world hates America and Americans and wishes us evil. Note the following countries: Belarus, Bulgaria, Czech Republic, Estonia, Hungary, Latvia, Lithuania, Moldova, Poland, Romania, Russia, Slovakia, and Ukraine—on April 5, 1995 Feinstein, Specter and Schumer gave orders to the following congressmen: Dole, Helms, Pell, Daschle, Gingrich, Gilman, Hamilton, and Gephardt that they must put pressure (harsh threats) against these countries stressing that even though they have already made restitution to Jews, they must make further restitution for the Jews.

They have ordered Secretary of State Warren Christopher to notify these countries that if they don't give the Jews further restitution, they will face the wrath of America. Robert Dole says that this a "matter of both law and justice".

What right does America have to bludgeon all the countries of the world and interfere with their internal, sovereign affairs on behalf of Jews? We are Americans. Robert Dole and Jesse Helms and all the rest of these old treasonous scumbags who have led us into this horrible trap for years must be removed, immediately. All the new ones who are eager to run to Israel to get their orders also must be removed immediately.

America must look to our own internal affairs—preserve our own sovereignty.

Feinstein says Israel is in peril. Forget Israel—that's their problem. America is in far greater peril. Let's look to that. Write letters, phone, and fax. Everybody in America—I mean everybody—let them know we aren't about to take it anymore.

LETTER FROM
DIANNE FEINSTEIN

Dear Friend,

Not long ago, I had the privilege of returning to Israel as part of the President's Mission of the UJA. It was a chance to reacquaint myself with old friends—and to re-affirm my personal commitment to the existence, security and flourishing of the state of Israel.

To me, this visit was a fitting prelude to my 1992 campaign for the United States Senate—because, in the Senate, I intend to be an outspoken and vigilant supporter of the state of Israel. I need you to support my campaign because, at a particularly crucial time in its history, Israel urgently needs committed friends in the United States Senate.

If you've been to Jerusalem, you know what the old city is like when the sun is setting, what it's like to be at the Western Wall, what a thrill it is to walk down the excavated passageway where giant blocks of Herodian stones form the base of the original Temple of Solomon. And, of course, today one sees the welcome presence of Soviet and Ethiopian Jews as they settle into a new way of life.

Especially in these momentous hours, one cannot visit Israel and return to America without a deepened commitment to a nation where our people worship God, unabashedly, in a homeland for the Jewish people. My own commitment to Israel is long-standing and deeply rooted.

My grandfather, Sam Goldman, left his small Polish town near the Russian border in 1890 at the age of fourteen to escape the pogroms that abused and brutalized Jews during that time.

Alone, he stowed away on a ship bound for America, and landed in Boston where he worked as a cobbler, making shoes for handicapped feet. Eventually, he worked his way out West to San Francisco where he met and married another immigrant, Lily Kaflin, and opened two small stores on Mission and Market Streets.

In the course of his life, my grandfather founded three synagogues in California. He was active in founding the Hebrew Free Loan Association and in supporting the Jewish Home for the Aged. I've tried to do as my grandfather did—give back to the community I belong to. When I became Mayor of San Francisco, I helped build a Holocaust memorial on city land—a stirring monument to those who suffered so terribly. I led a delegation to Israel and re-energized the San Francisco-Haifa Sister City relationship. I spoke out and worked tirelessly to make it clear that our city simply would not tolerate hate and discrimination.

Now, in a time of opportunity and peril for the state of Israel, I intend to go to the Senate committed to maintaining a strong and lasting U.S.-Israel relationship. Since 1948, Israel has struggled mightily to survive. That struggle for survival has cost Israel twenty thousand of her sons and daughters and that struggle continues today.

America's bond with Israel is both strategic and moral. That bond must never be broken, never weakened by those who seek to drive a wedge between Israel and the United States. As the only true democracy in the Middle East, Israel is an indispensable ally. As a nation whose strategic position, strength, stability, and reliability we can count on, Israel has earned a right to expect our unswerving friendship.

In a world characterized by ever-shifting alliances between nations, Israel is a true and steadfast friend. Especially in times like these, we need Senators who understand that. I will be that kind of Senator.

When I visited Jerusalem a few months ago, I went up to the Haas Promenade and looked out over the City. I saw busloads of Ethiopian Jews and Jews from the Soviet Union arriving to share the view of this holiest of cities with unparalleled expressions of thankfulness and awe.

Each of us should be proud and thankful for the energy, spirit and commitment with which Israel is handling the Exodus. Israel and her leaders are working hard to build the kind of housing and job opportunities necessary to properly repatriate 1 million expected refugees.

It is not an easy task. It is like taking a country the size of France and bringing it into America. The last thing Israel needs is George Bush throwing roadblocks in her way by senseless delay on loan guarantees aimed at easing the burden of repatriation.

I, for one, took as a very deep, personal affront, as a Jew, the President's comments about the "Jewish lobby swarming over Capitol Hill". Jewish Americans have every right to present our interests and points of view to members of Congress; and when the day comes that we don't have that right, this will no longer be the United States of America.

We must remain constantly vigilant not only in our defense of Israel, but also in our resistance to anti-Semitism in the life of our own nation. The fact that David Duke has been able to build a constituency for hate across America is a frightening reminder that there are no permanent victories in our battle against intolerance and prejudice.

It is because I understand this that I am running for the United States Senate, and it is because I know you understand that I am turning to you for support. You can count on me to stand up for Israel and against prejudice. Now, I need to count on you to stand with me in one of the most critical elections of 1992—the California Senate race. Together, we can play our vital role in protecting the security of a nation that deserves the friendship and respect of freedom-loving people everywhere.

If you share my views, if you share my all-abiding commitment to peace and security for Israel, now is the time for you to act. Please send a generous contribution of $500, $250, $100, or even $50—and, I urge you, send it today.

Sincerely,

/s/ Dianne Feinstein

P.S. Unfortunately, the Middle East is not the only place in the world filled with hatred. Right now, David Duke wants to bring his message of hate to Washington. The time to fight back is now and, with your help, that's what I intend to do.

CHAPTER 12

SENATOR DOLE'S SECRET ADL/MISHPUCKA CONNECTION

by Gary Wean 8/21/95

To: Silver State III, Dan Gertsch

From: Gary Wean

Re: The 4-page letter you received from Sen. Robert Dole, a copy of which you sent to me [see box].

Dole starts off his letter by saying to you, "My Fellow American". Well, right here and now is the time to make Dole's terrible lies and deception clear—lies that in his arrogance he does not even hesitate to put in writing.

First, Senator Dole, the Senate Majority Leader is not a fellow American.

Robert Dole is, and has been for many years, a secret, paid agent of the ADL Mishpucka, a sneak saboteur and provocateur who sinisterly uses his high office to treasonously take deadly actions to destroy America and to grievously harm American citizens.

On the first page of his letter Dole talks of his, "good friends at the Judicial Selection Monitoring Project (JSMP)".

Dole further states, "as your Senate Majority Leader, I work closely with JSMP", etc., etc. Well, the JSMP is an ADL Mishpucka organization that gets its orders direct from Israel. The JSMP is a special project of the phony "Free Congress Foundation" which is a 501(c)3 tax exempt, so-called "non-profit" organization. JSMP and the Free Congress Foundation are just two more of the thousands of ADL Mishpucka outfits like the phony Simon Weisenthal (Holocaust) Center which is also operating under the tax-exempt 501(c)3 "non-profit" racket. The Simon Weisenthal scam under the operation of a ratty little Rabbi named Marvin Hier, which just stole another $10 million from the taxpayers with Sen. Dole's help. Remember in my previous "Notice to the People" I explained how this mentally sick little Jew, Marvin Hier, along with Los Angeles Mayor Tom Bradley, extorted millions of dollars from the Coors Brewery Co. All of these people are ADL Mishpucka gangsters who couldn't survive without the thievery and connivance of Robert Dole and the rest of the Senators.

Still on page one of Dole's letter he states, "As your Senate Majority Leader, I work closely with JSMP to make sure our courts have judges who rule according to the Bill of Rights", etc., etc. Dole continues by saying, "Just look at two Clinton nominees who became judges when the Democrats ran the Senate."

Dole's above statement is the proof, as if we needed more proof, that there is no difference between the crooked Democrat Party and the crooked Republican Party.

As we go to page two of Dole's letter, he mentions the judicial depredations of two of Clinton's ADL Mishpucka buddies, lawyers who Clinton appointed to the Federal bench, H. Lee Sarokin and Rosemary Barkett.

With this, Dole makes a plea for the American citizens to reach into their pockets and pull forth more money to support these slime-ball ADL Mishpuckas in the JSMP.

Then, adding more insult to the citizens, Dole says, "The work of the JSMP has been a vital resource for the entire Senate for some time."

Read page three of Dole's letter several times and think very carefully about all his clever duplicity until you get down to the part where he says, "Ever since the liberals destroyed Judge Robert Bork's nomination to the Supreme Court, they have worked overtime in their bid for a 'hostile take-over' of our federal courts." At this point Dole again exhorts the bleeding taxpayers to make a cash gift to the scam operating the JSMP. Dole pleads, please send the JSMP your money today.

Senator Robert Dole then signs his letter, "For Impartial Justice, Bob Dole, Senate Majority Leader".

But there is more, below his signature Dole once again implores the suffering, out-of-work citizens to send money to the ADL Mishpucka's JSMP scam.

In his letter, Robert Dole talks of the "liberals'" bid for a hostile take-over of our federal courts.

But this is more of Dole's clever lies. He knows the federal courts have been taken over by his brother-ADL Mishpucka agents years ago.

In 1985, the ADL Mishpucka ordered President Reagan to appoint and the Senate to confirm Alex Kozinsky to the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeal. Alex Kozinsky is one of the most evil, vicious, anti-American Jew thugs from Russia to get on the federal bench since Jimmy Carter appointed Stephen Reinhardt to the Ninth Circuit Court.

In 1985, honest loyal citizens all over the United States did everything in their power possible to advise the U.S. Senate of Kozinsky's evil, treasonous judicial acts and to prevent him from being confirmed.

Loyal federal employees came forward and testified to Kozinsky's crimes knowing that they were jeopardizing their jobs and their careers.

With Senator Robert Dole backing Kozinsky along with other Senators who call themselves conservatives, Kozinsky was confirmed. He immediately caused revenge to be taken on the loyal federal employees who had opposed him.

My book, There's a Fish in the Courthouse, which took 25 years to write and which covers a period of political and judicial corruption dating from January 1946, when I joined the L.A.P.D. until 1987, when my book was printed.

In 1987, along with an associate, I traveled to Washington, D.C. and, at that time, I personally hand delivered a copy of my book and a Petition to each and every one of the 100 U.S. Senators, Robert Dole being one of them. The Petition was from the people pleading with the U.S. Senate to investigate judicial corruption in the Ninth Circuit and to protect the people from gangster judges who were involved in every crime from murder, mayhem, stealing the people's property, drugs, etc., etc.

At that time, 1987, Senator Robert Dole engaged in and involved himself along with all the other 99 Senators in covering up the evidence and facts of judicial corruption. Regardless of Dole's pathetic lies in his letter and overt acts to deceive the people, it matters not if judicial nominees are Clinton liberals or Dole conservatives.

