

The SPECTRUM

“Achieve the wisdom of knowledge of Truth as this will enable you to wisely follow the Laws of The Creation.”

————— A WISDOM BOOKS & PRESS PUBLICATION —————

VOLUME 1, NUMBER 1

NEWS REVIEW

$ 3.50

June 1, 1999

Welcome To The Premier Issue Of The SPECTRUM

IN THIS ISSUE:

The News Desk, p.2

Hatonn: Learning To Act In Oneness
With All Of Creation, p.10

Genocide With A Capital “G”
An Interview With Dr. Len Horowitz, p.12

Benzene And Other Poisons
In Our Food Supply, p.16

Money & Secret Powers, Or: Where Is The Nation Headed? p.18

A Message From Oracle, Shaman Of The Mayan People, p.20

A New Menace Is Stalking Europe: It’s The U.S. p.21

What’s Happening in Yugoslavia
That We’re Not Being Told? p.22

What Has Happened Since The CONTACT Lock-Out?
An Update For SPECTRUM Readers, p.26

Soltec: Growth Comes From Understanding Of Truth, p.30

El Morya: Recognizing Value
In ALL Of Life’s Challenges, p.34

As the above headline joyfully announces, we welcome you to this, the Premier Issue of The SPECTRUM newspaper. Our path of coming to life has been quite a bumpy one and our birthing pains a bit arduous, but here we are—finally!

And get this: close to 1,000 of you responded to our initial yellow-insert offer to receive this Premier Issue. And then, including other later requests, we are actually mailing out to about 4,000 of you!

We also received a quite unexpected flood of wonderfully warm and humorously indignant notes from many of you expressing a strong, personal interest in the launching of this new venture. We are very thankful for and inspired by your encouraging support, and we intend to do all we can to bring

(Please see Welcome To The Premier Issue, p.32)

The SPECTRUM
9101 West Sahara Ave., Suite 105-158
Las Vegas, NV 89117

FIRST CLASS MAIL

Pre-sorted
First Class
U.S. Postage PAID
Bakersfield, CA
Permit 758

The paper covering the full spectrum of news and information to help you to follow the First Law of The Creation. The Highest (First) Command of The Law of The Creation states: "Achieve the wisdom of knowledge of Truth, as this will enable you to wisely follow the Laws of The Creation." In other words, go forth and gain as much knowledge and experience as you can.

TO SUBSCRIBE:

Call 1-877-280-2866 toll free. See page 25 for Subscription Order Form.

EDITORIAL POLICY:

Opinions of The SPECTRUM contributors are their own and do not necessarily reflect those of The SPECTRUM staff or management. The SPECTRUM will always correct any meaningful error of fact.

Permission is hereby granted to anyone to quote The SPECTRUM in whole or in part, so long as full credit of this source is given, including contacting address.

PUBLISHING INFORMATION:

We intend to offer, to the best of our ability, the Truth, however it comes to us, in order to allow you to make up your own mind and be able to make informed decisions about things that impact your daily life. We hope to broaden your choices and allow you to create for yourself a better world.

All manuscripts submitted must be either typewritten and double-spaced, or preferably on disk. If return is desired, a stamped self-addressed envelope is required. The SPECTRUM assumes no responsibility for unsolicited manuscripts.

The SPECTRUM is published by Wisdom Books & Press at 9101 West Sahara Ave., Suite 105-158, Las Vegas, NV 89117. Our email address is: wisdombooks@tminet.com

CHANGE OF ADDRESS:

Send your old, incorrect address label along with your new address and ZIP code to The SPECTRUM 30 days before you move. Send change to: The SPECTRUM, 9101 West Sahara Ave., Suite 105-158, Las Vegas, NV 89117.

The News Desk

5/26/99 DR. AL OVERHOLT

"I CAN DO ANY
GODDAMNED THING I WANT,
I'M PRESIDENT"!

Excerpted from the INTERNET, 4/8/99:
[quoting]

Away from public eye,
Bill Clinton is a violent, profane man who wants to "kill" his enemies.

by Doug Thompson

Away from the public eye and the vaunted White House spin machine, President Bill Clinton is a vulgar, vengeful man who believes in "killing" people who try to hurt him, those who know Clinton best say.

White House staffers, Clinton confidants and others describe Clinton as "incredibly profane" and "an angry man who wants to inflict as much pain as possible on his enemies."

Former White House senior staff member George Stephanopoulos in his book, All Too Human, writes about Clinton's mishandling of the Somalia crisis and shows the depth of the President's violent emotions:

"We're not inflicting pain on these f—kers," Clinton said, softly at first. "When people kill us, they should be killed in greater numbers." Then, with his face reddening, his voice rising, and his fist pounding his thigh, he leaned into Tony [Lake], as if it was his fault. "I believe in killing people who try to hurt you. And I can't believe we're being pushed around by these two-bit pr—ks."

Those who have known Clinton since his days in Arkansas say the quote is "vintage Bill".

"Only an idiot would buy the public persona of Bill Clinton," says Walter Erricson, a retired reporter who covered Clinton in his early political days in Arkansas. "He is an incredibly profane individual.

"He is now and always has been an angry man who wants to inflict as much pain as possible on his enemies."

White House staff members say Clinton curses like a sailor, has temper tantrums that cause people to back away from him, and uses the word "kill" often to describe what he wants to do with his enemies.

"Once, when the House was finishing up its impeachment investigation, the President slammed his fist down on the table and said 'I'd like to kill all of these sons of bitches and just be done with it!' There was a long, painful period of silence until he regained his composure. Then everybody went on like it was never said," says one former White House staffer.

Samuel Wilson, a former political worker in Clinton's second campaign for governor, remembers the candidate encountering a critic at a campaign appearance in a small town. After the critic told Clinton he was nothing but a "two-bit politician" and then walked away, Clinton turned to a campaign aide and said "write down the name of that motherf—ker. When I'm back in office, he's a dead man."

"I remember his look. It was cold," Wilson said. "I don't want to think he wanted to kill him literally, but I'm sure some sort of revenge was inflicted later on."

In fact, it was fear of what Attorney General Bill Clinton could do to her business that kept nursing home operator Juanita Broaddrick from reporting Clinton's rape of her, 21 years ago in a Little Rock hotel room.

"Her fears were justified," says retired reporter Erricson.

"Everybody knew Bill Clinton was a man who got even, any way he could."

Helen Shannon, who worked in the Arkansas Statehouse during Clinton's second term as governor, said the governor would personally order state contracts canceled when he got angry with people.

"The word would come down from the governor's office that somebody was off limits and we would cancel their contracts and put them on a 'don't use' list. It happened a lot," she says.

Shannon, who was dating a member of Clinton's staff, says Clinton would order audits of contracts and tell the Arkansas State Police to "turn up the heat" on somebody he didn't like.

"When Bill Clinton ran Arkansas, it was a police state," she says.

White House staff members tell similar stories. At one meeting, Clinton told staff members he wanted everyone in the Independent Counsel Kenneth Starr's office audited by the IRS.

"Several people in the meeting told the President he shouldn't do that," the staff member remembers. "He slammed his fist down on the table and said: I can do any Goddamned thing I want. I'm President of the United States. I take care of my friends and I f—k with my enemies. That's the way it is. Anybody who doesn't like it can take a hike."

The White House did not return calls for comment. [End quoting]

What a role model we have for our children in this vulgar and hot-tempered juvenile delinquent.

WHERE THERE'S WAR,
THERE'S AMANPOUR

From the INTERNET, courtesy of Calvin Burgin, <wrldline@texas.net>, 3/22/99: [quoting] Reputed seer Gordon-Michael Scallion has predicted:

By about the year 2002, we will be able to look back and distinguish that 1999 was the tenuous beginning of World War III. This world war, says Scallion, will be a European war and will not spread to the United States. It will begin with Turkey, Yugoslavia, and Italy and will be "basically a religious war, an attempt for global domination". ("Seer Foresees Serious Sights," Conspiracy Nation News Service, 1/19/99)

Saturation propaganda was the prelude to World War I—for example the hysterical "Rape of the Belgian Nuns" propaganda.

Shill and toady for the pre-World War III propaganda machine is Christiane Amanpour, of the extremist news network, CNN.

Amanpour, as documented in an excellent article by investigative journalist Stella Jatrás, is wed to James Rubin of the U.S. State Department. ("Odd Alliance at State, CNN?", by Stella Jatrás, World Net Daily.) Ms. Amanpour fakes objectivity yet her anti-Serb drumbeat is one-sided and incessant.

"Where there's a war there's Amanpour," wrote Stephen Kinzer of the New York Times Magazine, Oct 9, 1994.

Due to documented CIA (Central Intelligence Agency) infiltration of mainstream news (e.g. The CIA and the Media, by Carl Bernstein, Rolling Stone, 10/20/77), it is NOT presumptuous to question who Ms. Amanpour really works for.

Is it far-fetched to believe that Amanpour's biased, anti-Yugoslav reportage is a puppet show, with Amanpour dancing to the tune of the USA military-industrial complex? CNNS thinks Amanpour's role in the "dance macabre" of Mickey Mouse missiles raining on Yugoslavia is all part of the show, and that the puffed-up, pretentious Amanpour is to be one day revealed as the lowest of the low, a shopping-class habitue risen to fur-coated falsifier. [End quoting]

The "elite" always have in place their puppets who are programmed to do the best job possible in key slots. And this is especially true where the media is concerned.

RUSSIA AND CHINA:
A PATTERN OF BELLIGERENCE
WAR PREPARATIONS
CONTINUE IN RUSSIA

Excerpted from the INTERNET, courtesy of Calvin Burgin, <wrldline@texas.net>, 3/23/99: [quoting]

All around the globe, a pattern of belligerence toward the United States and her allies is emerging: from the Korean peninsula down through the Spratly Islands near the Philippines, enveloping Taiwan, then reappearing in Central Asia, the Middle East, and the Balkans.

The rhetoric from Beijing, Moscow, Belgrade, Pyongyang, and Baghdad suggests possible coordination. Forward military deployments by China, Iraq, Serbia, and Russia, together with sinister construction projects and major troop movements, have been noted in East Asia, the Pacific, and the Middle East.

In the past month, numerous developments have taken place in Russia that suggest war preparations.

RUSSIA CREATES UNIFIED COMMAND OF NUCLEAR WEAPONS

In January, the Russian General Staff announced that all of the country's nuclear forces—Strategic Rocket Forces, submarine-based weaponry, and nukes on their strategic bombers—would now be placed under one command.

ANALYSIS: This development was widely reported in Russia and by the Associated Press. The AP story indicated bafflement that Russia, in the middle of economic problems, would be reorganizing its armed forces, especially the nuclear forces. But this development fits the thesis that Russia is, in fact, preparing for war.

In war, the principle of "unity of command" is considered crucial. By moving to unify nuclear command, the Russian armed forces can now better coordinate a nuclear-surprise attack involving all nuclear service branches, obviating the friction of interservice rivalry. In a strictly defensive situation, centralization of the nuclear forces is unnecessary, even counter productive. Decentralization is better for defense.

However, this is not true for attack. Coordinating an effective, disarming first strike requires a high degree of control and coordination, which a unified nuclear command facilitates. This move, coupled with the fact that Russia has been moving its strategic warheads onto submarines in the past six months, should be viewed with alarm.

TOP GENERALS RESIGN FROM STRATEGIC ROCKET FORCES

In the second half of January, the commander of Russia's Strategic Rocket Forces, Col.-Gen. Vladimir Yakovlev, resigned his post together with his three chief deputies, allegedly throwing Russia's nuclear forces into disarray. After taking this unprecedented action, Yakovlev stated that the reason for his resignation was a personality conflict with Gen. Sokolov, the commander of Russia's early-warning service.

ANALYSIS: According to Col. Stanislav Lunev, ranking defector from the Main Intelligence Directorate of the Russian General Staff, Yakovlev's retirement was planned some time ago. "They already have civilian jobs waiting for them", Lunev said. "There will be no disruption of the rocket forces."

Lunev believes the resignations stem from the reorganization of Russia's nuclear forces under a single chief, but he nonetheless admits that Yakovlev and his deputies are hard-liners and careerist. After closer analysis, it is difficult to argue that they would resign in protest over a measure they themselves long advocated, as they were supporters and proteges of Defense Minister Igor Sergeyev, the man most responsible for the reorganization of the nuclear forces.

There are serious inconsistencies here that must not be passed over. Why did Yakovlev and his deputies resign? Has a secret nuclear command center been established? A centralized nuclear command would have to create alternate command posts in several bunkers, with many capable general officers at the ready.

Were these resignations made in protest over the reorganization of Russia's nuclear forces, or were they part of the reorganization itself?

RUSSIA'S NORTHERN FLEET
PUT ON ALERT

When President Clinton bombed Iraq in December, Moscow put its Northern Fleet on alert. This curious move, which makes no sense in terms of reacting to a Middle East crisis, and coming at a supposed time of reduced superpower tensions, has serious implications that ought to be explored.

ANALYSIS: Prior to a surprise nuclear attack on the United States, it is believed the Russians would attempt to put most of their nuclear missile submarines to sea. Therefore, the question that must be asked is whether the Russians used the alert to deploy their missile submarine forces. Despite what some analysts might say, any large-scale deployment to sea is a red flag.

The Northern Fleet contains the lion's share of Russia's naval strike capability, and any alerting of that fleet needs to be carefully scrutinized. In fact, any Russian fleet alert should be answered by a comparable U.S. fleet alert. It is alarming in and of itself that the United States did not respond in kind.

RUSSIANS CONTINUE NUKE TESTING

The Russians have abandoned the agreement to forego underground nuclear tests. They have admitted to testing three tactical nuclear warheads in recent weeks. These are part of a new generation of tactical nuclear weapons that the Russian armed forces have developed.

In addition, during the period of the agreed suspension of underground tests, there have been suspicious earthquakes in Russia with signatures characteristic of strategic nuclear tests.

ANALYSIS: Nuclear readiness requires the occasional testing of nuclear warheads. New, more efficient weapons must be tested before they are deployed to the armed forces. The United States has not tested its nuclear stockpile in several years, while the Russians have been testing their weapons.

The importance of tactical nuclear weapons to the Russians lies in the fact that these cannot be kept track of by arms control specialists. The START agreements require Russia to destroy the bulk of its strategic nuclear stockpiles, which cannot be hidden.

But tactical nuclear weapons have a number of advantages over strategic ones. First and foremost, they are more efficient in terms of their use of nuclear fuel. Also, tactical nuclear weapons can be packed into ICBMs, bombers, fighter-bombers, or artillery units, making them the most versatile type of nuclear weapon.

Last, but not least, tactical nuclear weapons can be delivered as a cluster, which is a more effective means for destroying large urban areas, and obviates the terms of the START treaties, which call for the elimination of multiple independently targeted re-entry vehicles (MIRVs). <<http://www.newsmax.com/articles/>> [End quoting]

IS TAX RAGE TAKING HOLD?

Excerpted from THE FINANCIAL POST, Canada, 2/27/99: [quoting]

Hundreds of emails suggest Canadians have had enough.

Earth to Paul Martin: Atlas is ready to shrug. While the Liberals government panders to National Hockey League teams and other special-interest groups, the backbone of the tax system—middle-and upper-income working stiff—are so angry half of them are fantasizing about leaving this lovely welfare state.

Emails from across the country, especially the West, are pouring in by the hundreds. These bludgeoned taxpayers are “mad as hell and not going to take it any more”. That phrase, used in the movie Network, was one of the most common responses to last Saturday’s “Bludget Blues” Personal Finance column, written in the wake of Mr. Martin’s Feb. 16 federal budget. The other common response to the idea of a tax protest was: “Count me in!”

The rage, frustration and sense of being trapped are remarkably uniform. British Columbia doctors, Alberta oil entrepreneurs, Ontario accountants, Quebec lawyers, Nova Scotia salespeople, and even—irony of ironies—civil servants from Ottawa. Self-employed professionals, financial advisors, accountants, and tax lawyers are especially enraged over the proposed income-splitting tax and the criminalization of aggressive tax advice.

For too many years, Canadians passively opted to “take it”—“it” being the tax abuse from our political masters. Our governing politicians prey on our collective perception that Canada is the best country in the world in which to live, seemingly at the price of infinitely high taxation. They count on our apathy and apparent capacity to absorb any degree of tax slavery. [End quoting]

Why don’t we help our brother slaves by putting the pressure on the “elite” all over the U.S. at the same time and get the slave masters really sweating so they’ll put OUR money back into OUR pockets and at the same time cut our taxes by a large amount. We’ve already got our Canadian brothers leading the way, so don’t let this opportunity pass us by!

NESTLE SETTLES LAWSUIT OVER CHOCOLATE TOY

From THE DAILY NEWS, Los Angeles, 3/12/99: [quoting]

Nestle USA Inc., the American subsidiary of the Swiss chocolatier, has agreed to pay $1.5 million to settle a hazardous product lawsuit.

The Attorneys General from 13 states had accused the company of marketing an unsafe product to children. The product in question: Nestle Magic, a chocolate-covered plastic ball that contained assorted Disney figurines.

“The whole concept of the toy was to (have children) put things in their mouth, and we thought it was an extremely dangerous product,” Reuters News quoted Massachusetts Assistant Attorney General Chi Chi Wu. “We got reports some children gagged on the product, and one child had actually spit up blood.”

Glendale-based Nestle took the product off store shelves in September 1997, after about one month of sales. The company maintains, however, that the product was safe and did not pose a choking hazard.

“The settlement is not punitive but to cover investigation costs,” said Nestle spokeswoman Laurie MacDonald. “We decided to settle with the Attorney General because it didn’t make any sense to drag this on.” [End quoting]

Can you imagine in this day and age that a big corporation would put out such a stupid product?

PIGS BEING BLAMED FOR VIRUS IN MALAYSIA

From THE DAILY NEWS, Los Angeles, 3/20/99: [quoting]

BUKIT PELANDUK, Malaysia—Soldiers armed with shotguns fanned out across three villages in southern Malaysia on Saturday to begin shooting 65,000 pigs, seeking to control a virus that could have killed as many as 50 people.

At a deserted primary school near the villages, more than 1,000 soldiers and 300 health officials, drafted a plan to kill every pig in the area—Southeast Asia’s largest hog-breeding region—because they might carry the Japanese cephalitis virus.

The virus, which attacks the brain, causing high fever, vomiting and coma, is transmitted from pigs to humans by Culex mosquitoes that thrive in swamps and open drains. [End quoting]

More “charming” ways to dispose of we “useless eaters”.

JORDAN OBJECTS TO ISRAELI DECISION TO LIMIT WATER

From THE ORLANDO SENTINEL, 3/16/99: [quoting]

The Jordanian prime minister objected Monday to an Israeli decision to cut water supplies to the parched desert kingdom and indicated he would try to persuade Israel to change its mind. Speaking after a special Cabinet session on shortages caused by severe water drought, Prime Minister Abdul Raouf Rawabdeh said the Israeli move would violate the two countries’ 1994 peace treaty. “The water deal is an official agreement signed by the two sides, and we will insist on its implementation as it is,” said Rawabdeh. [End quoting]

Another method of getting a war going in the Middle East?

PEACH OIL MAY REPLACE PESTICIDE

The extract is called benzaldehyde and is already used in perfumes.

Excerpted from THE BAKERSFIELD CALIFORNIAN, 3/14/99: [quoting]

Government scientists have found that the harmless natural oil that gives peaches their perfume also kills fungus and other pests in the soil and could replace methyl bromide, a widely used pesticide that is toxic to people and also damages the planet’s protective ozone layer.

The peachy compound, called benzaldehyde, is manufactured synthetically. It is already used commercially in perfumes, flavorings, drugs and dyes, as are many other similar oils, like those distilled from lemon and peppermint.

Scientists at the Agricultural Research Service, along with colleagues in South Africa and Israel, have been screening these natural chemicals for several years to see if they can be substituted for more dangerous man-made compounds. The essence of peach looks like an especially promising candidate, said Charles Wilson, a plant pathologist at the agency’s Appalachian Fruit Research Station in Kearneysville, W.Va. [End quoting]

While this discovery is a step toward safer, less poisonous agriculture, all they have to do to rid fields of produce from pests is to beam specific frequencies throughout the fields and that will kill any pest that it is tuned to destroy.

DUMBING-DOWN NURSING SCHOOLS

From THE SPOTLIGHT, 3/15/99: [quoting]
Buried deep in this year’s $3.5 billion Health and Education Appropriations Bill is a section establishing not only minority quotas for admittance to nursing schools that receive federal funding, but also quotas on graduating them. In other words, not only will schools have to lower standards for acceptance to meet quotas on admitting students, but they will also have to keep them low to graduate them. [End quoting]

Do you wonder why so many people are dying needlessly?? This dumbing down of all facets of higher education (as well as primary and secondary schools) has been going on for decades now.

CHAIRMAN: FCC WILL KEEP HANDS OFF INTERNET

He tried to dispel rumors that the government is going to regulate the Internet.

From THE ORLANDO SENTINEL, 3/12/99: [quoting]

The chairman of the Federal Communications Commission, bombarded anew with emails from computer users fearing government regulation of the Internet, tried again Thursday to dispel the notion.

"I want to say this as clearly as I can . . . as long as I'm chairman of the Federal Communications Commission, this agency will not regulate the Internet," Bill Kennard told a meeting of telecommunications and Internet analysts.

Kennard was addressing rumors that have circulated on the Internet for a long time as well as concerns by some consumer groups.

The FCC last month concluded that a computer user's dial-up calls to the Internet are interstate communications subject to federal jurisdiction. Internet dial-ups have been treated as local calls.

The FCC has said this decision merely resolves a dispute among phone companies over how to compensate each other for Internet connections and how to clarify the roles of state and federal regulators. The agency said the decision will not affect how consumers tap into the Internet or how much they pay.

But consumer groups and others think the action inadvertently could lead to higher charges for Internet access.

"It's not going to happen," Kennard said. He repeated that the FCC has no intention of making computer users pay long-distance fees for dial-up access to the Internet, as people now pay when they make long-distance telephone calls.

Still, "these rumors get on the Internet that the big bad FCC is going to impose all this regulation on the Internet," Kennard said.

"Now I know this painfully because every so often when one of these rumors flares up I get, literally, about 600 email messages a day by people who are telling me to keep my hands off the Internet," he added. [End quoting]

Don't ever believe these liars—they only lay-back until we let our guard down and then they slip a bill through during the middle of the night or hang it onto another bill—at the last minute—without any prior announcement. The Internet poses a dangerous information threat to those dark "elite" controllers who have otherwise achieved complete control over print and broadcast media.

about 200 scholars, diplomats and journalists at the post-graduate institute in the hills overlooking Florence was among the most eagerly anticipated moments of the trip, along with an audience with Pope John Paul II, scheduled for today.

But to the dismay of his hosts, Khatami's call for dialogue ended up a monologue when, instead of taking questions, he swiftly left the hall after the speech, accompanied by Foreign Minister Lamberto Dini. Twice during Khatami's roughly 30-minute speech, Iranian dissidents in exile got into the inner courtyard of the building and shouted "Death to Khatami!" before being removed by police.

The audience in an ornate hall one floor above did not hear the shouts.

Security during Khatami's visit has been extraordinarily tight. Roads to the institute were closed Wednesday, cars and bags were searched and invitations carefully checked. Officials could not explain how the dissidents got in.

Earlier Wednesday, Khatami's car was splattered with eggs in Rome, and several protesters were arrested. There was also an awkward overlap Wednesday with a visit by Salman Rushdie, who recently marked his 10th year in hiding from a death edict issued by Iran's religious hard-liners.

Rushdie was visiting the University of Turin to accept an honorary degree. [End quoting]

Isn't it interesting that Rushdie is in hiding and yet comes out to get an honorary degree. Does he feel his life is worth so little—or? I think you can answer that one.

The police couldn't keep the dissidents out? He wouldn't allow any questions? Something smells fishy!