Regarding the Presidential election coming soon, the choice for the people is obvious—not a single one of the Republican politicians dying to become the next president can be considered under any circumstances.

Only Buchanan could be considered a choice if he swears in a platform address to the people under the most dire of oaths that he will rid the country of NAFTA, GATT, Federal Reserve, IRS, clean out the Department of Justice, and investigate and remove all federal and state judges who have failed to protect the people's rights and liberties as defined in the Bill of Rights and the rest of the Constitution.

If Buchanan fails to swear to this platform in the very near future the people must search for a person—someone whose name has never before even been heard—someone who can give the people confidence and someone who will swear to commence the above actions within hours after he has been sworn to the presidency and who will never cease until the above demands and more have been completed.

In this communication, I have included pages 628, 629, and 630 from my book [see next column]. The third paragraph of page 628 deals with Alex Kozinsky, who under no circumstances should have ever been considered for office of any kind in the U.S. Government.

These sentences on these pages were written over ten years ago, but it can be plainly seen that the quickening drum-beats of murderous events are marching America ever more swiftly to that point of destruction planned by the ADL Mishpuckas.

A horrendous tidal wave of political and judicial corruption, treachery, and treason is about to sweep away every vestige of Americanism. The last paragraph of page 630 holds true after ten years; I don't know who the small group of loyal Senators are, but Robert Dole is not one of them.

And if there is indeed a small group of loyal Senators still holding fast for America, they had better stand and make themselves known very shortly. Our country desperately waits for an American hero to arise, as one has always done in time of terrible despair and danger.

/s/Gary. L. Wean

August 21, 1995

THERE'S A FISH IN THE COURTHOUSE

...screaming for trade and economic sanctions against them. A massive plot to crucify Pretoria by wiping out millions in trade and monetary investments with the city of Los Angeles is underway by Councilman Joel Wachs. All over the world in financial centers the pattern is the same.

L.A. City Councilman Joel Wachs screeches out his concern for Black people in a country six-thousand miles distant. His motives are sinister; in Watts, a Black ghetto several blocks south of City Hall, Wachs does nothing for them. A vicious AIDS-driven homo, Wachs is wed to another Mishpucka councilman. Out of his closet, Joel is insolent; he flaunts his life-style. Thereby hangs the tale: a group of ten Harvard University scientists working at New England Regional Primate Research Center, in Southborough, Mass. discovered under their electron microscopes a virus in blood cells of Rhesus monkeys identical to human AIDS. With identical deadliness, it kills monkeys and humans. With their microscopes laying bare the killer virus, the scientists note: "The Rhesus monkeys dying from the immune-deficiency syndrome formerly lived in group cages where both heterosexual and homosexual relations and the eating of feces and spraying of urine were frequent." The scientists were appalled, reluctant to admit that the world faced an epidemic, millions of corpses laying in the streets. Not even the terrible bubonic plague of the Middle Ages matched the terror of this. They had discovered that gays weren't gay, they were shit-eaters, a deadly mass incubator, spreaders of a killer virus, for which there is no cure.

Chaos...! Chaos...! From every conceivable direction, the American industry is being attacked and destroyed by the international trade conspiracy. Dancing to the Mishpucka's tugs on his strings, President Reagan cons the people: "Low priced imported shoes are saving the American people millions of dollars." This clever glib coming while our American factories close and thousands of people are put out of work. Israeli-made shoes have captured over seventy percent of the U.S. market because Israeli can make shoes cheaper. Reagan sends them billions of taxpayers dollars to do it. Reagan commits even more deadly chaotic insanity with his nomination of Mishpucka Alex Kozinsky to a lifetime appointment to the Federal Appeals Court in San Francisco. A thirty-five-year-old Jew born in Russia, Kozinsky mysteriously became a lawyer for President Reagan and a law clerk to Chief Justice Warren Burger. This treasonous Mishpucka actually ghost-wrote critical decisions that were made by the Chief Justice of the United States.

Absurdly, Kozinsky became Chief Judge of the U.S. Claims Court, and there, the treasonous agent provocateur sabotaged and thwarted criminal investigations into military waste and procurement frauds. He then conspired to destroy the federal employees who had exposed frauds against the U.S. Because of Kozinsky's treasonous acts against America, two watch-dog groups and the Government Accountability Project, along with the Federal employees demanded that the Senate investigate into this Israeli saboteur's corruption and treason.

Former Dep. Special Counsel of the United States Claims Court, Jessie James, accused Kozinsky of making outright, absolute lies and statements to the Judiciary Committee at his confirmation hearing, May 17, 1985. But all this had no effect, understandably, the head of the Judiciary Committee is the traitorous Senator Strom Thurmond, who covered up the machine-gun crime for Pres. Reagan's National Security Director, William P. Clark. Then Senator Thurmond, aided and abetted by two cowardly Senators on the committee, ramrodded through Pres. Reagan's appointment of Alex Kozinsky, a treasonous Mishpucka from Russia.

Senators Paul Simon (Illinois) and Dennis De Concini (Arizona), admitted their betrayal of America to the news media: Simon stated, “Frankly I feel some un-ease with this nomination, but I do not have a basis to vote against it.” And de Concini stated, “After all of those accusations made against him I feel some uneasiness about this Alex Kozinsky.” Then attempting to cover his betrayal, De Concini came on with some sick slop: “I hope that Kozinsky will hear these words and that he will moderate his temperament and manners that he has exhibited in the past.” Lord, what more had the Senators needed!

The Mishpucka strategy never changes. Gov. Dukmejian’s Annual Report to the Legislature regarding Organized Crime in California is a lengthy document prepared by Attorney General Van de Kamps’ Bureau of Organized Crime and Civil Intelligence. The report uses the same old worn-out Mishpucka propaganda they used on Carlos Marcello; they called him, “The King of the New Orleans Mafia”. All they need is an Italian name—this time it’s a half-assed bookmaker, Peter John Milano. In the report, Milano is labeled “The new Boss of Southern California’s Crime Family”. The dumb dago loves all the notoriety—eating it up. He plays the part just like Marlon Brando. But in the Report there is not a hint of the Mishpucka crime Family.

The Mishpucka chaos nears its peak—assassinations, terrorism and death around the globe, governments on the brink of collapse, world bank catastrophes, and AIDS, an uncontrollable deadly plague: chaos—deadly chaos.

The people have been run, harried like the hare by the hounds, but trapped against a stone wall with no place left to run, even the hare comes out fighting. And this time the hare has recognized his enemy; the “Jews” can manufacture no scapegoat to crouch behind; they have brought their evil down upon themselves.

As Jack Ruby babbled under duress of his horrible guilt, “Jews will die by the millions, they will be killed in the streets.” And President Lyndon Johnson had known the truth; he had stated, “Forty million people will die if the truth is revealed. There were forty-million Jews in America.

Only the United States Senate led by the Constitution is powerful enough to save America. Of one-hundred Senators, the treasonous, corrupt and cowardly will desert their country. The small group that remains will have to stand fast. If not, the people will have no choice; they will take over. The mighty war will be engaged, a Jihad...a Holy War to end Holy Wars...a deadly, bitter struggle to the End... [End of quoting.]

BOB DOLE

Enclosed is a copy of your Bill of Rights. It protects your ten most basic freedoms.

*It is the backbone of justice in America. Judges should follow it to the letter.
But if the liberals running the White House get their way, they will give 340 of their friends lifetime jobs as federal judges.*

Do you trust them to put aside their personal views when they enter our courtroom?

My Fellow American,

Do you want 340 of Bill Clinton's close friends making decisions about what's good for you and your family?

Do you trust them to put aside their liberal bias when ruling on everything from crime prevention to taxes to voluntary prayer in schools?

I don't.

And neither do my good friends at the Judicial Selection Monitoring Project (JSMP).

As your Senate Majority Leader, I work closely with JSMP to make sure our courts have judges who rule according to the Bill of Rights rather than their own notions of justice.

Our courts are not the place for liberals who want to act as social workers or judges who believe in the rights of criminals rather than victims.

Think this can't happen? Just look at two Clinton nominees who became judges when the Democrats ran the Senate:

Rosmary Barkett who signed an opinion to overturn the death sentence of a gang leader who sent a grisly audio tape to a mother detailing the murder of her son. Now a federal judge.

Imagine listening to that tape?

H. Lee Sarokin who opposes pre-trial detention of violent criminals, even though 80% of state inmates have previous convictions and 30% of criminals out on bail are re-arrested for other felonies while awaiting trial. Now a federal judge.

Do you want hardened criminals accused of violent crimes in your neighborhood?

Only 846 Federal Judges protect your liberties as defined in the Bill of Rights and the rest of the Constitution.

Shouldn't they follow the laws we have rather than create new ones?

Judges that rule without a political or social bias have been an underpinning of our entire culture. And we could lose this in a court system run by activist judges appointed by Bill Clinton's White House.

That's why I need your help today. You can make sure no more Barketts or Sarokins make it to your federal bench.

How?

By supporting JSMP (Judicial Selection Monitoring Project) with your tax deductible gift of $20, $25, or even $50 today.

This may be the first time you have heard of JSMP, but their work has been a vital resource for the entire Senate for some time.

Their resourceful and efficient staff makes sure the judicial rulings and records of Clinton nominees are not “sanitized” by the White House and ignored by the liberal news media.

These full judicial track records are then hand delivered to every Senator and the news media with protecting your rights in mind.

But, this is not as simple as it sounds.

It can take weeks or months to thoroughly review just one nominee. And right now there is an immediate backlog of 85 vacant judgeships in our federal system. And there are probably 200 more Clinton nominations to review and process over the next 18 months.

With the Senate in session about 38 weeks each year—you can see we are counting on JSMP to help us cover a lot of ground in a short time.

Bill Clinton knows time is short. He is working hard to push as many nominations through the system as he possibly can. He knows he has the raw power to nominate as many as 340 of his friends to lifetime jobs as federal judges—creating the most permanent legacy of his political agenda.

If his handpicked liberal activists slip through our screening process it could subvert the will of the voters, because as judges, they could reject laws and reforms passed by Congress as unconstitutional in their eyes.

JSMP clearly understands this threat and is there to carefully and fairly scrutinize the judicial record of Clinton nominees placed before the Senate.

Presidents, regardless of political party, used to place nominees before the Senate who put the Constitution first and left their personal views at home. But ever since the liberals destroyed Judge Robert Bork’s nomination to the Supreme Court they have worked overtime in their bid for a “hostile takeover” of our federal courts.

I cannot let this happen. Which is why I hope you will take this opportunity to make a gift of $20, $25, or even $50 to JSMP today.

Researching the legal background of a nominee can cost $1000 or more. With 85 judgeships vacant already, you can see this work is expensive for JSMP.

For Impartial Justice,

/s/Bob Dole

Senate Majority Leader

P.S. I've sent a copy of the Bill of Rights to you because many of these freedoms are in jeopardy.

Why?

Because Bill Clinton has 85 vacant seats in the federal judicial system that he wants to fill with his activist friends. With hundreds more to come.