IRAN'S LEADER TO WEST: LET'S WORK TOGETHER

From THE ORLANDO SENTINEL, 3/11/99: [quoting]

FIESOLE, Italy—Iran's president issued an invitation Wednesday to the West: Open a dialogue with the Islamic world to search for answers to the problems that beset modern society.

"Islam and Europe must, by force of historical and geographic circumstance, get to know one another better, and then move on to improve their political, cultural and economic relations," President Mohammad Khatami said in a lecture at the European University Institute.

Khatami, a moderate cleric who has pushed for more political and social freedom in Iran, is the first Iranian president to visit a Western nation since the 1979 Islamic revolution. His reform efforts face stiff opposition from the conservative clerics who control Iran's parliament, the security forces and the judiciary.

Khatami's address Wednesday to

SNEAKY

From THE SPOTLIGHT, 3/15/99: [quoting]

A National Security Agency (NSA) official named Lew Giles has reportedly been going around to software companies offering them preferential treatment if they build so called "back doors" into their encryption products allowing the NSA to break the codes and read the information. Companies that agreed would be allowed to sell their products abroad in spite of a current ban on the export of advanced encryption software. [End quoting]

Would you expect anything else from this gangster government agency?

300 EARTHQUAKES RATTLE PAIR OF JAPANESE ISLANDS

From THE ORLANDO SENTINEL, 3/15/99: [quoting]

TOKYO—A string of more than 300 earthquakes hit a pair of Japanese islands south of Tokyo on Sunday, rattling homes and toppling gravestones. No injuries or major damage were reported. The strongest quake on Niishima and Kozushima, 100 miles south of

ORDER

THE PAPER THAT

• GIVES YOU

“THE OTHER SIDE OF THE NEWS”

• REPORTS ON EVENTS WHICH

ARE VITAL TO YOUR WELFARE

MAKE UP YOUR OWN MIND WHO IS

BEING HONEST WITH YOU—

THE ESTABLISHMENT MEDIA OR THE SPOTLIGHT

(YOUR WEEKLY NEWSPAPER FROM WASHINGTON SINCE 1975)

TO SUBSCRIBE—

☎ call 1 (800) 522-6292 toll free. ☎

Tokyo, had a preliminary magnitude of 4.7 and struck early Sunday morning, the Central Meteorological Agency reported. The quake was centered 12 miles underground. [End quoting]

The number of 6.0 magnitude earthquakes (or above) around the world has increased dramatically since the new year started. In conjunction with increased volcanic activity worldwide, these quakes suggest Mother Earth is becoming much more geologically active. Make sure your emergency supplies are in place and ready for whatever hits next.

SPRAYING TO TREAT INFECTION

From the INTERNET, Earth Changes TV, <earthcng@earthlink.net>, 3/23/99: [quoting]

Hi Folks,

I find the story below has an eerie connection to "Contraails". If true, it could possibly give us an explanation of the "why" our government would be spraying populations. Could it be for the purposes of inoculation against biological terrorism. Take careful note to the symptoms described below.

Mitch Battros

Producer—Earth Changes TV

Spraying may help
treat cystic fibrosis. —3/22/99

LONDON (AP)—An aerosol spray containing a healthy gene could help alleviate one of the dangerous abnormalities that appears in cystic fibrosis, a study says. The rare inherited disease is caused by a flaw in a gene that makes a protein that controls the transport of chloride ions—electrically charged atoms—across cell membranes. If the gene is faulty, it inhibits the movement of chloride. This causes thick mucus to form in the bronchial tubes, clogging airways and causing lung infections. In Friday's issue of The Lancet, a British medical journal, a team led by Dr. Eric Alton described how it administered the gene—known as Cystic Fibrosis Transmembrane Conductance Regulator—combined with a natural fat in an aerosol spray. [End quoting]

I find this pure propaganda. Only the government on direction from its "elite" controllers could be involved with something so massive as the aerial sprayings (now known as chemtrails-contraails) and we know they have a massive depopulation plan that they are putting into effect. We also know that the government does not do something of this magnitude to truly help mankind unless we force them to, and then they certainly wouldn't keep it secret from us, but would highly advertise the fact for propaganda purposes to make us think they are voluntarily doing us a big service. DON'T BE FOOLED BY THEIR PROPAGANDA!

This is the second article I've seen about how this spraying is for our good—the other suggested it was an anthrax vaccine. They are trying their best to counteract the many articles and radio programs that are alerting us to their dastardly deeds visible in the sky as contrail sprayings.

MIRANDA RIGHTS THROWN OUT!

I read that the Miranda Rights law was thrown out by the Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit. This is the law that says that law enforcement agents must warn suspects of their rights to remain silent, to have an attorney present, and to stop police questioning. I hope all readers comprehend what the results of this will be—"it ain't good"!! This calls for many phone calls, faxes, letters, emails, etc., to your political representatives. We've stopped such erosions of basic legal rights before and we can do it again!

SINS OF EU COMMISSION

Excerpted from the INTERNET, 3/16/99: [quoting]

The resignation of the European Union Commission is a huge drama. It also opens up a huge opportunity.

Of course, the petty patriots of the anti-European movement sense that their hour has come. A torrent of twaddle is being talked about corruption, about rampant bureaucracy, and about the vast and sinister powers of unaccountable officials.

That approach is not just ill-informed. It is ignorant. It is based on the premise that the Commission is the power-house of the EU. That is patent rubbish.

The Commission has 14,000 staff. That makes it smaller than many British local authorities. It has two key functions. One is to run the day-to-day business of the Union. The other is to formulate common policies. [End quoting]

This resignation suggests there are some very big sins to be hidden and buried by the maneuver. Stay tuned for more clues about the real reasons for this action.

FARRAKHAN'S DOCTOR

SAYS LEADER OK

From THE DAILY NEWS, Los Angeles, 3/20/99: [quoting]

Louis Farrakhan's doctors scornfully denied Friday that the Nation of Islam leader is gravely ill but said he is suffering the side effects of cancer treatment, flu and fatigue and will take four months off to recover.

"This should serve notice to all of the vultures who are hovering over what they expect to be a dead carcass that you can go home," Dr. Abdul Alim Muhammad said at a news conference at Farrakhan's South Side restaurant, Salaam.

"There is no death vigil. There is no death watch. The minister's life is not in imminent danger from any medical cause."

Farrakhan, 65, was not at the news conference. Nation of Islam officials said only that he is not in the hospital. [End quoting]

Heaven only knows what all the dark so-called "elite" have been bombarding Farrakhan with in order to try to bring him down. However, despite their media hype to the contrary, Farrakhan's Light continues to shine. Keep him in your prayers.

CLINTON SEEKS $10 MILLION TO SPY ON CITIZENS

Excerpted from MIDDLE AMERICAN NEWS, MAR. 1998: [quoting]

As part of his record-setting $1.76 trillion budget request, President Bill Clinton is seeking $10 million to hire federal undercover investigators to spy on the racial attitudes of Americans, and for federal researchers to invent new ways to define and measure racial discrimination [emphasis mine].

Federal agencies are already considering the use of undercover agents to root out "racism" in employment and housing by private companies and individuals. Under the plan, teams of Whites and Minorities will fan out across the country pretending to seek jobs and housing. They will record the reactions of the surveillance targets—such as landlords and employers—comparing their responses to the White investigators against the responses to the Minority investigators. Federal agents will then prosecute persons who fail to endorse multiculturalism, diversity, or meet racial preference quotas.

Clinton also wants the money to be used by data-gathering agencies such as the Department of Justice and the Department of Labor so they can compile statistical analyses that show "discriminatory behavior" among Americans. The purpose is to show that racial discrimination is

*I used to ask God to help me.
Then I asked if I might help Him.
I ended up by asking God to do
His work through me.*

—Hudson Taylor

widespread and requires continuing federal monitoring, intervention and expenditures.

Some conservative Republican leaders endorse the idea. Ward Connerly, the neo-conservative who launched the campaign for California's wildly popular Proposition 209 to outlaw state racial preferences, says discrimination by Whites against Blacks is so widespread the federal government needs to take action.

"A lot of my allies don't like this, but I support testing," said Connerly. Supporters of the plan call it "testing" to soften the negative connotations associated with a government policy that uses the taxpayers' own money to snoop on them. [End quoting]

This is yet another gestapo-squad tactic of going around the country gathering data to see who is conforming to the "homogenization" plan of the New World Order and who is not.

PREVENTING AND HEALING
GLAUCOMA

Excerpted from Save Your Sight, by Marc R. Rose, M.D. and Michael R. Rose, M.D./99: [quoting]

You may think that MSG, a compound very high in glutamate, is found only in Chinese restaurant food, but it is everywhere these days. It is nearly always found in foods served in restaurants and is used in thousands of packaged foods, including most so-called health foods. Packaged foods designed for children tend to be especially high in MSG. At least twenty different names are used on food labels to disguise MSG. (See below "The Many Disguises of MSG".) Ask the server at your favorite restaurants to have the chef omit the MSG from your meal. Aspartame, commonly known as NutraSweet, is not a well-understood substance and has been linked to loss of memory and headaches. I'd advise you to avoid it if at all possible.

THE MANY DISGUISES OF MSG

The packaged food industry has gotten very clever about disguising the presence of MSG in its food.

Read labels carefully.

Additives That Always Contain MSG (Monosodium Glutamate):

Hydrolyzed Vegetable Protein, Hydrolyzed Protein, Hydrolyzed Plant Protein, Plant Protein Extract, Sodium Caseinate, Calcium Caseinate, Yeast Extract, Textured Protein, Autolyzed Yeast, Hydrolyzed Oat Flour

Additives That Frequently Contain MSG:

Malt Extract, Malt Flavoring,

Bouillon, Broth Stock, Flavoring, Natural Flavoring, Natural Beef or Chicken Flavoring, Seasoning, Spices

Additives That May Contain MSG or Excitotoxins:

Carrageenan, Enzymes, Soy Protein Concentrate, Soy Protein Isolate, Whey Protein Isolate

From Excitotoxins: The Taste That Kills, by Russell L. Blaylock, M.D., (1997), Health Press, Santa Fe, N.M. [End quoting]

Try as we may to avoid MSG, the crooks in high places know its value as a slow, impairing poison, and thus have created a number of disguises to insure we injest enough to advance their goals for our "health".

NEGATIVE EFFECTS OF IMMIGRATION
ON THE AFRICAN AMERICAN COMMUNITY

From MIDDLE AMERICAN NEWS, MAR. 1998: [quoting]

In a recent article in the San Francisco Examiner, Terry Anderson, a Black American immigration control activist, drew attention to the negative effects of immigration on the African American community. "What I say," said Anderson, "comes from my experience in my community, South Central Los Angeles. This place feels increasingly less like my home and country; it is turning into the Third World before my eyes.... Here we talk about 'Black flight'. People are leaving neighborhoods where they have lived for years because they don't feel they belong anymore."

Anderson noted that immigration has depressed wages in South Central and reduced opportunities for native-born residents. He also stated that widespread instruction in Spanish in local schools made it difficult for Black pupils to get a good education.

"Our Black leaders," Anderson added, "are no help. They don't want to hear our troubles because they are liberals and think of immigration as a good thing, period. Black people are being pushed aside and nobody is listening." Did any thinking person think it would be different? [End quoting]

This state of affairs should be no surprise to those who have an understanding of the New World Order agenda to disrupt families, communities and their sense of purpose and goals.

YOUR TAX DOLLARS
AT WORK

From MIDDLE AMERICAN NEWS, MAR. 1999: [quoting]

Clinton Priorities

According to Bill Clinton (always a questionable source), "Since I've become president, we're spending ten times as much per fatality on people with AIDS as people with breast cancer or prostate cancer."

Thanks, Sucker!

To combat a heat wave, poor people in Hillsborough County, FL, got free air conditioners last summer, paid for with a federal grant of $453,000. After the weather cooled off, many of those air conditioners were discovered in local pawnshops.

Gore Tax Hike

The federal internet tax on telephones, never authorized by Congress, but imposed by the Clinton-Gore Administration, has risen from $5 to $6.07 a month for a second residential phone line. The monthly toll for a single line remains $3.50.

More Money To Waste

Just weeks after its Inspector General said the department loses $1 million a day by failing to dispose of empty properties it owns, the Department of Housing and Urban Development asked for a 22 percent funding increase—to $33.8 billion.

Quotable

"Another cause of revolution is differences of races which do not at once acquire a common spirit; for a state is not the growth of a day, any more than it grows out of a multitude brought together by accident. Hence the reception of strangers in colonies has generally caused revolution [emphasis mine].”

FRANK & ERNEST

E-mail: BobThaves@aol.com

— Aristotle, from Politics.

The Future Of The Judiciary

Today, 40 percent of all federal district and appellate judges are Clinton appointees. “If he serves out his second term, Mr. Clinton may well appoint more than half of all federal judges in active service,” says Thomas L. Jipping of the Judicial Selection Monitoring Project of the conservative Free Congress Foundation. “Those judges will serve for an average of 15-20 years, leaving Mr. Clinton’s imprint on the nation long after he is out of office.” Jipping says that means the left-wing direction of the federal judiciary will accelerate. (All the judges Clinton appointed since January 1995 were approved by the GOP-controlled Senate.)

Higher Standards

The Drug Enforcement Agency demands higher standards from its agents than the Senate expects from the president. “Evasive or craftily worded phrases, testimony or documents designed to omit or distort key facts are...unacceptable,” says a DEA directive to personnel. “Providing false documents or making false statements in any matter is completely unacceptable....”

“You can’t imagine how hard and how long we agents laughed when we read some of the standards of conduct which we lowly federal employees must maintain,” one DEA worker commented. [End quoting]

HEARING NATURAL VOICES

From POPULAR MECHANICS magazine, Mar. 1999: [quoting]

Half the people who try hearing aids are dissatisfied with the sound quality and 20 percent are so unhappy they return them.

Sonic Innovations of Salt Lake City, Utah 1-801-288-0993, says that its Natura digital hearing aid solves the problem by using sound processing that faithfully imitates the action of a healthy inner ear.

For baby boomers who listened to too much rock music the technology comes just in time. [End quoting]

There has been much advancement in electronic miniaturization which allows for more sophisticated, realistic sound processing now that used to take a whole roomful of equipment just 10 years ago. Let us hope this technology is being put to good use here, as it is claimed to be.

COLLEGES HIKE TUITION AS PORTFOLIOS SOAR

From U.S. NEWS & WORLD REPORT, 3/22/99: [quoting]

Tuition at many leading private colleges will again exceed the inflation rate next year, rising by up to 5.4 percent, according to a check of published rates. Brown University in Providence, R.I., for instance, will charge $24,624, up 4.3 percent. Schools say they are burdened by increasing salaries in what is a labor-intensive business and the costs of making campuses high tech, but many schools’ endowments are soaring thanks to the high-flying stock market. Public colleges are still working with legislatures to set next year’s fees, but many fear that high prices will spark a backlash. Elected officials are responding with more funds and demands to control costs. [End quoting]

Keep in mind that each time tuition is raised, the profile of the students who can attend fall more and more into two categories: many who are wealthy of background, and a few who are poor and on scholarship. The well-rounded student body concept falls by the wayside as the school turns into a “country club” for rich kids who are waited upon by the scholarship (poor) kids who need campus jobs to make ends meet.

MANY EARTHQUAKES OVER 6.0 SINCE JAN.

1999

(4 in only 8 days)

From THE NATIONAL EARTHQUAKE INFORMATION SERVICE OF THE USGS, 5/99: [quoting]

This information is preliminary and subject to correction [usually corrected to less severity

by the “elite” controllers.]

(PDT Mon May 10 13:33:02 1999)

Magnitude 7.1 earthquake near NEW BRITAIN REGION, P.N.G. [New Guinea]

(PDT Wed May 12 10:59:21 1999)

Magnitude 6.2 earthquake near HOKKAIDO, JAPAN REGION (PDT Sat May 15 17:51:15 1999)

Magnitude 7.0 earthquake near NEW BRITAIN

(PDT Sun May 16 08:25:53 1999)

Magnitude 6.2 earthquake near IRIAN JAYA, INDONESIA

(PDT Mon May 17 03:07:59 1999)

Magnitude 6.9 earthquake near NEW BRITAIN REGION, P.N.G.

[End quoting]

Better be prepared—Mother Earth is shaking off the parasites as she prepares for a complete cleansing.

USE OF TERM: NEW WORLD ORDER TO BE CHANGED TO ONE WORLD GOVERNMENT BY THE “ELITE”

From the INTERNET, courtesy of Calvin Burgin, <wrldline@texas.net>, 5/21/99: [quoting]

Gaylon Ross Sr. is the author to the revealing book Who’s Who Of The Elite, in which he writes down the names of every person involved in the New World Order that he knows of. It is very educational reading and highly recommended.

Now he is sticking his neck out once more.

He urgently tells us that the slogan “New World Order” is no longer used by the “elite”, because they felt the public is “on to them”. Instead they have decided to use the word “global”. So if you hear expressions like “global architecture”, “global economy”, “global interests”, “global movement”, etc., you know that they are still talking about their secret agendas of a One World Government.

He also says that now, as we have the EUROPEAN UNION, the next step will be to change the names of North, Central and South America, plus the Caribbean Islands to the new name—AMERICAN UNION—before the year 2005. Then they will change the Asian Pacific Economic Cooperation (APEC) to its new name—ASIAN UNION, by around 2010. During this time the former SOVIET UNION will be reorganized, not into a Communistic state this time, and be in total control of the “elite”.

Then, at about the year 2015, all those unions will unite and be called the GLOBAL UNION (if the name will not be changed by then). By this time there is no longer anything called national sovereignty, and we all will be under strict “elite” control. Remaining is two classes of people—the “elite” and the rest of us, their slaves.

Gaylon Ross also states all this can be verified by reading the United Nation’s Contributing author:

Calvin Burgin

404 Gate Tree Lane

Austin, TX 78745

512-442-9129 evenings

512-454-3003 day

512-4542-4770 FAX

email: wrldline@texas.net

document called "Our Global Neighborhood, a Report of the Commission on Global Governance", published in 1995, by Oxford University Press (this book is available through your local bookstore). [End quoting]

The good news is that their timetable seems to be slipping well past the year 2000. The bad news is that they're still up to their old, name-changing-and-consolidation tricks.

THE RETURN OF INFLATION

Excerpted from THE NICK GUARINO Newsletter, 5/15/99: [quoting]

Inflation is back in a big way. Energy prices increased the most since the Arab oil embargo.

Japanese and Chinese companies are losing hundreds of billions of dollars to subsidize their exports. This is feeding the U.S. consumer boom. The rest of the world is in a depression, the U.S. consumer was the only game in town. Though foreigners are losing money, they sell to get cash flow.

These dirt-cheap foreign imports have held inflation lower than it otherwise would be. Wages—when you count total real compensation—are rising heavily. The stock market is an inflated index. Massive stock market inflation has brought on the biggest market bubble ever.

We are at the end of a cycle. The Fed has a bias to tightening, i.e., raising interest rates. 30-year bond yields were supposedly on their way to 4%. Now they are just a hair under 6%. Nearly a two percent swing. Why? Interest rates are going higher because inflation is going higher.

We are going to have a deflationary depression. But the road is not a straight downward dive to the valley below. There will be bumps in the road. The bump in the road now is that inflation has picked up. The April CPI numbers prove it.

The Fed is going to raise interest rates. It will quickly beat the inflation out. But in the meantime, the bubble stock market is going to be pierced. [End quoting]

Better take heed.

A STORY TO LIVE BY

Submitted by a reader of my column, 2/99 (Los Angeles Times): [quoting]

My brother-in-law opened the bottom drawer of my sister's bureau and lifted out a tissue-wrapped package. "This," he said, "is not a slip. This is lingerie." He discarded the tissue and handed me the slip. It was exquisite; silk, handmade and trimmed with a cobweb of lace. The price tag with an astronomical figure on it was still attached. "Jan bought this the first time we went to New York, at least 8 or 9 years ago. She never wore it. She was saving it for a special occasion. Well, I guess this is the occasion." He took the slip from me and put it on the bed with the other clothes we were taking to the mortician. His hands lingered on the soft material for a moment, then he slammed the drawer shut and turned to me. "Don't ever save anything for a special occasion. Every day you're alive is a special occasion."

I remembered those words through the funeral and the days that followed, when I helped him and my niece attend to all the sad chores that follow an unexpected death. I thought about them on the plane returning to California from the Midwestern town where my sister's family lives. I thought about all the things that she hadn't seen or heard or done. I thought about the things that she had done without realizing that they were special.

I'm still thinking about his words, and they've changed my life. I'm reading more and dusting less. I'm sitting on the desk and admiring the view without fussing about the weeds in the garden. I'm spending more time with my family and friends and less time in committee meetings. Whenever possible, life should be a pattern of experiences to savor, not endure. I'm trying to recognize these moments now and cherish them.

I'm not "saving" anything; we use our good china and crystal for every special event—such as losing a pound, getting the sink unstopped, the first camellia blossom.

I wear my good blazer to the market if I feel like it. My theory is, if I look prosperous, I can shell out $28.49 for one small bag of groceries without wincing. I'm not saving my good perfume for special parties; clerks in hardware stores and tellers in banks have noses that function as well as my party-going friends.

"Someday" and "one of these days" are losing their grip on my vocabulary. If it's worth seeing or hearing or doing, I want to see and hear and do—and now.

I'm not sure what my sister would have done had she known that she wouldn't be here for the tomorrow we all take for granted. I think she would have called family members and a few close friends. She might have called former friends to apologize and mend fences for past squabbles. I like to think she would have gone out for a Chinese dinner, her favorite food. I'm guessing—I'll never know.

It's those little things left undone that would make me angry if I knew that my hours were limited. Angry because I put off seeing good friends whom I was going to get in touch with—someday. Angry because I hadn't written certain letters that I intended to write—one of these days. Angry and sorry that I didn't tell my husband and daughter often enough how much I truly love them.

I'm trying very hard not to put off, hold back, or save anything that would add laughter and luster to our lives.

And every morning when I open my eyes, I tell myself that it is special.

Every day, every minute, every breath truly is a gift from God.

If you've received this it is because someone cares for you and it means there is probably at least someone for whom you care. If you're too busy to take the few minutes that it would take right now to forward this to ten people, would it be the first time you didn't do that little thing that would make a difference in your relationships? I can tell you it certainly won't be the last. I don't have to make up silly stories about people being hit by buses or crushed by falling disco balls for not sending this letter on.

You've seen the result of this neglect in your own relationships that you have allowed to fade, dissolve, and fall into disrepair.

Take this opportunity to set a new trend. Take a few minutes to send this to a few people you care about, just to let them now that you're thinking of them.

It's even better if they're not the people you already correspond with every week. The more people that you send this to, the better you'll get at reaching out to those you care about.

"You've got to dance like nobody's watching, and love like it's never going to hurt."

"People say true friends must always hold hands, but true friends don't need to hold hands because they know the other hand will always be there." — unknown author [End quoting]

What a beautiful message to remember as well as to share.

NEWS AND ARTICLES

News articles and clippings etc., can be submitted to:

Dr. Al Overholt
P.O. Box 1567
Tehachapi, Ca 93581
email: alo@tminet.com

As always, I appreciate all the contributions you ones make to this column.

Hatonn: Learning To Act In Oneness With All Of Creation

5/15/99 HATONN

Good morning, my friend. It is I, Gyeorgos Ceres Hatonn. I come in and of the Light of Creator Source, a being whom you ones have come to know as Aton—The One Light.

The label Aton means “The One Light”. The label was chosen for many reasons and has significance to many of you who are returned at this time of planetary transition. Many will take exception with this label for God, and will reject this and prior information on this sole basis. The label is one of a symbolic nature, for NO one label can encompass the entirety of Creator Source. The label is for you there in the physical density so that we can articulate Higher-dimensional concepts and ideas in the written language.