Believe me, their vision of America is much different than yours or mine when it comes to crime prevention to taxes to voluntary prayer in school. Our best hope for keeping Bill Clinton's friends from becoming federal judges is to tell the whole truth about their prior judicial records.

That's what JSMP does best. They make sure that his nominees' past judicial rulings and records are not "sanitized" by the White House and ignored by the liberal media. Their real judicial track records are made available to the full Senate and the news media, with you, the American voter, in mind.

I hope you will take this opportunity to send $20, $25, or even $50 to JSMP. Their work is important and I hope they can count on you today.

PART VIII TIMELESS REMINDER OFFERED FROM ESU “JESUS” SANANDA

Editor’s note: We continue to share a series of exceptional writings from Esu “Jesus” Sananda from some years ago, specifically in 1991. The message rings as true today as it did then, and we hope that you will spend some serious “quiet time” in reading and reflecting on his generous offerings in wisdom. Many of us readers are guilty of wanting “new” information, “more” information when, in truth, if we really read, reread, and studied that which has already been offered, we would constantly receive new insight. Since these writings from Sananda are lengthy, we have chosen to break them into a series of several installments. This installment is the last in this series.

We here at CONTACT would like to take a moment to PUBLICLY thank Sananda for his TRUE LIGHT AND LIGHTED WISDOM AND GENEROSITY IN SHARING SUCH TRUTH WITH US. THANK YOU!

Part I of this series began in our 3/19/96 CONTACT on p. 28; Part II was on p. 20 of the 3/26/96 issue; Part III was on p. 15 of the 4/2/96 issue; Part IV was on p. 5 of the 4/9/96 issue; Part V was on p. 11 of the 4/23/96 issue; Part VI was on p. 13 of the 5/7/96 issue; Part VII was on p. 14 of the 5/21/96 issue; Part VIII in this issue is the end of this series.

6/13/91 #3 SANANDA

WHICH: KINGDOM VISUALIZED OR ARMAGEDDON SCRIPT?

Visualization used for manipulation of external events can have some very present dangers. This is aptly referred to as “sorcery”. Ones think it great insight and fun to play at witchery/sorcery as “white” vs. “black”, etc. I warn you, chelas, it is a dangerous game where YOU are “had” almost every time and not vice versa.

I am Esu Emmanuel Sananda (Jesus the Christ, as you ones have come to label my being). I am come to speak of earthly things that you might be given into KNOWING and move out of the confusion of MAN’S OPINIONS AND ILL-INTERPRETATIONS.

Most speakers on these particular subjects of “Christianity”, “New Age”, New World Order, New Age Politics, etc., have what they believe to be “good intent” but they are indeed “ignorant”. Ignorance is defensible until it turns into refusal to consider that that which they might be experiencing is “ignorance”. I am going to currently skip through discussions at length, on such matters as public school prayers, and other Church/State situations for I wish to continue my subject of “visualization”. The contradiction is, as with all deceiving, so imperceptible in projection that you are manipulated into being unable to see any difference at all.

Let us look at something which was widely read, which was projected by Pat Robertson and co-workers. This man is respected in the circles of evangelism on the TV and ran for the office of your Presidency. But, what does he tell you? He tells you that the Kingdom of God will not materialize unless you “visualize” it.

“Ever wonder what it would be like if the kingdom of God were realized on Earth beginning today? How would you recognize it? Would you feel comfortable in it? Or do you suspect your life would have to change significantly?...In The Secret Kingdom Pat Robertson and Bob Slosser let us peek into the invisible kingdom of God as portrayed in the Bible. And then show that if it is to be implemented on Earth now, you and I will need to be involved in its visualization. Our obedience to God’s Word will determine how much of it will be implemented in our communities, our nation, and our world.”

Wow! And what if those projectors of their opinions and perceptions of “how it will be” are WRONG? If you have visualized the incorrect picture and action—how will you know the difference when the real thing comes down? That is exactly that which you have done! There is no statement from me that says such a thing—there aren’t even any scriptural requirements that it is necessary to fulfill Jesus’ prayer “Thy Kingdom Come”. I can assure you, precious little friends, HIS KINGDOM will come with or without your visualization. But it could well be that your visualization—deliberate disobedience of God’s prohibition against sorcery—could prevent you from recognizing the Kingdom and actually cause failure in entering that Kingdom.

“Blessed are they that do His commandments, that they may have right to the tree of life, and may enter in through the gates into the city. For without are dogs, and sorcerers, and whoremongers, and murderers, and idolaters, and whosoever loveth and maketh a lie.”
Revelation 22:14-15.

Certainly seems to include “white”, “black” and “multicolored” witches/sorcerers, to me.

Now, the next does not match Scripture. But it does match a significant paragraph of The Armageddon Script by Peter LeMesurier. LeMesurier also says, in effect, that visualization is necessary for the manifestation of the Kingdom—for the kingdom of their deliberately staged FALSE CHRIST. The following is directly from Pat Robertson:

“In the meantime the new world-leader must prepare himself for his role. He must study the scriptures and the Dead Sea Scrolls, immerse himself in current Jewish messianic expectations, thoroughly survey the general locality and familiarize himself with all the major prophecies and the best in New Age religious thought. In short he must create in his own mind a crystal-clear idea of the vision which he has to fulfill. For only in this way can that vision be guaranteed to come into manifestation.”

Dear ones—this says: “GOD DOES NOT KNOW HIS OWN PURPOSE!” Where are you, chelas? Could it be that mortal man, Robertson, doesn’t know his head from his toes? He has just limited God of Infinity and Universal Creation into a set of human visualizations. Is that what you want? God of ALL KNOWING—to fit the guidelines, instructions, actions and expectations of Pat Robertson, human politician? As a matter of fact, it matters not even that which YOU want in the circumstance; much less that of an avowed political speaker.

Despite all these objections, I am told that Robertson's ministry has to be from God because it has "fruits". WELL, I SUGGEST YOU REMEMBER THAT THERE ARE BOTH GOOD FRUITS AND BAD FRUITS AND THE SKIN OF THE FRUITS BEAR NOT SIGNS. Dear ones, you must test your spiritual leadership against the WHOLE counsel of God—His WORD, rightly divided. "Fruits" alone are not enough—they must be GOOD fruits: I said that "...in that day many would say to me, 'Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy in thy name and cast out devils in thy name?'" And my reply? "Depart from me ye that work iniquity, I never knew you."

NETWORKING "THE GLOBAL VISION"

"The Open Conspiracy must begin as a movement of explanation and propaganda." H. G. Wells, The Open Conspiracy.

"It must be remembered that the forerunner of all movements which appear upon the physical plane is an educational propaganda....Disciples in these ashrams have been in training for nearly one hundred and fifty years to do this work." Alice Ann Bailey, The Externalization Of The Hierarchy,

"We (himself and Donald Keyes) have worked together through several decades to sound the alarms and to point to possible new directions." Norman Cousins, introduction to Donald Keyes' Earth At Omega

The world was to be prepared for the New Order, the New Religion, and the new "Messiah" in many ways—mental as well as physical. Occult literature details this coming "New World Order" or "New Order" as a "Golden Age". Conversely, the Bible describes it as a time of sorrow. Detailed preparation for that "New World Order" is very much in process and all but fulfilled. This portion will take a look at a few of the vehicles politically acculturating you for the New Order. We will examine the possibility of their work being influenced by occultism (this is actually not a good term for use here, but you have no word which gives me necessary definition—I use it in the accepted meaning of witchcraft, sorcery, magic, incantation, etc.). Further, we shall see that much if not most of the work in this area is either occultism or demands an occultic world view for its acceptance. "Mysticism", not "mystery".

CLUB OF ROME'S GOALS FOR MANKIND

Two MEN, Aurelio Peccei and Alexander King, co-founded this influential network of financiers, industrialists, and scholars in the late 1960's. A capable executive, Peccei served as Chief Executive Officer for the Olivetti Corporation and for Fiat Automobiles. His writings clearly reflect an "occult" world view—if not totally "Satanic". They also reflected biases against even the "orthodox" Christianity (as defined by a meaning of being based presumably on Christ, real or imagined).

The Club of Rome continues to work closely with a number of occult political action organizations including Planetary Citizens, the International Center for Integrative Studies (ICIS), Lucis Trust, and the Global Education Associates. Indeed, its "Goals for Mankind" Report's United Nations' goals were submitted by Donald Keyes himself. Keyes is an activist with Lucis Trust and a former administrator of that organization. Peccei believed that orthodox religious beliefs were somewhat primitive:

“If the future was full of mystery, it was because it was shaped by the thought of the life beyond and the unquestioned belief that Hell and Heaven truly existed. The future belonged to God. Mortals would, according to the good or evil deeds of their lifetimes, either be rewarded by the Lord with unsurpassed bliss, or punished for eternity; the soul was all that mattered. And so the human imagination created a host of spirits and deities to take control over mortal life.”

No, not so—MAN created the heaven/hell projection as well as the other propositions above. God only stated that the “soul alone” matters, so you can see that from a twisted, manipulated vision came an opposing and equally dangerous counter-vision.

I note herein, that Peccei probably didn’t know the closeness of his proposals to Bible prophecy. But judging from his associations, it is probable he did know that he was reflecting the occultic-inspired organic world view.

“One of the greatest socio-political and economic differences between the future and the present is that the increasingly intertwined structures of the entire global system will produce A Progressive Convergence of the Futures of all Peoples. All societies will be bound together ever more closely by a network of vital interlinkages, which will condition their relationships with each other for better or for worse. Breaking these links will not longer be conceivable. It would throw the whole system into chaos—which no one would want.”

Peccei more than likely honestly thought this would usher in a time of peace and prosperity for life. But on close inspection, his proposals are more likely to usher Orwell’s 1984 horrors than an age of peace, light, and love. If these links of which he speaks are truly unbreakable, individual freedoms are very much a thing of the past. I have deliberately worded this statement in this manner—for we KNOW that the full intent was present from the beginning, therefore, the question is: WHO GAVE THESE MEN THE FORMAT IN THE FIRST PLACE?

You must realize that Peccei’s analysis justifies the establishment of a new universal religion:

“The institutionalization of faith...has not always had happy results....Certain points of doctrine...have been magnified, provoking schisms, apostasy, and the denunciation of what are claimed to be heresies. The official truth...has become impossible to question: and in order that it never should be questioned, ignorance and even superstitions have occasionally been encouraged...These structural inflexibilities and doctrinal introversions have helped to keep the major religions static even when the winds of change blowing through society have made clear the need to move from one cultural epoch to another. As a result, it is difficult even for their most sensitive and profound theologians and scholars to break out of a system frozen into formulations, reflecting the past, a system that cannot adapt itself or its doctrines to modern life....Religions now run the risk of becoming a timid rearguard, detached from the problems and aspirations of a bewildered and troubled humanity....And yet humanity...has a PROFOUND NEED FOR SPIRITUALITY....The anguish within the churches, the call for a new ecumenism to free them from their narrow confines, the widespread interest in minor cults...and a return to a respect for Nature—an ecological respect this time—are all symptoms of this need... They are encouraging symptoms. For, Without a Sincere Spiritual Awakening, The Renaissance of our True Humanity Will Be Impossible.”