There will always be limitations associated with putting advanced spiritual concepts into a written language. This is why we of the Lighted Realms will ask that you go within and always QUESTION EVERYTHING FOR YOURSELF! Your own personal understanding and personal growth is why you have chosen to come forth and experience at this time.

Do you follow others because you feel they have a better or stronger connection within to Higher Guidance than do you? If so, then do you see that you are avoiding your personal responsibility for your growth—and you will most assuredly repeat these lessons again and again, until you decide to go within and make your own PERSONAL connection?

Follow the First Law of The Creation and you will do just fine. The Highest (First) Command of The Law of The Creation states: “Achieve the wisdom of knowledge (of Truth) inasmuch as this will enable you to wisely follow the Laws of The Creation.” In other words, go forth and gain as much knowledge and experience as you can.

Why do you ones think that this would be the FIRST law?

Because, inasmuch as one grows, ALL

(every being, everywhere, physical or non-physical) grow. We all exist as a result of the primary desire of The Creation. (Again, the word Creation may give some of you ones a bit of difficulty. The Creation is what many on your world would refer to as God. I will say here that The Creation encompasses your concept of God, and goes beyond. God acts

Follow the First Law of The Creation and you will do just fine. The Highest (First) Command of The Law of The Creation states: “Achieve the wisdom of knowledge (of Truth) inasmuch as this will enable you to wisely follow the Laws of The Creation.” In other words, go forth and gain as much knowledge and experience as you can.

in Oneness and complete harmony with The Creation, and for the practical part of conceptual understanding in the third-dimensional compression, they will seem to be one in the same. We are all connected, one to another, being to being, entity to entity, through Creator Source.

It is the desire of Creator which manifests His will. This desire is a part of Him. You, me, and everyone else exist as long as His desire remains. We are all born within the infinite “mind” of Creator Source, and we are all connected through this same non-physical Energy which manifests the desire.

The point here is NOT to confuse, but to show how it can be stated: “When you do unto the least of mine, you do unto me.” These words are very important and should cause each of you to reflect upon your actions and thoughts. When you seek to hurt another so that you can feel “good”, you will only succeed in hurting yourself, for your present learning environment, there in that third-dimensional schoolroom, is set-up and designed to mirror your thoughts and reflect them back to you, amplified many times over.

When you seek to cause another pain or frustration, you may very well succeed in hurting your target. But, you will surely feel the repercussion of the energy wave as it comes back to you—amplified and completely focused on YOU! Wise and learned travelers along the physical journey will see that it is much more productive to ask for forgiveness and send forth love to those who come against them—for the love will go out in like manner and come back amplified in the same manner.

Many of you ones are always seeking to justify your anger and frustrations. This whole need to “justify” is a byproduct of guilt. Guilt comes from doing or thinking something that you know in your heart is against who you are as a being. Each souled being has a sense of Right and Wrong. When you deliberately do or think something that you know to be “wrong” (that which is in opposition to your Higher Purpose and counterproductive to your growth), you will immediately feel guilt. This will quickly start the justification process so that you can find others who will agree with you, and then you will find a little comfort in knowing that these others will not somehow judge you as being bad. The problem with this cycle is that the guilt NEVER goes away until the one holding the guilt can see the error for what it is, and realize that their thinking is wrong and that there is a better way.

Until this point of true understanding, the guilt just festers and grows. It is amplified and returned to you, over and over, again and again. When considering your next course of action, think to yourself: do I explain my reasons for taking a particular action, or do I explain my justifications for taking a particular action?

When asked, “Why did you do that?” do you say: “because they are bad and deserve to be punished” (a justification), or do you say: “because I can see at least five ways in which this will help me and others to grow in understanding”—and then list the five or so reasons?

No souled beings will feel good justifying to the world why they deserve something that does not belong to them. However, the ego of man is such that it will effort to protect itself at all costs. It will lie to protect that which it equates to security. Usually, in your society, money is equated to security. This is at best a false security, and can easily be stripped away from those who covet and worship it as if it were the answer to all their prayers. God will show these ones the illusion that they have bought into—and that they can, indeed, survive without any money at all.

Dear ones, the answers to your prayers come from within. The physical world will be used to distract you, every time, into thinking that your answers lie hidden, out there somewhere. NO! The true answers to the questions you have are within, and you need only to still yourself and go within and connect with Creator God—The One who created you!

Ask for that which is of the greatest good when you pray. Though this is general, it is quite powerful, for you ask without limiting the nature of the response. Your Guides have an added advantage of seeing further down the road and not being restricted by the compressive nature of the physical dimension. They know what will bring forth happiness and fulfillment into your life. However, if you seek advice on how to hurt another, or to “get even”, you will only succeed in disconnecting from Higher Source and opening a door for the adversary to walk in and take over.

We of the Hosts of God have cautioned you ones, time and time again, to always seek first inner balance and peace prior to taking any action or making any major life-altering decision. Why do you think we would repetitively say these things? It is because we see you ones constantly slipping into habits of reactionary behavior, brought on by past pains and fears, that will throw you into a yelling match when a quiet and calm discussion would be quite a bit more productive and fulfilling. When you get centered within and find peace, you are allowing your frequency to raise, and thus it becomes easier to connect within to your Guides and Higher Source.

Some escape the pressures of life and responsibility by taking and using drugs. Drugs (this includes alcohol) tend to shift your focus away from the past pains and hurts, and allow you to experience a more euphoric state of consciousness. Where the problem comes in is that ones in their drug-induced state often also drop their Light shielding along with everything else. This will allow for low-level astral entities to more easily attach themselves to the host being. These parasitic entities will assist the host with justifying the need to have, say, a drink so that one can “relax” after a performing its function perfectly.

When the pressure gets to the point that you can no longer ignore it, you then have to do something about it. Some will run for the bottle and justify doing so by saying that it's the only way they can relax, or get to sleep, or whatever. This ends up in a very vicious cycle and usually will continue until the one operating in this mode hits “rock bottom”—rock bottom being alone, without a job or money to support the habit, and in a condition where change must occur. It is at this point when ones will finally realize that all they need to do is let go of that which is justifying the addiction in the first place, and in doing so a better answer will become clear.

“stressful” day. Thus a downward spiral begins.

This condition usually goes unnoticed until the host is confronted, usually by a loved one who is concerned for the well being of the host. Then there is a confrontation. The low-level astral entities do not like to have their “meal ticket” taken away from them, so they begin to exert their low-level influence over the host entity in a more deliberate manner. The result is usually a physical confrontation, with the daring loved one becoming the focus of abuse, or there results a family torn apart.

You ones do not need to use alcohol, pain killers, marijuana, cocaine, LSD, magic mushrooms, or any other legal or illegal drug. For the most part, these will only serve to disconnect you from Source and distract you into NOT fulfilling your purpose. Let go of the vices and deal with the “pressures”, for the pressures are why you are there. You are never given more than you can handle and you will be given to see a better way. The better way will always require you to have your wits about you, and will always have Creator God as part of the solution.

The perceived pressures come about due to going against your life purpose. If you choose to go after fame and fortune, rather than to help prepare for the transition of a planet into a new birthing, as you had originally intended to do, then you will find that the internal pressures are indeed building. However, don't worry, because if you do ignore these internal signals (nudges), they will get bigger and bigger until you can no longer just ignore the “pressure”. This is the “bio-feedback” mechanism of the conscience working and public humiliation. The ones who drink too much, and are in a state of denial about it, will often find themselves being arrested for drunk driving or spousal abuse or such. This is often their own Higher Self working with them so as to point out that, yes indeed, they are off course and off purpose. The public humiliation is often what it takes for these ones to see themselves as others see them.

Allow for the recent unfolding events to play out. The “housecleaning” has just started and many are faced with making very personal choices. Each must choose for themselves what they will do, believe, and think. There are no wrong choices. You will naturally choose that which will garner you the greatest growth opportunity. You cannot get it wrong. Those who are truly serving The Light will not judge you, or harass or coerce you. A loving friend may very well try to “help” you to see a situation from their perspective, but will never condemn you for exercising your free-will choice to walk your own path.

I am Gyeorgos Ceres Hatonn. I come with the Hosts of God to see you ones through this time of planetary transition. I come freely, in Service to the Lighted Will of Creator Source. I am a Teacher, a Guide to many, and a Brother Lightworker whose mission is to awaken those of you who are Ground Crew so that the proper preparations in the physical can be made and a remnant thus survive the Great Planetary Transition that is now taking place.

I leave you now with my blessing and in Light. Salu!

There will always be limitations associated with putting advanced spiritual concepts into a written language. This is why we of the Lighted Realms will ask that you go within and always QUESTION EVERYTHING FOR YOURSELF! Your own personal understanding and personal growth is why you have chosen to come forth and experience at this time.

When you get centered within and find peace, you are allowing your frequency to raise, and thus it becomes easier to connect within to your Guides and Higher Source.

Genocide With A Capital "G"

An Interview With Dr. Len Horowitz

Part I: Recent Developments

5/10/99 RICK MARTIN

You long-time readers will remember Dr. Len Horowitz from previous interviews, as well as from his well researched and hard-hitting book titled Emerging Viruses: AIDS & Ebola—Nature, Accident or Intentional? which is "dedicated to the seekers of truth and to those who, regardless of risk, labor tirelessly to tell it."

Dr. Horowitz's current writing and research is equally potent and thought-provoking. I have agreed not to enter into discussions about Dr. Horowitz's new project until our next interview, which will happen in the near future. Until then, we'll concentrate on his recent efforts at exposing the truth concerning many potentially personally impacting subjects.

Dr. Horowitz's opening quote in Emerging Viruses is:

"To do evil a human being must first of all believe that what he's doing is good..."

"Ideology—that is what gives devildoing its long-sought justification and gives the evildoer the necessary steadfastness and determination. That is the social theory which helps to make his acts seem good instead of bad in his own and others' eyes, so that he won't hear reproaches and curses but will receive praise and honors."—Russian dissident Alexander Solzhenitsyn

For those readers with computer Internet access, Dr. Horowitz has a website at www.tetrahedron.org. You may communicate directly with Dr. Horowitz by writing to: Tetrahedron, Inc., P. O. Box 2033, Sandpoint, Idaho 83864 or you may order his books by calling 1-888-508-4787. Some of his other titles include: Deadly Innocence; Deadly Exposures; Dentistry In The Age Of AIDS; and AIDS Fear And Infection Control.

Tetrahedron is an organization whose mission is "to provide people with opportunities to experience health in body, mind, emotions, and spirit. To aid and help people educate others to create harmonious social relationships within safe and supportive environments and thereby help develop a world that functions more for the benefit of all humanity." Now that's pretty hard to argue with, if you ask me.

Several months ago (March 19), Tetrahedron issued a press release titled: Associated Press Distorts Origin of AIDS and Cancer Epidemics Linked to Vaccines. Here is the release in total. [Quoting:]

Sandpoint, ID—Two recent Associated Press (AP) news reports, one concerning the origin of AIDS from chimpanzees, and the other discussing the cancer risk posed by monkey virus-contaminated polio vaccines have been challenged as disinformative by a leading expert. According to Dr. Leonard Horowitz, the origin of AIDS report published in the journal Nature

Emerging Viruses - AIDS & Ebola

$29.95 (+S&H)

Take a look at Tetrahedron's best selling book: Emerging Viruses; AIDS & Ebola; Nature, Accident, or Intentional? This highly acclaimed and controversial book—written by Dr. Leonard Horowitz, DMD, MA, MPH—challenges what most people believe is gospel about AIDS and emerging viruses. Tetrahedron will broaden your social, political, and scientific perspectives.

This is the first in-depth exploration into the origins of HIV and Ebola. Claims that these "emerging viruses" naturally evolved and then jumped species from ape to man seem grossly unfounded in light of the compelling evidence assembled in this extraordinary text. Alternatively, the possibility that these bizarre germs were laboratory creations, accidentally or intentionally transmitted via tainted hepatitis and smallpox vaccines in the U.S. and Africa - as numerous authorities have alleged - is investigated herein. This book reviews the numerous viral vaccine studies conducted simultaneously in New York City and Central West Africa by a narrow network of virologists working for major military-medical contractors under the auspices of the National Cancer Institute (NCI) and the World Health Organization (WHO). Included is Dr. Robert Gallo, the notorious discoverer of the AIDS virus. The text presents bizarre and horrifying facts about the biological weapons race of the 1960s and early 1970s when these researchers developed countless immune system ravaging viruses, and experimented with an assortment of antidote vaccines allegedly for "defense" and cancer prevention.

The iatrogenic and genocidal theories of AIDS are meticulously explored within the social and political context of this stormy period of American military science. Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) activities and foreign policy initiatives in Central Africa in response to the alleged threats posed by communism, black nationalism, and Third World populations are examined. The important roles played by political leaders including National Security Advisor Dr. Henry Kissinger, Department of Health, Education and Welfare secretaries Frank Carlucci, Jr. and Joseph Califano, presidents Richard Nixon and Gerald Ford, and economic notables Nelson and Laurence Rockefeller are considered. The text hauntingly dissects the potential motives and administrative mechanisms underlying the prevalent belief that HIV and Ebola may have been deliberately deployed, and that the AIDS epidemic may be accomplishing what was desired.

Tetrahedron, Inc.

206 N. 4th Ave

Sandpoint, ID 83864

Tel: 208-265-2575 Fax: 208-265-2775 (office)

Order Line: 888-508-4787

website: www.tetrahedron.org

(Feb. 4, 1999; 397:436-441), contrary to AP releases, actually provides further evidence that the AIDS virus did not likely originate from African primates left alone in the wild, but more likely evolved during cancer virus and vaccine experiments. In the scientific article entitled "Origin of HIV-1 in the chimpanzee Pan troglodytes," a chimpanzee named "Marilyn" was shipped to the U.S. in 1960 and, following a quarter century of service in the U.S. Air Force, died in 1985. According to an editorial accompanying the Nature report, Marilyn, like most other young African primates, was thought to come to the United States free of any deadly infections. While serving her duty in the Air Force biomedical laboratories, however, somehow she developed an AIDS-like virus infection.

"This should not put an end to the 'conspiracy theories,'" Dr. Horowitz stated. "Contrary to the Associated Press, it heavily supports a large body of evidence linking the origin of AIDS to military experiments and vaccine trials." The Nature article report that Marilyn "had never been used in AIDS research and had not received human blood products after 1969. But what had she been used for between 1962 and 1969 when contracts show the U.S. military cancer researchers injected chimpanzees with heavily contaminated viral vaccines?"

Dr. Leonard Horowitz, a Harvard graduate and independent investigator, presented a scientific paper at the XI International Conference on AIDS, showing that AIDS-like viruses evolved from early cancer virus experiments in which top military-pharmaceutical scientists infected primates with viral genes from other animals. These contaminated primates were then commonly reused to develop viral vaccines, as was the case in 1974 when contaminated hepatitis B vaccine was tested simultaneously on gay men in New York City and Blacks in Central Africa that many investigators now link to AIDS. Dr. Horowitz became the first researcher to meticulously document this man-made theory of AIDS' origin in his book, Emerging Viruses: AIDS & Ebola—Nature, Accident or Intentional? Recounted here are U.S. military and National Cancer Institute (NCI) viral vaccine experiments in which African primates were used to study a variety of illnesses now commonly linked to AIDS including leukemia, lymphoma, sarcoma and immune system suppression. According to Dr. Horowitz, the leukemia/sarcoma/lymphoma cancer complex, never seen in humans prior to 1978, had been the primary focus of a highly funded, yet largely secret, "Special Virus Cancer Program" that began in 1962. By analyzing formerly classified documents, and NCI government contracts showing how, when, where and why such viruses were made, Dr. Horowitz concluded that the AIDS virus likely broke out as a result of contaminated polio and hepatitis B vaccine experiments. Those implicated include top AIDS researchers, biological weapons contractors, and the institutions that developed and tested such man-made, immune-system-ravaging agents for the NCI and Department of Defense (DOD) during the late sixties.

A week following the AP report concerning Marilyn, this top U.S. news service issued a rebuttal to a London Sunday Telegraph article (Feb. 14, 1999) that contended "Pre-1963 polio vaccines may be killing hundreds through cancer." Again, Dr. Horowitz identified a deceptive spin that AP placed on the truth. "The fact is," he said, "class action lawsuits are currently pending regarding the definitive link between the SV40 virus in the polio vaccines and several deadly cancers. Moreover, it's not only 'hundreds' of cases, it may be hundreds of thousands of deaths linked to injected vaccines containing monkey cancer viruses into humans."

In his 1998 bestselling book, Dr. Horowitz published stunning documentation that monkeys, contaminated with immune-system-destroying cancer viruses, were used to develop both the polio and hepatitis vaccines. The text also presents startling admissions by top monkey virus experts and vaccine analysts including the world's leading vaccine developer, Dr. Maurice Hilleman, of Merck, Sharp and Dohme. The Merck pharmaceutical company was the government's principal military vaccine producer during most of the cold war when their president, George W. Merck, directed America's biological weapons industry. Hilleman, during a taped interview on file at the National Library of Medicine, acknowledged his role in importing contaminated monkeys from facilities in Africa into the United States for research and vaccine production. "I didn't know we were importing AIDS virus at the time," he said. The contaminated monkeys apparently came from another documented biological weapons contractor—Litton Bionetics. According to Dr. Horowitz, Litton was the chief contractor for primate supplies and maintained laboratory operations and monkey colonies in Uganda and Maryland.

Outraged AIDS activists, scientists and public interest groups nationwide are calling for an independent congressional investigation into Dr. Horowitz's published facts. Several authorities are now urging analyses of suspected vaccine lots, believed to be held by the FDA's Bureau of Biologics the government's principal agency in charge of testing human vaccines. Dr. W. John Martin, former director of the Viral Oncology Branch of the FDA's Bureau of Biologics, stated, "The issue of possible simian virus contamination of certain live viral vaccines has been suppressed since 1972.... This basic flaw in the regulatory process must be addressed."

With the foregoing background understood, let's begin our discussion with Dr. Horowitz.

The following telephone interview with Dr.

Len Horowitz occurred on April 6, 1999:

Martin: Let's start talking about what's going on. First of all, I just want to get one thing out of the way right now because we've published some information on it and there is so much talk on the Internet and on Art Bell's late night talk radio program and other places about contrails and the spread of disease through contrails. Do you have anything new to add to that subject?

Dr. Horowitz: Only what I just posted the other day. Did you see that?

Martin: No, unfortunately, I didn't.

Dr. Horowitz: Let me just pull it up, it's on our website. It's called "Contrail Controversy". I just posted it March 25.

So, basically, I say here,

"Dear Readers: The article below describes the results from my investigation into the current controversy over allegations that contrails contain substances harmful to humans and the environment. My initial investigation began two years ago and is continuing."

Martin: Do you think it's valid?

Dr. Horowitz: Ok, now this is Jay Reynolds stuff. I posted his stuff, but at the end of his, I added a letter. Here is what my letter says. This is my reply to Mr. Reynolds who says that the contrail story is invalid. Ok? Did you read Reynolds report? It went through Montana Militia. And then, it was subsequently released all over. He exposed—he was basically saying that it is invalid, that the Jet Fuel contains no ethylene dibromide and that there's nothing to suggest that it is toxic or it's causing the polluting of populations, that type of thing.

So, here's my reply to him and it was well researched.

"Dear Mr. Reynolds:

"Thank you for your well researched and written article concerning the contrail or chemtrail issue. I, like many other concerned citizens and researchers, was persuaded by the circulating warnings regarding ethylene dibromide or EDB. I was unaware that Richard Finke, who edited and condensed Larry Wayne Harris's book, was the source of this possible hoax. Had I known this, I certainly would have used greater caution myself, as Mr. Harris's propagandist and counterintelligence exploits on behalf of himself and the Central Intelligence Agency were diagnosed and documented by me many months ago. (See Larry Wayne Harris articles in FTP file at www.tetrahedron.org.)

"I would like to propose an alternative theory regarding your statement 'Finke may have been seeking to drum-up business for Larry Wayne Harris consulting.' Given the fact that counterintelligence relies largely on distractive pronouncements and proceedings, the contrail EDB fright may be covering up a more insidious threat to public health. I advance that thesis not only because of Finke's association with Harris, but because something undetermined and unattended IS transmitting the vast epidemic of flu-like, upper-respiratory infection that is NOT viral or bacterial but appears to be fungal in nature. There IS a large percentage of people suffering and dying with this bizarre, flu-like illness and, to-date, there has been no official diagnosis or even mention of it by the Centers for Disease, Control and Prevention (CDC), very odd since they typically take advantage of every opportunity to relay their heroics in diagnosing and alerting the public concerning such outbreaks even months in advance. (This itself is suspicious as their disease surveillance network is incapable of predicting precisely which strain of flu will strike North America from the Pacific Rim, yet they are geared-up every year to tout their vaccine for that strain and deliver their propaganda months in advance.)

“There is something going on that appears to be linked to respiratory, that is, airborne toxins and/or biologicals. My colleagues in clinical practice have been following this outbreak since last August when patients were overwhelming emergency rooms in several U.S. cities with a typical influenza-like symptoms. That was not the winter flu season you described. Moreover, some brownish, blackish, greenish, sticky mixture has been falling from the sky in different parts of the United States that may or may not be related to the contrails. One colleague, Dr. Joseph Pulleo in northern Idaho, was able to obtain a sample of this substance. It was first sent to a laboratory where it was reportedly highly toxic. So toxic that lab-workers became ill and were unwilling to complete their analysis. Dr. Pulleo may be reached to confirm this by calling 208-266-1536 or by e-mail at therevjosph@nidlink.com. I understand from Dr. Pulleo that this sample was returned to him, and then he submitted it to another laboratory recommended to him by John Trochman of the Montana Militia. (Your report was disseminated and came to me by way of the Montana Militia.) Unfortunately, I was told the second laboratory “lost the sample”. Dr. Pulleo has been most successful treating this unprecedented flu-like illness with an anti-fungal regimen that he can best explain. His treatments include raising the body temperature with cayenne pepper and herbal combinations. (Since most of the chronically ill show low body temperature upon examination.) Moreover, extensive detoxification, deacidification and oxygenation therapies have shown remarkable success in helping patients recover fairly rapidly once treatment is initiated.

“Based on the evidence that my colleague and I have accumulated, I conclude that this flu-like illness IS most likely associated with chemical and/or biological co-factors. Chemicals, perhaps falling from contrails or other sources, may be compromising immunity that facilitates infections by fungi, and likely, micoplasma, as well. We do hold scientific and government documents relating to ‘adult respiratory distress syndrome, with or without systemic disease associated with infections due to micoplasma fermentents’ by Lo, Weir, et.al., Clinical Infectious Disease, 1993, #17 Supplement 1, pages 5259-63 and, U.S. Patent No. 5,242,820, filed Sept. 7, 1993 by Lo of the Armed Forces Institute of Pathology for the assignee, the American Registry of Pathology, Washington, D.C. These documents describe myriad symptoms and clinical observations very close, if not identical to, those presenting in this epidemic.”

On a note of aside, this is for you Rick, and for your people, this Lo patent for the Armed Forces Institute and the American Registry of Pathology, is for a “pathogenic mycoplasma” that they isolated from AIDS patients, and it is far more likely to be causing the whole array of AIDS symptoms than the actual co-factor, HIV.

Then, I go on to say, “Finally, not that he needs my support but I can vouch for Will Thomas’s character. He is not doing what you apparently think. He is not a nutritional supplement salesman. He is a dedicated investigator, much like you, who is seeking to learn the truth. If we all put our heads together, perhaps we will finally discover the truth underlying the hype. Best wishes—Len Horowitz.”

Martin: Well, that shed some light. We won’t cover the new book, but what you’re referring to are the TSEs, is that correct?

Dr. Horowitz: Actually, no, I haven’t even touched upon those yet. There is, we believe, at least some—there is some parallelism or overlap in the pathogenic mycoplasma area and the TSE issue.

Martin: Is there treatment currently available for TSEs and the prion?