I'm sorry, beloved readers, but animism and a repudiation of God's command for Man to take dominion over the planet are occult belief hallmarks. Peccei also suggests that perhaps Man created God and not vice versa:

“We may also ask whether it was perhaps to justify our immense aspirations in our own eyes that we were led to conceive God, and thus to attain the privilege—alone among all forms of life—of entering into communion with Him: and even to go so far as to assert that the Almighty had chosen to create us in His own image. Is not this anthropomorphism of the Creator, which is not exclusive to the Christian faith, in reality a form of deification of Man?”

Seems to me that these very men were “acting” in the capacity of God themselves. Peccei was personally expressing a belief in an organic view of the universe. Which is in itself wondrous indeed—that you are all parts of a whole. The mystics will always foist enough truth off on you to hook you into the lie. It comes forth in the New Agers as the popularization of “unity consciousness” without the slightest idea of what is meant by the very term. These become catch-words and codes for group unification and recognition, just as “hardware” and “software” become a verbal language unto itself.

They project one statement and bear definition of an entirely different intent. It is mirrored in the popularization of “unity consciousness” where they come to a “realization” that they are one with everything in the universe—up to and including God—and utilize every known type of mind-altering substance while doing so. It is very nearly stating that “all is related to all” but overlooking entirely the MEANING of the latter.

The Club of Rome betrays its occultic mystic witchcraft orientation in its recommended goals for human beliefs:

1. A world consciousness must be developed through which every individual realizes his role as a member of the world community.
2. A new ethic in the use of material resources must be developed which will result in a style of life compatible with the coming age of scarcity.
3. An attitude toward Nature must be developed based on harmony rather than conquest—only in this way can man apply in practice what is already accepted in theory...this is, that man is an integral part of Nature.
4. If the human species is to survive, man must develop a sense of the identification with future generations and be ready to trade benefits to the next generations for the benefits to himself. If each generation aims at the maximum good for itself, homo sapiens are as good as doomed.

You have to REALLY look inside and with utmost caution and discernment to catch the flaws within the above “ideal” presentation. One blatant and glaring absence is any relationship in and within God. All is limited to the very base “physical expression” of the human relative to a physical expression of a minute portion of Creation.

Then we come to the parting of the ways between “typical” Christians and Truth. The orthodox come forth and denounce anyone who speaks a word such as “reincarnation” while at the same time, in the same breath—touts this wondrous experience of life after death. If you have one you MUST have the other and likewise, if you do not have one—you CANNOT have the other. Again I am going to quote something which is interesting in perception of one author:

“Yet consider the transformation of earthly existence were reincarnation accepted into the soulstream of the global population as a guide by which to live. Acutely aware of reaping harvest of past deeds while simultaneously sowing the seeds of future lives, most people would behave very differently. Life on the planet would be overhauled—and hugely for the better. Wars, crime, racism, nationalism, and sexual chauvinism would be radically diminished...The nagging fear of death would be eliminated and replaced with acceptance of the opportunity for transformation. Doctors who strive to prolong life...would see themselves as sad clowns flaunting their ignorance of cosmic renewal...genetic engineering would be recognized by all as meddling and dangerous. Care would be taken not to encourage the extinction of animal and plant species lest rungs be removed from the evolutionary ladder...Acceptance of reincarnation demands a complete overturning of prevailing attitudes inculcated by a civilization that has long over-identified with the body.”

It is truly enough to break of the heart for portions of the projection are worthy of changing the entire planet into oneness with God. But you must remember—there is not intent of God in relationship to Man—but the premise that Man shall somehow become God in human form and control other Men and dictate all actions and thoughts.

OVERLOOK, FORGET OR ABANDON—GOD

Man continues to seek and seek that which is fulfilled somehow through the physical and through the hands of other Men. While Man rewrites the rules and assumptions, the commandments of the God and The Creation are put aside, voted-in or out, stomped on, walked on, spit on and/or most certainly ignored. YOU WILL NEVER FIND WHOLENESS, FULFILLMENT OR ANY LASTING EXPERIENCE UNTIL YOU RECOGNIZE GOD AND THE NEED FOR BALANCE WITH THAT ONENESS WITHIN CREATION. I CARE NOT WHAT YOU CALL YOUR RELIGION. IF IT IS OF THE HUMAN IT WILL ALWAYS REMAIN OF THE PHYSICAL ASPECT—AND THAT IS A FLEETING EXPERIENCE AT BEST.

TEACHINGS OF TRUTH

I walked your roads, felt your pain and occasional joy (Man has little joy). I appeared to do that which was, at the least, unusual—for the birds and little creatures would come to perch upon my being. I experienced the glory of that communion and, when asked about these things, I efforted to explain. This was not the “mortal self, the self you can “see”, that is able to do these things. It is a truer, deeper self. It is what you know as God, God within you, within me, God the Omnipotent One working through the being, that does these things. Of myself, the mortal self, I can do nothing. It is only when I get rid of the outer entirely and let the actual, that which I AM, speak and work and let the great Love of God come forth that I did those things that were witnessed.

When we consider the possibilities it becomes easy to see why Man becomes “victim” of the illusions of another for he is forever searching. There seem to be great contradictions but those are the result of taking that which is desirable out of context and utilizing it in incorrect assumptions. It returns to the lack of understanding of LIGHT. There is difference in the “thinking” of Man and the “thinking” of Central God—and a great difference in the KNOWING. One is a physical experience; the other is a soul energy experience. One can affect the other but one can never BE the other.

TRANSFORMATION OF MAN

When Man shall at last know God he shall then be transformed.

Dynamic knowledge of the Identity and Presence of God within the Soul of Man—and throughout all Nature is a necessary stage for the human race to attain before it is possible for him to build an enduring civilization of unity and brotherhood.

The only reason Man has never known God is because he is still in his intellectual infancy and his ideals and practices are still “pagan” and mostly barbarous. I apologize to the ones labeled “pagan” for it is indeed a most stupid projection but does suit my needs herein—as the stupid projection, not as the truth regarding those so labeled.

To know God, Man must know what Light is, and energy, magnetism, electricity, gravitation and God’s processes in the building of bodies which manifest His Presence and His purposes. And he must know the mysteries of life, death, and growth, and of the seed into which even the giant oak disappears but still retains its identity. And he must know how Man retains his identity when he also disappears.

No man has yet known these things. The concepts of modern sages regarding them are totally unlike God’s processes. The conclusions of Man regarding them are the conclusions of his senses. His Mind

CHAPTER 14

PART III JUDICIAL CORRUPTION AT J.A.M.S. AND BEYOND

Editor's note: Part one of this excellent outlay began as our Front Page story in the 4/9/96 CONTACT; part II appeared in the 5/21/96 issue on p. 35. We continue here with Part III:

5/21/96 RAY BILGER

When we speak about judicial corruption in America today, we have to remember that the judicial branch of government does not exist in a vacuum. Even though it may appear to be an entity unto itself, as our old Constitution puts it, there are two other branches of government as well, the legislative branch (the Congress) and the executive branch (the President).

But in an important way, the judicial branch is in a kind of middle position as the enforcement arm for whatever legislation the Congress and the President are able to conjure up for We-The-People. The corruption in our government today is by no means unique to any one of these three branches, but appears to be absolutely endemic to the entire system.

Thus, as this series unfolds it will become increasingly necessary for us to broaden our horizons to take in the full breadth and width of the staggering corruption of which J.A.M.S. is but a part, in order that we may gain a proper perspective on how we have come to be in the judicial "mess" that is now America's middle name.

This judicial "mess" should be obvious to everyone, because the state judicial systems receive their instructions from the state legislatures, and, on the "federal" level, the federal courts in turn are controlled by legislation from Congress.

And since we no longer have our original 13th Amendment (passed in 1819, it forbids anyone holding any title of nobility, i.e., Esquire, from being in government), lawyers are everywhere (in the legislatures and the Congress) creating this "mess" (of course, it is actually powerful forces behind the scenes and beyond our view who pull the strings). The bottom line is that the masses are controlled through laws, but, as Frederic Bastiat has pointed out in 1850, in his little book entitled The Law (as appropriate and on point today as when it was first published): "Unfortunately, law by no means confines itself to its proper functions. And when it has exceeded its proper functions, it has not done so merely in some inconsequential and debatable matters. The law has gone further than this; it has acted in direct opposition to its own purpose. The law has been used to destroy its own objectives: It has been applied to annihilating the justice that it was supposed to maintain; to limiting and destroying rights which its real purpose was to respect. The law has placed the collective force at the disposal of the unscrupulous who wish, without risk, to exploit the person, liberty, and property of others. It has converted plunder into a right, in order to protect plunder." Remember, Bastiat said this in 1850. How much more corrupt do you suppose the laws may be today?

To illustrate the point of just how much legislation we are talking about (on the federal level), let's look at some statistics released in April of 1995 by Senator Don Nickles (R-Oklahoma). During the entire 8 years of the Reagan Administration, the Congress cranked out a total of 53,376 pages of new regulations. During the 4 years of the Bush Administration, there was a total of 67,716 pages. During just the first year of the Clinton Administration, 1993, there were 69,688 pages issued. And in his second year, 1994, there were over 100,000 pages of new regulations. That is over 170,000 pages of new regulations in just 2 years of the Clinton Administration!

It is difficult for this author to imagine that this situation is not by plan and design. And yet the founders of this nation envisioned a small limited government. It's almost funny now to look at the Constitution, Art. I, Sec. 4, cl. 2, which states: "The Congress shall assemble at least once in every year, and such meeting shall be on the first Monday in December, unless they shall by law appoint a different day." In the old days Congresspersons used to have other things to do in their lives. Now they live in Washington, D.C., and are very busy legislating and regulating the people to death. What was stated in the introduction to this series bears repeating here: "No man's rights are secure as long as the legislature is in session." It might be nice if the Congress would just go home for awhile and let us breathe!

If we travel from Orange County down the Southern California coast a short distance, we come to the beautiful city of San Diego where, on April 10, 1996, two former California Superior Court Judges were handed federal indictments for their alleged involvement in a massive conspiracy to accept $100,000.00 in bribes in exchange for favorable rulings in court, spanning more than 10 years. The 18-month federal probe grew out of an investigation by the California Council on Judicial Performance begun in 1991.

One of these two judges is the ex-Hon. James A. Malkus. Because of the state investigation, he resigned from office in 1993, and then began working as a private judge for $300.00 per hour at J.A.M.S. in San Diego (Now J.A.M.S./Endispute, their offices are located at 401 "B" Street, Suite 600, San Diego, California 92101, phone 619-236-1848). One week prior to the indictment, Judge Malkus began a leave of absence from J.A.M.S.

A third former California Superior Court Judge involved in the federal probe was the ex-Hon. Michael I. Greer, who pleaded guilty to a bribery charge in March of 1996. Just like Judge Malkus, apparently because of the state investigation (he actually cited health reasons), Judge Greer resigned from office in 1993, and then began working as a private judge for $300.00 per hour at J.A.M.S. in San Diego. This poor "man" was so distraught by the whole affair that he disappeared on January 9, 1996, and was found two days later in a Best Western motel in Hemet, California, after he had apparently attempted to commit suicide. According to the Los Angeles Times of Friday, January 12, 1996, San Diego County Sheriff's Lt. Gerry Lipscomb said Hemet police found Judge Greer dazed and semi-coherent, with an empty pill bottle and a razor blade nearby. He had superficial cuts on his wrists. After he pleaded guilty he quit his association with J.A.M.S.

Understandably, there were sighs of relief in the San Diego legal community after the indictments were finally handed down. (No doubt. Now, any other corrupt judges can go back to business as usual.)

At this point we need to stop and assess our own investigation. We have talked about judicial corruption at J.A.M.S. in Orange County, California. Looking now into a second J.A.M.S. office in California, at San Diego (as of March, 1996, there were 13 J.A.M.S. offices in California), we find two judges allegedly involved in massive bribery being employed at J.A.M.S., after they resigned because of investigations into their judicial misconduct. Two J.A.M.S. offices with potential corruption out of two offices investigated. Not a bad score.

Serious questions arise again, now concerning J.A.M.S. at San Diego. Was J.A.M.S. unaware when they hired these two judges that they had resigned because of alleged bribery? That is unlikely. Did the two judges tell J.A.M.S. that they may have done wrong in the past but that they wouldn't do that anymore? That is possible. Or, did the people at J.A.M.S. in San Diego say, hey, these are just the kind of judges we're looking for? This last question begs an answer, but this author will not be the one to provide it. What do you think? Perhaps the reader might wish to call J.A.M.S. in San Diego and ask them.

(This author has always said, if you steal a little bit of money you'll probably go to jail. But if you can steal millions or billions you could be a Senator or Congressperson, or maybe even a President, e.g., Whitewater.)

A scathing article appeared in the February 1994 edition of California Lawyer, written by Richard C. Reuben, entitled "The Dark Side of ADR". (A.D.R., or Alternative Dispute Resolution, as you will recall, is the term used to refer to the private judging industry). The article's predominant focus is on J.A.M.S. Mr. Reuben interviewed dozens of lawyers and documents case after case of blatant judicial abuse that J.A.M.S. has inflicted on those who would attempt to do battle with big business (which appears to be the real beneficiary of the existence of J.A.M.S.).

For example, an Orange County businessman, Mr. Eber Jaques, suffered badly at J.A.M.S. As the article states: "When he sent a letter to J.A.M.S. chief financial backer, the Wall Street investment firm of E.M. Warburg, Pincus & Company, Jaques says a J.A.M.S. administrator threatened him with a libel suit for suggesting the company's judges favored large businesses." (Mr. Jaques seems to concur with what Jack Unroe, J.A.M.S. Chief Executive, had to say in Part II of this Series.)

We see from this that E. M. Warburg, Pincus & Company (at least in 1994) is the chief financial backer of J.A.M.S. The last time this author checked, this Wall Street investment firm dealt with big business, not with Mom & Pop. Does anyone still doubt the fact that J.A.M.S. is intended and designed to serve big business?

And for J.A.M.S. to be able to serve big business without any meaningful judicial accountability or oversight, as would be required in the public courts, allows big business the opportunity to do virtually anything they want without having to answer to anyone! So much for the rights of the people. Mr. Jaques said, "As far as I'm concerned, J.A.M.S. is a scam." Also from the article, Attorney Joseph A. Yanny, of the Century City, California law firm of Fischbach, Medow, Perlstein & Yanny, said of J.A.M.S., "They have taken Lady Justice and put her on the street corner, hooking for tricks."

Author Richard C. Reuben states in his article that: "Unlike their public sector counterparts, J.A.M.S. judges operate largely without ethical constraints." Yet, J.A.M.S. General Counsel, John Welsh, said of J.A.M.S. judges, "The marketplace really polices itself. We've never had the slightest inkling or question that someone was favoring one side or (the) other." This author finds the General Counsel's statement very troubling: "The marketplace really polices itself." Extrapolating from this, are we then to believe that the foxes really are capable of guarding the henhouse? It would appear they are doing so at J.A.M.S.! But a growing body of information and testimony suggests there is absolutely no self-policing, and that the real situation is quite the contrary.

Also, in the very first sentence of the first part (Introduction) of this series, this author made reference to Gary Wean “exposing the fact that judges in California are appointed by other judges.” An article appeared in the Los Angeles Times, Monday, August 1, 1988, written by James S. Granelli, entitled “Private Courts Come to Order”. The article was basically an interview with Judge John K. Trotter, Jr. about J.A.M.S.

The introduction to the article began with this very interesting statement describing J.A.M.S.: “It is the second-largest judicial body in the state, yet none of its judges are elected or appointed, and neither government regulation nor public scrutiny has a place in its courtrooms.” This means absolutely no checks or controls, yet these private courts are passing very binding decisions.

One possible reason for requiring litigants to go into a private court, such as J.A.M.S., whether they want to or not (as set forth in Cal. Code Civ. Proc. Section 639), may revolve around an interpretation of the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution for the United States of America. Southern California Law Review, Vol. 66, No. 5, in a footnote at the bottom of page 2133, states in part, “The right to a civil jury trial, guaranteed in federal cases by the Seventh Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, has not been incorporated into the Fourteenth Amendment and applied to the states.” The footnote cites the case of Mathews v. Eldridge, 424 U.S. 319, 335 (1976), as providing the definitive constitutional interpretation that the question of “costs” shall be the determining factor of a state’s decision as to how they may wish to proceed.

The Southern California Law Review article on “Alternative Court Structures” makes a number of statements, and postulates a number of concepts, which appear to be from a strictly establishment point of view, and are thus at odds with this author’s perception of our real judicial situation. For example, on pages 2134-35, the article makes the statement that, “Perhaps because of the perception that inefficiency and delay have been persistent characteristics of the Anglo-American legal tradition, it is difficult to imagine a certain (or even reasonably likely) path to a system that provides universal access at a reasonable cost without unreasonable delay.”

This statement may not be completely true given the fact that it ignores a number of important points. First, a seemingly more important characteristic of our legal system, as pointed out in this series, is the fact of unending legislation creating ever more laws for We-The-People to violate, so that we end up in court defending ourselves. Everyone knows that seat-belts save lives while driving, but do we need the legislature passing laws that remove our freedom of choice to wear or not to wear them, and then punish us if we don’t? Everyone knows that helmets save lives, but should the legislature pass laws telling motorcyclists that they must wear them? We could go on and on with examples of these victimless crimes created by the legislature to bring more and more people into court to enrich the coffers of the state, but for the sake of brevity, the point has been made. (This has been called by some “The Law Enforcement Growth Industry”.)

Secondly, and this is more than likely the real cause of the First, is the fact, not mentioned at all in the 61 pages of the article, that our original Thirteenth Amendment to the Constitution was unlawfully removed, thereby paving the way for lawyers to create the entire “mess” in which we now find ourselves. At the time of the birth of this Great Nation there was a very strong anti-lawyer sentiment, and if it is any less so today, this author would be quite surprised. The Colonists had had quite enough of English lawyers, and wanted no lawyers to have anything to do with government here. The inefficiency and delay to which the article makes reference are more than likely due, at least in part, to lawyers, who do not become less wealthy by those delays.

Thirdly, is the fact that the above statement does not take into account a perhaps more accurate statement found on page 2166 of the article, which is: “Conflict is a pervasive feature of modern life, and the resolution of conflict is a valuable service.” (Is this intentional also?) This discussion is not meant to be an attempt to evaluate the cause(s) of this conflict, yet the cause may be due in part to how people react to one another in heavy population concentrations, which are cities. (There does appear to be less conflict in the country-side.) But there may be an emerging pattern, as this conflict may also be due in part to the frustration people feel as government pries its way into every aspect of our lives, and then takes most of our money away in the form of taxes.

There appears to be little doubt that at least part of the “litigation explosion”, mentioned near the beginning of the article, and also mentioned in the Introduction to this series, is due to the fact that everyone is suing everyone else, for almost any reason. If anyone so much as bumps into their car, they think they just won the lottery!

It certainly seems plausible that if we were to get rid of all lawyers in all offices of all government, as our true Thirteenth Amendment mandates, then one aspect of our overall problem in America would be addressed, and we might be able to begin “to imagine a certain, and reasonably likely, path” to a Just System.

“I WAS A RACKETEER”
U.S. MILITARY ROLE IN THE NEW WORLD ORDER
by Ray Bilger 5/28/96

Our entire known and recorded history of military organization and operation in the world would lead us to believe that, as a species, we have never been able to live at peace with one another. This apparently innate antagonism that mankind wages against itself has been exploited as a major tool by those who would control the world, to sway public opinion against perceived enemies in order to control the masses. There can be no doubt that this campaign has been successfully manipulated to the point where we now stand on the brink of possible total nuclear annihilation of the planet. And where there was no enemy, one has always been created to carry out these objectives. The New World Order mentioned in the title of this article is neither new (this plan is as old as the hills), nor does it imply order (it is just the opposite, total chaos).

As a naive young man, this author joined the military at age 19, and served with “distinction” in the United States Marine Corps from 1968 to 1971, during the Vietnam “Conflict”, as an electronic technician and repairman of top-secret encoding and decoding communications devices. In our extensive initial training (and brainwashing) in the Marine Corps (the training received in self-discipline has proved indispensable on numerous occasions), we were taught to respect and revere certain distinguished Marine Corps officers and enlisted men who had performed exemplary service in achieving major military objectives.

One of these officers who was held out very highly as one of the most distinguished of all Marine Corps leaders was Major General Smedley D. Butler. There was no shortage of references to the great military accomplishments he had made in the early part of this century. Gen. Butler was able to complete some very interesting maneuvers, and on at least one occasion, against resistant Nicaraguans, without ever firing a single shot. This man was indeed quite brilliant.

But what was never revealed to us while serving in the Marine Corps was what Gen. Butler decided to do after retiring from the Corps. It was as though this side of his life never existed. He went public with all the things he had kept inside of himself for those many years, And this is what makes this man truly brilliant.

This author has obtained, from an undisclosed source, a published list of “Radical Periodicals in the United States, 1890-1960 [see page 146], First Series”, which lists 67 separate publications. It seems obvious, from having read some of the publications, that the reason they were considered radical periodicals is due to the very simple fact that they took an impartial and objective view in examining the corrupt activities conducted around the world by our government and other governments. The writers and publishers of these periodicals may not have been aware of it at the time, but they were observing and exposing an emerging New World Order as it unfolded on our “modern” world stage. The list of these Radical Periodicals is included here, and shows, by their titles and years of publication, the general insight that was gleaned at certain times. The reader may yet be able to obtain information on some of these periodicals from the U.C.L.A. Library, Archives on Microfilm.

One of these periodicals was called Common Sense, published from 1932-1946. After Gen. Smedley Butler retired from military service, he decided to go public with some of his knowledge about what he had been involved in with the Marine Corps, and wrote a series of 4 articles over a four-month period beginning with the October 1935 issue of Common Sense. The articles cover a wide spectrum of U.S. Military operations, including National Guard actions domestically against striking American workers. Gen. Butler lets us know, in no uncertain terms, that he was, in essence, a racketeer and enforcer for Big Business, for Wall Street, and the bankers.