Dr. Horowitz: The only treatment that I am aware of, again, is the 5-step process that we are articulating.

No. 1—detoxification;

No. 2—deacidification;

No. 3—boosting the immune system;

No. 4—oxygenation therapy; and

No. 5—bioelectric therapies.

And, I feel, it is in the bioelectric therapies that we’re going to probably gain the best results, along with oxygenation therapies, with the prion diseases. But again, that’s the next interview.

Martin: Are there any other viruses that people should be aware of or concerned about?

Dr. Horowitz: Not to my knowledge. I really think that our focus of all of our current investigations should be in the area of mycoplasma and Dr. Nicholson’s work. I really feel like, based on even some of the latest things that are happening right now, politically, as well as in the scientific realm, I feel that THAT is the issue. If you go into mycoplasma, and I mentioned this on Chuck Misler’s radio program a couple of days ago when I was discussing the issue with Jack Medcalf, Director. Are you familiar with Medcalf?

Martin: No, I’m not.

Dr. Horowitz: Jack Medcalf from, I believe, the state of Washington, had submitted a request to the General Accounting Office to investigate squalene antibodies found in Gulf War veterans. And, well over a year ago now, I guess it was about a year ago, it was determined that squalene, which is a portion of an adjuvant, it is a chemical included in a mixture called an adjuvant which is intended to enhance the immune response in vaccinated populations and that it was only included in experimental vaccines. And it was determined about a year ago that the Gulf War veterans, those people who went over to the Gulf War, that were suffering—as well as people who didn’t even go into the Gulf War arena, who were ailing with Gulf War Syndrome, had antibodies to squalene—again, a vaccine-ingredient that only existed in experimental vaccines. So, that’s the old news.

Now, what happened is, allegedly, Jack Medcalf had been approached by a group of Gulf War veterans who were sick, and in

We need to learn to be still in the midst of activity and to be vibrantly alive in repose.

—Gandhi

order to try to help, he asked the General Accounting office to compile a report, an investigation, on this squalene and they just released it. And the released report says, yes, indeed, there are problems. We do find squalene antibodies in the blood of these people. Again, the only way that it's most plausible that it got in there was through the vaccines. The Department of Defense is unsupportive to our investigation. Basically, that's what the GAO is reporting and that there should be further investigation done and verification of squalene and how it got in there and it's effects on the immune system.

Well, from my perspective, that's a distraction. Because, A, it was scientifically determined over a year ago that this was so; and B, it won't matter whether we get a confirmation through science that squalene existed in the vaccines or the antibodies are now being produced in the sick people, against the squalene they were exposed to because of the vaccines. What's really important, if you want to save lives, is to place a moratorium on all U.S. government-promulgated vaccines because obviously they're not telling the truth about them. Also, they're delivering agents that are not only depleting the immune system, but also potentially infecting human beings with things like mycoplasma; and that was my recommendation to Medcalf's office and to all legislative offices—that they really need to be focusing on the issue of mycoplasma rather than squalene.

So, Candice Brown and Will Northrup have been very excellent investigators of the Huntsville issues and they have been contacting legislators and they're also heavily involved in the Class Action lawsuit that is currently pending down there on behalf of all of the civilians who are suffering with Gulf War Syndrome-type symptoms and other illnesses that are associated with mycoplasma infections. But, see, she's carbon-copied a variety of different people, including Representative Ron Paul—who, I walked into Ron Paul's office myself and presented him the documentation about 3 months ago that we have.

Martin: I'm looking at an article in front of me from the Preparedness Journal. And, you mention that in this article.

Dr. Horowitz: Yeah, right. But, at any rate, here's a letter to the Acting Comptroller General of the United States from Bob Thilner, who is a member of Congress, from the 50th District of California, requesting an investigation into the mycoplasma incognitas—this is Oct. 23, 1998—and, you've got just a tremendous amount of evidence that's implicating Dept. of Defense, Baylor College, and mycoplasma infections as being the heart of much of this bizarre, immune system ravaging, new epidemics—myriad new epidemics. That's where I would go with it. I would focus on that. And to the extent that we're not focusing on that, or the Dept. of Defense doesn't want to discuss that and comply with either the General Accounting Office's investigations, or even congressional inquiries, I mean, you've got an obvious cover-up going on here. And, of course, I think it was Dr. Nicholson and Don McAlvaney, in his report that initially

It's now, like, you either have the eyes to see the documentation, ears to hear the truth to avoid the risks, to take the precautions to, literally, clean the temple of God, your body, so that you can withstand the infectious agents being thrown at us today. And, if you're not there, then God help you and God bless you.

implicated a connection. And I spoke with Garth Nicholson myself to get confirmation that there was authoritative connections between Tannox Biomedical Systems of Houston, Texas and Baylor College, and also James Baker III, Secretary of State under George Bush, and George Bush as a shareholder in the company. These were allegations that were made by authoritative sources.

And I think that's why you have the Dept. of Defense stonewalling on this issue. I think that if you focus on mycoplasma, you're going to get some extraordinary revelations here.

Martin: Ok. I notice here in this article, I wasn't aware that you're co-chair of the legislative committee of the National Health Federation.

Dr. Horowitz: Yep. Patrick von Mauk, who was the Executive Director of NHF, asked me to do that. And, I've been working with Maurine Soloman. Patrick is no longer in that capacity. Maurine Soloman is now taking over as president, and Patrick is now a liaison in Washington, at this point. But, NHF is just one of many organizations that are behind "full-disclosure", and we want to stop, not only the intoxication of citizens and military personnel by these vaccines and other ways that we're apparently being intoxicated, but also we want to continue to protect people's access to the supplements and vitamins and therapies, and also stop the persecution of the healthcare professionals who have been dedicated to helping people. And, again, when I was on the air the other day with Jack Medcalf's primary assistant, and he said to me, "Well, Dr. Horowitz, if you're so smart, what do you think we should be doing? What are you doing for these people? If you think that our investigation into squalene isn't going to bring us anywhere, where do you think we should be going and what are you doing to help these people?"

I said to them, basically, we're working with healthcare professionals who are REALLY making a difference. I mean, when you talk to Gulf War veterans who are suffering and ailing. The ones who have been getting help have been getting it through the alternative therapies.

Martin: That's right.

Dr. Horowitz: That's what we're doing. We're at the front line of delivering the information to these people.

Martin: Have you met any allies in Congress at all, in regard to this kind of investigation? Maxine Waters?

Dr. Horowitz: (Laughter) Maxine Water's group is—I'm just totally disgusted with the response from Congress, the lack of response by Congress. I spent about 45 minutes one-on-one with Maxine Waters's chief health investigator, and you know, you would think that Maxine Waters, being Black and heavily into the Black coalition, of being heavily involved in investigating Central Intelligence and the drug issues that she would be responsive to receiving the U.S. government contracts under which numerous AIDS-like and Ebola-like viruses were developed under Litton Bionetics under Dr. Robert Gallo's direction—and she would do something, given the fact that 73 percent of HIV/AIDS patients today are Black and Hispanic, she has an intense genocide going on. And, she, a Black woman, and David Satcher, a Black man [Surgeon General], are kind of looking the other way. All I can think of, quite honestly, Rick, this being "End-Time prophecies" being fulfilled—you know, I have to constantly return to the spiritual aspects of this whole thing.

Martin: It's all connected.

Dr. Horowitz: It is, in my opinion; it's completely connected. And, you know, the phrase "come out of mystery Babylon" keeps coming to mind. Congress is part of mystery Babylon. The fact that our legislators, they're puppet politicians, who we get a chance to "vote" for, whose political strings are being pulled by the shadow governors—you know, the real oligarchy, those in the secret societies, those infamous, let's say, thirteen families that are literally running the world, literally through, in my opinion, occult practices—that Congress is just a dysfunctional bureaucracy that is created by these people to create a facade of democracy.

And, that, I think is just a waste of time. That's why my purpose was, on Chuck Misler's program the other day, to just say, it's too late. People are dying, left and right. I don't want to endorse a scientific investigation into squalene. My God, it's time to help these people. It's too late to do stupid things like that, to go into another distraction that's going to take 2-3 years of investigating, and once the results of the investigation come out, they will be challenged by the puppet-scientists that CIA and DoD have on their payroll. And, so, it's time to get down to what's really happening here. What's really happening here, the bottom line, is genocide with a capital G. And people are sick and dying all over, and the fact of the matter is that this is part and parcel of a depopulation agenda wherein those people in power can make not only vast fortunes off of humanity's suffering, but as your friends and family and mine die, they're happy because it's one less, what they call, "useless eater" to feed. And, so, it's even to the point where I'm not even trying to persuade people any longer that this is what's going on. It's kind of too late for that.

Martin: Right.

Dr. Horowitz: It's now, like, you either have the eyes to see the documentation, ears to hear the truth to avoid the risks, to take the precautions to, literally, clean the temple of God, your body, so that you can withstand the infectious agents being thrown at us today. And, if you're not there, then God help you and God bless you.

It's too late. I'm not going to—I'm not going to fool around any more. We've got too many people, right now, who are sick and dying, who have come to us for help and we need to focus on those people. The urgent issues are very, very clear, and if you want to play distractive games and continue this charade, you go right ahead, but don't invite me to the party.

Martin: I completely agree. That's actually a good place to stop for now.

Footnote: In our next issue of The SPECTRUM, we will present Part II of my interview with Dr. Horowitz. In this second conversation, Dr. Horowitz speaks of—get this—utilizing tonal frequencies for healing; decoding the Bible; understanding sacred geometry; the coming Age of Peace; stealth viruses and the depopulation agenda accelerating while the planetary frequency increases; living in a frequency of love as a shield of protection against the coming depopulation assault on the masses of people and as a key for healthy living in the decades ahead. If you're not intrigued by what Dr. Horowitz has to say in this second conversation, well, let's just say "check your pulse!"

NEWS DESK SPECIAL REPORT

Benzene And Other Poisons In Our Food Supply

4/13/99 DR. AL OVERHOLT

This was sent to me recently. The subject matter and thoroughness of the research of the writer warrant a wide broadcasting of this information so that others may check things out further.

Aware readers know well that the matter of dangerous substances in our food has been a recurring, perennial theme in this age of "better" living through chemistry.

While we have no way to check-out the following information, we applaud the research described herein and share it for whatever life-saving value it may have for you.

[quoting:]

February 1999
1401-27 Willowbrook Dr.
Cranbrook, B. C.
V1C 6H4 250-426 4164
Geo: 82G/5W Kootenay Distri

BENZENE— BENZENEACETALDEHYDE STUDY

I have discovered a situation so ominous, it defies my understanding. Having become extremely allergic to benzene, ricin and monosodiumglutamate, I have found narcotic benzene-benzeneacetaldehyde and derivatives in our total Cranbrook community food supply. This chemical I fear has been put in our food and pharmaceuticals nationwide. I became aware of this chemical in food, drinks, vitamins, and pharmaceuticals in our area, then in Alberta, Saskatchewan, and as we travelled throughout the United States in winter months. At that time I did not know what chemical I was experiencing allergy to; we stayed home this year to record many of the contaminated products and its extent. (I am not unqualified; I did discover Lichens as precursors to finding massive mineral deposits.)

For instance, I have not been able to find ANY Tylenol, including Junior 6-11 6260014359 Lot F921, McNeil Products, Ont N1K 1A5, without benzene. Anacin, Whitehall Robins 621075 is horribly contaminated. ALL acetylsalicylic, Safeway, Life, Asaphen chewable, New Bayer coated, 81mg Toronto M9W IG6 5650000120 contain benzene. I found only Aspirin chewable Lot ZH71 80mg—held behind the pharmacy counter, costing 20 times per mg, without this chemical.

A narcotic can not possibly be of value to anyone with any cardiac muscular problem. Is Reye's Syndrome caused by benzene additive rather than ASA. Are governments aware of such a narcotic chemical being added to our food supply? Bureaucrats, Gentiles, Jews, police, teachers, doctors all eat these foods. Who has the power to contaminate a nation's food supply and WHY? We are a population of 60 thousand Kootenay area, captive to two major grocers and one department store, Zellers. A major part of my complaint is that area businesses are conspiring to bring into our community and city of Cranbrook, extremely benzene-contaminated products, over and above those in the general food supply. This milk could not possibly be similarly contaminated world wide: Foremost 1% BF Foremost Foods Vancouver V6B 3W8 FE22 LFCK0338 and Dairyland Homo Feb 14 1118 CG2 CK6870011200 from Overwaitea. One tbs. made me ill. Post 100% Bran 6618801127 so contaminated, just touching the box caused me to choke. What would happen to the person with asthma eating this combination?

To tell you how I made this discovery: It could not have been luck that the first terrorist acts against us would involve massive doses of MSG, a chemical they knew was already in the world's food supply. They know it inflames the large intestine, resulting in diverticulitis and diverticulosis. When I discovered this and survived, they began the use of massive narcotic benzene. Once allergic, I found it impossible to find pharmaceuticals and foods without it. It is in face creams, soaps, jams, juices, milk. It can not be luck that their choice of terrorist chemicals would be the exact same chemical as found in our brand-name life-sustaining products: Sifto Salt 6756811080, Winsor Salt 6601000105 Point Claire Que H9R 5M9, soda, brown sugar, coffee Folgers and Nabob. Many know of MSG being put in our food—but few know of benzene.

We discovered to our dismay the total involvement of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police [RCMP] in these terrorist activities on behalf of international mineral corporations. In APEC, RCMP sabotage terrorists act on behalf of Alberta Energy against Wiebo Ludwig, against WalshFelderhof Bre-X Gold in Busang (remember Busang reserves are 200 million ounces—yet the biggest giants of North America are only 185 total). Corporate Bronfman, using these horrible chemicals, which caused my extreme allergy in the beginning, have wanted to take our gallium mineral deposit at Moyie Lake 82G/5W KD without payment. I realized RCMP involvement when their patrol cars surrounded me and transported me to Trail Mental Hospital—for depression, which presumably they could see through the car windshield.

Ricin is used in our food supply selectively. We receive it in our egg supply. Causes arthritic deformity, but when it is removed from the food supply—the pain is gone completely.

Benzene—benzeneacetaldehyde—

a) salt taste collects in tonsil mucous;
b) shaking and hand trembling as it hits the sensory nervous system—impossible to hold a cup;

c) irritation of bronchi—as asthma, constant acid forms in the esophagus—called acid reflux—but is really benzene poison;

d) the most horrible aspect of this benzene chemical is when trying to sleep: the involuntary muscles stop working and my breathing stops. It literally shuts down night-time breathing; why not also a child's breathing as well as in crib-death. At times when I have been badly contaminated it causes the heart muscle to quiver and flutter. What would happen to those with cardiac muscle weakness? They may take an ASA with further benzene or a cimetidine Tagamet PX307883 Kimberley Drug, RX514454 Natal, RX6517780 Shoppers Drug Lethbridge all contain benzene; then take a Rolaid, Warner Lambert Scarborough MIL 2N3 5770065195 (in my notes I wrote "very bad"). How would that person know what was happening? Is benzene the reason for the statistical rise in female heart attacks?

e) loss of REM sleep; from personal experience the body and mind become totally fatigued. This is likely called cronic-fatigue-syndrome. Any of the female face creams Base Glaxal 5409232301, Body & Bath Lot71127, Oil of Olay USA GPO1947656 contain benzene. Since I am so allergic, they cause me itchy skin welts.

f) benzene's narcotic effect causes the neck and jaw to become weak, automatic sphincter muscles stop functioning (urinary) on encountering air-born benzene. When the chemical is removed, normal body functions resume.

Our letters to Prime Minister Chretien, Attorney General Allan Rock, and Honourable Anne McClellan explains that their RCMP are out of control and actively: "electronically monitor our home and vehicles; participating and financing narcotic benzene and ricin terrorism; use of RCMP helicopter to spread benzene; colluding with mining empire Bronfman and area businesses to poison and contaminate area foods". Government reply states "your problem is not within Attorney General purview—please contact your RCMP."

Another example of the same chemical but much more toxic: A Christmas gift—set of Martha Stewart Sheets, Troy MI 48084 purchased from Cranbrook Zellers. A new designer powder, benzeneacetaldehyd acid, fell from these sheets—everything it touched became volatile when touched with water. Everything washed with these sheets became toxic and had to be disposed of. Without a Canadian Justice System, Zellers owners can chemically contaminate our home and we can do absolutely nothing about it. I therefore feel a greater horror as to who could and would contaminate our world's food supply.

IF we are being intentionally poisoned en-masse, what other horrors of benzene are known?

Parkinsons cause is environmental—as nerves can no longer control muscular function.

Is benzene an endocrine inhibitor? Drs Klotz and Jewett, University of Toronto, reported a most unusual 60% increase in testicular cancer, shrinking testes, and low sperm count. Is this benzene in our pharmaceuticals and food disrupting the body's endocrine system?

WHO AND WHY? Maybe there are multiple reasons. My view sees a sinister evil. A perfect way for international masters to "pull-in-the-noose" when they wish to take minerals, intellectual property, electronics (Ramsey), etc. Further research will have to be yours.

WRITTEN WITHOUT PREJUDICE

(signature)

Frances Y. Johnson (Mrs.)

BIBLIOGRAPHY

1999 BENZENE—WORK SHEET

Martha Stewart sheets, Troy, MI (1964, 1996)

Beans & Pork, Western Family Food, Vancouver V6B 4E4, 6263917520

100% Post Bran 6618861127

3-Pies Jello, Citron Kraft, Canada Don Mills Ent M3C 3J5 66188C2080

Rogers Best Brews Sugar 6311112354

Rogers Demerma Brown 6311112573

Redpath Brown sugar (Demerasa) Redpath Ind. Ltd. Montreal 6284761216

Green Giant Cream Corn, Pillsbury Can. 675 Cochrane Dr., Marham, Ont. L3R CM7690521026C (upper stomach). One extremely contaminated. One had an unusual plastic lining.

Kraft Pure Strawberry Jam 6810005557

Alpha Honey, McKenzie Food, Spruce Grove Alta T7X 1H8 6330675910 (Itch old)

Sifto Salt, Canada Inc., Mississauga Ont L4W 2T7 6756811080(old)

Dreadful Winsor Salt 6601000105 Canada Salt Co Ltd. Point Claire, Que. H9R 5M9

Arm & Hammer Soda, Church & Dwight Ltd. Don Mills M3C 3R6, 1090 Don Mills Rd. (Med 1kg) Bad 6533300150

European wieners, Treybe Sausage, Ltd., Von U5L 1P7 207399607746

Sun Rype Grapefruit Juice Kelowna, VIY 2W4 5796100094

Burger King Ketchup, McBurger King Corp. Product of USA Heing

Edward Coffee—Lucerne Foods, Calgary T2P 2J6 5820045014

This made me sick—Dairyland Homo Milk Feb. 14 1118 CG2 CK 6870011200 (Overwaitea)

LifeFibre Laxative, Shoppers' DrugMart, Toronto M2J 4Y7 5780003453

London Drug Vitamin C, London Drug Ltd. Richmond, BC V7A 4Y5 6815600096

Tylenol, (Junior 6-11) McNeil Products N1K 1A5 6360014359 Lot F921

Tylenol McNeil Guelph, Ont N1K 1A5 Lot F857-151501

Pert Plus Shampoo, Proctor & Gamble Toronto M5W 1C5 566471

Base Glascal Skin Cream, Roberts Pharmaceutical, Mississauga, Ont L5N 6S2 5409232350, 5409232301

Rolaid, Warner Lambert, Scarborough M1L 2N3 5770065195 (bad)

Body & Bath Basics Face Cream, Sudbury Ont P3E 5R2 Lot 71127

Primrose & Milk Face Cream

Calif Face Alpha Hydroxy Belvedere Inc. Toronto L5R 3G3 6574326004

Anacin, Whitehall Robins 621075 (extremely bad)

ASA Safeway Can. Safeway Ltd. Western Pharmaceutical Calgary T2P 2J6 5820076240

Kufe ASA Shoppers Drug Mart Toronto M2J 4Y7 578001183. The benzene is so strong you can smell it through the plastic bottle.

Asaphen chewable (ASA) Pharmascience Inc. Montreal 5760687894 [End quoting]

Money & Secret Powers, Or: Where Is The Nation Headed?

Editor's note: The following history lesson is excerpted from the Jan/Feb 1999 issue of Dr. John Coleman's excellent publication called World In Review. We share it here because of John's gift for showing us the long reach of history's arm—especially when one has a more accurate sense of exactly to just what "octopus" that long arm is attached!

Jan/Feb 1999 DR. JOHN COLEMAN

When the history of this country comes to be written, especially the history of the Clinton years, it will be placed in the true perspective of power out of control, running amok, sanctioned by a party which itself is out of control. Put another way, the Democratic Party, by sanctioning an out of control executive, is itself beyond the control of moderation and judicial restraint, and is now given over to its radical element.

History will record that the Clinton presidency was not only a tremendous step in the direction of a Socialist state, but that indeed, it affected the whole of Western civilization to the detriment of all nations. How else would history view the Clinton presidency, if not in this light? History will record that the Clinton presidency was a social and political disaster of grave dimensions. Perhaps not a parallel to the social disasters of the murder of Lincoln, McKinley, Garfield, and later, of Kennedy, nor a parallel to the social disaster of the First World War, but certainly in the same context.

No, the First World War was one of unparalleled disaster and on a scale frightening to look back upon. Western civilization was reduced to snatching young men from their homes and families, conscripting them to participate in the slaughter of nations from the same Western culture and civilization. It was an era where the American President Wilson ran amok, out of control, seizing powers which were not his under the U.S. Constitution.

Wilson had nothing better to do than conscript our young men to fight and slaughter other young men of a branch of the same family as theirs, while the churches, the religious leaders, stood mute or else endorsed the slaughter. How did these events come to pass? What were the causes of the First World War? How could such an orgy of blood have enveloped the civilized nations of the West? Did Western civilization not boast great writers, philosophers, artists, poets, musicians, and a religion overwhelmingly against such slaughter?

Did not the Renaissance produce Lorenzo the Magnificent, Sixtus, and Julius II, the great beautifiers and civilizers of Rome, patrons of Botticelli, Ghirlandai, and Pinturicchi? And yet, even then, voices were being raised about the dangers of power out of control and running amok. One such voice was Giralamo Savonarola (1452-1498), a Dominican prior of San Marco in Florence, who saw the out-of-control power of the Black Nobility of Venice, Florence, and Genoa as a powerful force—out of control power beginning to run amok.

This little-known but great man warned of the corruption of the rulers and leaders and of the state itself. He warned that the bankers were showing signs of out-of-control power that would lead to the destruction of everything won by the Renaissance. What Savonarola was witnessing was the equivalent of today's out-of-control, running amok Corporate-Government State, and a president under the control of the equivalent of the Black Nobility of Venice—and I am speaking of the Rothschilds and their fellow merchant bankers, particularly the Orsinis of our time.

The "bancherius" was the start of today's evil of central banking. This was the moneychanger of the 12th century, so despised by Christ during his ministry on Earth. The "bancherius" accepted deposits from the businessmen of Venice, Florence, and Genoa, from the Black Nobility, immensely rich families. In turn they granted credit to merchants and traders in the form of "banchi di scritta". The bankers were exceptionally powerful in Venice, but Florence and Genoa also came under their influence.

The 13th century Venetian "banchi di scritta" devised the medium known as Bills of Exchange, by which they transferred payments from buyers to sellers. Eventually it led to the establishment of the Medici Bank in Florence, which could make or break politicians and popes alike. And the Medici Bank did just that. In a blaze of power run amok, out of control, the Medici Black Nobility and the Guelph Black Nobility were responsible for one intrigue after another, which is how they got their name "Black Nobility". It had to do with their uncontrolled appetite for unbridled power and it

MORE READING

Books by Dr. Coleman:

• SOCIALISM: THE ROAD TO SLAVERY

• DIPLOMACY BY DECEPTION

And another fine book:

• CONSPIRATORS' HIERARCHY:

*THE STORY OF
THE COMMITTEE OF 300*

His latest book:

• *WHAT YOU DON'T KNOW ABOUT THE
U.S. CONSTITUTION*

Monthly newsletter

WORLD IN REVIEW (WIR)

$65.00 per year, 1st class mail
(32 pages with no advertising)

Available from:

Joseph Publishing
2533 N. Carson St.
Carson City, NV 89706

Each book is $20 and includes shipping & handling. For orders by credit card, please call 1-800-942-0821.

turned the nation-state of Italy into a quagmire of deception and deceit.