Here is some of what he had to say in the November 1935 issue of Common Sense, (quoting:)

I Was a Racketeer.

It may seem odd for me, a military man, to adopt such a comparison. Truthfulness compels me to. I spent 33 years and 4 months in active service as a member of our country's most agile military force—the Marine Corps. I served in all commissioned ranks from a second lieutenant to Major General. And during that period I spent most of my time being a high-class muscle man for Big Business, for Wall Street and for the bankers. In short, I was a racketeer for capitalism.

I suspected I was just part of a racket at the time. Now I am sure of it. Like all members of the military profession I never had an original thought until I left the service. My mental faculties remained in suspended animation while I obeyed the orders of the higher-ups. This is typical of everyone in the military service.

Thus I helped make Mexico and especially Tampico safe for American oil interests in 1914. I helped make Haiti and Cuba a decent place for the National City Bank boys to collect revenues in. I helped in the raping of half-a-dozen Central American republics for the benefit of Wall Street. The record of racketeering is long. I helped purify Nicaragua for the international banking house of Brown Brothers in 1909-12. I brought light to the Dominican Republic for American sugar interests in 1916. I helped make Honduras "right" for American fruit companies in 1903. In China in 1927 I helped to see to it that Standard Oil went its way unmolested.

During those years, I had, as the boys in the back room would say, a swell racket. I was rewarded with honors, medals, promotion. Looking back on it, I feel I might have given Al Capone a few hints. The best he could do was to operate his racket in three city districts. We Marines operated on three continents. (End Quote)

Gen. Butler contends, from his perspective, that we have never fought a defensive war. The intent is always offensive, in the name of "National Defense" (today it is called National Security), but to anyone who observes what takes place behind the scenes, the military might of the world works for the international bankers and big business.

Gen. Butler speaks about the War Department. After World War II, that name was changed to the Department of Defense. It is still the War Department, but with a new name, not to deceive those in the military, but to deceive those of us who are expected to pay for their escapades. Preparation for defense sounds better than preparation for war, no matter if it is a lie.

We quote here again from the November 1935 issue of Common Sense (Quoting:)

OUR IDEAL NEVER DEFENSIVE

Lest this seem to be the bellicose pipe dream of some dyspeptic desk soldier, let us remember that the military ideal of our country has never been defensive warfare. Since the Revolution, only the United Kingdom has beaten our record for square miles of territory acquired by military conquest. Our exploits against the American Indian, against the Filipinos, the Mexicans, and against Spain are on a par with the campaigns of Genghis Khan, the Japanese in Manchuria and the African attack of Mussolini. No country has ever declared war on us before we first obliged them with that gesture. Our whole history shows we have never fought a defensive war...

Actually our armed forces have up-to-date plans for offensive warfare against almost every country on the globe—all in the sacred name of “national defense”...

The gold braid boys (Generals and Admirals) are reliable puppets, obeying the string-pulling of their bosses and bowing to imperialist expediency whenever commanded. (End Quote)

Just what does Gen. Butler say about the intricate connection between Wall Street, the bankers, and Big Business on the one hand, and our military on the other? We quote here from the October 1935 issue of Common Sense, (quoting:)

The generals, besides being reactionary and possessing the backwardness of the military mind, are so closely identified with Big Business that the status quo is their first consideration. The average War Department officer is forever hoping he can step from his lowly position into some big industrial vice presidency... The generals, too, look with soft eyes upon Wall Street and banking, and when they retire they hope, oftentimes with success, to enter these fields. They have a large stake in the present and the future of the system. If they can inculcate their particular brand of military fascism widely enough and insulate their military system against all outside influences they will feel safe in giving any orders.” (End Quote)

And, in the December 1935 issue of Common Sense, Gen. Butler said the following about our Navy, (quoting:)

“It is Wall Street’s bill collector and profit maker, thereby earning the support of Big Business and industry...

The American Navy has always been more than obliging to Wall Street. Utilizing its Marine Corps, the Navy occupied Haiti for 18 months and successfully kept the Haitians from holding elections or their Congress from meeting. The Navy occupied Santo Domingo for 10 years... Until 1922 the Navy occupied a province of Cuba... In all these occupations and “civilizing” expeditions and forays of capitalistic expediency the Navy, of course, was acting at the behest of our State Department, which is to say, Wall Street. The interests of the big New York banks were ably promoted: National City Bank, Brown Brothers, J. & W. Seligman and other houses-of-issue getting their investments pulled out of the fire. In addition, the bankers in Bolivia and... Columbia operated under the protective influence of the Navy’s cruisers and destroyers. (End Quote)

Should we expect that things are any different today, that there is any less involvement between big money and the military? If anything, it appears to be much worse. It appears that the purpose of the military today is to insure that the wealth of the international bankers is maintained, and increased if deemed necessary, to crush into submission any nation or part thereof which could or does attempt to oppose the military machine and plans of the international bankers, and to be used, if the situation warrants it, upon the unsuspecting domestic population who at times become restless and discontent while suffering under the corruption they are forced to endure.

Gen. Butler discussed the domestic role of the military against those who organized into labor unions (much to the dismay of big business, as such actions threatened their profits) and against “subversives”, in the November 1935 issue of Common Sense, (quoting:)

Our National Guardsmen have done even better. In the past two years large National Guard forces have seen active service in 20 strikes in as many different states, from the Pacific Coast to New England, from Minnesota to Georgia. They have used gas, bullets, and tanks—the most lethal weapons of modern war against striking workers. Casualty lists have been impressive. In one instance they erected barbed wire concentration camps in Georgia to “co-ordinate” striking workers with all the efficiency of the fascist repressive technique...

The intelligence men further justify their jobs by spy work on radical gatherings, by attending public forums in an attempt to detect political or economic heresy, by keeping tabs on various suspects, and by smelling out what they consider to be subversive activities everywhere... In the New York area, for instance, the military intelligence officers are especially busy... Radical meetings are attended, notes taken, speakers listed, and as many of the audience identified as possible. It is well known in liberal and radical circles that the military intelligence units have been planting men within suspected organizations. Often the “plant” appears in uniform carrying a radical publication...(End Quote)

Planting informers is nothing new, and from this author’s own observations, it is rare indeed to find any organization informed about what our government does, that is without a plant.

But, barbed wire concentration camps in Georgia? If this was already done in the early 1930s against striking workers, why should we expect it wouldn’t be done again under F.E.M.A. (Federal Emergency Management Agency), or with United Nations troops, if some calamitous and/or catastrophic situation(s) demanded such extreme measures?? A precedent has already been set over 60 years ago!

Gen. Butler makes some very sound suggestions for correcting the abuses of military power by those who pull the strings. We quote here from the November 1935 issue of Common Sense, (quoting:)

What is the Answer?

The correction of these evils is our immediate duty. We must deny to our armed forces the functions of diplomats, politicians and agents provocateur. To do this means reorienting the military both in location and in policy as well. Our entire doctrine of war must be restated as a defensive doctrine in theory and adhered to in practice. We must give up the Prussian ideal—carrying on offensive warfare and imposing our wills upon other people in distant places. Such doctrine is unAmerican and vicious...

Finally, the clique that has fastened itself upon Washington and which is responsible for these powerful militaristic influences must be uprooted... There must be no more reactionary and destructive intelligence work. The true domestic enemies of our nation (are) hunger, injustice and exploitation...

Indeed, we need to make an about face. We must change the provocative activities of our armed forces into those of passive defense. If the military has any excess energies, let them concern themselves with the welfare of the whole people. We must insure that welfare by defending it, rather than seeking to attack someone else. (End Quote)

General Smedley Butler is a remarkable example of a man. He went from being one of the most useful tools of the power Elite, and then made a complete turnaround to become a truly eloquent and articulate spokesman for the real American ideals.

He made mention in the last quote, to “reactionary and destructive intelligence work”. Such could not be more adequately portrayed today than by references to our own Central Intelligence Agency. For those who might think the C.I.A. is involved in intelligence work, guess again. That is the job of the N.S.A. (National Security Agency), to be discussed in a future article.

The “Conclusion” to Ralph W. McGehee’s book, Deadly Deceits—My 25 Years in the C.I.A., begins with the following paragraph, (quoting:)

The C.I.A. is not now nor has it ever been a central intelligence agency. It is the covert action arm of the President’s foreign policy advisers. In that capacity it overthrows or supports foreign governments while reporting “intelligence” justifying those activities. It shapes its intelligence, even in such critical areas as Soviet nuclear weapon capability, to support presidential policy. Disinformation is a large part of its covert action responsibility, and the American people are the primary target audience of its lies. (End Quote)

Ralph McGehee reports in his book, on pages 142-143, that the C.I.A. contrived and fabricated information and events in 1965, that led to U.S. Military involvement in Vietnam. He should know, he was there.

The Vietnam “Conflict” was a long drawn-out no-win war. It appeared to be no-win as far as the people were concerned, and the people, of course, were the real losers. But, although it is of importance who wins a war, what is of equal, if not greater, importance is prosecuting a war. That is where the real money is made by big business. Vietnam netted incredible profits for the banks, big business and the armaments manufactures. They made a real killing, no pun intended.

There is substantial documentation that this was exactly the situation in World War II. The major oil companies and the international bankers supported both sides in the war. Again, they made a real killing, but of even greater significance, what came out of World War II was the establishment of the United Nations, the effective front organization, and the new de facto One World Government that clearly installed the New World Order to full power.

CHAPTER 16

ONE WORLD GOVERNMENT CHURCH REVIVED

by Dr. John Coleman May 1990

Editor's note: While CONTACT does not necessarily support Dr. Coleman's blurring of the distinction between the organized religion(s) of Christianity and true spirituality, "Christianity" does indeed remain a great (though somewhat disguised) POLITICAL force in the evolution of the modern world. To order copies of this and/or any other WIR publication, please write to: W.I.R., 2533 N. Carson St., Carson City, NV 89706. We thank Dr. Coleman for sharing his thorough research with our readership.

Dr. Coleman included a chart with his article but it cannot be reproduced to be read without a magnifying glass [p-189]. You can see it in the Vol. 13, #4 CONTACT issue of June 4, 1996.

Now that the plans of the Conspirators to form a One World Government are more or less out in the open, I believe that the time is right to draw attention to the lesser known activities of the Washington-Moscow partnership in the religious theater of operations.

We have been led to believe that the Bolsheviks are opposed to anything of a spiritual and religious nature. In fact, this is not true at all. Mt. Athos remained the center of religious instruction for decades and indeed retains that position today. The Bolshevik's hatred of religion was directed at Christianity.

The revival of the Fellowship of Faiths is a sign of the times; barriers are allegedly down in Europe, and the nations of Europe are said to be uniting in one big happy family. As long as diverse religions remain a force, the advent of a One World Government will be delayed. As Bertrand Russell once remarked, "Religion is a nuisance; if we cannot take control of it, then we must get rid of it."

The recently revived Fellowship of Faiths is a step in the direction of what Lord Bertrand Russell had in mind. Not all the wars in the world thus far have been able to rid man of his spiritual awareness, and although Christianity, like no other religion, has been savagely attacked, and millions upon millions of Christians slaughtered, it remains the greatest spiritual force in the world today.

So, having failed to "get rid of it", other tactics are being employed, using the shop-worn relativistic idea that all religions are the same and of equal value. Proof that the onslaught against Christianity has not diminished is to be found in the attack upon the U. S. Constitution, which is being mounted in increasing intensity by Lloyd Cutler, who was recently joined in this effort by Attorney General Richard Thornburgh.

Why the massive effort to put aside this great document? I have often stated that the U.S. Constitution is second only to the Bible, and would not work unless based on Christian law, which it is.

That political tyranny will sweep the land if we do not have the protection of the Constitution is clear. It is one of the desired goals of the conspirators to bring the people of this country to heel under a tyrannical government. Only unrestricted private gun ownership is standing between the American people and those seeking to enslave them.

The spirit of evil, that hatred of the right to freedom embodied in the Constitution, is gaining ground, and grows stronger with the passage of time. Spiritually wicked men in high places abound; they are everywhere at work to enslave men, not only physically, but spiritually also. A frightening example of how successful they have become confronts us in the largest slave empire the world has ever known, to wit, the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics.

We are supposed to believe that the Soviet Union is disintegrating and that as a system it will soon be archaic. This is not so. Communism will never change. It may do so on the surface, but at the core there will be little change.

I will believe Communism has changed when the constitution of the USSR is scrapped. I will believe it when the gates of the huge sprawling complex of inhuman prison and labor camps swing open, and when the estimated twelve million political and religious prisoners are released.

President Bush has not made this a condition of any of the treasonous treaties he agreed to during the Gorbachev “summit” meeting in Washington at the end of May 1990. I say Gorbachev summit, for it certainly was his show. One would have thought that the President of the United States would feel some pity for the millions of enslaved people. Instead of vigorous protest, his lips remained sealed.

Where does the Fellowship of Faiths fit in? How can it affect political events in a profound manner? To get the answers to those questions, we must first of all look into the history of this One World Government movement.

The idea of a unified religious faith is certainly not new. It is almost as old as Christianity itself, and if we examine it closely, we will soon discover that the main purpose is to destroy Christianity.

Who were the men behind a fellowship of faiths? The movement was the idea of Kedranath Das Gupta, who was a member of the Executive Committee of pro-Communist War Resisters League which advocates armed proletarian revolution.

The first formal session of the Fellowship of Faiths in America was held in Chicago in 1933, and the true nature and intent of the movement was soon declared by Sir Rabindrath Tagore, the founder of the pro-Communist school in India that bears his name, and underscored by Bishop Montgomery Brown, an Atheist-Communist keynote speaker. Montgomery closed one of his speeches with the following admonition to the delegates who wildly cheered him:

“There will exist a complete World Fellowship of Faiths only when the Gods are banished from the Skies and the Capitalists from the Earth.”

It is interesting that Sir Rabindrath Tagore, a man whose ideas were so at odds with the beliefs of the British, was knighted by the very people he was allegedly railing against.

Sir Rabindrath was a great believer in sex education for very young children. We tend to think of this plague upon our children as a new thing, but my research proved that far from being new, it has its roots in the Cult of Dionysus (another name for Satan), and that it was firmly established among the priests of Baal and the Egyptian priesthood of Osiris.

It would be surprising to have found Christian priests and leaders actually accepting the idea of a fellowship of faiths and actively working together with haters of Christianity back in 1910, if we did not see the very same thing happening right before our eyes as we enter the year AD 1990.

In 1910, Sir Francis Younghusband (yet another Knight of the British monarch), made the following statement:

“The idea of a World Friendship of Faiths originated with an Indian and an American. Kedarnath Das Gupta was a native of Chittagong in Eastern Bengal, a town whose inhabitants are composed of four of the great religions of the world.

“The idea occurred to Mr. Das Gupta that a fellowship for the union of East and West might be formed for the mutual appreciation of each other’s standpoint. He has worked for 25 years on this idea and latterly found a co-operator in an American, Mr. Charles F. Weller, who had for years been working hard for a League of Neighbors.

“When they spoke to me a few years ago about forming a Fellowship of Faiths, the idea made an instant appeal. In America, a Parliament of Religions assembled in 1893. In Paris, in 1904, commenced a series of sessions of the International Congress of History of Religions, other sessions of which were held in Basle, Oxford and Leiden.”

It is not by accident that these cities were chosen, for especially in Basle, Oxford and Leiden, are found the organizations who promote Liberation Theology. The violent anti-Christian ideas generated there were nurtured and then turned into action throughout the world. Leiden today is THE center of revolutionary ideas, and some consider it to be the home of Liberation Theology.

It was out of Leiden that the traitor Heissewitz came, the son of a Jewish Rabbi who succeeded in dividing the Christian church in South Africa, and thus opening the door to the heathen black hordes of the African National Congress to swarm in. If ever there was a case of treason against the Christian faith, that dishonor belongs to Professor Heissewitz, alias Professor Heynes, a dedicated spiritual enemy of Christendom.

To return to the statement made by Sir Thomas Youngblood:

“In London in 1924, a Conference of the Living Religions of the Empire (the British empire), was held. And in 1933, in Chicago, continued in 1934 in New York, a Congress of the World Fellowship of Faiths was convened under the presidency of the Honorable Herbert Hoover and Miss Jane Addams.

“The Maharajah Gaekwar of Baroda was elected International President; it is now proposed to hold in London in 1936, a second such Congress.”

The most striking objection to such a “meeting of religious minds” comes from the words of Christ, who asked, “What communion doth darkness have with light.” In those few profound words lie the death knell of ideas of people who have long sought the demise of Christianity by merging, or better yet, submerging it in a floodtide of other religions.

Christianity is unique; it stands alone, it is the basis of the economic system we call Capitalism, although since the turn of the century, Capitalism has been utterly prostituted and debased by the Conspirators of the One World Government. Without Christianity, the world would plunge into a New Dark Age, such as overwhelmed it during the 15th century.

The Christian creed was not appreciated by Sir Thomas Youngblood. It is not appreciated by the legislators of this country. The Fellowship of Faiths sought to merge Christianity with other religions and so cause it to lose its unique identity, and the legislators of this country have carried forward Youngblood’s ideas. We see it in the falsely vile doctrine of “separation of church and state.” What is really meant by this term? I believe it means THE SUPPRESSION OF CHRISTIANITY.

Youngblood did not explain the nature of the Threefold Movement and the League of Neighbors. No wonder, when it becomes known that both the foregoing stood for unbridled revolution against Christianity and the Western ideals which rest upon it.

As already mentioned, the founder of the “Threefold Movement” was Kedarnath Das Gupta, a real dyed-in-the-wool Communist revolutionary. Other notables who joined with Das Gupta were as follows:

Keith Hardie: A Communist member of the British Labour Party.

Felix Adler: A notable Zionist and founder of the leftist Ethical Culture Society in New York.

H. G. Wells: Representing Bertrand Russell and the pro-drug league headed by Aldous Huxley, Wells was an ardent Socialist and a member of the Socialist International Society founded in 1919. Wells was also a member of the secret Masonic society, Kibbo Kift Kindred, “Clarte.” It took a lot of digging on my part to find anything about KKK and “Clarte.”

What I turned up was the KKK-”Clarte” had its headquarters in the Grand Orient Nine Sisters Lodge in Paris, the same Freemasonic lodge which played a major role in the bloody French Revolution, and of which Moses Hess, one of the most virulent Communists the world had ever known, was a member

Hess and Wells actively supported the offspring of Clarte: the Society for Cultural Relations with Soviet Russia. It was in the confines of the sinister Nine Sisters Freemasonic lodge in Paris that Wells made the statement that set him in opposition to Christianity, and which later appeared in his book, The Shape of Things to Come:

“Henceforth, the new world government will not brook the competition of rival religious systems. It will have no place for Christianity. There must henceforth be only one faith in the world, the moral expression of the world community.”

Annie Besant: Besant was a notable member of the Fabian Society established in London by Sydney and Beatrice Webb, as a leftist club for the Elite of Britain, the sole purpose of which was to foment a climate in which Communism would become acceptable.

Besant was the spiritual successor to Madame Blavatsky, founder of Theosophy. Besant was head of Co-Masonry and was allied with Clarte and the Grand Orient Nine Sisters Lodge. Besant was very active in promoting what she called “social democracy”, one of the forerunners of Willy Brandt’s “Socialist International”.

We shall come to the great harm done by all of the people, and I shall mention the organizations they represented at the time, and whose successors now befoul this great land, the United States of America.

Miss Jane Addams: Addams founded the Women’s International League, in conjunction with Mrs. Pethwick Lawrence. Notice these are big “society” names, not the types one associates with the mad bombers who were attacking the Czar and his family in Russia.

Addams was an enthusiastic backer of Wall Street investment in the Soviet Union, and a stockholder in Nicolai Lenin’s Russian-American Industrial Corporation and the Communist Federation Press.

Apart from Lenin, another close friend of Addams was Rosika Schwimmer. Schwimmer is interesting because she was a close confidant of Count Karloyi, the man who handed Hungary on a plate to the Red terror directed by the beast, the foul murderer, “Bela Kuhn”, (real name, Cohen). It was Addams who arranged a lecture tour of America for Count Karloyi. Addams was a member of the Federal Council of Churches.

Among her closest friends were the Freemasons Dr. Glen Frank, Dr. John Lamp and Dr. Newton Baker, all Communists.

Mrs. Pethwick Lawrence: Definitely a member of the “upper crust” and a notable society figure in London in the early 1900s, Mrs. Pethwick Lawrence was co-founder of the Women’s International League, along with Jane Addams. Like Addams, she was a member of Co-Masonry and a leading member of Blavatsky and Besant’s Theosophical Society.

Mr. Charles Weller: Mr. Weller was a Capitalist-Communist millionaire at a period in history where the term really meant something. He was not a Donald Trump-type of millionaire. The task of organizing the American chapter of the Fellowship of Faiths was given to Weller, who quickly obtained the blessing of Samuel Untermeyer, a leading American Jewish Zionist and one of the controllers of President Woodrow Wilson.

Untermeyer received Weller’s proposal with great glee and immediately took it to Woodrow Wilson, who endorsed it on the instructions of another of his controllers, Mr. Justice Brandeis. In fact, the controllers of President Woodrow Wilson, Baruch, Untermeyer and Brandeis, made no secret of their blackmail powers over President Wilson.

I can do no better in this regard than to quote one of their close associates, a Mr. Samuel Landman, of the New Zionist Organization: “Mr. Woodrow Wilson, for good and sufficient reasons, always attached the greatest importance to the advice of a very prominent Zionist.” He should have said, “to three prominent Zionists.”

The “good and sufficient reasons”, referred to by Mr. Landman were the packet of love letters written by Wilson to Mrs. Peck, who in exchange for considerations for her embattled son, handed them over to either Untermeyer or Baruch.

Woodrow Wilson had a great passion for affairs with married women, the Peck “romance” being one such particularly torrid one. Foolishly, Wilson expressed his love-lorn sentiments in writing to Mrs. Peck, an indiscretion which crippled Wilson’s Presidency and this nation along with him, and brought about America’s entry into the First World War.