The unbridled, out-of-control, run amok power of the Venetian “banchi di scritta” led to the financial success of the Fuggers of Augsburg, Germany. Jacob Fugger (Jacob the Rich, 1459-1525) played a leading role in broadening the power of the German branch of the Venetian Guelphs. The Venetian Guelphs were perhaps the most notorious of the Black Nobility. (Queen Victoria of England was a Guelph.) Another Guelph was the powerful Robert Angevin of Naples and Venice.

Robert's family were immensely wealthy members of the Italian Guelph Black Nobility who set out to carve a place in history for themselves of power run amok. On the death of Emperor Henry VII, he was appointed imperial vicar. A hundred years later his unbridled powers were magnified by the domination of the de Medici family. Lorenzo de Medici continued in the ways of the Black Nobility, being treated like royalty, though he had no title to royalty.

By marrying into the all-powerful Black Nobility Orsini family, Lorenzo became a virtual prince. Through his bride, Clarice Orsini, Lorenzo was assured a high place in the Venetian banking dynasties. He was appointed as a receiver of papal revenues, after he had used his considerable charm and abilities to shade facts, which led to the conciliation of Pope Sixtus IV.

Later, the greatest of the Medici lost out to another Black Nobility family, the Pazzi family being given the all-important and highly-lucrative position as receivers of papal revenues, which resulted in plotting by the Black Nobility Ferrantes to remove Lorenzo from his exalted position. The Pazzis and Ferrantes joined in a plot to assassinate Lorenzo while he was attending Easter Mass. Lorenzo was wounded. After his recovery, the Medici family sought to exterminate the Pazzi family, for which Sixtus excommunicated Lorenzo.

Not intimidated, Lorenzo pursued a foreign policy, which proved very costly, in an exercise of unbridled power run amok. Does that not sound like President Clinton? Lorenzo's Council of Seventy was nothing but despotism in control of Florence and Venice. It enabled Lorenzo to waste state money on costly adventures, he debased the currency, declined the prosperity of Florence by heavy taxes (particularly on non-Black Nobility properties) which led to a decline of the city-state.

For all that, the Medicis were recognized as the greatest patrons of the Renaissance, which led to the mostly brilliant development of such as the work of Botticelli, Donatello, Verrochio, Michelangelo and Massacio, indeed a paradox. Does that not sound somewhat like Mr. Clinton, who has engaged in numerous foreign adventures, using the state's money, and yet he remains “popular” with the people who do not want to dispense with his services.

In any event, the Venetian bankers remained the power brokers and it may be safely deduced that, over the next two centuries, their influence and power spread throughout Europe and led eventually to the goldsmith bankers of London and the establishment of central banking in the form of the Bank of England, without which it would have been impossible to wage the First World War. By the time the First World War ended, international central banks had become well established.

The City of London became for England what Venice was to the Black Nobility bankers. The rise of City of London banking dynasties, similar in nature and make-up to the Venetian Black Nobility bankers, was very similar to that of their Venetian cousins, and they, too, began to make a place for themselves in history. The Rothschilds, Schroeders, Barings, Warburgs, Lazard Freres, Kleinworts, Bensons, Hambros were to assume a place in power and control of the destinies of nations which has given rise to some of the most corrupt actions of the British and American governments, culminating in the situation today, where the United States is barely one step removed from a dictatorship.

During the 16th century, Jacob Fugger financed the Hapsburg Empire under Charles V, and made a huge fortune in so doing. His family had done extensive trade in silver, gold, and wool, with the Venetian Black Nobility and their “banchi di scritta”. Today, Jacob Fugger would be described as the head of one of the largest “Fortune 500” companies, or a City of London Merchant Banker of the caliber of the Barings. Jacob Fugger was once described as “the fourth greatest power of Europe” because of his behind-the-scenes control of the Hapsburgs. The Barings have been described as “the sixth greatest power in Europe” for the same reason that they control so many powerful people who run the affairs of nations.

The Rothschilds have been described on more than one occasion as “the first great power of Europe, more powerful than kings, princes and popes”. The Rothschilds have played a devastating role in the history of America—just as the Black Nobility played a tremendous role in the European world, one which it plays more than ever, today.

The contempt of the Black Nobility of Venice for the ordinary people of Europe is mirrored in American history by the contempt the Rothschilds feel for the ordinary American. The Rothschilds showed that contempt for ordinary Americans, for the Founding Fathers, for the hopes and aspirations of the American people to become a great, fair, and just nation (as epitomized by Washington in his Farewell Address to this nation) through actively, systematically, seeking to destroy all those hopes and plans.

Their servant, Colonel Edward Mandel House, mirrors the contempt of the Rothschilds for the American people. The Rothschilds controlled President Wilson through House. He never bothered to hide his contempt for the ordinary American people. When Wilson was going to be a candidate for President of the United States, it was Rothschild, Warburg, and Lazard Freres money that put their representative in the White House.

House mirrored the contempt the Rothschilds felt for the ordinary American people, whom he once described as “dolts”, who could not see that it was the Rothschilds and the group of “affable anarchists”—led by House—who had elected Wilson, and not them. House showed his contempt for the American people when he sailed for England on the very day that Wilson was nominated as the Democratic candidate for the presidency at the Democrat Convention in Baltimore, 1912. “I feel no need to watch the proceedings,” House said. On his arrival in Europe, House told a gathering of Fabian Socialists and members of the RIIA (Royal Institute for International Affairs)—which audience included delegates from the Barings, Seligmans, Rothschilds, and Lazard Freres, et al.: “I was confident that the American people would accept Wilson without question.” And so it happened.

House mirrored the hatred and contempt of the Rothschilds for the Constitution, a hatred so venomous that they did not hesitate one moment to plunge America into a terrible civil war—from which war they reaped great social and monetary gain. Truly, the Venetian “bancheri” with their “banchi di scritta” could not have done better. And so Wilson was used as a tool to promote their hatred of the Constitution, first through his attack on the tariff barriers which had made this nation great, second, by the imposition of income tax, third by the conscription of our young men to fight a war in Europe in which the US should never have been involved, and finally, by passage of the 17th Amendment.

And so it was with Roosevelt, himself a banker's banker who, like Wilson, was elected by the Rothschilds and their fellow merchant-bankers to do their will, right on to William Jefferson Clinton, who was elected by the same group of bankers for exactly the same purposes as Wilson and Roosevelt. The Rothschilds have shown their contempt for the American people in the current impeachment proceedings. They have told the political leaders of this country, in effect: “A decision has been made to keep the services of Mr. Clinton, and nothing you can do will be allowed to change that.”

This is the first part of a Special Report on “The History Of Banking, Its Relationship With Secret Societies, And Its Role In Modern Times” which will be available in March 1999, together with “A Rogues Gallery of Traitors”.

A Message From Oracle, Shaman Of The Mayan People

Editor's note: We feel deeply honored that Oracle has asked to share the following message with all of you. This accomplished spiritual leader and healer feels strongly that this publication is THE most important conduit for reaching those who are seeking Truth, and plans to share other messages in the future, as such are revealed to him for this purpose.

The picture which accompanies this writing Oracle has asked that we share with you. There is no way in newspaper technology and black-and-white rendering that we can do justice to this photograph, "taken in 1997, in the seventh month, on the seventh day, at 7 a.m." according to Oracle, in a forest in the Southwestern United States. Oracle says that "something" made him stop during a hike and take the shot of a particularly inviting grove of trees. However, when the photo was developed, there was present, standing out in front of the trees, a subtle Light-image projection of a large Phoenix bird, with rainbow-colored "feathers" outstretched. The color image is awesome in its subtlety, with the details of the colorings and textures of the "feathers of Light" becoming apparent only upon closer study of the photo. We hope to offer you color print copies of the original color negative of this photo at a later time.

5/30/99 ORACLE

In the beginning, way before the Earth was created, a plan was formatted as to how our planet would evolve throughout the centuries. As we approach the year 2000, in this moment and hour of human evolution, the lives of human beings are being heavily manipulated by religion, government, the media, science, etc. We see how they assume positions of power to continue manipulating our lives on the path to destruction.

To reach for something greater than what we are able to express directly through our lives is the dream of mankind. To see more than our eyes can see or our mind can imagine has been an impossible dream. That is why we have Spiritual Guides who, from time to time, enlighten us with their messages of love, knowledge, and direction.

To me, my Spiritual Guide is called Pacal. Many of you know him as Commander Hatonn. He came from the stars and changed the lives of my people, the Mayans. The world refuses to accept this truth, but the scientific world verified the imprints left behind around the Mayan cities, where seemingly "impossible" achievements were created.

Some of these accomplishments include the engineering of the drainage system in the Mayan cities that to this date cannot be duplicated with all our modern technology. Also of note is the way the Mayans have cultivated and harvested the land, producing papayas as big as watermelons, and other bounty of astonishing measure. The Mayan culture has been able to keep illnesses such as cancer away from their people. As well there is the marvelous design and construction of massive pyramids and other structures of great curiosity. I could go on and on, but that is not the point.

I am known as Oracle, Shaman of the Mayan tribe. To some I am a messenger. Through my visions I receive messages from Pacal (Hatonn) that I must relate to my fellow brothers and sisters throughout the world.

Many moons have passed by since I received the urgent message that said: "You must travel to the North, where you will meet people who believe in me and have been deceived by messages that have come from the Dark side."

After several years, about three months ago, I met a wonderful spirit, a free soul, who expressed to me a great concern over a situation which she had experienced that almost destroyed her life and the life of her family. It was then that I realized I was about to be faced with my mission.

Shortly after that, I learned about Doris and E.J. Ekker, and immediately Pacal spoke to me. I knew that I had to do everything within my power to stop these people who have used his name to gain power, position, and money from innocent people who are on a path of seeking The Truth.

Throughout these writings, I am offering you a window that has opened to bring you a message that begins like this:

"You must remember, love is not getting, but giving. Within the framework of the wonderful, spiritual Laws of the Universe, the most important things are created for mankind so that man may evolve and reach a way of life where happiness, freedom, love are the foundation of life at a higher level.

"I do not work in all the hearts alike, but according to the preparation and sensitivity that I find in each of you. I am not accepted by a mind that has been corrupted by an overindulgence in the pleasures of the flesh, such as the greed, money, and power that has spoiled the hearts and minds of mankind for centuries.

"I am ashamed that my name and my message has been used in vain by the Ekkers. We must not pass judgement on their wrongful actions. We must not judge them, as the path of chaos and self destruction has taken its toll on them. The laws of the land and Higher Law are matters they will have to face sooner or later, as they cannot continue harming innocent people.

"But there are more important things that we must address. The time is coming wherein we must prepare for the cleansing of the planet. In the midst of these deep changes, we must repair all the damage that we have inflicted upon ourselves, upon each other, and upon our precious Mother Earth.

"We will move throughout the changes more easily if we are able to see the road upon which we are traveling. This is accomplished by stilling yourself and listening within to the Voice of your heart.

"Many will suffer as they believe that nothing will happen, that our monetary system will not collapse, computers will continue working without any problems, our food supplies will never end, the waters will not be polluted by dangerous bugs and nuclear wastes, etc. These are hearts hardened from hearing by fear, ignorance, and greed.

"Those who have any sense to see and heart to feel, they are already receiving my messages about the preparations that must be made now. The ones who will remain to live in a new world, free of hate, war, pollution, and technology no longer misused, must prepare without fear for these changes.

"A new era will open up, and all those who find value in the messages that come through their heart-soul connection will enjoy a new world wherein Harmony and Love will prevail."

This was the message that I received from Pacal (Hatonn).

I am Oracle, medicine man of the Mayan people. I have chosen this new publication in which to share this message of Pacal (Hatonn). I send this message with all my love and my blessings to my fellow brothers and sisters throughout the world.

A New Menace Is Stalking Europe: It's The U.S.

Editor's note: The following is from the 4/4/99 issue of The Boston Globe (page A27) and is brought to our attention courtesy of Calvin Burgin <wrldline@texas.net>. It is important background in conjunction with Ray Bilger's article on Yugoslavia directly following this article.

4/4/99 BOSTON GLOBE

A new menace is stalking Europe, threatening to plunge the entire continent into a devastating war. Its leaders espouse the geopolitical ideas of Nazism and the tactics of Hitler. And for damning proof of its existence, all one need do is look at what is happening in Yugoslavia.

What is the name of this evil? If you guessed "ethnic cleansing", guess again. Try "America".

That, at least, is the increasingly popular view shared by people in a wide swath of the planet stretching from Russia's pacific coast to the Balkans, where NATO's airstrikes against Yugoslavia have set off a virulent anti-American backlash.

The US-led alliance portrays its airstrikes as an effort to prevent Yugoslav President Slobodan Milosevic from carrying out a policy of repression and ethnic cleansing, or forced expulsion, of Albanians from the southern Serbian province of Kosovo.

But at Friday's antiwar concert attended by some 60,000 people in Salonica, Greece, the United States was the bad guy: President Clinton was compared in posters to Hitler; NATO was spelled out as "Nazi American Terrorist Organization"; and posters warned of "a new Vietnam" in Europe.

These were the same slogans at protests in Moscow last week, where a masked gunman tried to fire a rocket at the US Embassy and where an Alexander-the-Great impersonator fired an arrow at the American ambassador's residence. The same sentiments were evident in the former Yugoslav republic of Macedonia, on Cyprus, and in Slovakia, where American embassies have been pelted with eggs, paint, and debris in the past week.

The simplest explanation for the anti-US mood in these places is that many people in these countries sympathize with the Serbs because they share the Christian Orthodox faith. That certainly plays a role.

But the larger issue is that what the West perceives as "pax Americana", a time of peace and prosperity guaranteed by a responsible American superpower intent on spreading the wealth, people in parts of Eastern Europe seem to view as an effort at US world domination.

"We in the Balkans fought against the Nazis. Now we have to face an attack by the Americans," said Costantis Tripos, 42, a farmer who cultivates American sweet corn, during an all-night candlelight vigil in front of the American embassy in central Athens. The first American government was fighting for freedom. Now the Americans aren't fighting for freedom anymore. They try to dominate the world."

Naturally, this feeling is strongest where the bombs are falling in Belgrade. There, Serbs who waved American and European Union flags during pro-democracy protests against President Slobodan Milosevic two years ago are now singing patriotic Serb songs, waving Serbia's tricolor, and driving home the sense of betrayal trashing the Belgrade McDonald's and the American embassy.

Outside Serbia, the countries where the protests have been strongest are important to America in different ways. Greece, a NATO member, provides vital logistical support to the allied operations; equipment and supplies pass through Salonica, and in the event of a ground assault, so would NATO troops.

Macedonia, a candidate to join NATO, provides the alliance's troops with a foothold close to the Yugoslav border.

And Russia, which this decade has enjoyed an unprecedented partnership with NATO after a 50-year standoff, has been the West's most important post-Cold-War success story until the recent chill in relations.

In Russia, even the most liberal media refer to "the NATO aggression", and even the most staid officials, such as Foreign Minister Igor Ivanov, use Cold-War-style hyperbole to denounce the alliance's "barbarism". The negative feeling has spread throughout the country: A Siberian movie theater refuses to show American movies and replaces them with Yugoslav ones; Mormon missionaries from the United States are banned from the Pacific port of Vladivostok; a St. Petersburg institute director orders four visiting US professors off his premises.

When the Soviet Union collapsed in 1991, many Russians embraced the West, and America in particular. But disillusionment about America has been growing in Russia as the country's economic crisis deepens despite US political and financial support for the Kremlin's so-called market reforms. Although Russia's corrupt leadership and endless political battles are probably more responsible for the country's problems than anything the United States did, the perception here is that America failed Russia.

American officials say they expected an anti-American backlash in Russia, but they may not have expected it to run so deeply.

"We thought the United States was going to teach us to be a part of the civilized world, and help us become a wealthy democracy," said Vladimir Levin, a Moscow businessman. "But all America wanted was for us to be weak and dependent, so it could sell us its cheap goods and exploit our resources. And now we have America bombing Yugoslavia as a result, and we have to wonder if they will bomb us next. They would have never done that if we still were the Soviet Union."

In Macedonia, tensions have been growing since last Sunday's riot outside the US Embassy. The growing Slav backlash there is directed at the large influx of ethnic Albanian refugees in Kosovo, and threatens to spread the hostilities—another problem NATO and the United States may not have considered thoroughly enough before deciding to station troops there.

And when the US ambassador to Athens, Nicholas Burns, held several meetings with Greek foreign ministry officials, asking for support for the NATO campaign, it caused a furor in the country's parliament, where the American envoy's diplomacy was denounced as pressure.

"Mr. Burns comes and goes from the ministries like they were his home," said Communist Party deputy Dimitris Costopoulos during a heated exchange in parliament this past week.

But it is not just the politicians who are questioning the motives behind NATO's military attack. "On the eve of the 21st century, I'm distressed that we can't find another solution to the problem," said Tallye Maroulis of Tampa, who now lives in Greece. "I believe in America, and I am heartbroken that my country would behave in such a way."

David Filipov reported from Moscow; Toula Vlahou contributed to this report from Athens.

What's Happening in Yugoslavia

That We're Not Being Told?

5/27/99 RAY BILGER

For at least hundreds (if not thousands) of years the countries of Europe have fought with each other and have experienced their own internal revolutions and civil wars which do not appear to be subsiding any time in the near future. Yugoslavia, a sovereign nation with representation in the United Nations (that lofty sounding seat of the One World Government), is today experiencing its own internal civil war which, as a sovereign nation, it has every right to do, though we can suspect external manipulation behind the scenes, just as in our own U.S. Civil War.

In a world where populations have been increasing throughout our recorded history there is consequently to be expected a corresponding decrease in the amount of land and resources available to each person. Until we as a civilization can establish a stable-state society, this is something we will have to learn to live with. Of course, there is room enough for everyone, but not enough room for everyone to have the best piece of land, the choicest grazing land, the most productive land, or the parcel with the best view.

We here in the United States have experienced our own internal Civil War in the 1860s, and although the large international banking houses did finance both sides in that war (see my book, The Untold History of America, Vol. I), we did not have foreign military intervention ostensibly to help one side or the other.

Imagine if we were to experience an internal civil war today, and suddenly Russian jet fighters started a relentless bombing campaign on our cities, which forced us to flee to our borders with Canada and Mexico! Do you suppose you would welcome such a situation? Would we be expected to tolerate such madness? Well, that is what our military is engaged in almost unilaterally in Yugoslavia. Of the over 600 N.A.T.O. aircraft now flying over Kosovo, over 400 are from the U.S.!

The justification offered for the N.A.T.O. actions was the fact that in the 12-month period prior to the beginning of bombing on March 24 of this year, there were 2,000 people killed in Kosovo. Well, there were over 2,000 people killed in Tienemen Square in China in a single day and we are not bombing them. Thousands of African people have been systematically starved by their own governments or from fleeing guerilla fighting and we have not bombed over there. And in Cambodia

“It is just not credible that the United States can remain an oasis of prosperity unaffected by a world that is experiencing greatly increased stress.”

—Federal Reserve Board Chairman Alan Greenspan

millions of people were killed by the Khmer Rouge and we did nothing. So, there must be some other agenda at work here which we are not being told about.

There are numerous reports (none of which ever seem to reach the mainstream American media) that indicate that civilians did not begin to leave Yugoslavia until N.A.T.O (or the U.S.) began their relentless bombing campaign against basically innocent civilians. Is all of this the beginnings of World War III?

Our current civilization, or more precisely those who control the world's current civilization, have long used a formula of creating a crisis and then offering the solution to that crisis which, when properly designed and implemented, is a solution which the masses will eagerly accept, even if it means giving up our hard-won rights and freedoms. This is called crisis management. And those crises all to often employ military solutions to problems which cannot and should not ever be resolved militarily.

But when the agenda involves many different aspects and purposes, such as terrorizing the masses, justifying huge defense budgets, pitting one class, race, or group of people against another (divide and conquer), sending troops off to fight in foreign lands and kill other people who do not speak the same language (so that they are not on their own native soil where they might be needed), supporting or toppling a president or leader who is or is not following the New World Order (N.W.O.) plans, creating and maintaining favorable investment climates for the great multinational corporations, etc., etc., then those military operations play an important part in making us all think we are too small and too helpless to fight against our fate (unless or until we realize that we can create our own destiny).

Those favorable investment climates, for example, are always for maximizing profits by using the poor of third-world countries to produce products to be sold in the more affluent countries for high prices. To illustrate this point, Nike just announced in March of this year that it is raising the minimum wage for its Indonesian workers to a whopping $37 a month, which is equivalent to about one quarter of a pair of Nike's Air Jordans. Since there may not be any other job, and since this will give the worker just enough to possibly get a little food to eat, that wage ensures they will perpetually be working at the Nike factory (usually for long hours).

And, by the way, do you know the definition of Foreign Aid? Foreign Aid is when the poor people of a rich country give money to the rich people of a poor country! And there goes your tax dollars. Sad, but true.

The world stage today is a very active place and we are literally being bombarded from every direction with an overflow of information. This serves at least two obvious purposes. One, to present us with what we are to believe (propaganda), which rarely if ever includes any truth, and two, to give us conflicting information so that we remain confused and thus more easily controlled.

Many people, if not most, appear to be so confused that they believe the world situation is out of control. After the so-called collapse of the Russian economy last August, Japan's Asahi News reported on August 30, 1998: “The shockwaves triggered by Russia's financial crisis illustrate that governments are no longer able to control what is going on.” Really? Thus, the desired effect is being achieved by the N.W.O. controllers.

In an article by Henry Kissinger in the May/June 1999 issue of Foreign Affairs, the publication of the so-called “elite” controllers’ Council on Foreign Relations, Henry tells us: “A nation’s foreign policy inevitably reflects an amalgam of the convictions of its leaders and the pressures of its environment.” If only it were so simple. Of course, Henry knows that foreign policies are really determined behind closed doors in places such as the Council on Foreign Relations and have little-to-nothing to do with a nation’s (puppet) leaders.

We in the United States of America should not expect to remain isolated much longer from momentous world events. Federal Reserve Board Chairman Alan Greenspan said in a speech in Berkeley, California on Sept. 4, 1998: “It is just not credible that the United States can remain an oasis of prosperity unaffected by a world that is experiencing greatly increased stress.” That “greatly increased stress” now seems to be escalating on a daily basis to intolerable proportions.

Art Bell’s late-night talk-radio program was off the air a few months back, and was again off the air (or missing Art Bell as the program’s host) after the night of April 13, 1999, apparently because Art is becoming bolder about exposing the truth relative to what is happening in the world today. After about two weeks he did return, but he is now more often than not replaced by guest hosts. Is Art phasing himself out of the picture? Unfortunately, this may be the case because Art refuses to further conceal the everyday lies and deceit we are all expected to accept as fact from the mainstream media and our own government.

Art’s April 13 show was full of provocative pronouncements about the war in Kosovo and the possible beginnings of World War III, coming both from Art and from his astute guest, Jeffrey Nyquist. Art began the program by telling his audience, “I warn you, do not believe most of what you hear about the war, from our side and/or their side. Both sides are engaged in propaganda.... So, mind me when I tell you they lie. We lie. They lie. This is turning into a war, not a conflict. It’s not even a strike, it’s a war and that’s what we’re getting into.... They lied. The administration (in Washington, D.C.) lied. They’re lying over there, and we’re in another damn war. And it’s more of a war every single day.”

Stop for a moment and think about what has been happening in Yugoslavia, especially more recently. We’ve bombed trains with innocent civilians aboard and buses loaded with women and children, and bombed whole towns filled with innocent people. These are alleged to be accidents or mistakes! Do you believe that for one minute? Those who are overseeing this campaign of genocide (from behind the scenes) know exactly what they are doing. They are terrorizing the people through fear, and more importantly, they are engaged in depopulation as they numb us to it.

Other sources have also revealed that British and Israeli paramilitary death squads were brought into Kosovo to commit atrocities as a further justification for N.A.T.O. intervention. These paramilitary units wore black masks as they went from village to village killing innocent civilians. Remember hearing about the Serbians invading Albania? It is reported that this was actually the paramilitary units exiting Kosovo so they could never be identified. All of their actions were then blamed on the Serbs.

How about the bombing two weeks ago of the Chinese embassy in Belgrade, Yugoslavia? An accident? Our intelligence didn’t know the embassy had relocated? This is part of the plan to have us believe things are getting out of control, and that those who are supposedly in control do not know what they are doing. To ask us to believe such nonsense insults our intelligence.

All of our ambassadors in foreign countries, including Yugoslavia, are C.I.A. operatives, and our embassies are staffed with intelligence personnel. Remember, we are not in foreign countries on good-will missions; we are there to do such things as gather information to maintain favorable investment climates for the multinational corporations and international bankers. That includes paying-off any local politicians or national leaders to ensure certain policies or legislation are adopted. And almost all of our ambassadors are members of the Council on Foreign Relations (C.F.R.).

It seems more likely that we knew the Chinese embassy had moved, that we probably knew about it before they moved, that we knew exactly the day they moved, and that we probably even watched them move. So, why did we bomb their embassy? Was it perhaps strictly an act of provocation? Are we trying to force them into a wider war? When you realize that our One World Controllers are hell-bent on destroying the world as we know it and depopulating about 4 billion people, it doesn’t seem farfetched that we are seeing World War III unfold right before our eyes. And it is to be a nuclear war. No matter that the N.A.T.O. action goes against its own charter.

Anyway, back to Art Bell’s April 13 program. Art’s guest, Jeffrey Nyquist, didn’t come on until the second hour, and as Art often does in his first hour, he took telephone calls. A caller from Seattle, Washington related about information he had obtained from the Internet concerning mining and mining operations in Kosovo. He said, “I heard on the Internet about a huge mining complex in Kosovo.

Apparently the land alone around this area is worth somewhere in the neighborhood of about $2 billion dollars. And from what I’ve heard, from the coal and lignite and everything that comes out, it’s worth in the area of several trillion dollars they’re able to make off this. Apparently the Serbians count on this mining complex for the lignite which they use to supply their electricity. And I’ve noticed nobody in the media has talked about it.”

Art’s comment was, “Well, we have talked a little bit about the minerals that are there. Wars are always about money, sir.” And also about the control of land, resources, and populations. Have you heard any talk from the mainstream media about the control of resources in Kosovo as a reason for war?

Art then reread a statement he had made on April 1 that had stirred up considerable controversy. It said: “Though I do not agree in any way with what the Serbs are REPORTED to be doing, it is none of our damn business. The U.N. might make a case for intervention when one nation invades another (as a Libertarian, even that causes me pause). To bomb until the Serbs agree to change their internal policy is folly. Will we bomb for a few more days, weeks, months? Will we declare victory if they agree to talk? Will that end differences that have been festering longer than we have been a nation? If this is the New World Order, I want no part of it. If we must act beyond our own borders, then let us help those displaced by the madness. The real flow of refugees did not begin until our ‘goodwill bombing’ began. Is our next act to be American troops on the ground? Would you see your son or daughter die to change attitudes in Serbia?”

Even former president Jimmy Carter has now spoken out against the bombing. Mr. Carter said on Larry King’s program on C.N.N. that he “would very much like to see an end to the bombing in areas not involved in the fighting.” Subsequent comments by Mr. Carter have been even stronger and more direct.

Art then introduced his guest, Jeffery Nyquist, author of a book called Origins Of The Fourth World War. Mr. Nyquist also works as a columnist for Newsmax (www.newsmax.com). He has been an independent researcher on mass destruction weapons and state militarism for 11 years. He has published articles in the New American and the Conservative Review. He has just completed a series of speeches and lectures in 31 American cities.

Mr. Nyquist explains how and why Russia has been planning a surprise attack against the United States. He believes this attack will come sooner rather than later, quite possibly within the next year, especially if we continue on our present course. Russia is currently engaged in a full mobilization for war and has just called up a quarter-of-a-million troops, making their army five times larger than ours.

Mr. Nyquist immediately proceeded to point out that every Russian leader in the past 50 years has threatened global war, but not like they are doing today. He pointed out that Russian President Boris Yeltsin just made the statement, "I told N.A.T.O., the Americans, and the Germans, don't push us toward military action. Otherwise there will be a European war for sure and possibly a world war."

Mr. Yeltsin also said about putting troops in Kosovo: "They want to bring in ground troops. They are preparing for that. They want simply to seize Yugoslavia to make it their protectorate. We cannot let that happen to Yugoslavia. I repeat again, Russia will not get involved if the Americans do not push us."

Mr. Nyquist then pointed out the fact that the Russians have mobilized their naval units and have called up 170,000 new recruits—a draft of 18 to 27 year olds.

Art then asked, "Why has this news not made it to the regular media outlets. I mean 170,000 troops—that should make the nightly news. Why has it not?" Jeffrey responded that Reuters and A.P. (Associated Press) have been pretty good about covering it, but that the major newspapers and television news just don't pick it up. "Perhaps it is because we don't take the Russians seriously."

When Mr. Nyquist says that we do not take the Russians seriously, he appears to be inferring that our government in Washington, D.C. functions independently from the One World Controllers hell-bent on destroying and depopulating the world. However, we do not have a government that functions independently from the World Controllers. The perception that is generated from Washington is one that would lead the average person to believe that we have a government that functions independently, but that is not the case in reality. The reason this is not covered by the mainstream media is because there is another agenda at work, and the average person is simply kept ignorant of it.

Bill Clinton is a puppet and he knows all too well that if he were to even think about really doing something on his own that was at variance from the agenda he is fed (such as perhaps speaking a bit of truth), he would die of a heart attack overnight, or his jet plane, Air Force One, would blow up, or some other "accident" would end his political career and maybe his life!

Art then asked Jeffrey what are Russia's capabilities and intentions. Jeffrey said: "Their navy has been modernized—more modern, quieter submarines—more deadly. They have created a new generation of road-mobile I.C.B.M.s. They deployed a regiment of them in December [1998]. These have a trans-antarctic attack capability. That means instead of attacking America over the North Pole, they could come up under the South Pole and come up behind our radar. They have an extensive anti-ballistic missile system. These are first strike weapons, not defensive weapons."

He continued: "The first thing you do when

Nuclear war may be inevitable, however, because there appear to be dark, evil forces that must clash with each other in order to consume themselves. Would you want to stop them from doing so?

you attack a country is you blind its sensors. They would use particle-beam weapons or lasers to blind our D.S.T. satellites, or they could attack the ground relay stations that carry the signals from the satellites. So, all we would know is that our radars weren't working and that there was some kind of terrorism in the United States. We would not launch until we could see an attack coming, and they would be sure to make sure we couldn't see it. And all they have to do is create 30 minutes of confusion and they can get an attack in."

Mr. Nyquist also reported that the entire country is ringed with 10,000 to 12,000 highly effective anti-ballistic missiles which would stop any missiles that we might try to send into

Russia.

Of even greater concern, Mr. Nyquist went on to say that the Russians truly believe that a nuclear war is not only possible, but winable, and would not necessarily leave a lot of nuclear fallout. "Russian military theory is very clear on this. Nuclear war is not the end of the world and, of course, they are scientifically correct. There is no such thing as a nuclear winter. That theory has been done away with for more than a decade. No serious scientist would maintain it."

So, we see that nuclear war is not really an unrealistic option. The Russians have very clean bombs that are designed to kill great numbers of people without significantly polluting the environment. Their objective is to win a nuclear war, not to pollute the planet. One week after the bombing soldiers can march into the area.

Mr. Nyquist told Art's audience to look at his recent articles on Newsmax at http://www.newsmax.com/articlesby.shtml?byline=J.R._Nyquist, and see for yourself the disturbing findings of his research over the past several months.

A poll was recently taken in Russia which showed that two-thirds of the Russian people believe that Russia will be attacked by N.A.T.O.

The Untold History Of America

by Ray Bilger

This book shatters the image that has traditionally been portrayed as American History, by exposing the high-level corruption that passes for business as usual in the Halls of Congress, the White House and throughout our entire Judicial system.

The Untold History Of America* was written for the specific purpose of providing a high school textbook for all American schools that would educate students about the real nature of our national situation. With a clear understanding of things as they exist in reality, students will then be in a much better position to go on in life and do something to correct our current downhill course.

This book is for those who want to know why America is the way it is today, where we went wrong, who are the responsible parties, and what we can do to bring back the American Dream our forefathers and mothers fought so hard to establish and gave their very lives to defend.

Special emphasis is placed throughout the book on the original inhabitants of America, the Native Americans. They lived for thousands of years on this continent in complete harmony and balance with the Earth. With their help we may yet be able to turn things around so that our tomorrows will be something we will all be honored to pass on to the children who are our future generations.

The first 16 parts of Ray Bilger's ongoing research are compiled into the book:

The Untold History Of America, Vol. 1.

Now available from Wisdom Books & Press for:

$10. plus $3.50 S/H = $13.50 U.S.

Outside U.S. $10. S/H = $20.

Please see order form on Back Page next. And, there was recently a big march in Moscow and the banners that were being carried called for all-out war against N.A.T.O. The scariest banner carried by the marchers said "IT'S TIME TO START BOMBING THE MILITARY BASES IN THE UNITED STATES." It appears that the "Great Satan" is becoming less popular every day. Russia considers Yugoslavia like a little brother and is fully prepared to protect it.

Now for some information which should cause even greater concern. Jeffrey said: "Russia and China have now aligned themselves. They are sharing all intelligence with each other. They demilitarized their common border last year. Russia pulled 300 combat units off the Chinese border. The Chinese pulled a similar number off the Russian border. This is the most tremendous shift in the global balance of power since World War II."

He continued: "When Henry Kissinger went to China in 1971, China was not a world power, but it is a world power now." He said if you do not have access to the Internet you can dial 1-800-NEWSMAX. "Russia and China have now brought India and Iran into their alliance, and, of course, Syria and Iraq are there already. So, you have this massive block of countries ready to move."

Mr. Nyquist then showed how we have at the same time weakened our defenses. "We're down from 37 Air Force wings to 13. Our Navy has gone from 541 ships down to 339. We're down to only 10 Divisions in our Army. Unless we have a massive mobilization, we could not prevail on all those fronts."

If you have fully comprehended all of what has been said herein, you no doubt find all of this very disturbing. This article was not intended to be pleasing information—it is intended to inform and enlighten us to the real possibilities we face in the very near future. If the knowledge about these disturbing possibilities awakens within us a commitment to do something about this situation to prevent a nuclear war, then it will have served an important purpose. This is very serious and should not be taken lightly.

Nuclear war may be inevitable, however, because there appear to be dark, evil forces that must clash with each other in order to consume themselves. Would you want to stop them from doing so? If this is the case, then it might be wise for us to prepare for such an eventuality, because nuclear war is survivable.

Dead people do not serve any great purpose in Creator's plan for the future of this planet. Creator needs living, breathing human beings in this three-dimensional play, ones who can function as tools to implement HIS mission of transitioning this planet out of darkness and into LIGHT. How long each of us stays within the physical game does determine to a considerable extent whether or not we will be able to perform and function down here as tools for Creator.

If we are to have a better world, then we will create it as co-creators with the ONE who put us here—the ONE in whom we live and move and have our being. No one else can or will do it for us. If it will be done, we must do it, together.

The SPECTRUM

"Achieve the wisdom of knowledge of Truth, as this will enable you to wisely follow the Laws of The Creation."

———— A WISDOM BOOKS & PRESS PUBLICATION ————

SUBSCRIPTION ORDER FORM

NAME: _____ DATE: _____
 ADDRESS: _____
 CITY: _____ STATE: _____
 ZIP: _____ PHONE: _____
 CREDIT CARD # _____ EXP: _____
 SIGNATURE: _____

(WE ACCEPT VISA, DISCOVER AND MASTERCARD ONLY)

Please make Check or Money Order in U.S. Funds Only
 Payable to: The SPECTRUM
 Thank You!

SUBSCRIPTIONS
Single Subscriptions						Quantity Subscriptions
QTY		U.S.	U.S. w/ENVELOPE	CAN/ MEX	FOREIGN	TOTAL	QTY		10 copies	25 copies	50 copies	100 copies	TOTAL copies
	13 ISSUES	$35	$45	$45	$50			13 ISSUES	$100	$130	$165	$280
	26 ISSUES	$65	$85	$85	$95			26 ISSUES	$195	$255	$325	$550
	52 ISSUES	$120	$160	$160	$180			52 ISSUES	$385	$505	$645	$1,100

9101 West Sahara Ave., Suite 105-158
 Las Vegas, NV 89117
 toll free 1-877-280-2866
 email address: thespectrum@tminet.com

What Has Happened Since The CONTACT Lock-Out? An Update For SPECTRUM Readers

5/18/99 RICK MARTIN

When you last heard from us, Dr. Ed Young, Rick Martin, Gail Irwin, and the rest of the CONTACT staff had been locked-out of their offices on the evening of March 24. A lot has happened since then, and while we prefer to not dwell on the events over the last few months, many of you have voiced concern about the diabolical antics that have taken place, and still more have expressed great anxiousness about the birthing of The SPECTRUM. In response to your requests for answers, and now that we are finally free of a legal blockage that literally prevented us from communicating with each of you, a brief delineation of facts and events in newsworthy format may now be put forth. [Editor's note: "Newsworthy" implies we have proof of our facts; they are not idle or vindictive allegations or, as some stretch same, outright lies. This is what separates legitimate—if unflattering—news about people and situations from purposefully libelous and slanderous pronouncements, which are punishable through both state and federal law.]

On April 7, under the direction of E.J. and Doris Ekker, CONTACT, Inc. and Phoenix Source Distributors, Inc. (Plaintiffs) filed a lawsuit against Edwin Young, Gail Irwin, Rick Martin, Charles Neil, Brent Moorhead, Wisdom Books & Press, Inc., and Does 1-XX (Defendants) in Case A401583 in the District Court, Clark County, Las Vegas, Nevada. Immediately after filing this suit, which notably was not physically served on most of the Defendants until several weeks later, there was what is referred to as an ex-parte hearing for a Temporary Restraining Order. None of the Defendants were aware that this hearing took place (ex-parte means without the other side present), and a Temporary Restraining Order against Wisdom Books & Press, Inc. and The SPECTRUM was put into place.

This Restraining Order prohibited us from "further communicating in any manner whatsoever with persons disclosed on such mailing list pending the hearing on the preliminary injunction..." and was itself a remarkable example of the deterioration (and "inside" manipulation) of the judicial system in that, under the First Amendment, restraining a newspaper from publication is a serious matter and not something to be granted in such a cavalier manner as was done. Meanwhile, the lawsuit itself was inflated with numerous causes of action against the Defendants, including "misappropriation of trade secrets", "libel", "malicious conduct", "deceptive trade practice", "intentional interference with contractual relations", and "intentional interference with prospective economic advantage".

On April 15, Edwin Young, Rick Martin, Gail Irwin, Norey Latona, and Charles Neil (Plaintiffs), filed an "in pro per" lawsuit against CONTACT, Inc., Phoenix Source Distributors, Inc., Continental Developers, Inc., Global Alliance Investment Association, Unlimited Movement, Inc., New Gaia Products, Inc., the Phoenix Institute For Research & Education, Ltd., E.J. Ekker, Doris Ekker, Diane Echert (Kunick), Ron Kirzinger, Ellene Stratton, Bruce Tracy, Corporations 1-XX, Does 1-XX, (Defendants) in Case A401924 in the same District Court, Clark County, Nevada. This case included many legitimate causes of action against the Defendants, including "libel", "slander", "defamation", "interference with livelihood and advantageous business relationships", and "breach of contract". Defendants were physically served with the suit on April 16.

Obviously, this much stressful legal activity required tedious document gathering, reconstruction of events, and many discussions leading to the finished product. Add to this mix the necessity of finding new office space for The SPECTRUM, getting the offices physically ready for occupancy (paint, carpeting, office furniture, supplies, etc.), purchasing and programming of computers, selecting and installing a new phone system—well, you get the idea; in a word, we've been very, very busy.

And contrary to the ongoing, unconscionable flood of libelous commentary from the Ekkers, this new office has been made possible, not through the stealing of funds (or anything else) from CONTACT, but through generous financial help from SPECTRUM supporters, to whom we are extremely grateful and literally indebted. As we stated in the bright yellow Special Invitation order blank for a free copy of the Premier Issue of The SPECTRUM, that was included in our last "CONTACT Staff Locked-Out" issue of CONTACT on March 26: "This gift has been made financially possible through some very generous and supportive donors. These ones wish to see The Light of Truth continue to shine forth, for the benefit of all Lightworkers and Ground Crew everywhere, who thirst for Insight and effort toward lending a helping hand at this most exciting time of planetary transition."

As we also mentioned in our last edition of CONTACT, and we again mention here for the record, the mailing address for The SPECTRUM is: 9101 W. Sahara #105-158, Las Vegas, NV 89117. Our toll-free telephone number is: 877-280-2866.

Let it be made very clear that, unlike our legally "bound and gagged" situation during these past months, Doris and E.J. Ekker (and associates) have not been restrained from putting out their unique version of events. To say that they took advantage of this opportunity to paint often self-contradictory (to the discerning reader), grossly fictional panoramas, laced with vitriolic and legally libelous tirades against all of us, is a restrained understatement of the facts. This one-sided broadcasting of propaganda has understandably created some confusion in the minds of our readership. However, many clues have presented themselves for the discerning observer and, in the Larger Picture of schoolroom Earth lessons, we should all be thankful for such exquisite (if seemingly painful or tedious) testing of our growth in awareness and discernment.

Many weeks ago our dear Marina (of Native American ancestry, who is now answering the SPECTRUM telephones when you call), in typically succinct style, said: "Why, you'd have to be DEAD not to see all the clues!" when referring to the dark energies overshadowing Doris Ekker's so-called "Hatonn" writings for some long time. From the feedback we have received from approximately one thousand of you, it is clear that while many of you can differentiate the telltale clues of Darkness or Light, some cannot or will not—and that is their choice.

One particularly ridiculous example of legally libelous fiction put out under the banner of the "new" CONTACT, and written personally by Doris and E.J. Ekker, accused Gail Irwin and me of sending bombs through the mail to the Philippines from Las Vegas and, as if that wasn't enough, of stealing books from the Las Vegas warehouse of Phoenix Source Distributors—at the precise time Gail and I were north of San Francisco, visiting my brother and his family! (For those interested, we even have travel receipts, photographs, and witnesses to prove it.) This one example is so far from the truth that the question begs to be asked: Just how many other similar examples of blatant "creative truth-telling" must there be? Indeed, serious questions of accountability and the breaking of state and federal libel and slander laws exist, if we become inclined to pursue further legal actions.

On this subject of testing and discernment, there was one thing we all noticed: Why has it been that no one approached any of us to ask if these accusations were true? How convenient (and lazy) to simply accept such irresponsible pronouncements as fact, just because they are stated with the skill of the professional at such deceptive manipulation. The lessons and testings in discernment have been so intense these past few months as to stagger the sensibilities, not to even mention the increased need for Lighted and discriminating reading of recent material being put forth by these "masters of illusion".

But in the midst of all this, on a more positive note, there are some pearls within the muck. One such pearl came to be on April 17, when Gail Irwin and I were married in a small, private ceremony. This was certainly a bright light amidst the swirling darkness of events at that time. Some of you readers will smile and nod in appreciation of the recognition of some kind of "balance" in the flow of events related to the Larger Picture of this play.

Returning for a moment to another one of the Ekkers' libelous assertions—the issue of accusing us of stealing books from the Las Vegas warehouse of Phoenix Source Distributors—Dr. Pierre Cloutier of America East Publishers & Distributors (the actual owner of the books in question, WISDOM OF THE RAYS: The Masters Teach, Vol.I) had this to say in a letter dated April 1, 1999, which had been sent directly to Doris and E.J. Ekker and which left no room for the kind of "misinterpretation" that the Ekkers masterfully spin:

"It has been a long time since I have written you, and I certainly did not expect my first letter to be one lambasting your pitiful tactics. Here I speak of your latest whinings and attempts to seize property not belonging to you or Phoenix Source Distributors, the relevant documents reaffirming this having been faxed or read out to you from Nevada Corporate Headquarters.

"Am I to assume that such a request to forcibly seize another's property (i.e., theft) is conduct sanctioned by your 'Hatonn'? How foolish as I observe you subverting a truly magnificent building-up process of a once critically influential enterprise into a disaster zone erasing over a decade's work by engendering division, destruction, and chaos—trademark signs of the adversary at work!

"In a recent writing authored by your 'Hatonn', you remark that you are about to lose an important teammate. Perhaps. But what brought this on? It is not Ed Young's impeccable conduct that has made me 'turn against' you. You, yourselves, by ALLOWING the adversary a foothold, have brought this upon you. If, by this, your 'Hatonn' means I have left you for the adversary, then he is wrong. YOU are the adversary, and anyone who similarly behaves is no longer in my favor. I, along with most who you foolishly tear down, have unbending allegiance to God of Lighted Creation. We are not about getting caught up in playing favorites or taking sides. We are about 'our Father's business' and getting The Word out is—do you remember?—the principal focus, or should be, for all of us. And yes, the SPIRITUAL TRUTH is THE ONE aspect that needs the greatest possible emphasis as it is the most lacking in the world.

Therefore, the WISDOM volumes, which you take a certain relish in ridiculing lately, stand out as the finest and most articulate collections of Truth currently being offered on the planet—and THAT is a big enough incentive for America East to be publishing such books at this time, rather than supporting your fruitless MISGUIDED ventures that are—and have been for quite a while—A MAJOR DISTRACTION to the greater goal of Higher Information Dispersal."

To further emphasize his valid, legal position as owner of the WISDOM volumes, in no uncertain legal terms, in an affidavit from Dr. Cloutier dated April 9, 1999, which he wrote in preparation for the legal battle then being waged against us, he stated:

"It is therefore sheer nonsense for the Ekkers to incriminate, in any way, shape, or form, Rick Martin or Gail Irwin or Brent Moorhead or Dr. Ed Young for what was a legitimate business decision and action prompted, need I say it again, by irrational and untrustworthy behavior on the part of the Ekkers in recent months. Doris/Hatonn and E.J. Ekker's vindictive, erroneous allegations toward the above persons are thus strenuously objected to by America East Publishers. I, Dr. Pierre Cloutier, hereby personally testify to each aforementioned person's irreproachable professional conduct and above-board business relations, enjoyed over a period of several years."

Enough said on that particular subject. For those of you who were receiving the Ekkers' propaganda through email or other routes, we can definitely document a severe distortion of fact in their outlay. One is left to consider if this behavior is simply irrational, due to compromised mental functioning, or calculated and purposeful, to advance a more sinister agenda. In either case, we again emphasize the serious nature of the infractions against libel laws at both state and federal levels.

At some time we hope to tell you more of the astonishing details of the Angels who have watched over us as we walked this bumpy road. They came in many forms and from many directions, quietly and seemingly out of nowhere. None were more colorful or competent than the legal counsel which came to our rescue when, early on in the outlay of

Dixon, Truman & Kelleher
Attorneys at Law

Ronald W. Truman

Attorney at Law

3811 West Charleston Boulevard, Suite 112

Las Vegas, Nevada 89102

telephone (702) 821-1821

Utah office (435) 688-1505

facsimile (702) 259-9759

the nasty attack upon us, it became clear that we required professional legal counsel.