Both Wilson and Harding supported the League of Neighbors, whose influence and input into the Paris Peace Conference almost carried the day for the One World traitors, and I will be talking more about that and the Fellowship of Faiths effect upon present day events as we continue.

Rabbi S. Wise: Wise succeeded Brandeis as Chairman of the Provincial Executive Committee for General Zionist Affairs. Wise was also a member of the pro-Communist Emergency Peace Federation and 19 other inter-connected Socialist-cum-Communist organizations, including the Fabian Society.

Many of these organizations are alive and kicking in the U.S. under other names today in 1990 and are just as much of a menace to our REPUBLICAN United States of America as they were from 1919 onward.

Incidentally, Wise was the leading light of the Jewish World Congress in Geneva in August 1936, when Congress reportedly wholeheartedly approved the Samuel Untermeyer plan of war against Germany—this being three years prior to the actual declaration of war by Britain and France.

Upton Sinclair: Sinclair was a member of the International Revolutionary Writers and a member of a number of affiliated societies along with Wise. Sinclair gave outright support to the Fellowship of Faith idea which would eventually unify and bring about a single religion. Sinclair gave Christianity a minus in this equation.

Madame Sun Yat Sen: Madame Sun Yat Sen was the wife of a Red Chinese Communist who rose to become the first Communist President of China. Madame Sun Yat Sen was a staunch supporter of the American Civil Liberties Union.

It became clear from the membership of the League of Neighbors that this was no organization devoted to peace, stability and religious freedom. On the contrary, its revolutionary activities showed exactly what the League intended. The following “poem”, called “After the Order of Melchisidek” became part of the manifesto of the Fellowship of Faiths:

“I have no temple and no creed.
I celebrate no mystic rite,
The human heart is all I need.
Wherein I worship day and night.
The human heart is all I need.

For I have found God ever there—
Love is the one sufficient creed,
And comradeship the purest prayer.”

This so-called prayer appears to be quite good on the surface, but the human heart is not noted for generating true inspired love, which is why Christ’s Blessed Incarnation and Bloody Passion were necessary. It is the type of humanism inherited from the Fellowship of Faiths which is so prevalent today.

The Fellowship of Faiths failed to tell would-be new members that it was FREEMASONIC THROUGH AND THROUGH. Perhaps it did not need to state the obvious, as most new members drawn to it came from the ranks of Freemasonry.

By 1926, the Fellowship of Faiths was a well-established friend of revolution. Rosicrucians dominated its executive boards and committees. It had also formed an alliance with the Fellowship of Reconciliation, whose members in 1932, voted for the Communist ticket in elections of that year, particularly in New York and Chicago.

The Threefold Movement started by Charles Weller and Das Gupta in 1924, held meetings all over Britain and America. By 1925, they had held 253 meetings, one of which was in London under the Presidency of Dr. Noorwood of the City Temple. Thinly veiled attacks on Christianity were usually delivered at these meetings, although some of them had as their theme, “What Christianity means to me”.

Among the leaders and organizers of the Threefold Movement were to be found the following religions and respective people:

HINDUISM—Represented by S. N. Malik of India, a member of Beni Isreal sect.

ZOROASTRIANISM—Represented by Dr. A. D. Jillia of the Parsees.

JUDAISM—Represented by Rabbi A. A. Green of the Hampstead, London synagogue.

MOHAMEDINISM—Represented by M. A. Dard.

SPIRITUALISM—represented by Arthur Conan Doyle. Please note that this was the first time Spiritualism was held out to be a religion, a belief which continues to this day.

BUDDHISM—Represented by Angarika Dharmapala.

THEOSOPHY—Represented by Annie Besant.

The important point to remember is that all of these religions are essentially anti-Christian, and ALL DENIED THE DEITY OF CHRIST. The contradictory signals sent out by the Fellowship of Faiths was intended to lead to confusion and obscure the true mission of Christ.

It is noteworthy that literature published by the Fellowship of Faiths was to be found in Communist book stores all over America, Britain and Western Europe.

One of the distributors of such literature was the American Society for Cultural Relations with Soviet Russia. The First World Congress of the Fellowship of Faiths in the U.S. was organized by Jane Addams, and held in Chicago in 1933. We have already met Miss Addams earlier.

One of the principal speakers at the Congress was Bishop Montgomery Brown, an Atheist and National Chairman of the Communist Workers International Relief, and a member of fifty other Communist organizations. Bishop Brown was a keynote speaker and below are found two extracts from one of his speeches:

“There is one place in the world where they have dared to end the exploitation of man—Russia! In Russia, Science has replaced Religion, which is being stamped out... The USSR is the forerunner of International Communism, which will gradually absorb all the Capitalist States, which are gradually decaying away.”

“If any Government, Church or Institute opposes or stands in the way of this Communist State, they must be ruthlessly overthrown and destroyed. If world unity is to be attained, it must be arrived at through International Communism, which can only be attained through the slogan: Banish the Gods from the Skies and Capitalists from the Earth. Then, and then only, will there exist a complete World Fellowship of Faiths.”

Charles Weller and Das Gupta were effusive in their praise of Bishop Brown. Das Gupta stated “I am sure others feel as I do, that they have the same beliefs as Bishop Brown, but have not had the courage to come out and admit it. I want to say that I am thoroughly in agreement with Bishop Brown’s sentiments.”

“WHAT COMMUNION HATH DARKNESS WITH LIGHT?”

Bishop Brown wrote a number of works including one entitled The Teachings of Marx for Boys and Girls, and seventeen short works on sex for children, which were widely distributed. A survey of those who attended the First World Congress of the Fellowship of Faiths reveals that all of the Organizers were Freemasons.

The Fellowship of Faiths, established as a Freemason front, formed a new organization called the League of Nations Union, which as I said earlier, played a profound role in influencing the outcome of the Paris Peace Conference, which more than anything else, guaranteed that there would be another major war, the Second World War.

As Sir Francis Youngblood stated, “It (the ‘Union’), is here to provide a firm spiritual basis for the League of Nations.” We can best judge what KIND of spiritual basis was provided simply by looking at the United Nations, successor to the League of Nations. It is within the confines of this body and its religious executive committee, the World Council of Churches, that a revival of the Fellowship of Faiths as a One World Government religion is taking place.

We in the West cannot afford to turn a blind eye to this revival, which is gathering momentum as the falsehood that Communism is dying in Europe takes hold. Either we believe that the Christian religion is the basis of our Constitution and stand by that or we will perish.

It is time that we took our stand on Christianity, and made it central to the political and economic future of this nation.

Either Christianity is the one true religion or it is totally without substance. Christianity can learn nothing from other religions, which in the main, consist of partial truths.

Christ is God Incarnate, who brought to this world a perfect system of economics and politics, but which has become so prostituted as to be virtually unrecognizable today. The teachings of Christ in our spiritual, political and economic life are perfect and of supreme and unequaled value.

Christ remains without peer. Christianity has no equal and no rival. Christ's enemies and the enemies of the Christian church would have us believe otherwise, hence the revival of the Fellowship of Faiths as a One World Government entity.

This is not a religious issue only, it is a matter of the survival of this nation as a REPUBLIC based upon the laws of God, and NOT a democracy based upon the laws of man. It is also a perfect economic system which our forbearers did all they could to protect, for they knew full well that once INDIAN BABYLONIAN "Capitalism" gained ground, it would be but a short time before the United States of America, the greatest and most civilized country the world has ever known, would perish.

Abraham Lincoln and John Kennedy were two U.S. Presidents who were assassinated for the cause of justice. They knew what Babylonian "Capitalism" had done and was doing to the country.

Abraham Lincoln wrote: "We gave the people of this Republic, the greatest blessing they have ever had—their own paper money to pay their own debts." (These were called "Greenbacks".)

Lincoln caused to be printed $449,338,902 of these dollars and shortly thereafter, the London Times said that Lincoln's action "was mischievous financial policy," and called for the destruction of his government.

President John F. Kennedy also knew what the Federal Reserve Board was doing to the country, so on June 4, 1963, Kennedy signed a presidential document called Executive Order 1111 (sic), which further amended Executive Order 10289, of September 19, 1951.

This gave Kennedy, as President of the United States, legal clearance to create interest-debt-free money that would belong to the people, and by-pass the Babylonian Federal Reserve Banks. On record is the fact that $4,292,893,825 of cash money was issued. For this, Kennedy was brutally and mercilessly gunned down.

It is in this light that we are duty-bound to regard the emergence of a "new" One World Religion which seeks to destroy the Constitution and then Christianity itself.

Today, a strenuous and deliberate war is being waged against Christianity and that means against the foundations on which the institutions of the Republic of the United States of America rest.

The forces supporting a One World Government seek to replace Christianity with “isms” of all kinds, including Deism, which they want to establish as a world religion. Some may say to me, “Why are you so concerned about religion?”

Well, I am not so concerned about religion as I am about Christianity, for history shows that when Christianity begins to wane, civilization goes into a steep decline. For me, Christianity extends well beyond the portals of the Church. All Christians have been charged with being MILITANT. We are supposed to be “the Church Militant”.

The anti-Christian crusade will pick up steam, as the big lie that Communism is on the wane spreads throughout the world. With it will come a renewed cry for “equality, liberty and fraternity” and brotherhood. To achieve this goal we will be told it is necessary for us to give up “old ideas.” TO ESTABLISH A FELLOWSHIP OF FAITHS, WE WILL HAVE TO GIVE UP CHRISTIANITY.

This most serious of all revolutionary attacks is the ongoing process started by Weishaupt, which has continued unbroken ever since 1776, and as I pointed out once, 1776 was a significant year. Leading the revolutionary assault is the World Council of Churches, (WCC) whose activities in the political field have resulted in profound changes in both politics and economics. The WCC is not so foolish to believe that Christianity belongs in the portals of the church.

I thought it worthwhile to go over the history of the Federal Council of Churches. The plank of this quasi-Christian organization was to take over the affairs of civil government in all Christian countries. This included strictly non-religious affairs.

My research proved beyond a shadow of a doubt that the Federal Council of Churches was run by radical anti-Christian groups—which its constitution allowed, many of the radical groups being members of the Third International. The aim of the Third International was to destroy Christianity. The Federal Council of Churches was run by militant revolutionaries.

The Federal Council of Churches claimed 20 million members in its heyday, a claim I have been able to thoroughly debunk. The question of who financed the Federal Council of Churches was also resolved when I discovered that much of its financial support came from carefully disguised Communist front organizations.

The FCC was active in setting the stage for the plague of homosexuality and lesbianism which has descended upon this land. The FCC published explicit sex instruction of an abominable kind. It is from this beginning that the WCC picked up on homos and lesbians and promoted this filth, and have ever since fully supported queers and lesbians. What was the object? It was the destruction of Western Christian morals as epitomized by 90% of the filth turned out by “Hollywood”.

The FCC was backed from the very beginning by the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU). Anyone of substance who attacked the FCC and the Fellowship of Faiths soon found themselves in trouble with the courts. The same holds good today, and any patriot who openly conflicts with ACLU ideas will soon find himself on the receiving end of lawsuits of all kinds.