It was through the guided efforts of a gifted Mayan shaman (no kidding!), who entered the picture at, literally, the perfect time, that we became connected with an exceptional Las Vegas attorney, whom we recommend highly and without reservation. His name is Ronald W. Truman of Dixon, Truman & Kelleher (phone 702-821-1821; see insert on previous page). Thanks to his efforts and ongoing negotiations with the attorney of Doris and E.J. Ekker, etc., a mutually agreeable settlement has been reached and filed with the court, and both suits have now been dropped. As was said earlier, the Temporary Restraining Order has been lifted, giving us the right to communicate directly with you. In order to continue to receive The SPECTRUM, beyond this free Premier Issue, you will need to call or write to us to subscribe. We are providing both an insert flyer and an information box elsewhere in this paper to facilitate that subscribing process.

Your responses to our offer for the Premier Issue of The SPECTRUM were overwhelming. Here are just a few excerpts from some of the wonderful flood of letters which accompanied your Order Forms:

"I did notice, looking back, that Doris Ekker's personal articles did seem to become a little more rambling. I did notice a decrease in energy, a fuzziness might be a good way to describe it.

"I received a CONTACT from Doris and E.J. Ekker. After reading some of their writings, I skipped to 'Hatonn'. Yikes! And the black cloud got bigger and bigger. I stopped reading."—M.M.

"I humbly add my support to Dr. Young, Rick Martin, and all who have striven so valiantly over the past couple months to preserve the spiritual writings in the CONTACT newspaper. And I add my prayers to so many others that the Ekkers, such wondrous and faithful servants of God for so many years, will find their way back to His loving embrace.

"May God keep you all beneath His Shield of Light, Love, and Protection. Thank you for everything you have done in His name for so long"!—S.J.

"I, too, had noticed the decline in significant information, particularly from Hatonn, in the last couple months.

"When your 'work-buster' issue [of March 15] arrived, I read all 44 pages.

"My first thought was that perhaps Dharma and E.J. have been replaced. After all, we know from the tremendous work of Dr. Beter that the technology has been in active use for over 20 years now."—K.J.

"I am sending you my support and want to congratulate you and the rest of the former CONTACT staff for the stand that you took. It must have been painful to be locked-out of what I've come to know as God's workshop."—C.H.

"I read the letters printed in the 'paper' they (Bruce and Diane) sent out to subscribers, and the writing from 'Commander Hatonn' had no Light at all. I feel bad for the Ekkers, scared even, but as Sananda said, they need Light even more now. There was no mention at all about giving Light to the 'thieves' or forgiveness, etc., in the writings from the Ekkers, which to me is a clear give away that they are not of the Light."—R.M.J.

"Must not forget to add that I'm so glad you are putting all the spiritual letters in from Soltec, Sananda, St. Germain, Aton and Hatonn....

"To me, when E.J. and Doris said what they did, it proved their color in the end. Even Satan comes as an angel of Light."—T.V.

"The changing of the locks and the crazed individual snapping pictures—is an extremely predictable dark-ego behavior; I have witnessed it before, very typical.

"All of you should be proud of yourselves, as I am of you. You did all the right things in behavior and attitude through all of this and were totally open and honest with us about the happenings."—Dr. C.M.

"Thought I'd write and see how the SPECTRUM is coming along, being as I haven't received anything. After reading the last CONTACT, I was worried about your lives as Doris really sounded like a crazy woman. My friends thought the same thing. I read it all the way through, not wanting to, but felt if I was to discern it all I had too. I was chewing nails when I got through, I was so upset. I really feel sorry for her and E.J. and do send them Love and Light. My friends couldn't finish it, they were so upset.

"We all feel you did the only thing you could have done and we stand behind you. We loved all the spiritual messages enclosed in the last few CONTACTs you were in charge of. We all were getting upset with her Hatonn messages for quite awhile. They just rambled on and I found quite a few contradictions. I didn't write them down, I would just say 'that's a contradiction'.

"I didn't know if you couldn't mail anything as they said something about using their mailing list, but I know those who wanted it sent to the address in Las Vegas, but didn't know if they had been confiscated so am enclosing mine and the few I know wanted your first issue sent. Hope your financing has come through. Thanks for keeping the faith and I hope they don't start a lawsuit against you as seems to be their path of revenge. May Hatonn and your Guardian Angels always be with you to guide and protect you." —M.J.

"I guess I inwardly noticed a change in Hatonn's messages for quite some time now. I would read a few paragraphs and, with a fleeting pang of guilt, pass it up for other articles. After thinking back and reflecting, the writing to me was disengaged and confusing, long-winded, without any clear message. Lately, I would pass up the messages altogether after a short glimpse. I didn't realize at the time what I was doing; it was like second nature. I thought you might find this interesting. I guess the inner-self knows when something is amiss."—M.L.

"I also received, via one in Tehachapi who seems to be on the opposite side, the 21st and 22nd Hatonn (Doris) writings. If anyone can't see the ego and dark force coming through, they had better go back and do some restudy.

"I've noticed for a long time now that the ego was coming through, hot and heavy. I cancelled the tapes because I couldn't take it any longer."—J.B.

And lastly, this:

"From the beginning of my acquaintance with your publications, about 10 years ago or so, I have been non-plused many times by the contradictory contents of Hatonn's messages.

The severe scolding and harangues that have been delivered in an unloving tone, and then usually within the same message the opposite switch to assurances of love, etc. I have contemplated dropping my subscription several times as I could not accept the 'putting down' of the very ones who are earnest enough in their seeking to be subscribers, by calling them stupid and several other uncomplimentary names. Therefore, I never accepted these portions as coming from an enlightened being, but there have been other features and articles in CONTACT that kept me going.

ROSE IS ROSE

By Pat Brady

“From the articles directly authored by Doris Ekker, I did note the similarity to those of Hatonn—the tremendous wordiness and harshness that would creep in, just as in Hatonn’s..

“It is heart-breaking to look back and recall the bitterness and harshness purportedly coming from Hatonn in speaking of past ones who, at one time, were lauded to the skies, and then, harshly condemned. I have never reconciled myself to this aspect of the Phoenix Institute and the CONTACT and always put it aside on that mental shelf of ‘non-understood’ items.”—C.M.

Needless to say, the insights shared through these letters (and hundreds others like them) give us all food for thought on the subject of discernment. Remember that we who were responsible for the contents of the paper were well aware that matters were reaching a noticeably deteriorated state as far as contributions from Doris Ekker were concerned. Remember also that the previously held back 9/28/96 writing from Commander Hatonn, shared in the March 15, 1999 issue on page 6, gently suggested that Doris have a rest or there would be troubles down the road. No one looking at the later developing situation objectively can argue with the accuracy of that message!

Meanwhile, on the home front it seems there has been a renewed interest in the activities of the Ekkers and their Phoenix Institute by Bakersfield (California) television KGET (NBC) channel 17 news. In a broadcast aired on May 13, titled Falling Of The Phoenix, reporter Rebecca Kline stated: “It’s been called everything from a crazy group to a cult. But now, former insiders claim the leaders are criminals. Imagine getting so hooked on an idea you give up your money, even sell your mother’s estate, and that is what one man said happened to him.”

One woman interviewed on the program said, “The meetings changed from what I call a spiritual and warm and loving-type meeting, to one of name-calling and threatening things, where people felt that everybody else was the bad guy because they wanted their money back.”

In the broadcast aired the following evening, May 14, reporter Rebecca Kline said: “A controversial Tehachapi cult is under fire tonight. This time, it is not because they believe that they communicate with a spirit living on a space ship.

“Insiders told me that, on the surface, the Phoenix Group looks to be spiritually driven—but peel back the layers, and they say that you’ll find a ‘divide-and-conquer-style’ operation.”

Ray Bilger, a former feature writer for CONTACT and now with The SPECTRUM, stated on the air: “E.J. kind of runs things as though he’s a king. He rules by decree. He tells somebody that ‘I want you to do this’ and you’re going to do this.”

Another woman interviewed on this program stated: “People will do what a leader tells them to do. And so, once you don’t need somebody to tell you what to do, then you become independent. And they were not interested in independent thinkers.”

In the meantime, after a recent visit home to Tehachapi, California, which was cut short by the call of “urgent business matters”, Doris and E.J. Ekker abruptly returned to the Philippines.

Turning to other matters, many letters to The SPECTRUM have inquired about funds sent to CONTACT or other Phoenix-related companies. All monies, whether for subscriptions, orders, etc., must be taken up with them. We, of course, have nothing to do with them. Recent false (legally libelous) allegations about us stripping accounts or stealing computers have been made without any basis in fact, and in reality are designed to divert attention away from what incompetence is in place to run things there. We could say much, much more of an unflattering nature and still keep within the legal context of documentable news, but we prefer to not drag this out. Much will undoubtedly come out in the public forum before all is said and done.

Obviously recent months have created many learning experiences for each of us. These have been hard lessons, and ones which have instilled an even deeper respect for the help we do receive from Above, if we but ask. It is time for us here at The SPECTRUM to put this episode behind us and move forward in honor of our chosen mission of disseminating The Truth to you of the interested reading audience. Unless the situation strongly warrants it, we will make a concerted effort to not revisit these issues in the coming editions of The SPECTRUM. Rather, we intend to focus on critical matters related to what lies in store for us in the months and years ahead. We will share many spiritual teachings with you, as well as many straight-reporting news stories. Heaven knows there’s enough going on under our noses every day that the regular controlled media won’t tell you.

It is our sincerest hope that you will join with us in our new venture here at The SPECTRUM and, by all means, if you have information or news that you feel should be shared with a wider audience, please send it to us. We promise to be more attentive to the need for communication, and please accept our belated apologies, for we have been unable to communicate about these matters until now.

We at SPECTRUM wish to focus our energies on positive and constructive change, on building and nurturing, on pulling together to bring you information that would not normally cross your path. There comes a time when moving on is the only wise choice, and that is exactly what we have done and are doing—moving on with our commitment to bring forth The Word so that the choices you make may truly be informed choices. This is the theme of the First Law of The Creation that is prominently displayed in our new masthead.

The SPECTRUM will embark on an exciting journey with you of the reading audience, a journey that will carry us to destinations as yet unknown, regions as yet unexplored. To journey forth IN TRUTH, we must first be free from the darkly motivated encumbrances which have held us back, stifled our ease of growth, and restricted the free flow of God’s bountiful Energy and Light. It is in this spirit of Growth (with a capital G) that we are pleased to invite you to participate with us in seeking out Truth—wherever it may take us.

Those who insist on the ways of poison pens and cutting tongues will reap their just rewards as surely as the Law of Return operates without fail throughout the entire Omniverse of universes. For our part, we shall always stand responsible for that which we do, that which we say, that which we are. And, when holding strong within the Shield of Truth, the chaff shall simply fall away from the nourishing wheat.

Meanwhile, for us, the entire Hosts of God stand ready to guide and to share with us their Wisdom and Insights, in keeping with the Warmth and Light of their accomplishments as Master Teachers here at this time of the Great Planetary Transition. We hope you feel the urge to join with us on this most excellent adventure!

CALVIN AND HOBBS

BY BILL WATTERSON

Soltec: Growth Comes From Understanding Of Truth

5/22/99 SOLTEC

Good morning, my friend. It is I, Ceres Anthonious "Toniose" Soltec, come in the Radiant One Light of Creator Source. Be at peace and be still.

You can see that there has been a Guiding Hand working through the various players on the playing field. Even the legal "wrinkles" have proven to be beneficial to you ones.

Proceed diligently with using these gifts for there are, indeed, good reasons why you were given them. Appreciate what has taken place and know there will always be this same Guiding Factor in your lives.

These more blatant examples are easier to see than are the more subtle ones. Just remember that this Guiding Hand is always a part of your growth experience, even when "things" don't seem to turn out the way you would like them to.

A course correction is never a pleasant experience to go through, for there is always the perception of wasted time and/or back-tracking. Know that it is far better to go through the experience of a course correction than to continue to "wander" in denial that an error has been made.

Doris will continue to generate confusion around her, and even her most loyal followers will begin to awaken to the blatant contradictions. Her Higher Self is now setting the stage for a very important growth experience, and though it will not be pleasant for her, it will be very beneficial for her soul growth.

Much Light is sent her way, and this is as it should be, for the benefit of all involved in this play. It is usually not until after ones pass from the physical experience that they realize the perfection of the so called "tragedies" in life. This is to say that ones often do not realize, while in the physical, that they deliberately create the seemingly negative conditions as much as the positive ones.

The Higher Self seeks growth through knowledge and understanding, and will generate conditions that satisfy this desire. Much like the way a scientist may destroy (sacrifice) a piece of equipment in an effort to explore uncharted areas, so too may you ones choose to experience "unpleasant" conditions which will cause you to stretch and grow beyond what limits you may consciously prefer.

Allow one another to their free-will choices, and learn to respect the choices of each, even if you disagree with them. All (each and every one) of you are creating your own reality, and therein creating your own opportunities to grow. Sometimes it is more productive to allow ones to touch the hot stove, and learn for themselves the wisdom of not doing so, than it is to lecture repeatedly on why one should not touch the hot stove.

Each of you can ONLY learn FOR YOURSELVES; no one can do it FOR you. Your Higher Self strives always to learn, and thus will continue to create the opportunities for even the most stubborn ones to eventually move forward in learning and growth.

The physical experience is one of unlimited possibilities and opportunities. You will eventually learn to master your environment and take deliberate conscious control over creating exactly what you want. The true answers are often directly opposite from what you have been trained to believe by those who would rather you stay ignorant to the creative process and to your inner ability to create exactly what you want. This is to say that many will have to completely change their thinking in order to understand and break free from the repetitive rut they are continually recreating.

Each of you are generating the necessary conditions in your lives so that this transformation can occur. You must be diligent in your seeking and willing to accept the idea that what you hold as truth today may be in error and, in many cases, the inverse of the true picture. Much like mathematical equations formulated to explain some phenomenon in physics, sometimes there is more than one equation that can be written which will seem to support the data at hand. However, upon closer inspection (further seeking), you will find that only one equation (way of looking at the problem) will hold true always, while others only hold true part of the time.

This is a critical time to keep your Light shielding up! Do not think for a moment that just because you have won a "battle" that all your "troubles" will go away. Wise travelers would still be shoring up their foundation, for often there is a calm in the midst of a storm as the eye of the storm passes over. The cycle is only passing through the "zero" point of the sine-wave that makes up the complete cycle.

The adversary does not let up, for he is a master gamesman and knows that the most opportune time to make his next move is when the guard is down and his unsuspecting opponents believe that the game is over and that they have already won. Be aware that there are great challenges ahead for each and every one of you, and though they may or may not seem to be related to events of recent past, be assured that they are and that you will be faced with challenges that will cause you to go within and make very personal choices that will determine your future participation in the mission at hand.

This is not a time for those who are weak of heart. Each of your weaknesses will be shown to you and you will be given an opportunity to strengthen and grow past your current perception of ability—or you will naturally choose a path of lesser challenge. Each of you will choose for yourselves, and each will have to carry your own "burden".

Again, the wise traveler will quickly determine and discard that which is of excess baggage so as to make the journey more pleasant and less tedious. Would it be wise to gather all of your gold coins and put them in your pocket during a flood? Likewise, would it be wise to cast away an inflatable life jacket because others might think you to be paranoid for even having one?

Truly wise people seldom walk the path of the masses. There will always be intersecting points, but rarely for any great length of time. This is often because these ones see their destination and know where they are heading. These ones will not be as easily distracted by the weightiness of the physical environment and all of its "trappings".

Again, I remind you ones that the only "thing" you take with you when you leave the physical environment is the knowledge and experience you have gleaned. All the rest is recycled into the ever evolving, ever expanding play of "life". Let not the distractions clutter your path or get in your way. Seek always to better yourself, to learn something new that you are interested in, and thus to explore the desires of your heart.

What is it that YOUR heart desires above all else?

Most will say something like “true happiness”. Well, true happiness is a byproduct of following your heart and fulfilling your intended purpose for coming into the physical in the first place. This may sound like we are “talking in circles” but the fact of the matter is that you find TRUE happiness in learning how to interpret the Guidance of the Heart Connection, and then following this Inner Guidance, thereby fulfilling your purpose.

One who is TRULY connected and following their heart will not ever find their life in some sort of “stagnation”. Growth is an integral part of your soul’s desire, central to fulfilling your purpose. One of the biggest problems you ones face is the challenge of “growing pains”—in that you often want to run away from those desires of the heart (Higher Self) which cause you to stretch and grow in directions your physical ego deems uncomfortable. In other words, following the heart rarely means taking the easy path—though ones frequently are tempted by that rationalization.

None of you came forth seeking to reinvent the same wheel, over and over again. Many of you have found it more comfortable to get into a relatively slow-paced, repetitive routine of living from day-to-day, simply waiting for “something” to “happen”. This will never garner you true happiness and is actually an escape from the challenge of truly living life.

Seek newness and you will find movement (growth through experience). With movement comes emotional feedback from within. Learn to monitor closely the sensations associated with movement. This will help you to decide for yourself which is the appropriate direction to take.

What is “right” for you may not be “right” for another. You may find that you are leaving behind longtime acquaintances and making new ones who are more in alignment with where you are heading. In doing so, you will not only find that you no longer feel stagnant, but also that you are setting an example for others to follow.

The path of the wayshower is one of movement and example to others. Each of you are teachers as much as you are students. You who are moved to read messages like this have gained enough experience to let go of the limiting beliefs that are generally taught to the masses, and you have, through very interesting routes, come to a point in your awareness that you can accept such things as the reality of we of the Hosts and our ability to bring forth this sort of message.

Look back upon the path you have walked in order to get to where you are this day. It not only prepared you for being able to accept concepts and beliefs that are away from the “norm”, but it has and is preparing you for the next step (movement forward)—and that is to apply more fully what you know and become an example to others.

As the larger events and resulting challenges of this Planetary Transition manifest in the physical, you each will have a very grand opportunity to share with others what you know. There is fast approaching a time when events will completely overwhelm the general masses.

Your planet is being systematically prepared to accept that you are not alone in the universe. There will be massive confusion generated because the so-called “elite” controllers (who dictate “reality” to so many) have done a wonderful job over the years of convincing the masses that only “fools” and “lunatics” would believe in extraterrestrials.

Meanwhile, the truth of the matter, again, is the exact opposite of what many believe to be the case, usually with great certainty. Much of what you ones are taught to believe is deliberately fed to you (through subtle and sophisticated mind-control techniques) in a covert attempt to keep you dumb and compliant. Your so-called “elite” controllers say that you-the-“average-drone” cannot possibly handle the truth, for it would so overwhelm you as to create complete pandemonium and upheaval. The truth of the matter is that these controlling ones are afraid to let you ones know the truth, for you would surely break free of the mass mental conditioning that has so tediously and unrelentingly been put in place on your planet.

These ones are now trying desperately to modify your conditioning so as to cause the masses to be frightened of extraterrestrials when they do come. Yes, your “elite” know that we are here, and that we are very real, and that we WILL make our presence known in a quite public manner at the appropriate time—and that there is truly nothing these ones can do to stop us when the appointed time comes!

This is when we will need every one of you to step forward and share what you know. This is to say that you can show, through these very writings (and others yet to come through this information resource), who we are and why we are here.

Most of you will have to pick yourselves up off the floor, first, because most of you are quite unaware of the limiting programming that, to varying degrees, you still hold onto. Many a “great” scientist on your planet will be humbled or humiliated, depending on their perspective and their ability to accept that they were in error. Many a great religious leader will likewise be humbled or humiliated, depending on their ability to accept personal error. Others of you will be prepared to address the “shock wave” of reality, as much confusion is, at first, generated within your less-informed brethren, in response to the truth finally being revealed on a large scale.

This confusion is a natural byproduct when one’s reality is challenged and is abruptly shifted in such a manner. Confusion will, however, quickly give way to a more stable foundation of truth, and the subsequent reality will be stronger than the previous one could ever be, for there will be very concrete answers to questions such as evolution versus creation, and what happens after you die and such.

Your so-called “elite” controllers are not happy about this day, coming quickly around the bend, because control of you ones goes out the window when you operate from this position of Truth. Control is through fear and intimidation and ignorance; freedom comes through the wisdom of knowledge of Truth, as stated in the First Law of The Creation.

Our mere presence will cause your scientific community to shed their erroneous assumptions about such things as the ability to travel faster than the speed of light. So many of these “religious beliefs” of your present science have been purposely “seeded” and nurtured and policed by those darkly motivated ones who wish to keep you under their control. This control shall not prevail!

Your world will emerge from the brief time of confusion into a quite stable and peaceful place. This will take time and it will take ones who can quickly adjust to very rapidly changing conditions, for there will be much happening all over your planet in terms of Earth-changes, wars, economic crises, and such.

You of Ground Crew have been preparing for these events all of your lives, whether you realize it or not. Never underestimate the value you can provide in the upcoming times, even if you must function with physical limitations such as from a wheel chair. You each will be called upon to assist your neighbors. Be not hesitant to offer assistance when the time comes. Be the “rock” of stability and your example will empower others and strengthen them. They will hear Truth when there is no other explanation that will suffice. Remember, all other equations will eventually fall to the wayside while The Truth stands the scrutiny of even the most skeptical antagonist.

I shall leave this here for now. I am Ceres Anthonious Soltec. I come with the Hosts of God, in Service to the One Light—Creator Source.

I am called upon at this time to help you ones to prepare for and survive this Planetary Transition (transformation). I come with many great Teachers, all provided by Creator so that you ones can have the best possible opportunities to gain the wisdom of knowledge of Truth—and thus understand your place in the expanse of Creator Source.

Be at peace! Salu.

Welcome To The Premier Issue

[Continued from Front Page]

you Truth from many different sources, often Guided to our doorstep.

Take a look at the quote prominently displayed as part of our masthead. Many of you will recognize this as the Highest Command (or the First or Primary Law) of The Creation: "Achieve the wisdom of knowledge of Truth, as this will enable you to wisely follow the Laws of The Creation."

That's Truth with a capital T—meaning not just truth as in nonfiction, but Truth as in Higher Knowing, Spiritual Knowing, Soul Knowing. And that is the important distinction which makes The SPECTRUM so unique: we draw upon many levels of information. Some is of this world, some is of the Higher Realms.

An integration between both worlds is imperative for keeping your head above the rising waters at this exciting yet turbulent time of the Great Planetary Transition now very much underway. This means achieving a personal "knowledge of Truth" (with an emphasis on the capital T). And so our goal, SPECTRUM's goal, is to do our best to provide (...trumpet blast and drum roll here...) a "full spectrum" of information—Truth—upon which to gain knowledge, and thus acquire the wisdom to better navigate these challenging "rapids" of our current lifestream experience.

No one "alive" on this planet at this time (yes, we know there are a lot of the "walking dead" walking around) can miss the signs of the imminent collapse of many of our current, worn out structures in politics, education, religion, medicine, etc. And that's without any help from the Earth changes, which are also escalating as Mother Earth cleanses herself of so much of man's thoughtlessness. This is a time of New Beginnings and of going back to the Fundamentals—which include remembering that First Law of The Creation.

From the perspective of the Higher Realms, both Commander Hatonn and Commander Soltec have chosen to make comment elsewhere in this Premier Issue about the First Law of The Creation, and elaborate a bit upon just why it is at the top of the list of actions for forward progress. Growth (which results from the wisdom of knowledge of Truth) is our evolutionary imperative as unique Lighted fragments of Creator Source's thinking. In the Larger Picture, we are growing and developing, one with another, while immersed within the "wisdom sea" of all Creation. As more ones begin to hold this Larger Picture in mind, how we approach the living of life will become richer and deeper—and thus more satisfying.

If The Spectrum can provide some direction or inspiration for you as you make your personal way along this path of growth, then good for all of us, for as the First Law of The Creation implies: as one grows, so grows all of Creation, everywhere.

Of course that's a big reason the Hosts of God and the Ascended Masters are interacting with us so closely at this time. As they have often explained to us in their messages, they are here not just to help us grow, but in helping us, they too grow, as does ALL of Creation. This theme of interconnectedness—of acknowledging "all my relations"—is one our Native American brothers and sisters have been trying to help us to understand since the day we first invaded their lands, over 500 years ago, with our primitive notions of spirituality that included calling them the pagans! The learning is coming around full-circle now.

For awhile, we—The SPECTRUM—weren't so sure we were going to make it. As I said at the top of this editorial, the path has been quite a bumpy one. I have asked Rick Martin to chronicle some of the newsworthy details about how things unfolded, between our lock-out at CONTACT and our start-up as SPECTRUM, in an article elsewhere in this Premier Issue. He has done as thorough a job of answering your many questions as can be expected at this time.

It must be noted right away, in Rick's defense, that there still exist significant matters we cannot yet share with you. These issues weave threads of intrigue through the larger picture in which the publicly reportable events reside. This made the subject matter of Rick's article a bit complicated to outlay with a sense of flow or completion or closure.

Just as in our reporting in those last three "rebellious" (or courageous, depending upon whose opinion was being expressed) issues of CONTACT (on 3/15,22,26/99), it is helpful if the reader is skilled both at discernment and at reading between the lines. Rest assured that all will unfold, in its own good time, within the absolute balance of the spiritual Law of Return.

Remember that the Law of Return is almost as fundamental a learning mechanism as is the First Law of The Creation. Especially in this transformational time of accelerated planetary activity, what you send out to others is going to return to you, greatly amplified, and faster than ever before! The Golden Rule has its basis of truth in the Law of Return's most important energy-physics principle.

So, we need not overly dwell upon what Darkly motivated attacks have been (and still are) sent out upon us. What energies are being sent out will circle back upon the senders and cause corrective learning events to manifest. We will simply keep you informed of those happenings, as they unfold, through the normal avenue of news reporting.

And that reminds me of another important point which needs to be emphasized: We are a NEWS source and team. We deal in documentable facts. We do not now (nor did we in those final issues of CONTACT) ever invent malicious, libelous, twisted assertions and present them as fact—as has been the norm for the Ekkers and their dutifully faithful followers. Even seasoned, professional politicians would likely blush at the "liberties" taken with truth by them. A state of desperation drives their Darkly motivated propaganda.

There exist significant state and federal laws dealing with libelous (written) and slanderous (spoken) activity which exhibits blatant malice and forethought, and places the ones targeted by that activity under legally defined "duress". It would be very prudent for these fibbers to take this fact a lot more seriously than their consciences apparently dictate. Should we so choose to take measures of legal recourse, the powers of the law stand very much in our favor (a point which had a lot to do with the magnitude and scope of the concessions made to us in the Settlement Agreement).

Actually, we should be thankful for all the colorful hyperbole (that's a kinder and gentler phrase than the phrase outright lying) being spun by the Ekkers and their faithful followers. Why thankful? Well, every time they publish another offensive writing, especially about us, more ones ask to be put on our subscription list!

More and more ones are noticing the absurdities as the Ekkers' nastygrams grow ever more outrageous and Dark and self contradictory—and thus revealingly transparent. We find that, with their launching of each new vitriolic blarneygram, we end up with more and more new requests to subscribe to The SPECTRUM. (How do you think we've gotten so many requests for this Premier Issue?!) Perhaps we should volunteer to help them get out their material.

Rick's article mentions just two of many of their libelous fabrications—but they're typical zingers nonetheless. And get this one: having been dubbed “astral Ed” and accused of perpetrating just about every crime under the Sun at one time or another in their recent months of incoherent blatherings, I’m personally most amused—and their dutiful followers probably most confused—by a truly remarkable 5/16/99 writing (which was conveniently left out of their most recent so-called newspaper) which attempts to schmooze me back to that paper!

Again, we choose at this time not to pursue these libelous matters through legal channels, though the Settlement Agreement gives us the clear and direct option to do so. We make this choice because the Law of Return will most surely and exquisitely manifest those conditions of learning which will help these ones to appreciate the value of honesty.

We leave it up to you most discerning readers to separate the Light from the Darkness—and I most certainly do mean with a capital D! At this time, as the “weather” grows “warmer”, we are content to make lemonade and lemon pie with all the lemons they keep tossing our way in desperation, and watch from the sidelines as events continue to unfold on this splendid game field and learning environment called schoolroom Earth.

As we did in those final three issues of CONTACT, we again strongly suggest that all of you continue to send prayers of Light to Doris and E.J. Ekker and their followers. Whatever has possessed them to act in such a Dark manner is most effectively countered by an infusion of God’s Light.

Rather than dwell further upon that Darkness manifest, we are simply thankful for the recent Legal Settlement which, among other things, lifted the Temporary Restraining Order and allowed us to get things going again, including finally being permitted to fill your orders for WISDOM OF THE RAYS: The Masters Teach, Vol.II. These orders (and there ARE many so far) will be filled as soon as possible within the next few weeks.

Though I would like now to get on with discussing other matters, it should certainly be mentioned here, before leaving this subject, that the maze of legal confrontations thrown at us by the Ekkers required significant financial help. We are beyond simply being grateful to those of you who came to our rescue to help out in that regard. These kinds of attacks can be terrifying enough to address, without the added emotional burden of the astronomical costs. Eventually all expenses will be paid, and we are deeply thankful to those of you whose Lighted thoughtfulness—expressed in the form of tangible, practical, financial assistance in recent months—made the difference between being able to “fight the Good Fight” rather than simply keeling over in paralyzing defeat.

And speaking of help—oh my, did angels of all kinds ever swoop down from the heavens, in many disguises, to save us! Let’s see now, how do I even begin to describe just some of our most awesome help:

First of all, there were two very, very well-connected (to Higher Source) legal professionals who came to our aid—one near Toronto and one in Las Vegas. The angel-lawyer (actually barrister and solicitor) near Toronto is a longtime admirer of the work of this journalistic team who was deeply outraged by what injustice had happened and wished to see this vehicle for Truth not just surmount the current legal obstructions, but flourish at a new level of success; the lawyer in Las Vegas, a young, thoughtful Mormon gentleman of impeccable credentials and subtle humor, who was new to our world and landed with both feet planted firmly in our plight, came out with some of the most astonishingly well-worded Higher-Truth negotiations we have ever witnessed. This person was our main legal counsel who handled the lawsuit brought against us by the Ekkers. We were truly blessed with the help of both of these legal gurus.

Now, can I top the above? Well, I don’t know if “top” is the right word, but how about this: our next angel is an incredible Mayan shaman (spiritual leader, healer) and international lawyer of great accomplishment who crossed our path, just when needed, at—get this—a garage sale, of all places! This angel’s most distinguished professional credentials and depth of spiritual attainment will require an entire Rick Martin feature article at some later time. For now, let me simply suggest that this is not the kind of help one finds in the Yellow Pages! This kind of help finds YOU, when the call compels the answer. This most gifted spiritual leader has asked to share with you (and has been welcomed to do so, elsewhere in this paper) a message and photograph, both of which truly touch the heart and soul of the spiritual seeker of Truth.

And while I’m on the subject of help, I wish to publicly thank, most sincerely and on behalf of the entire SPECTRUM staff, those whose financial help has made it possible for the miracle of this free Premier Issue of The SPECTRUM to exist. Contrary to the Ekkers’ irresponsible whiney whoppers, we took nothing of CONTACT’s property or funds with us when we were rudely and abruptly locked-out of our own previous offices. Rather, we had to start from nothing to build The SPECTRUM.

So, when you factor-in the need for our new offices (after the lock-out) and all that goes along with putting out a newspaper—the desks, file cabinets, phones, computers, printers, scanners, office space rent, and a thousand other details—you don’t need an adding machine to start adding up some pretty large numbers! Thoughtful ones pitched-in with spare old furniture, some dabs of paint and glue, a few garage-sale treasures, book shelving from a military base auction, and a lot of sweat to keep the costs of starting this enterprise to a pauper’s minimum.

Yes, we feel quite blessed and humbled by so much help from so many directions. And now that many of you out there in readerland know we are indeed alive and well and publishing again, we expect to be in better communication with many more of you than we were permitted under the shutdown conditions imposed by the Ekkers’ legal attacks upon us.

For several reasons, including financial limitations and a stretched-thin staff, The SPECTRUM will be publishing only every other week for awhile. And that won’t begin, after this free Premier Issue goes out, until enough of you send in your Subscription Request forms to make the next press run practical.

So, the faster those forms come back to us, the sooner will be the next issue of The SPECTRUM. Moreover, if each of you managed to recruit just one other person to subscribe, we would quickly reach a critical mass of cash flow to ensure financial viability. (And to answer the question before you ask: yes, there will eventually be an Internet web site for The SPECTRUM, but appreciate how that offering will have to be coordinated with the goal of a sufficiently large subscription base to remain financially afloat.)

In other newspaper matters, we have increased the type size of the print in The SPECTRUM to make reading easier on the eyes. As well, we have upgraded to a higher quality, whiter paper which not only renders newsprint more cleanly and clearly, but also is much less prone to the rapid oxidation (yellowing) that plagues the cheaper paper stock. And, of course, we’ve introduced a splash of color—if the printer can get it right—to add a bit of “high fidelity” to the overall presentation. We hope these changes make reading The SPECTRUM more enjoyable for you.

It should also be emphasized here that, while we have legally been granted full access to the entire CONTACT mailing list as a result of the recent Settlement Agreement, we still prefer to simply work from the new list that has been generated in response to YOUR choice to be a part of this publishing endeavor. We have no desire to go where we are not wanted or where we are not welcomed. These choosings (yours and ours) are all a part of the larger sorting and “housecleaning” effort going on at this time as directed from Upstairs and about which we were alerted as the new year began.

On the subject of getting out important news, you will note that Dr. Overholt’s The News Desk and Specials contain some information that, while dated about mid-March (the time of the lock-out) or later in April, is still important to bring to wider attention. As you can imagine, his computers and reading desk are filled to overflowing with more backlog of news to share with you now that we have been “freed from bondage”. He also looks forward to the clippings and email (alo@tminet.com) that all you eagle-eye news hounds out there send his way for possible sharing.

Moreover, the REAL Front Page story for this issue of The SPECTRUM—if this weren't the Premier Issue of a new publication—would be Rick Martin's dynamite interview with Dr. Len Horowitz, a relentless crusader for Truth who holds our journalistic team in extremely high regard. Rick's follow-up interview, which will appear in the next issue, is really mind-blowing, as suggested by the tease at the end of the interview in this paper.

Yes, there are many out there who are working tirelessly to inform you of The Truth in many different areas. These ones have been slowly checking-in with us (as they can find us!) and are delighted to learn we're back in business. They wish to share much information with you that other news sources shy away from, and we are proud to be a part of the "bucket brigade" which brings you such singular Truth.

Meanwhile, we anticipate much more input is to be shared from the Master Teachers of the Higher Realms. There is to be an integration of their messages with the ongoing, unfolding news events of this major planetary transition.

Related to the above, the popularity of the WISDOM OF THE RAYS volumes is likewise growing. Teachers of great spiritual depth and experience, like our newfound Mayan shaman friend, call these volumes: "the most important and advanced material on the planet at this time; there's nothing else like them."

While there is already a translation of Volume I into French for the Canadian and some European peoples, there are presently both offers and requests for translations into German (again, for Europe), into Spanish (for everyone south of the border and on into the great expanse of South America), and even offers to translate into Japanese and Chinese for those vast audiences, hungry for spiritual Truth. All will unfold here, in the book department, in good time as more and more ones are waking up to their spiritual heritage and desiring to become more active participants as co-creators in this collective experience we call life.

Many times, in the course of dealing with the challenges of the recent stormy events, we asked each other: "Are we having fun yet?!" Well, I think it is finally safe to answer loudly in the affirmative!

Thank you for your patience as we walked a long, bumpy, and tiring road of confrontation with the Adversary. Thank you for your prayers of Light which most certainly buoyed up our spirits and fed our souls when we felt like quitting. Thank you for taking the time to write such beautiful notes of encouragement; they made us laugh and cry—and they passionately confirmed our reading on the reality of a most unpleasant situation. And most of all, thank you for acting as a kind of extended family who showed, in so many different ways, how much you cared for us and how committed you are to this Mission of getting out The Truth.

Directly following this editorial is a most uplifting message from the Ascended Master known as El Morya. It was received (as were the Soltec and Hatonn writings herein) by the one responsible for most of the writings collected together in the WISDOM OF THE RAYS volumes. It would be most appropriate to read that message first because El Morya, as the Master of the First Ray of The Creation, is the facilitator of new beginnings—which is what this newspaper is all about. He addresses much more eloquently than can I many of the factors which have come together to achieve the birthing of this new enterprise. The SPECTRUM is nothing less than the collective result of each of our personal choices in discernment of Truth, the Power of many coming together in like mind.

Now that we have made, each of us, our own personal choices which bring us together in concert of purpose, let us all now move forward with great expectations into the next phase of a most unique journey for all experiencing on planet Earth at this time of the Great Planetary Transformation.

On behalf of the entire SPECTRUM team, welcome aboard!

— Dr. Edwin M. Young, Editor-In-Chief

El Morya: Recognizing Value In ALL Of Life's Challenges

5/29/99 EL MORYA

Good afternoon, my scribe. I am El Morya, representative of the First Ray of The Creation. I am often referred to as The Statesman. I come in the Light of the One Light of Creator Source. I am born of this One Light, as are each of the souled beings upon your orb and throughout the Omniverse of universes of Creator's Thinking and Desire.

I come at this time of newness to help "usher in" The SPECTRUM newspaper. This paper is born somewhat in controversy and, for some, confusion. Some ones of you do not know who to trust or who is right, and therefore are looking for clues so as to help you to discern for yourselves what is the proper course to take. Others of you have paid very close attention over the years and have noticed the divergence from issues of true importance and true value; for you ones, the choice is clear.

The SPECTRUM is intended to be a stand-alone information source about which ones do not have to know ten years of someone's "dirty laundry" in order to make heads or tails of what they are reading. This first issue has to deal with some "dirty laundry" out of courtesy to the many of you who petition to know what has been happening, and also to help you ones see why these ones have separated themselves from ones who have lost sight of the true picture and purpose of the overall mission.

With this new publication will naturally come concerns such as, "Who is doing the receiving (channeling)?" and such. I tell you here and now that it is far better to discern each and every item you read (channeled or otherwise) as if it were written by the master trickster himself. You each will be given to know what is the proper path for you to take. Our goal is to have each and every one of you consciously connected to the Higher Guidance within. This means that you ones will need to make a personal decision and effort to reach out and continually strive to make and strengthen your inner personal connection to Source.

We of the Hosts of God will neither badger nor coerce you ones, ever. You are each given free will to choose as you will. With this new publication will come new faces and new teachers. Like attracts like, and the high-frequency energies will naturally gravitate towards one another, and thus grow in Radiance. Ones who have not been diligent in their preparation will step aside as the perceived “load” of walking the Lightbearer’s Path becomes overwhelming. This is as it should be, and there is no need to concern for ones who choose to step aside. Each will find their proper placement for optimal growth; these are conditions tailored for the individual, by the individual.

The foundation upon which you build Greatness must be carefully laid and engineered so as to handle the unforeseen, incidental, and evolving uses for a given structure. This holds true for the foundation of the soul as well. Your fundamental understanding of the purpose of the physical environment, and the general reason you are each there, is quite necessary in order to build-up to the next level of understanding. If you are not well-“rooted” in the fundamentals, you will find that, as you build-up to higher levels, your “reality” will begin to sway back and forth (waver) like an unstable high-rise building. This will always lead ones to a point where they will have to go back and shore-up their foundation. Those who are unwilling to accept that they were less than perfect in laying the fundamental foundation will go through the experience of watching everything that they efforted to build crumble and fall. At this point there will be nothing left to do—but to “fix” the foundation and begin again new.

This is what we are doing with this publication. We, both the physically based ones and the non-physically based ones, are correcting the errors of the foundation so that the original intent of the predecessor can be recognized. The foundation is built upon the fundamental understanding that you are each there to learn and grow. As this publication’s Masthead reads: “Achieve the WISDOM of KNOWLEDGE of TRUTH, as this will enable you to wisely follow the Laws of The Creation.” This is a key and fundamental part of the foundation that each of you should always strive to build and fortify.

You are each there to grow and become more than you were prior. In doing so, you contribute to the overall growth and understanding of ALL beings, EVERYWHERE. You each need the challenges with which you are now faced in order to fulfill this fundamental desire of your soul.

You are each immortal from the nonphysical viewpoint of your soul. The holographic nature of the physical environment is an illusion created so that you ones can experience the concept of uniqueness and individuality more closely and deliberately. The idea of being somehow separate from The Whole is but an illusion.

However, this illusion serves great purpose in allowing each to explore, in great detail, the concept of being separated. In doing so, ones will eventually find and understand the wisdom in remaining connected and working as a collective whole wherein everyone benefits from the experience and growth of each other.

The more stubborn ones who resist this idea of unity and oneness are often the ones you refer to as being “evil”. Lucifer has a strong desire to be separate and an individual who functions in accordance with his own set of “laws”. Therefore this one resists the very fundamental nature of his being. In doing so, he will create conditions that will lure ones away from their natural path in an attempt to be somehow “right” or justified in his actions. His path is a most challenging one, but he, too, after much controversy, divergence, and destruction of that which he is efforting to build, will, eventually, find the wisdom in following the path that leads to true fulfillment—oneness with Creator Source. When this event comes to pass, all of the Heavens will rejoice and welcome their brother back home.

But, just as you are given free-will choice, so too is Lucifer, and we all honor his free-will choice, regardless of the fact that we would not choose his path for ourselves. We also can appreciate the value that lies in his willingness to walk such a harsh and lonely path because the contrasts brought about through his “testing” experiences are somewhat responsible for giving you ones your challenges and lessons. In effect, he is fulfilling his purpose by walking the path he is now on.

This dissertation is an example to illustrate how you can learn to appreciate and have compassion for even those who come against you. No one is lesser than another. Hold no anger in your heart. But more importantly, learn and understand the wisdom BEHIND the words, and appreciate why it is unwise to hold anger in your heart. With true understanding there will naturally come the forgiveness and compassion and love for all beings, everywhere. Mouthing empty praise, in an attempt to look en-Light-ened, will only serve to accelerate the building pressure within and hasten the self-destruct cycle.

God does not look at any of His creations and say, “Whoops! I made a mistake.” No, He does not make mistakes. You each are born of PERFECTION, LOVE, and with UNIQUE PURPOSE. You each are fulfilling your purpose in perfection, whether you see it or not. Even a perceived mistake puts events into motion that would have never come to pass if it weren’t for the “mistake”. The means by which growth experiences are generated are just as much a part of the perfection of God’s plans as is the final outcome—“Graduation”.

By the time you reach the point of “Graduation”, you will each have become a master craftsman who has perfected your foundation and built-up magnificent tributes that uniquely reflect the Beauty, Love, and Perfection of Creator Source. And then you will begin again anew, at a higher level of responsibility, perfectly prepared to face the challenges and growth opportunities available. These cycles of growth potential are truly limitless and without end.

We of the Hosts of Creator God rejoice at the progress that you ones are making. There is great love for you all and it is being continually sent forth directly to you each. May you each learn to tap into this Infinite Source of pure positive energy and allow it to be amplified as it flows through you. The key to using energy is just that: USE IT! Never try to hold it or hoard it, but rather, send it forth and allow it to flow unrestricted and uninhibited. There will ALWAYS be more!

If you smile at a stranger, is not the most typical response a returned smile? Do you see how the kind gesture of appreciation is amplified? It is this simple to prove to yourself the concept of which we speak. There will always be an amplification of the energy when you use it.

When you stop the flow, you will find that life becomes inwardly “stressful”. Why?

Because, you are holding back and resisting the natural tendency to creatively and uniquely express yourself, and thus fulfill Creator’s purpose for creating you.

Learn to wisely recognize the gifts you are given; use them in a manner that causes your heart (and the hearts of others) to resonate with the Love and Light (Life Force) of Creator. Learn to find the POSITIVE VALUE in every experience that you have, and seek to always understand why it is you are having such experiences. Appreciate those who have come forth to participate with you, even if they play the role of your opponent, for you each are there in a perfect balance and mixture to ensure that the fundamental desires of Creator—to expand and grow—are realized.

It is with great appreciation for you each that I share with you these words. Please go within and seek to understand not just these words but, perhaps more importantly, WHY these words are being offered at this time through this NEWS source. The Voice of God will never be silenced, and there will always be ones (maybe you) who are called upon to take pen in hand and write for Him.

I, El Morya, place my name and blessings upon these words—not as being absolute, but as being accurate in terms of fulfilling my desire for conceptual content. I come in Service and in the Light of Creator Source—the One who created you and me.

Blessings and Peace. Salu.

Wisdom Of The Rays: The Masters Teach

The expansive yet compassionate nature of the messages delivered in WISDOM OF THE RAYS: The Masters Teach not only challenges those already firmly committed upon the spiritual path, but also provides a serious first step to help ones who are just awakening to (and inquiring about) the magnificent Spiritual Transformation now sensed by many to be in progress upon this planet.

Volume I & Volume II

This large collection (over 400 pages + 4 color photos) of popular spiritual writings includes a detailed introduction to the 14 Higher Authors, plus several commentaries unique to the purpose of this volume.

This large collection (500 pages) is the long-awaited second volume of popular spiritual writings. This volume includes 59 chapters plus 2 appendices, dedication, publisher's foreword, and a 10-page preface by Dr. Edwin M. Young.

FROM THE BACK COVERS

"Our Elder Brothers from the Higher Realms of Creation are attempting to communicate with ALL of us at this time. Why? Take a look around you. The old ways of doing things aren't working. Our planet is entering a time of massive, turbulent change and renewal. To put it bluntly: we NEED help! And that's where this book comes into the picture. Yes, eventually 'the Phoenix will arise from the ashes' after this Great Cleansing process, but the ride could be quite a bumpy one, especially for those ill-prepared for what is to happen.

"Just how we choose to deal with such change is THE question each of us must confront. Yet confusion swirls everywhere upon Earth at this time. And restless searchers cry out for that which may help them cope with these truly challenging times ahead. Thus these messages courtesy of our most loving Elder Brothers from the Higher Realms of Creation who are but further along the same spiritual path we all must eventually walk."

Let us begin with WHO you are. You, the non-physical YOU, are an infinite thought projection of the One who created you (God!). You are the product of His desire. You are, in effect, Desire manifest in uniqueness of purpose. — Esu "Jesus" Sananda

Be at peace, you who acknowledge and take within these messages of Higher Guidance, for you are being given that which you will need, in the way of instruction, to meet and surmount these challenges ahead. — Aton

Wisdom Books & Press, Inc.

9101 West Sahara Ave., Suite 105-158
Las Vegas, NV 89117

Toll free #: (877) 280-2866

e-mail communications: wisdombooks@tminet.com

NAME: _____ DATE: _____
 ADDRESS: _____
 CITY: _____ STATE: _____ ZIP: _____
 PHONE #: _____
 CREDIT CARD # _____ EXP: _____
 SIGNATURE: _____

(WE ACCEPT VISA, DISCOVER AND MASTERCARD ONLY)

Please make Check or Money Order in U.S. Funds Only

Payable to: Wisdom Books & Press

	Price Per Each (Inside US)	Price Per Each (Outside US)	Qty	Total
WISDOM OF THE RAYS: The Masters Teach, Volume I	$18. ⁴⁰	$25
WISDOM OF THE RAYS: The Masters Teach, Volume II	$25	$30
THE UNTOLD HISTORY OF AMERICA by Ray Bilger	$13. ⁵⁰	$20
			Total

Prices for these books include shipping and handling